To-morrow will be St. Patrick's Day. The receipts of cotton at this port today foot up 14 bales.

The guard house has not furnished lodgings for tramps in the last two nights.

A fine assortment of Mocking Bird Cages can be seen at JACOBI'S Hardware Depot.

There were fifty persons admitted to membership in the Fifth Street M. E. Church at yesterday morning's service.

'Give us one of those elegant Duds Bows.' 'Price only 35c for the finest quality.' Sold only by Dyer.

Knights of Honor.
Carolina Lodge No. 434. Regular meeting this evening at 8 o'clock. Full attendance desired.

Schr. Lackawana. Crossen, cleared late Saturday afternoon for Petit Goave, Hayti, with 128,737 feet lumber, valued at $1,833.35, shipped by Messrs. Northrop & Cumming.

Indications.
For the South Atlantic States, fair weather, slightly colder, followed by rising temperature. Northerly winds on the North Carolina coast, North-westerly elsewhere, becoming variable.

False Alarm.
There was an alarm of fire at half past 5 o'clock Saturday evening, which was said to be at the corner of Dock and Twelfth streets, but it proved to be a false alarm as no fire could be found. The firemen turned out promptly, but their services were not called into requisition.

Two Good Things.
Wilmington has a gallant fire department, skilful and well equipped, and our citizens have had good cause to feel proud of the fact, and thankful for it, too, during the past two weeks. And the water works are an undisputed blessing to the entire town. May the shadow of our noble firemen never grow less and may they always find a heavy pressure ready whenever they have occasion to tap a fire-plug.

Painful Accident.
Evelina, the nine-years old daughter of Sam Clayton, colored, went to the machine shops of the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad last Friday noon to gaily dinner to one of the workmen. While passing along through the shop her shawl caught in the machinery, which caused her to throw her hand out in such a manner that it was caught in the gearing and the fingers were crushed so badly that all of them had to be amputated from her left hand, leaving only the thumb.

From Ireland.
Mr. James Corbett brought into our office to-day a bunch of shamrock which he had just received from its native soil in Lismore, Waterford county, Ireland. It was rather dry from its long journey, but he put it in water soon after its reception so that it may be fresh and bright for use in the procession of the Hibernian Society to-morrow. We expect to see many members of the society in the procession adorned with a sprig of shamrock, as it is a plant dear to every true hearted Irishman whose breast throbs with love for his native land.

City Court.
There was quite a number of attendants at the Mayor's levee this morning, among whom were the following:
Frances Hargrove, whose countenance is a familiar sight in police circles, was charged with disorderly conduct and was sent below for 5 days. John Watson, white, and Edward Dixon, colored, both charged with disorderly conduct, had the examination of their case continued until Wednesday.
Sam Mitchell, colored, was arrested Saturday night for using shockingly obscene language on Market street last Saturday night, and was sent below for 5 days.
G. W. Green, colored, charged with highway robbery, was sent to the Solicitor of the Criminal Court to be disposed of.

What's in a Name?

Some of the colored people have quite high sounding titular names. Among the colored hands employed on one of the construction trains on the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad there are General Pittman, General Williams, Major Perry, Doctor Stanfield and George Washington. We are not prepared to say how large a number of titled colored men are borne upon the payrolls of the company, but when we find all of the foregoing upon one train it is safe to presume that it is large.

Fire in the Woods.

Some boys went just outside of the city limits last Saturday afternoon and set fire to the woods, probably in sport. It soon spread, however, to such an extent that a force of 15 men were busily employed all the remainder of the afternoon in extinguishing the flames. It is easy enough to start a fire, but it is often hard and dangerous work to stop a conflagration. There was a fire also in the same vicinity nearly all of yesterday. People cannot be too careful how they handle fire, either at home or in the woods.

The Silver King.

The above named melodrama was presented at the Opera House for the second time on Saturday night to a rather small audience, but which was about as large as could well be expected in this city on the last night in the week. The play is one of the very best in point of plot, and teaches a grand moral. Mr. F. Bangs, in the title role, had a most laborious, exhaustive and exacting part to perform, and his acting was simply superb. Miss Charlotte Behrens, as Nellie Denner, had also a very difficult and exacting role, and she was excellent in her impersonation of the part. The play is one of thrilling interest, and appeals strongly to all the better and nobler sentiments of humanity. There were occasions in the play when there were but few eyes among the audience which were not suffused with tears. There was a realism in the acting which took all hearts. The agony, horror and contrition of Wilfred Denner, the Silver King, at his supposed terrible crime, the wifely devotion and heroism of Nellie Denner, his wife, the untiring and unceasing fidelity of Jenkins, the valet, and the cold-blooded nonchalance of the burglar and murderer, the Spider, were portrayed with a vivid earnestness which appeared more like reality than it did like mimic life.

Solar Eclipse.

The annual eclipse of the sun, partially visible, which took place to-day about noon, is the only eclipse of the sun which will be visible in this country during 1885. It began at six minutes and nineteen seconds after 12 o'clock and ended at thirty-eight minutes and fifty-five seconds after 2 o'clock, standard time.

The eclipse was viewed with comfort by looking through a piece of smoked glass. The moon cut off about one-half of the upper portion of the sun's disc at the time of greatest obscuration. Partial eclipses are generally thought of no importance because they do not show any of the wonderful phenomena which are seen at total eclipses. An eclipse like the one which took place to-day is chiefly important as a means of proving up the absolute place of the moon, the moon being the hardest of the heavenly bodies to get to absolute perfection of prediction of place, and of great use in confirmation of stars the world over for mariners' use. It is, therefore, very important that the moon's predicted place for three years to come should be absolutely known. Any little aberrations of the moon's place may be definitely ascertained by failure of the contact to take place exactly at the predicted time. The time and duration of the eclipse to-day was figured up and published in the Nautical Almanac fully three years ago. These calculations are made so long in advance in order that mariners may take them as part of their outfit when starting on a long voyage over the world.

"Indian Dept." Washington, D. C. I am anxious to introduce Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup among my Indians, having used it myself for several months, and think it one of the finest remedies I ever found. I assure you, it is the only thing that ever relieved me of the protracted cough brought on by exposure while on the Sioux Commission last year. A. G. BOONE, Agent for Poncas and U. S. Commissioner.

To every Housekeeper a good substantial cook stove is an important necessity and our readers will find the best at Factory prices at JACOBI'S Hardware Depot.

Criminal Court.

The Spring term of New Hanover Criminal Court convened at the Court House in this city this morning, Judge O. P. Meares presiding and Solicitor B. R. Moore appearing in behalf of the State. The following comprise the grand jury for the term:

T. P. Sykes, foreman, J. R. Melton, H. W. Collins, M. M. Parker, Henry Shepherd, T. A. Hodges, C. C. Vernon, Wm. Turley, Benj. Wilson, C. M. Williams, D. Sadgwar, H. W. Bryant. As will be seen by the above only 12 grand jurymen are now required by law. The trial of jury cases begins to-morrow.

Saturday Night's Fire.

About half past 8 o'clock last Saturday night fire was discovered upon the first floor of the job printing establishment of Messrs. DeRosset & Meares, in Custom House Alley. The alarm was promptly given and the firemen were quickly present and working with a hearty good will to extinguish the flames. This they succeeded in doing after a hard struggle, but not until a good deal of damage had been done by the fire and water. The fire seems to have originated near the stairway on the South side of the room, but from what cause is unknown. The first floor contained the presses and much of the machinery of the firm besides a considerable amount of paper stock. These were all more or less injured either by heat or water, the paper stock being nearly ruined. The presses, which are nearly new, it is hoped, were not subjected to such heat as to materially injure them, although considerable work will be necessary to clean them and make them again fit for use. The type and material upon the second floor were entirely ruined and will be a total loss. The bindery, on the third floor, was badly injured by water and somewhat scorched by the fire.

The building was in control of Dr. A. J. DeRosset, as trustee, and was insured to the amount of $1,000 in the Insurance Company of North America, represented in this city by Messrs. DeRosset & Northrop. There was insurance on the type, presses, stock and fixtures of Messrs. DeRosset & Meares to the amount of $2,500 in the Underwriters Insurance Company of New York, represented in this city by Messrs. DeRosset & Northrop, which will probably cover the loss.

A Few Reflections.

The fire which occurred on Saturday night in Messrs. DeRosset & Meares' printing establishment is the first, within our recollection, that has ever originated in a printing house in Wilmington. In view of this fact, and of the generally non-combustible nature of a large part of the contents of an establishment of this kind, it does seem strange that the insurance rates are so much higher here on printing material than on almost any other species of merchandise. It is true that type are easily destroyed, a slight heat being sufficient to ruin it, but then the type does not burn and therefore serves rather to check the progress of the flames than to extend it. It is also true that paper is a very combustible material but it must be remembered that paper in bundles is packed very compactly and burns slow. It requires a strong heat and a steady heat to consume paper packed in bundles as it comes from the mills. Had the building occupied by Messrs. DeRosset & Meares been filled with groceries or dry goods it is almost certain that not only the stock would have been destroyed but that the building would have gone also, carrying with it, possibly, other stocks and other buildings as well.
