

THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. IX. WILMINGTON, N. C., SATURDAY, MARCH 14, 1885. NO. 61.

The Daily Review has the largest bona fide circulation of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

Gen. Simon Cameron celebrated his eighty-seventh birthday last Sunday quietly at his home in Harrisburg, Pa.

The total of the enrolled volunteers in Great Britain at the present time is announced as 215,000, the greatest number ever attained.

Leonard Field, the oldest type-setter in New York city, and for thirty-nine years a compositor on the Sun, died at his home last Saturday at the age of eighty-seven.

Wiggins, the Canadian weather prophet, who in times past has foretold innumerable catastrophes, from which the earth has thus far escaped, now predicts a great storm and earthquake for the 18th inst.

The New York grocers are very angry at the farmers. It is charged that the farmers and the oleomargarine manufacturers are in league. Some choice country butter recently received was examined and found to be more than half oleomargarine.

A rich merchant of the West Indies died recently and on Thursday a telegram was received by Baldwin Pierson, of Bridgeport, Conn., saying that $30,000 was left to him in the merchant's will. Thirty-seven years ago Pierson rescued him from drowning while school boys, and had never heard of him since.

Inaugurations, thanks to the ball that winds up the day, are apt to be self-supporting. After the Garfield inauguration Mr. John W. Thompson was able to send back to each contributor the amount of subscription, and the managers of the Cleveland ball are apt, not only to do that, but to declare a dividend for charitable purposes.

Mr. C. W. Harris, in his last letter from Washington city to the Goldsboro Messenger, thus discourses of matters and things relative to the distribution of the Federal offices:

The great question is one of practical politics—who shall hold the offices. There is a concurrence of sentiment among gentlemen who seek or are supposed to seek office that "the rascals must be turned out," and as one man said to-day, that means all incumbents otherwise how are you to incumbents? Mr. Cleveland's policy on this subject is variously rendered. There are those who hold that he means to make but few changes for awhile, and then make them gradually and cautiously. Others say he will begin carefully and very slowly, but presently we shall see a large number of employees ousted and Democrats or Independents put in their places in every instance. All argue that there will be no precipitancy, except possibly in the Southern offices now filled by a scurvy horde worthy of expulsion on civil service principles. Only a few doubt Mr. Cleveland's perfect sincerity in dealing with the party's deliverances last Summer. It is evident that the President is a practical reformer and means something more than mere talk. He will remove all incompetent persons and all gross partisans who have prostituted their offices to base party ends. This will eject nearly all of the officers and three-fourths of the clerks and petty employees in the departments.

So little is known of the actual chances of applicants that it is perhaps best to ignore altogether the rumors afloat as to the greater offices outside the State, and confine myself to what seems likely as to North Carolina. A careful survey of the home field from the standpoint of the Capitol leads me to these conclusions: Our State will receive her full quota of places, but the distribution is the matter of difficulty. A caucus of the delegation to the 49th Congress, including the Senators, was held to-day in one of the House committee rooms, and matters discussed at some length and freely. I do not understand that any particular rule of action was adopted, though I know that several plans were talked over privately before the meeting. It seems that the situation was viewed, notes compared and chances considered. The actual result as to men I do not pretend to give, but I am nearly confident that Mr. E. J. Hale is the favorite for a foreign mission of the second grade—Spain or Belgium—that Busbee will be District Attorney for the Eastern District, that Col. David Settle will be marshal for Western Carolina, that either Battle or Yarboro will be collector of the 4th District, and that J. A. Boyd, of Rockingham, will be collector for the 5th District. Of foreign appointments I learn of only three applications: that of Mr. Hale, just mentioned, and applications for consular positions by Messrs Theodore Pool, of Pasquotank, and S. H. Fishplate, of Wilmington. The latter wishes to go to Berlin. The universal opinion of North Carolinians in the city is that Gen. R. B. Vance will be made Commissioner of Patents. His most formidable competitor is ex-Congressman Hobilzitzel, of Maryland. Ex-Gov. Jarvis was mentioned yesterday by a certain newspaper man who takes interest in North Carolina politics as likely to be made Commissioner of Agriculture. I have endeavored to-day to ascertain upon what the report was based. It is discredited by North Carolinians with whom I have talked, and I am inclined to think that there is nothing substantial in the rumor.

If the legislators who took a hand in the work of killing the stock law bill for New Hanover could hear the comments of fence-builders they would not feel complimented. It was a great and inexcusable outrage that the farmers of New Hanover county were not allowed to have the privilege of saying whether they desired a stock law. Other counties were given the law when there was no test given of public sentiment. The bill as amended required that two-thirds of the fence-builders should apply to the County Commissioners or there should be no stock-law, and even this was refused. It is just one of these unwarranted, high-handed measures that deserve the unqualified condemnation of all fair-minded men. There is something behind not yet known to the people.—Wilmington Star.

Having opposed the stock-law for New Hanover and having been credited with being instrumental in its defeat, we feel it incumbent on us to take some notice of the above remarkable production. We cannot imagine what the threat means that appears to be conveyed in the last sentence, nor do we care. We only know that the Legislature defeated the bill for the stock law and we must credit the members of that body with having done what they conceived to be their plain duty. If the threat is against the members of the Legislature who voted against the stock law then it would be well for the Star to be a little more explicit and to state just what it does mean.

It is evident, from the efforts which the Star has used in behalf of a stock law which should be voted upon only by the "fence-builders," that it is not thoroughly conversant with the organic law of the State of North Carolina. The very bill which it has clamored for, if it had been passed by the Legislature, would not have been worth the ink used in its engrossment, to say nothing of the paper upon which it was written. It would simply have been unconstitutional, as it would have amounted to nothing more nor less than qualified suffrage. The Constitution of North Carolina, art. I, sec 22, says:

As political rights and privileges are not dependent upon, or modified by property, therefore, no property qualification ought to affect the right to vote or hold office.

Is it not plain thereby that the very thing of which the Star complains as "a great and inexcusable outrage," and as an "unwarranted, high-handed measure," is strictly in accordance with the provisions of the Constitution of the State of North Carolina?

Parlor Concert. The Parlor Concert last night at the residence of Mr. Wm. Larkins, for the benefit of the First Baptist Church, was well attended, and the music, both vocal and instrumental, was well rendered. The occasion was pleasant, and those who were present were delighted and the Organ Fund was considerably increased. We learn that other entertainments of like character and for the same purpose will soon follow, and we hope that they may be entirely successful.

Revival Notes. The series of meetings now in progress at the Fifth Street M. E. Church continue with unabated interest. At the close of the services last night the accessions to the church since the meetings began numbered 83, and 93 conversions. This makes an aggregate of 101 accessions to the church during the present conference year. Rev. Mr. Tuttle, the pastor of the church, has worked with unflagging and untiring zeal in the cause and his efforts, through Divine help, have been crowned with a most marked success. The meetings will continue for several days to come.

The Fashion in Colors. Green is to supersede gray for Spring wear. Reseda is to be the ultra-fashionable shade in this color; it is a delicate grayish green and is charming alike in thick and thin material. Tea green is also a new tint, and together with olive, cresson, fir and myrtle green, will have a fair share of popularity. Apple green and that of a pale yellowish tint are used for tea-gowns and evening dresses. Ruby, tannie, a pale shade of ruby and dark mushroom are among the new colors. All shades of brown, from a rich chocolate to a golden hue, are very fashionable for ball dresses; the floral gariture harmonizing with these colors being rich, yellow chrysanthemums, daffodils or marigolds with foliage in brow tints.

Another Fire. At about 5 o'clock this morning and just as the weary firemen were returning from the fire on the corner of Fourth and Campbell streets, fire was discovered in a one story frame building, the property of Mary Davis, corner of Fourth and Castle streets, and just in the rear of her residence. The alarm was given immediately and the firemen were promptly present, but the flames had gotten such headway that the building was destroyed, with a large portion of its contents. It is not known how the fire originated. There was insurance on the property to the amount of $400 in the Western Assurance Co., of Toronto, Canada, represented in this city by Messrs Northrop & Hodges.

Cotton. The receipts of cotton at this port for the week ending with to-day foot up 351 bales, as against 619 bales for the corresponding week of last year, a decrease this week of 268 bales. The receipts of the crop year to date foot up 92,637 bales against 99,403 bales to same date last year, an increase this year of 3,224 bales.

Robbery. We are informed by Mr. J. O. Quinn, of Whiteville, that he was robbed of a watch, overcoat and $25 last night, in a saloon in this city. He has no idea who it was that robbed him. He slept in a room in which there was but one other occupant and the latter left at about 3 o'clock this morning.

Exports Foreign. Nor. barque Abel, Danielsen, cleared to-day for Antwerp with 3,429 barrels rosio, valued at $3,081, shipped by Messrs. Paterson, Downing & Co. Ger. brig Gerhard & Adolph cleared for Paysauder, Uruguay, with 229,056 feet lumber, valued at $3,463, shipped by Messrs. A. B. Morton & Sons, making a total of exports foreign amounting to $7,094.

The Matinee. There was a good audience at the Opera House this afternoon to witness the performance of the "Silver King," although it was not so large as the unusual merits of the play and the real excellence of the acting richly deserved. Mr. F. C. Bangs and Miss Charlotte Behrens, the two leading characters in the drama, did some superb acting, and their support was first-rate throughout. The play and the company are well worth a crowned house, which we hope they will have at to-night's performance.

A Disastrous Fire. At about half past 2 o'clock this morning the alarm of fire was sounded, when it was found that the two story wooden building on the Northwest corner of Fourth and Campbell streets was in flames. The building was the property of Dr. J. H. Freeman and was occupied by Mr. E. Scharff, the lower floor as a dry goods store and the second floor as a residence. The fire, when first discovered, was in the Southwest corner of the building on the second floor and the flames had gotten under such headway that Mrs. Scharff barely escaped with her children. Mr. Scharff was absent in New York at the time. The flames spread with astonishing rapidity and the entire building was soon enveloped in flames beyond the possibility of being extinguished and was destroyed with nearly all of its contents. The flames ignited three other one story frame buildings immediately North of that described, two of which were also the property of Dr. J. H. Freeman, and occupied respectively by Mr. Thomas Watson and Mr. Joseph Macomber as grocery stores, and the third building was owned by Mr. F. W. Foster and occupied as a confectionary store by Reiley Moseley, colored. These with nearly all their contents were totally destroyed. Dr. Freeman had insurance on the large building to the amount of $1,000 and $100 in each of the small buildings, making $1,200 in all, in the City of London Fire Insurance Co., represented in this city by Messrs. Atkinson & Manning. Mr. F. W. Foster had insurance on his building to the amount of $125 in the Wilmington Mutual. Mr. E. Scharff had insurance on his stock, piano, show case &c., to the amount of $1,000 in the Insurance Company of North America, of Philadelphia, Pa., represented in this city by Messrs DeRosset & Northrop. Mr. Scharff had other insurance as follows: $750 on stock, $100 on sewing machines, $100 on wearing apparel and trunks and $50 on furniture, making $1,000 in all, in the Phoenix Assurance Co., of London, represented in this city by Messrs J. W. Gordon & Smith. It is not known how the fire originated. Neither of the other parties had any insurance on their property. For a time the property of Mr. Peter Smith, on the South side of Campbell street, was in great jeopardy, but it was saved with no further damage than the breaking of a few panes of glass.

IN MEMORIAM. The heart is still, the soul is flown To regions far away, Where angels stand around the throne In garments bright as day.

'Twas but a pure and half-blown flower Which God had planted here, But He was pleased to pluck it hence To bloom in Heaven three fair.

Look up, fond father; mother, rest From weeping o'er your child. Is not your darling new at rest? From earth's fierce tempests will?

Ye sisters, brothers, do not mourn, Your jewel is not here. 'Tis a bright, bright star in the Saviour's crown, For He loves such jewels rare.

Companions dear, schoolmates, friends, Mourn not, for he is blest; Here he waits all sorrow ceased, And the weary souls have rest.

Through the vista we are looking For the years that are to come, To the bright and happy union, In that blessed heavenly home.

Mother, father, sisters, brothers, Cease from mourning o'er his sod, In the Elysian fields of glory, "Dudley's" soul now dwells with God, A YOUNG FRIEND. Wilmington, N. C., March 12, 1885.
