Blaine's Dying Wail.

as second-class matter.

Here is what James G. Blaine said o the handful of people gathered to hear him at Augusts, Me., on last Tuesday. It is a villainous production. of a piece with Mr. Blaine's entire record and, like the record, it will hit back and hurt nobody so bad as it will hurt James G. Blaine:

FRIENDS AND NEIGHBORS: The national contest is over and by the narrowest of margins we have lost. I thank you for your call, which, if not one of joyous congratulations, is one. I am sure, of confidence and of sanguine hope for the future. I thank you for the public opportunity you give me to express my sense of obligation, not only to you, but to all the Republicans of Maine. They responded to my nomination with genuine enthusiasm and ratified it by a superb vote. I count it as one of the honors and gratifications of my public career that the party in Maine, after struggling hard for the last six years, and twice within that period losing the State, has come back in this campaign to an old lashioned 20,000 plurality. No other expression of popular confidence and esteem c: u'd equal that of the people among, which I have lived for thirty years and to whem I am attached by all the ties that ennoble human rature and give oy and dignity to life.

After Maine-indeed, along with Maine-my first thought is always of Penusylvania How can I fittingly express my thanks for tha upparalleled anjerity of more than eagles thousand votes-a popular inderstment which has deeply touched my heart and which has, it possible, increased my affection for the grand old commonwealth-an flection which I inherited from my ancestry and which I spall transmit to my children. But I do not hmit my thanks to the State of my residence and the State of my birth. 1 owe much as the true and zealous friends in New England who worked so pobly for the Republican party and its candidates, and to the emin a c scholars and divines who, suppling aside from their ordinary avocations, made my cause their cause, ad to loyalty to principle added the special compliment of standing as my personal representatives in the national straggle.

the same number of white people in the North. To illustrate just how it works to the destruction of all fair elections, let me present to you five States in the late Confederacy and five loyal States of the North, possessing in each section the same number of elec toral votes. In the South the States of Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia and South Carolina have in the aggregate 48 electoral votes. They have 2,800,000 white people and over 3,000,000 colored people. In the North the States of Wisconsin, Minnesola, Iowa, Kanšas and California have likewise in the aggregate 48 electoral votes, and they have a white population of 5,600.000, or just double the five Southern States which I have named. These Northern States have practically no colored population. It is therefore evident that the white men in those Southern States, by usurping and absorbing the rights of the colored men, are exerting just double the political power of the white men in the Northern States. I submit, my friends, that such a condition of affairs is extraordinary, unjust and derogatory to the manhood of the North.

A GREAT BIG BUGABOO. Even those who are vindictively opposed to negro suffrage will not deay that it Presidential electors are assigned to the South by reason of the negro population, that population ought to be permitted free suffrage in the election. fo deny that clear proposition is to affirm that a Southern while man in the Gult States is entitled to double the poluical power of a Northern white man in the lake States; it is to affirm that a Confederate soldier shall weild twice the influence in the nation that a Unior soldier can, and that a perpetual and constantly increasing superiority shall be conceded to the Southern white man in the government of the Union. It that be quietly conceded in this generation it will harden into custom, until the badge of inferiority will attach to the Northern white man as odiously as ever Norman noble stamped it upon Saxon churi. This subject is of deep interest to the laboring men of the North. With the South ra Democracy triumphing in their States and in the nation the negro will be compelled to work for just such wages as the whites may decree; wages which will amount, as did the supplies of the slaves, to bare subsistence, equal in cash perhaps to 35 cents per day, if averaged over the entire South The white laborer of the North will soon feel Sthe distinctive effect of this upon his own wages. The Republicans have clearly seen from the earliest days of reconstruction that wages OTTOMANS, TRICOTS, in the South must be raised to a just recompense of the laborer or wages in
