The Daily Review has the largest bona fide circulation of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

Monsignor Capel will reside in Rome next year.

Chief Justice Waite is not recovering from his recent illness as fast as many friends could hope.

The Hon. H. E. Vivian, envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Denmark, has been appointed to the same post at Brussels to fill the vacancy caused by the transfer of Sir E. B. Malet to Berlin.

Theodore Roosevelt is on his way home from Montana, where he had somewhat sport killing three grizzly bears, six elk, several buffalo and a number of antelopes. One of the bears weighed 1,200 pounds.

Codorus township, York county, Pa., is as solidly Democratic as could be wished. At the special election for Congressman last week Codorus cast 325 votes for Dr. Thorpe, Democrat, and not a single one for his Republican opponent.

The charge which the Rev. Dr.
Hague, a Baptist minister, brings against the Episcopal Church is very extraordinary. He says, in substance, that infidelity is honeycombing its foundations, and that it is falling into manifest decay.

A collection of fans was sold last month at Madrid, when one of ivory, which formerly belonged to the Princess Adelaide of Savoy, brought $750. A fan, painted by Boucher, sold for $950; and another, formerly owned by the Duchess of Medina-Celi, went for $450.

The farmers of Nebraska are not in a pleasant state of mind. The past year the hog cholera has carried off about $2,000,000 worth of hogs, corn is down to 19 cents a bushel, while coal costs 22 cents, and they find it cheaper to burn corn to keep warm than to buy coal.

The very newest fashion at the dinner-table in London is for the hostess to have all sorts of quaint and curious little articles containing salt, pepper, oil, vinegar, sugar, etc., placed before her guests for their exclusive use and benefit. No one else has anything like them.

The increase of duty on American petroleum which Germany proposes to make is equal to a differential duty against the United States of about 7 per cents. ad valorem, since Russian petroleum, being imported in railway tanks, is not liable to an increased duty.

It seems probable that the scheme to bring the big ship Great Eastern to New Orleans will fall through for want of cooperation in that city. The amount needed to fit the vessel out is less than $20,000, but it seems probable the effort to secure this amount in the Crescent City will not succeed.

The banquet to be given in Columbus, January 8, by the Ohio Democratic Club will be a notable event. Many distinguished Democrats have already accepted invitations to attend, and in letters received there is unanimity of opinion expressed that the incoming Administration will be distinguished for its adherence to the principles laid down in the Chicago platform.

We have seen the name of Hon. D. G.
Fowle suggested for the position now held by Mr. Samuel F. Phillips, that of Solicitor General of the United States, and we feel impelled to say that the selection of Judge Fowle for this place would be an excellent one. We are mindful, too, when we say this, of the fact that Judge Fowle is a citizen of Raleigh, but as he does not want all of the offices himself, and could hardly fill all that may fall to the share of North Carolina, his friends are at liberty, we suppose, to urge him for the position. We are mindful of another fact, too, are the premises, and that is that Judge Fowle has done well for his party and that he deserves well at its hands. He has worked nobly, earnestly and untiringly for its success and during the last campaign he gave of his time, of his means and of his abilities to the cause of good government, his voice having been heard in its behalf in every section of the State.

To every Housekeeper a good ers

There was no City Court this morning.

The receipts of cotton at this port today foot up 211 bales.

Four white tramps were accommodated with lodgings at the gr^{and} hotel last night.

The cold wave struck us last night with considerable force. It was accompanied by rain and wind, and this morning it was quite cold.

Mashed strawberry ribbons sell at one dollar a yard, but you can get a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup for only twenty-five cents.

Br. brig Robert & Mary, Baker, cleared to-day for Glasgow, with 2,624 barrels rosin, valued at $3 120, shipped by Messrs. Paterson, Downing & Co.

The steamer Benefactor, which was due from New York on Tuesday last, arrived here to-day. She was delayed in sailing from New York.

When you can get a suit of clothes made to order by a tailor it is time to take advantage of the opportunity. Go at once to Dyer's and have a suit made at actual cost.

Marine Disaster.

Capt. Loof, of the Ger. barque Texas, which arrived here yesterday, reports that when in lat. 29 53 North and lon. 75 10 West, he passed a two masted schooner with no one on board.
A heavy sea was running at the time which washed the schooner's deck. Did not learn her name nor how long she had been abandoned.

Widow Bedott

Mr. C. B. Bishop, whom we first knew as Mrs. Pluto, in the play of the "Seven Sisters," will appear at the Opera House in this city next Monday night as Widow Bedott, in the play of that name. Mr. Bishop seems to have a fondness for taking female characters, for which he is well suited. As the Widow Bedott, he has ample room for the display of his special talent. The New York Sun says:

Mr. Bishop is an amusing actor, and has a countenance of vast area. A large proportion of this area disappears as if by magic when he opens his mouth, and there is substituted therefor a hilarious chasm of fearful width and profundity. He is infinitely amusing, and in his care the "Widow" has a long lease of life."

Personal.

We are glad to learn that the health of Capt. W. M. Parker has considerably improved.

A letter was received in this city a few days since from Mr. Asa A.
Brown, who was here for three or four months last year. He is now located at Paso del Norte, Mexico, where he is the agent of Wells, Fargo & Co's express. He was in excellent health.

Mr. Benj. W. Davis, of New York, arrived here this morning on the steamship Benefactor on a visit to his father and brother, combining business with pleasure.

Mr. John McGarity, formerly of this city, but now of Baltimore, is here on a visit to his family.

A Sea Dog.

On Friday, the 19th of December, 1884, the schooner Isaac L. Clark, Capt.
Cramer, was wrecked on Hatteras, and on the Sunday following the wreck drifted ashore at the fishing grounds of Messrs. W. E. Davis & Sons, at Stump Sound, the crew having been saved by the men of the Life Saving Station. These facts were published in the REVIEW of Dec. 23d, 1884, but there is something yet to be told. On Dec. 23d, the day upon which we published the account of the wreck, Mr.
J. J. Hicks went on board the wreck and rescued a dog which had been left when the crew forsook the vessel. The animal was of the St.
Bernard breed, evidently quite young, a mammoth in size, and when found was nearly famished with cold and hunger, but true to his instincts, would not let his resources come on board until after much coaxing. Since then he has been well fed and cared for. He was in our office to-day and he is a magnificent beast. Rather a remarkable coincidence connected with the affair is in the fact that Mr. Hicks, who rescued the dog, formerly sailed with Capt.
Cramer.

For durable coloring the walls of nothing equals the MABLEINE sold at A Stranger's Suicide.

About 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, while some sportsmen were gaming on the opposite side of the river, one of the party, Mr. R. C. Smith, engineer at the Champion Compress, discovered the body of a dead man lying at the foot of a tree about 300 yards North from the ferry, which the Wilmington Light Infantry have been in the habit of using in their target practice. The body was lying upon its back and on the right side of the throat there was a fatal gash. A small silver-handled knife, covered with blood, and a silver-headed cane lay by its side. The alarm was at once given and the news was brought as quickly as possible to this side of the river.
Coroner Jacobs immediately took charge of the body and effects, the latter consisting of a handsome gold watch, about fifty dollars in money, a bank check book and two handkerchiefs. There were no letters to indicate the name of the stranger and no clue save the check book, which was on the South Bend National Bank, of South Bend, Ind., and contained entries showing deposits in the name of L. B. Wicklaw, amounting to $2,300, against which there were checks amounting to $800. The body was taken to a house near the ferry and a guard placed over it. In the name of the Coroner, Chief of Police Brock telegraphed last night to the bank at South Bend a statement of the facts as far as known.

An inquiry was at once instituted to ascertain all the particulars possible regarding the man, but no information could be found at either of the hotels, but it was ascertained that a man answering the description of the deceased had stopped at the Scarborough House, on North Water Street, at about 7 o'clock on Wednesday morning, and after obtaining a plate of oysters walked out. He came back again about dark and wanted a room, but his actions and language were so wild and incoherent that he was advised to seek lodgings elsewhere. He left, leaving his overcoat in charge of the clerk, and did not again return.

This morning Coroner Jacobs empanelled a jury of inquest composed as follows: Elijah Lane, foreman; T. H.
Betts, Moore Byrd, George F. Tilley, John D. Steljes and Thomas Pickett, who upon viewing the body and hearing all the testimony rendered a verdict that "the deceased came to his death by suicide."

During the forenoon the following dispatches were received.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Jan. 2nd, 1885.

To David Jacobs, Coroner.

L. B. Wicklaw's relatives, at Mishawaka, Ind., will instruct you. We have notified them.

(Signed) SOUTH BEND NATIONAL BANK

The second was from Mishawaka, Ind., and was as follows:

MISHAWAKA, Ind., Jan. 2d, 1885.

To David Jacobs, Coroner:

Send description of L. B. Wicklaw, found dead. How killed?

(Signed) J. Z. WICKLAW.

The deceased was about 5 feet 4 inches in height, light complexion, and had lost one of his legs, the place of which had been supplied by a wooden one of the best pattern and make, and this, with other information, has been sent to J. Z. Wicklaw.

Capt. F. M. James went over the river this afternoon with a coffin, into which the remains were placed and brought across and taken to Oak Grove Cemetery, where they were interred.

Indications.

For the South Atlantic States, clearing weather, Northerly winds and higher barometer.

There was a large attendance at the matinee at the Opera House yesterday afternoon to witness the presentation of Peck's Bad Boy. The play was received with uproarious delight and every one was satisfied. The company left on last night's train for Charlotte, where they are to appear to-night.

Statuary.

There is on exhibition, at Messrs.
Munds Bros. & DeRosset's, two pieces of statuary, representing two mounted knights in armor. They are the work of Masters Donald and Thomas Mc-Caskill, aged 14 and 12 years respectively, who are sons of Mrs. H. A. Mc-Caskill, nee Miss Hattie Laspeyre, formerly of this city, but now a resident of Georgia. One of the knights is represented with the visor closed while the other has his visor drawn. The figures are quite good, and when we remember the youth of the artists, they are remarkable productions. The artists manifest undoubted genius, and with age, experience and the guiding hand of a good instructor will achieve success.
The works are to be raffled for, the proceeds of which will be devoted to the education of the young gentlemen to be artists.

The Fourth of March.

All of our readers know that Cleveland is to be inaugurated on the 4th of March, but few of them have ever thought to enquire how it comes that the fourth happens to be inauguration day.
In very early times, when March 3rd was supposed to be the last day to which Congress could extend itself in the year with propriety, it would occasionally be found hard at work as the 3rd passed into the 4th. As the 4th of March is the day for the inauguration of the executive department of the government of the United States that date has become the first in this nation. It was fixed upon in 1788 by action of the Continental Congress, which, on the 18th of September, adopted the following resolute, preceded by a preamble which set forth in order the reasons for the action of that Congress at that time: "That the first Wednesday in January next be the day for appointing electors in the several States which before the said day shall have ratified the said constitution; that the first Wednesday in February next be the day for the electors to assemble in their respective States and vote for a President, and that the first Wednesday in March next be the time, and the present seat of Congress (New York) the place, for commencing the proceedings under the said constitution." The first Wednesday in March, 1789, fell on the 4th of March, and hence the precedence of that day in history under the constitution. It was not till the 30th of April, 1789, however, that Washington became President owing to various circumstances; but in 1793, when he entered upon his second Presidential term, he was inaugurated on the 4th of March.

Receipts and Exports.

The receipts of cotton at the port of Wilmington for the year 1884 foot up 97,128 bales, as against 113,863 bales for 1883; spirits turpentine, 71,484 casks, as against 81,027 casks for 1883; against 60,153 barrels for 1883.

The exports of cotton for the year 1884 foot up 97,231 bales, of which 28,202 bales went coastwise and 69,029 bales foreign; as against 120,818 bales in 1883, of which 49,463 bales went coastwise and 71,355 bales foreign.
The exports of spirits turpentine for 1884 foot up 71,354 casks, of which 15,710 casks went coastwise and 55,644 casks foreign; as against 83,135 casks for 1883, of which 30,511 went coastwise and 51,624 foreign.
The exports of rosin for the year 1884 foot up 342,936 barrels of which 40,618 barrels went coastwise and 302,318 went coastwise and 388,769 foreign.

The exports of tar for 1884 foot up 68,795 barrels, of which 49,449 barrels went coastwise and 19,346 foreign; as against 82,666 barrels for 1883, of which 53,562 barrels went coastwise and 29,- 194 foreign. The exports of crude turpentine for 1884 foot up 39,903 barrels, of which 39,464 barrels went coastwise and 439 barrels foreign; as
barrels foreign.

The exports of timber during the year just ended aggregated 36,946,224 feet, of which 21,555,793 feet were shipped coastwise and 15,390,431 feet were shipped foreign.

The Last Pound.

Mr. Walter Haynes, 147 York St., Sydney, N. S. W., affirms that he would spend his last pound for a bottle of St. Jacobs Oil. It cured him of rheumatic lumbago, with which he suffered so he could not rise from his chair.
