THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. IX. WILMINGTON, N. C., MONDAY, FEBRUARY 23, 1885. NO 45.

The Daily Review has the largest bona fide circulation of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

Mr. Frelinghuysen's house in Washington is advertised for sale.

Mr. Cilley, once United States Senator from New Hampshire, is dangerously ill.

During the next 250 years there can be only one total eclipse of the sun, that of August 12, 1993, which can be seen in England.

The Supreme Court in Tennessee has decided that a trainer has a lien upon a horse for services, time, and expense in preparing for races.

The French journals announce the purchase by the Louvre for $20,000 of three pictures by F. Hals from the Hospital at Haarlem.

Georgia promises a great melon season. With that and the cholera together the doctors have a right to look for a business boom in the Spring.

The Columbus Medical Journal reports a case of death on the fifth day, after taking eighty-five grains of bromide of potassium every four hours.

An English lady, Mrs. Hayward, has been engaged as professor of elocution in the Cincinnati law school, and the innovation has been received with favor.

The base ball clubs are getting themselves into working order. This is an evidence that Spring time is near at hand; but it is about the only evidence we have observed.

One Harvey was the solitary citizen who squatted on the only land by which the grand canon of the Colorado River can be reached, and he charges $12 to visitors for the privilege of looking at that wonder.

One of the bills in the California Assembly gives to any young man, under 26 years of age, who learns a trade by serving an apprenticeship of three years, and is a moral young man, $250 out of the treasury.

The adherents of Wagner in Paris are about to publish a new journal, entitled Revue Wagnerienne, which is, of course, to be devoted to the propagation of the doctrines of the composer of "Tristan."

A Massachusetts farmer boasts that the male portion of his household, consisting of himself, son, son-in-law and hired men, are all total abstainers from the use of tobacco or liquor. This is really something to boast of.

Mme. Ristori thinks that the South needs musical culture. While she was playing in Athens, Ga., she says that the local orchestra played "Billy in the Low Grounds" during the execution of the Earl of Essex, and allowed Queen Elizabeth to yield up the ghost to the tune of "Dixie."

During the Exposition in New Orleans forty gambling houses, where banking games are run, keep open night and day. Gamblers have assembled there from all over the Union and with the Louisiana lottery and other well-known attractions, New Orleans is, for the time being, the wickedest city in the Union.

A writer in the Victorian Review, Melbourne, on the "Gastronomy of Travel" praises what he calls a trinity of American delicacies, "the canvass back duck, the Newton pippin and the blue rock oysters." He also declares American larger beer far superior to German, and especially adapted to Australia.

Bill Nye, Josh Billings, and other humorous writers, have contributed their best efforts to the St. James Oil, Fat & Candle, 1884-5. The same can be had by inclosing a two-cent postage stamp to the SUPPLY DEPARTMENT, THE CHARLES A. VOGELER COMPANY, BALTIMORE, MD.

Quarterly Meeting. First round for the Wilmington District of the Methodist E. Church, South for 1884-85.

Whitesville circuit, Whiteville, 21-22. Topsail circuit, Scott's Hill, 21-22.

February 28 and March 1. Onslow circuit, Tabernacle, 7-8. Duplin circuit, Kenansville, 14-15. Brunswick circuit, Concord, 21-22.

The District Stewards will please meet at Wilmington Front Street Church on February 4th at 11 o'clock a. m. P. J. CARRAWAY, P. E.

Step Ladders, all lengths, at JACOBI'S Depot.

Wm. Garson was brought before the Mayor this morning charged with disorderly conduct. He was adjudged guilty and a sentence of $5 was imposed for the offense.

Indications For the South Atlantic States, fair weather, Northerly winds, slight rise in temperature with generally lower barometer.

Personal Mr. W. H. Blount, editor of the Wilson Mirror, was in the city yesterday.

Mr. James F. Post, after an absence of several days spent in visiting Durham, Raleigh, Charlotte and other cities in the Western portion of the State, has returned to the city.

Mr. W. H. Chadbourn, Senator from this district, and Mr. C. P. Locky, representative from this county, are in the city to spend the brief holiday. Mr. W. P. Sutton, the representative from Bladen, passed up home on Saturday. The Legislature adjourned until to-morrow morning and hence the brief respite from labor.

Base Ball Arrangements are being made in Raleigh for a meeting of representatives of all the base ball clubs in the State to be held in that city on the 29th inst., to organize a State league. It is hoped that the base ball clubs of Wilmington will not be backward in this movement, but will take immediate steps to be represented at the meeting. Appearances indicate, all over the country, that the coming season will be one of unusually active interest to base ball players, and we would not like to see our own city behind-hand in the movement. All communications should be addressed to the manager of the Raleigh Base Ball Club.

Oak Island Light. Notice is given from the office of the Light House Board, at Washington City, that the front beacon of the Oak Island Range, North Carolina, is about to be moved 450 feet to the eastward of its present position, and that, during its removal and until its establishment in its new location, a red light will be shown from a lantern suspended from a mast in the position of the present light. When the above-named is re-established, it will, in connection with the new lights to be established in Cape Fear river, form a new system of range, due notice of which be published here after.

Magistrate's Court. Julia Ford, colored, who is in difficulty nearly all the time and who had just gotten out of jail, where she had been confined for some of her many misdeeds, was brought before Justice Hall, this morning, charged with an assault and battery upon Laura Taylor, also colored. The testimony showed that the quarrel originated in a dispute concerning a white man and a bottle of gin, and that Laura was the beginner in the actual hostilities by breaking the bottle of gin sforesaid upon Julia's head, when the latter retaliated by smashing a chair on the head of the former. Laura had the worst of it, for she was banged (not with the fashionable bangs, however) about the head and eyes so badly that she could hardly see, while the gin bottle had made no perceptible mark upon Julia's cranium. In the opinion of the Court it was an affray in which both were equally guilty and a fine of $9 and costs was imposed upon each.

Mr. Edward Kidder.

It is with great regret that we learn of the extreme illness of Mr. Edward Kidder, one of the oldest, most enterprising and most highly esteemed citizens of Wilmington. He has been sick but a very short time, a few days only, in fact, and to many the first intimation of his being sick at all, came in the startling and distressing news that he was at the point of death. Even now, as we write, his kindly spirit is hovering over the very verge of the shadowy land and it may be that before the ink upon our paper is dry, it will have winged its flight over the unknown sea to rest in brighter, happier, and more peaceful scenes than these.

Mr. Kidder, as we have said, has been ill for but a few days and it was only last week that he was seen and met with in his accustomed business haunts as if but two-score instead of four-score years had passed over his head. His attack was, we have heard, jaundice and it was not thought that he was in great bodily danger until this morning, at 1 o'clock, when a fearful change for the worse took place, the heart having become affected. It was soon seen that his days were numbered although all that loving kindness and care and skill could do was done to relieve him.

Mr. Kidder was born, we have heard, in Boston, in the latter part of the year 1804 which places him now in his 82nd year. He came to Wilmington when a young man, now about 60 years ago, and has resided here ever since. His has been an active life and it has been crowned with much success. He has been long known and identified with the best interests of Wilmington and has been recognized as one of our most public-spirited and enterprising citizens. His benefactions have been extensive and varied yet have never been paraded before the public eye and there are many grateful hearts in this community to-day which have prayed that he might yet be spared for a few years longer.

If the young men who call to see their girls these long winter evenings, do not wish to be met on the steps with the words, "Miss Laura is sick with a cold and can't be seen," they would better keep her well supplied with Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

The Boy Clipper Plow has earned a reputation of being the best ever used and are pronounced perfect by the best farmers. Sold wholesale and retail at the factory agency, JACOBI'S Hardware Depot.

We Must Have Room!

The balance of our Clothing must go, as we must have the room for our Spring Goods. Price is not the object, the room is what we want and must have. We do not try to humbug the public with our advertisements, but what we want is an opportunity to prove to our patrons and the public that we speak the truth and mean business. If you want any Clothing, select such as you wish at SHRIER'S, who offers to send it to your homes for comparison or let you take them to any other store, and if SHRIER does not give you better goods for the least money, don't keep them. But we do say, if our goods prove better than others and prices less, we should have your patronage. Before investing it will pay you to post yourself where low prices prevail all the year round.
