The receipts of cotton at this port today foot up 1,024 bales.

Eggs were retailing at 30 cents per dozen this morning. Christmas prices!

There have been a number of arrivals of vessels from foreign ports within the last few days.

Steamboatmen report that the river is falling slowly, but not yet to such a degree as to do any harm.

There were a good many flat loads of wood at the docks this morning, and the prices asked were quite reasonable.

The weather grew considerably cooler during last night, and had it not been for the breeze there would probably have been a frost this morning.

Don't forget the Fair and Festival to be given to-morrow evening in the Lutheran Memorial building, by the Sunday School of St. Paul's E. L. Church.

Gus Williams and his troupe arrived here at about 11 o'clock this morning, having been detained on account of a delay to the train between Savannah and Charleston.

At a business meeting of the First Baptist Church, held on Monday night, Mr. Wm. A. French and Dr. A. M. Baldwin were elected deacons, to fill vacancies occasioned by death and resignation.

Messrs W. E. Davis & Son will have fresh codfish on sale next Friday morning and will keep their market supplied during the winter with Northern fish of all kinds. See adv in another column.

The stores have been thronged with visitors to-day who were busy making their selections of presents for the loved ones. We notice quite a number from the country who were making purchases for the holidays.

Taking It Straight.
Last Summer, writes Mr. Jersey P. Thomas, Central Park Hotel, 50th street and 7th Avenue, New York, I suffered fearfully with neuralgia and could not get any rest, night or day. I tried Jacobs Oil and obtained the first night's rest in weeks and was cured. I have found it to be the very best remedy.

We learn that there will be another excursion to Mount Holly on the 16th inst., under the management of Mr. Joe H. Hart, the agent of the company, and that there will be quite a number from this city who will go up with the purpose of purchasing lots.

Workmen were engaged to-day in repairing the sidewalk in front of Capt J. L. Boatwright's and Mr. H. H. Kasprowicz's stores. They did not begin any too soon, as the rats had fairly honeycombed the earth, under the bricks, so that in many places the sidewalk had sunk several inches.

For durable coloring the walls of rooms in beautiful tints, at little cost nothing equals the MABLEINE sold at JACOBI'S Depot.

Indications.
For the South Atlantic States, generally fair weather, North to East winds and nearly stationary temperature.

Personal.
Dr. George W. Long, of Graham Alamance county, is in the city, having been called here as an important witness in a case before the Superior Court.

Go Thou and Do Likewise.
We found one man to-day who believes that it pays to advertise in the REVIEW. Yesterday Mr. F. V. B. Yopp inserted his card in our paper and this afternoon he hailed us on the street to tell us that he had secured two good jobs this forenoon from parties who had applied to him in consequence of having read his advertisement in the REVIEW. He is so well satisfied with his experience that he is willing to have it made known and therefore authorizes us to print it.

To every Housekeeper a good substantial cook stove is an important necessity and our readers will find the best at Factory prices at JACOBI'S Hardware Depot.

The Melville Hat is "all the go." Sold only by Dyer.

In Holiday Attire.

Mrs. S. J. Baker's store on Market street is presenting a very attractive holiday appearance. In addition to a fine stock of millinery goods she has an elegant assortment of toys and fancy goods for the holiday trade. The attention of the ladies and others is especially invited.

City Court.

N. Dudley, colored, was brought before the Mayor this morning charged with disorderly conduct. He was found guilty and a fine of $10 was imposed as a penalty for the offense.

Thomas Keshl, a white sailor, charged with disorderly conduct last night, in the "Hollow," was fined $5.

Della Gardner, colored and insane, was held for a medical examination into her condition.

Case Continued.

Mr. Lewis Johnson, who was arrested last night upon suspicion of being the person who set fire yesterday morning to a building on the lot of Mr. A. H. Van Bokkelen, and taken before the Mayor for an investigation, was placed under bonds of $50 for his appearance this morning. He appeared before the Mayor this morning, when the latter, acting as a Justice of the Peace, continued the case until to-morrow morning in order to secure the attendance of an important witness.

The Concert.

The Concert which will be given at the Opera House next Monday night, for the benefit of the Cornet Concert Club, will be an entertainment of unusual interest. The club will turn out with full members and, under the direction of its leader, Mr. James E. Willson, will render some of its best musical selections. The members of the club meet nightly for practice, and we have not a doubt that the several pieces will be given with precision, skill and taste. Some of our best amateur vocal talent have volunteered their services and will give vocal selections of undoubted merit. The entertainment is gotten up to aid the club in getting new uniforms, and we trust that it will receive that hearty, liberal patronage which it eminently deserves.

To-Morrow Night.

At the entertainment for the benefit of the Wilmington Library Association, which will be given at the Opera House to-morrow night, there will be an unusual display of our amateur and professional talent. The instrumentalists will be Miss Lavender, Miss Mary DeRosset and Prof. Luzzi's Orchestra, while the vocalists will be Mrs. Kayweiler, Mrs. Watters, Mr. N. Mayer and the Arion Quartette Club. These will furnish the musical portion of the programme, and combined will make a most elegant entertainment without any other features. But aside from these there will be recitations in character, tableaux, &c., which will make it one of the most entertaining, elegant and recherche affairs ever gotten up in this city. Reserved seats now on sale at Heinsberger's.

Chicken Thieves.

At about 3 o'clock this morning as officers Terry and Merritt were walking along Seventh street, in the direction of Mulberry, and when near Walnut, they saw a man approaching, who when he saw the officers, crossed to the other side of the street. Officer Terry noticed that the man had a bag upon his shoulder, and considering that his actions were suspicious, crossed over to intercept him. The officer halted him, when the man dropped his bag and ran up Walnut to McRae, pursued by the officer, who fired two shots after him. The fugitive, however, managed to escape, although the officer feels confident that one of his shots took effect. An examination showed that the bag, which the man had dropped when he commenced his flight, contained 10 chickens, but one or two had escaped, as it was open at the mouth. The bag with the chickens was at the City Hall this morning awaiting an owner to come along and identify the property. It is a great pity that the thief could not have been captured. He richly merited the punishment and it was a Terry-ble misfortune—not a fault—that he escaped.

"It is all over town," said the Arab. "What?" asked the old man, his eyebrows bristling with curiosity. "Mad" said the youngster, while his mouth went clear around his ears in a grin. "Right you are," said the old man. "With the mad come colds and coughs and you know the remedy." "Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup," rejoined the boy. "Right you are again!"
