There will be a joint meeting of several of the Sunday Schools in the Mr. Watson's fingers all refuse material city at the First Baptist Church next Sunday afternoon, at which interesting and instructive brief addresses will be made and where good music may be expected.

The streets have been througed today with ladies and gentlemen, young and old, rich and poor, great and small, and all good looking, who took advantage of the beautiful weather to visit the stores and inspect the Christmas goods which were temptingly displayed in the windows and upon the shelves and counters.

A gentleman of this city, in reply to a brief editorial in our yesterday's issue, which stated that Albert Victor, son of the Prince of Wales, who wil soon visit this country, will celebrate his twenty-first birth on January 8th. the anniversary of Gen. Jackson's capture of New Oleans, says:

Wilmington can see Albert Victor and go 24 better. A lady of my family will celebrate her 45th birthday on January the 8th. the anniversary of the battle of New Orleans, which Gen. Jackson defended—not captured—on

For Christmas.

Capt. F. M. James is now canvassing the city soliciting donations for the poor in our midst, that they may be remembered on Christmas day by those who are more blessed in this world's goods. He will continue his work until the Wednesday morning before Christmas, when he will go around with a wagon and collect the articles donated add deliver them to the needy poor of the city. Capt. James has performed this self-imposed duty during a number of holiday seasons in the past, and we trust that in his labor of love and charity he may meet with a hearty response from our citizens.

A NEW ENTERPRISE.

The Wilmington Broom and Mattress Factory.

It always gives us pleasure to note the new enterprises that spring up in our midst. It not only evidences the material growth of the town, but also shows unmistakable signs of the attractiveness of our "City by the Sea" for capital and labor. By invitation, we visited yesterday the Broom and There was no City Court this morn- Mattress Manufactory of Mr. John B. Watson, situated on Mulberry street. between Sixth and Seventh, and were surprised as well as gratified to note industry was established and in successful operation among us. The proprietor, Mr. Watson, is one of those unfortunates who is nearly blind, but nevertheless, through instructions gainwarmer and after the sun rose the Institution for the Deat and Dumb and death. the Blind, he is an expert at his business and would put to confusion those enjoying their full eyesight, in the way in which he manipulates the materials that go to make up a broom or a mat- brother's feet than she did on his.

In the broom department, we noticed all the latest improved machinery for putting them up with neatness and dispatch, and it was a marvel to notice the and will take her place until the latter sorting of the straw, the sewing, the cutting and finishing up of the broom was done. Under the delicate touch of s detected and thrown aside and none but the best is allowed to be used in making a broom, which accounts for his having been victorious in securing the prize in every competition in which he has entered. We were shown a beautiful medal awarded him at the Carolina Fair, and inscribed: "To John B. Watson, for the best Corn Broom, Charlotte, 1872." Also, a valuable silver cup, awarded at our own New Hanover County Fair, for the best brooms; a diploma at Salisbury, and for five successive years, at the State Fair, he was awarded diplomas and money prizes for the excellence of the manufacture of his brooms. He not only makes the short-handled floor broom, but also puts up a long-handled 'web broom," which needs only to be seen by the tidy housewife to be appreciated. Let her be ever so short of statue, with this implement she can reach the detestable web. And this, like the others, is made of the best ma terial, put up in the most substantial

> In the mattress making department we were first shown the bales and piles of shucks, moss and cotton, in their crude state, that enter into the make of a mattress and here again were we astonished at the definess of the fingers controlled by eyes that barely see. In the picking of the shucks the least hard substance is quickly detected and thrown aside; in the moss all foreign matter is separated; in the cotton the smallest particle of trash or eeed is excluded. We examined mattresses ready for sale and found them soft and pliant to the touch, encased in excellent ticking, and were fully convinced, as tar as could be without a practical test, that Morpheus would be easy to find by a not over weary mortal, should he rest his tired limbs upon one of them for a short space of time. Mr. Watson manufactures a mattress that is made in two separate parts. which renders it easy to handle by those who "make up the bed," and we look upon it as a decided improvement.

manner. These brooms are on sale at the factory and also at other places.

We are really of the opinion that, outside of the fact that this is a home enterprise, conducted by a deserving man, and the articles manufactured are very superior, we believe that dealers will be looking to their own interests by encouraging Mr. Watson in his efforts to establish permanently this enterprise in our c.ty.

There will be a dress parade and inspection of the Wilmington Light Infantry to-morrow (Thursday) night, in the City Hall, commencing at 8 o'elock, which the public, and especially the ladies, are invited to attend,

When old Judge Jowler was tucked in his little bed by Mrs. Mouser he couldn't sleep a wink until the excellent woman had brought a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. Then he crossed his little hands and sunk in sweet repose.

Death of Mr. Jesse Bowden. NEW ADVERTISEMENTS We regret to learn that Mr. Jesse Bowden, of Rocky Point township, Pender county, died at about 4 o'clock yesterday morning. He was about 48 years of age and leaves a wife and six children. His disease was pneumonia. Mr. Bowden was a good citizen, a kindhearted neighbor, and his death will cause a deep void in the section in which be lived.
