

An Old Soldier's EXPERIENCE.
Calvert, Texas,
May 3, 1882.
"I wish to express my appreciation of the valuable qualities of
Ayer's Cherry Pectoral
as a cough remedy.
"While with Churchill's army, just before the battle of Vicksburg, I contracted a severe cold, which terminated in a dangerous cough. I found no relief till on our march we came to a country store, where, on asking for some remedy, I was urged to try AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.
"I did so, and was rapidly cured. Since then I have kept the PECTORAL constantly by me, for family use, and I have found it to be an invaluable remedy for throat and lung diseases."
J. W. WHITLEY.
Thousands of testimonials certify to the prompt cure of all bronchial and lung affections, by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. Being very palatable, the youngest children take it readily.

AYER'S
contains an antidote for all malarial disorders which, so far as known, is used in no other remedy. It contains no Quinine, nor any mineral nor deterring substance whatever, and consequently produces no injurious effect upon the constitution, but leaves the system as healthy as it was before the attack.
WE WARRANT AYER'S AGUE CURE to cure every case of Fever and Ague, Intermittent or Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Bilious Fever, and Liver Complaint caused by malaria. In case of failure, after due trial, dealers are authorized, by our circular dated July 1st, 1882, to refund the money.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1884.
STATE NEWS

Lenoir Topic: In the Globe last week, Mr. W. C. Moore killed a buck that weighed, after it was dressed, 115 pounds. It was a large fellow and had five prongs on each beam of the antlers.
—As an evidence of how the trade of Lenoir has been for the last six weeks or two months we may bring forward the sale of one article, salt, in that time, over 2,000 sacks of which have been sold by our merchants. —In the Brooks murder case in Ashe county we are informed that a clear case of murder was proved by the State and when the jury brought in its verdict of acquittal. Judge Gilmer declared that it was a surprise to him and to the country, no doubt, and that he could not conceive how the jury arrived at such a verdict on their oaths. Public sentiment in Ashe is very much against the verdict. On the other hand some members of the jury are on their ears and threaten to sue the Judge for his plain talk. Judge Gilmer is an amiable gentleman but on occasion, can call a spade a spade.
Weldon News: A party from New York has been in Ringwood prospecting for a Railroad from that point to Weldon. It is to be hoped that the road will be built as it would open up a prosperous country and pay the investors. —We have received from fish commissioner Worth a cut of the fish hatchery which he will have erected at this place for hatching rock fish eggs. It looks well and is conveniently arranged for the purpose. Mr. Worth says Weldon is the best place in the State for hatching rock fry. —The gin house of Mr. A. M. Lugo, about six miles from town, caught fire yesterday morning and burned down. He lost a quantity of cotton besides the building. We also learn that Mr. Lugo's horse ran away with him throwing him out of the buggy senseless. We could learn none of the particulars. —Col. J. R. Davis will sever his connection with the hotel on the first of December. It will then be taken in charge by Mr. T. B. Mann of Philadelphia who intends it is said to keep a first class house. We understand that he has purchased Col. Davis's furniture and will add other to it. It is also said that the new management will discharge all the present employees and have an entire new set. Col. Davis will remain here until January winding up his business and will then go South.
Newbern Journal: Early yesterday morning the news spread rapidly through the city that a white woman had been found in the dock at the foot of Craven street. Crowds gathered to see her as she floated in the steamer Edin City's wharf, face downward, and when she was turned she was recognized as Mrs. Ann Morris, a widowed lady who resided with Mrs. Harget, on Pollock street. Coroner Bates summoned a jury of inquest and upon examination her neck bone was found to be dislocated, but there were no bruises or signs of foul play other than this. Their verdict was, "that she came to her death by accidental drowning." It was in evidence before the jury that the deceased was known to be at Mrs. Harget's at 1 o'clock yesterday morning, but no one knew when she left the house. It is also reported that several months, since the death of her mother, the deceased had been suffering mentally, quite severely at times. But how she got into the dock remains a mystery. —Occasionally our saw in its blind evidences of the late war in a manner that makes them as unwelcome as when they were ploughing through the woods in search of human life. On Monday, while Mr. Congdon's saw was cutting a log about two feet through, it found a piece of shell imbedded about six feet from the stump, which broke the saw into several pieces and also the guide, thus making the discovery cost Mr. Congdon about one hundred and fifty dollars.
Goldsboro Messenger: The press room for the new steam power press of the Messenger is rapidly going up, and will be ready to receive the new press on its arrival. The press is expected to reach here the latter part of next week. —Mrs. Gov. Jarvis is at Seven Springs, in this county, and we are pleased to learn that her health is being benefited by the medical qualities of its waters. The Governor returned from there on Tuesday. —Some idea of the velocity of the wind that raged here during the fire last Sunday week may be obtained from the fact, that while Mr. Bill Broadhurst was standing in his yard, 16 miles from this city and wondering at the big smoke in Goldsboro, his attention was attracted to little black particles falling around him. At length a larger piece than the others fell near him, and, picking it up, he found it to be a charred bill-head, upon which he read, Jones & Velvinton, and from this he divined that the hardware store of the above firm was on fire. —The W. & W. Railroad Company will at once lay a third rail on their side track through this city, in order to give the R. & D., and the Atlantic companies access to the cotton yard which has been established near the freight depot of the first named company. This is indeed a magnanimous act on the part of the W. & W. company.
Charlotte Observer: At the office of the register of deeds yesterday, Mr. Adams F. Wolfe, a well known citizen of Mecklenburg, and a man who is highly regarded by his acquaintances, applied for a license to get married. He is a stout and hearty gentleman, and when the register asked his age which must go down on the license book, he replied with a merry twinkle in his eye: "My age is 76 years." Mr. Wolfe gave the age of his intended bride as 34 years. They were married last night and we trust they have yet many years of happiness before them. —We are informed that there has lately been a good many cases of wife desertion throughout Mecklenburg county. In one township, Crab Orchard, five men, all of whom lived in the same neighborhood, have skipped the country, leaving their wives and children to shift for themselves. No cause is known for the desertion, unless it be that the husbands were too trifling, worthless and debased to appreciate the blessings of home, wife and children. In each of the cases mentioned above, the deserted wives are of very respectable families and have the sympathies of their neighbors. Goodness! but wouldn't the whipping post be a fine thing for these fellows?

—As the train on the Carolina Central road was nearing Charlotte yesterday afternoon, the engineer saw a pointer dog start across the track a little ahead of the approaching train. Just as the dog got in the middle of the track, he came to a dead stand on a covey of birds. The engineer tried to stop his train, seeing that the dog would not budge an inch, but was too late. The dog held his point until the engine dashed upon him and he was ground to pieces under the wheels. The birds which the game animal had pointed, flew up as the train went by. Who owned the dog is not known, as the animal appeared to have been roaming the fields unaccompanied by any one, and for his own pleasure. "He must have been a splendid dog," said the engineer, "and I hated like the mischiet to run him down."
Kinston Free Press: Work of the old Clubfoot and Harlow's Creek Canal (now Newbern and Beaufort) is progressing finely under the supervision of Capt. S. L. Fremont of Wilmington, and Thos. P. Morgan of Washington D. C., the contractors. The government is understood to favor the canal and the project is to establish a line of inland canals to Norfolk and the north. This section of Eastern North Carolina is improving and prospering. —Mr. John Patrick, of Greene county, lost his gin and out-houses by fire Monday of last week. While Mr. John Patrick was eating his dinner, he discovered his gin on fire, and in a short time, his gin house, barn, stables, corn and farming implements to the value of $1,000 insured, and estimates his loss at about $2,500. They were going at the time and the fire is thought to have been caused from frictions, as the blaze began at the gin.
News and Observer: That fine company of the State Guard, the Goldsboro Rifles, have written to Inspector General Cameron, tendering their services as part of the military escort to Gov. Seales at his inauguration. Their wishes will be duly laid before the Governor. —Webster Sorrell, the white man who in October killed Gaston George white, by shooting him after a fist fight, and then fled the county, has turned up again at his old haunt in Cedar Fork township, near Morrisville. It is said that he is so heavily armed as to be a veritable "walking arsenal," and a holy terror to the people of that section. He defies arrest. —At the cotton seed oil mills, near the N. C. depot, at 1 o'clock this afternoon, Mr. Chas. Horton, a young white man, while feeding the cotton gin, was so unfortunate as to have his arm caught therein. It was horribly mangled, all the flesh being torn off and the bones crushed. Amputation was necessary. Last evening the arm was amputated. It appears that Mr. Horton, who from long acquaintance with gins had become an expert, was employed at the mill, teaching the men how to work the gin. He was careless and let his hand strike the saws. Like a flash his arm was drawn into the gin. Mr. Horton is a son of Mr. Josiah Horton, a well known farmer of this county.
Wadesboro Intelligencer: A mad hog is said to be roaring up and down Gulledegs like a roaring lion, seeking whom he may devour. Two boys, returning from a corn shucking the other night, were chased by the irate swine and barely escaped with their lives. —Since all the lands around Ansonville have been posted, the varmints thereabouts have become bold. A few nights ago a possum entered the store of Mr. Isaac Sullivan, through the cat hole in the rear door, and secreted itself in a barrel, ready for Mr. Sullivan's use whenever his tooth should crave a possum meat.
Snow Hill Telegraph: Mr. Frank Harrell, on the plantation of W. H. Dail & Bro., in this county, raised this year on a little over an acre of ground 2440 pounds of seed cotton. —Mr. Exum Turnage, on one-sixth of an acre of land, raised this year 512 pounds of seed cotton.

THE PUBLIC HAVE CONFIDENCE IN US!
EVERY DAY BRINGS FRESH PROOF TO US OF THE GOOD WILL of all classes. The public have faith in our published statements, and we strive to deserve the full measure of confidence so freely placed in us.
Our sales each week foot up far in excess of corresponding weeks in any previous year since the establishment of the house. This effect must have its cause, and that may be found in the fact that we are giving better value for all money received than we were ever able to give before. Our advantage for buying are equal if not superior to those of any other house in America. When we desire to buy goods we ask no favors of any manufacturer or wholesale dealer on earth. We buy closely and quickly, but qualities must be up to the mark and prices our own. As we buy so do we sell; we mark our goods lower than any other house in the State can afford to. All customers in our house are treated alike, and whether young or old, experienced or inexperienced, will ever receive the very best value for their money that it is in our power to give.
