There was no City Court this morning.
Turner's Almanac promises cold winds for Saturday.
Full moon to-morrow morning at 5 minutes past 11 o'clock.
Let everybody attend the interesting and instructive lecture of Prof. Proctor at the Opera House to-night.
Two tramps—one white and one colored—were accommodated with lodgings at the guard house last night.
This morning was quite cold, but the weather moderated during the day so that it was quite pleasant at noonday.
We have received the annual report of the Auditor of the State of North Carolina for the fiscal year ending November 30, 1884.
The number of Northern strangers in our city continues large, and many of them give expression to their delight with our climate and people.
The offshore storm signal was flying this morning, but it was soon hauled down which indicated that we may expect pleasant weather for a day or two.
Fruit is abundant in this market this season. It is one of the cheapest as one of the healthiest kinds of food.—Oranges, bananas and apples are plentiful and they are a luxury now within the reach of all.
When you have a moment to spare just drop in at Dyer's and see the sample of the elegant line of spring suitings he will import. Remember a fine suit of Scotch wool, for $35, will be the specialty.
The cold weather, together with the high water in the river, have caused quite a number of flatboats of wood to be brought into market. It is now sold at reasonable prices, and we understand that more is coming.
The mud caused by the recent rains has dried up and the streets are getting in first rate condition again. There are a good many repairs needed on some thoroughfares, and these are being attended to as fast as circumstances and the force employed will permit.

Indications.
For the South Atlantic States, fair weather in the Northern portion; partly cloudy weather and local rains in the Southern portion; variable winds, generally Northerly, and warmer weather.

Death of a Former Citizen.
Mr. James H. McGowan, who was at one time well-known in this city, where he resided for some time soon after the war, died recently at Coalville, Ala. The remains were interred at Lynchburg, Va., in the family burying ground. Deceased was a relative of Capt. J. M. McGowan, of this city.

Meeting of the Bar.
The Raleigh Visitor says that there was a large meeting of the members of the Bar of the State in the Court House in that city yesterday, to take into consideration the means by which increased judicial facilities may be obtained from the Legislature. Hon. Jos. J. Davis presided and B. F. Long and S. A. Ashe were secretaries. Numerous resolutions and suggestions were made and referred to a committee of fifteen to report hereafter. A committee of nine were appointed to report as to the organization of a Bar Association for the State.

Personal.
Mr. Wilson, Postoffice Inspector for the Free Delivery system, was in the city to-day.
Capt. J. M. McGowan left here this morning for Raleigh where he has been called by the extreme illness of his father, Mr. P. McGowan.
Mr. Thomas Badger, General Freight Agent Raleigh & Augusta Air Line Railroad, arrived in the city this morning, and registered at the Purcell House.
Prof. R. A. Proctor, who will lecture upon Astronomy at the Opera House to-night, arrived in the city this morning. His wife arrived last night. They are registered at the Purcell House.

Last Night's Fire.

At about half past 11 o'clock last night the two story frame dwelling on Red Cross street, between Seventh and Eighth, caught fire in one of the rooms on the second floor, and when discovered the flames were beyond the control of the inmates of the house. The alarm was sounded and the firemen, notwithstanding the cold weather, were on hand with remarkable promptitude, and by their exertions saved the lower part of the house from destruction. The roof, however, was burned off and considerable damage was done to the second story. The fire is supposed to have originated from a piece of light wood rolling from the fire place to the floor while the occupant of the room was absent. The woman of the house had not retired. One man, who had gone to sleep, was awoke and was in such a dazed condition that he had to be toted from the burning building by a burly fireman. The house belonged to Henry Taylor, colored, and was occupied by Fannie Wilson and several other respectable females. The property was insured in Connecticut Fire Ins. Co., of Hartford, Conn., represented in this city by Messrs W. L. Smith & Co., to the amount of $900, which will fully cover the loss. The Phoenix Hose Reel had the good fortune to get the first stream of water on the building.

Last Night's Entertainment.

The Young People's Association connected with St. Paul's Lutheran Church gave another of their literary and musical entertainments at Luther Memorial building last night. The hall was thronged and all were pleased with the entertainment. The programme was well chosen and the selections were rendered in exquisite taste. It was as follows:
PART FIRST.
Overture—Messrs. Greenwald, Willson and Schmidt.
Prayer—Rev. T. W. Josh, of Salem, Va.
Address of Welcome by C. W. Polvogt.

Better than Gold, a German-English Recitation—by H. H. Geischen.
Vocal Solo—by Miss Rulf.
English Recitation—by H. J. Dingelhoefer.
German Dialogue—by Misses L. Glameyer and Katie Tiedemann.
PART SECOND.
Violin Solo—by Prof. Schmidt.
German Recitation—by Miss L. Glameyer.
Vocal Duet—by Misses Rulf and Schwarz.
English Recitation—by J. H. Rehder.
Duet, Violin and Piano—by Miss Schwarz and Master Julius Schwarz.
English Dialogue—Ann Jerusha's Mistake—by Misses Rulf and Range and Messrs. C. W. Polvogt and E. Schulken, Jr.
Closing Address—by Miss M. Bloome.
Grand Finale—by Messrs. Greenwald, Willson and Schmidt.

For the Daily Review.
Isad Taste.
I confess to surprise and regret that the editor of the Raleigh Register should have published the mean wit of the goggle-eyed editor of the New York Sun in regard to Jefferson Davis in woman's attire. This is false and has been so proved, but it comports entirely with the malignant disposition of this Bashi-Bazouk of the American press to repeat the foul slander. When it is remembered that this same fellow, Dana, was chiefly responsible for the cowardly and disgraceful deed of ironing a decrepit old man, a prisoner of war, immured within a well guarded fortress less was hardly to be expected, but it occurs to me as being in bad taste for Southern editors to publish anything that could possibly be construed as reflecting upon the character or courage of our old chief. I have no idea that the accomplished editor of the Register means to do Mr. Davis an injustice yet such things might do him harm.
—S. W. CORBETT.

Mortality Statistics.

From the books of Dr. F. W. Potter, Superintendent of Health for the city, we get the following interesting statistics relative to the death rate in this city during the year 1884:

WHITES.
January, 8 adults, 1 child; total, 9.
February, 4 adults, 1 child; total, 5.
March, 5 adults, 3 children; total, 7.
April, 6 adults, 5 children; total, 11.
May, 8 adults, 9 children; total, 17.
June 5 adults, 11 children; total, 16.
July, 10 adults, 4 children; total, 14.
August, 3 adults, 10 children; total, 13.
September, 6 adults, 4 children, total, 10.
October, 11 adults, 15 children; total, 26.
November, 8 adults, 3 children; total, 11.
December, 9 adults, 6 children; total, 15.

COLORED.
January, 15 adults 14 children; total, 29.
February, 6 adults, 20 children; total, 26.
March, 15 adults, 11 children; total, 26.
April, 16 adults, 15 children; total, 31.
May, 20 adults, 19 children; total, 39.
June, 14 adults, 20 children; total, 34.
July, 14 adults, 30 children; total, 44.
August, 7 adults, 18 children; total, 25.
September, 14 adults, 15 children; total, 29.
October, 25 adults, 19 children; total, 44.
November, 16 adults, 9 children; total, 25.
December, 10 adults, 10 children; total, 20.

Total whites, 83 adults, 71 children; 154 deaths; total colored, 172 adults, 200 children; 372 deaths. Total number of deaths, white and colored, 526.
Calculating on a basis of 20,000 population this gives 26.30 deaths per 1,000 in a estimating on a basis of 8,000 whites and 12,000 colored to the population, the percentage is 10.8 for the white and 31 for the colored, per 1,000. This is a very low percentage for the white population of this city and a very high one for the colored, and we doubt if there is a city in the United States which can make a better show for the whites than we do.

No Failure Here.
I TAKE THIS MEANS OF SAYING THAT the report current in the streets to-day that the undersigned had failed, is utterly untrue and without any foundation whatever. It arose "perhaps from a suit in a Justice's Court against a person bearing a name that sounds similar to that of the undersigned. I have not failed and will not fail to keep on hand the finest liquors and cigars and to keep the finest restaurant in the city where all can drive dull care away by familiarly with the finest market affords. The only failure around my way is the failure Walker Moore met with in collecting bills this morning but he will try again.
