

THIS PAPER published every evening, Sundays excepted by JOSH T. JAMES, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR. SUBSCRIPTIONS POSTAGE PAID: One year $4.00. Six months, $2.00. Three months, $1.00; One month, 33 cents. The paper will be delivered by carriers free of charge, in any part of the city, at the above rates, or 10 cents per week. Advertising rates low and liberal. Subscribers will report any and all failures to receive their paper regularly.

The Daily Review has the largest bona fide circulation of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

"Marriages a specialty, acceptable at all hours; strangers particularly invited." is the unique advertisement of a clergyman at York, Maine.

George W. Cable was in Atlanta the other day as the guest of Henry W. Grady, who is to publish a reply to Mr. Cable's recent article concerning the freedmen.

Gen. Wallball, the new Senator from Mississippi, is "as straight as an Indian officer and is noted for being a hard worker." It is said that he makes more than $10,000 a year by his law practice.

King-Kalakaua, of the Sandwich Islands, was the recipient the other day of a valuable package, contents not made public, sent him by the Baroness Burdett Coutts, by the hand of George Augustus Sala.

The alleged great remedy for snake bite discovered by a workingman of Tasmania is pronounced by the Australian Medical Gazette to be "like all antidotes for snake bites hitherto produced, of no potency."

Nine golden weddings have been celebrated in Castleton, Vt., in the last ten years, and all but one of the individuals are now living. Most of them are between 80 and 90 years of age, and quite vigorous for such old people.

Gen. Black, the new commissioner of pensions, is described as "a straight man, of medium height, with a high forehead, dark hair and a pair as bright eyes as you will find in Illinois. He speaks well, in a clear, ringing voice."

In the opinion of Rev. Dr. De Costa the wages of the laboring classes are at the danger point. He thinks better wages are demanded by Christian morality, and cites the weavers and the needlewomen who sing the "Song of the Shirt" as conspicuous examples of the evil.

Mrs. Mackay has given to the papal nuncio a magnificent cross in remembrance of the marriage of her daughter to Prince Colonna. It is studded with diamonds and sapphires. In the inside of the cross is a place for relics, which can be inserted by pressing a spring which connects with the movable back.

Mr. Henry Bergh laments that he cannot prevent the vivisecting medical schools and colleges. Several years ago when the bill of prevention of cruelty to animals was passed by the New York Legislature he inserted a carefully worded clause prohibitory to vivisection, but was detected by the eagle-eyed makers of laws, and he was obliged to strike it out. Hence his present sadness.

The late Gen. Gordon's sisters have declined the annuity which Mr. Gladstone offered to them. The General left three sisters, one of whom is unmarried, and they are all residing at Southampton. He had two brothers, one of whom, Eacery Gordon, died many years ago. The survivor is Sir Henry W. Gordon, K. C. B. Gen. Gordon's sisters last heard direct from Khartoum in November.

The supplement to the Paris news paper Gil Blas, issued in commemoration of the eighty-third anniversary of the birth of Victor Hugo, is a veritable curiosity of literature. Some 250 admirers of the great French poet contribute to the general expression of homage, and the contributions, in every European and three or four Oriental languages, are reproduced in facsimile, with the autographs of the several authors.

Apparently the cost of insuring works of art in Paris is not light. The exhibition of Meissonnier's canvases, which the painter had lent for charitable purposes to the well-known little gallery in the Rue de Seze, has just terminated. The receipts amounted to over $22,500—an enormous sum when it is considered that the pictures hardly filled one small room. But the expenses swallowed $14,000 of this, the principal item being insurance, at the rate of $100 to the square inch.

Having been troubled with a very bad Cough for about two years and having tried almost every cough mixture that was ever made, I have found none that has given me such great relief as Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup and I earnestly recommended it to all afflicted. BENJ. F. DUGGAN, 14 Park Pl., N. Y.

THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. IX. WILMINGTON, N. C., SATURDAY, MARCH 21, 1885. NO. 67.

Paris Figaro says that President Cleveland has requested Minister Morton to remain. Doubtful. More than doubtful.

Hon. James W. Berry has been elected U. S. Senator from Arkansas, to fill ex-Senator Garland's unexpired term.

At latest accounts Gen. Grant was reported as somewhat better. There is talk among the physicians of an operation for his relief.

The latest news in regard to the New York postoffice is that Postmaster Pearson will be retained, and other latest news is to the effect that he will not be retained.

The latest news from the Soudan is to the effect that there has been a great battle between the British troops and the forces of Osman Digna, in which the British were victorious, inflicting a heavy loss on the Arabs.

Put it on record that the DAILY REVIEW says that Mr. Pearson will not be allowed to remain in the New York Postoffice and that a Democrat will be appointed thereto. And also that every position in North Carolina will be filled by a Democrat. It is not worth while to holler before you are hurt.

Sir Stafford Northcote will withdraw from the conservative leadership in the House of Commons at the close of the present session, owing to the unabated discontent of many members of the conservative party. He will be succeeded by Sir Michael E. Hicks-Beach, under the sanction of the Marquis of Salisbury and the approval of Lord Randolph Churchill.

A special from Petersburg to the New York Herald says:

Intelligence has been received here to-night from Surry, Southampton, Isle of Wight, James City and other counties of the State to the effect that the hogs in those localities are dying by hundreds of a disease resembling hog cholera, thus causing heavy losses to the farmers. Dr. George Potts, a veterinary surgeon of this city, who has just returned from those counties, where he made a study of the disease by means of post-mortem examinations, says it is pneumo-enteritis of an erysipelatous form. It is not known whether it is an atmospheric or contagious disease. The hogs attacked with it die within a day. After death some of the hogs turn red or purple. The symptoms of the disease are pain in the back, swollen lungs, quick breathing and an indisposition to move about.

Mr. Edward H. Henry, Pinegrove, Schuylkill county, Pa., writes that having had a limb crushed and his right arm paralyzed, he was completely cured by a few applications of St. Jacobs Oil, the great pain-cure.

LOCAL NEWS.

INDEX TO NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. C W YATES—Easter Cards. HEINSBERGER—Bass Pianos. F C MILLER—A Fresh Supply. MUNDY BROTHERS—Easter Cards. WILL WEST—Hang Out Your Banners. E W LINEBACK—Piano Repairing & Tuning.

Day's length 12 hours and 15 minutes. There was no City Court this morning.

There were no tramps at the guard house last night. Shad are scarce and the demand exceeds the supply.

There were no interments in Bellevue Cemetery this week. The receipts of cotton at this port to-day foot up 6 bales.

Sunset to-morrow afternoon at 15 minutes past 6 o'clock. There were two interments in Oakdale Cemetery this week, both adults.

Only three days more in which to register. If you don't register you can't vote. There were five interments in Pine Forest Cemetery this week, four adults and one child.

Rev. D. C. Kelly will preach at Brooklyn Hall to-morrow night at the usual hour. A fine assortment of Mocking Bird Cages can be seen at JACOBI'S Hardware Depot.

Good beef brings high figures now in this market. Our country friends should take the hint. Oysters have been very scarce during the past few days, the Easterly winds interfering with the supply.

Good materials properly proportioned which are the essential requisites in Ready mixed Paints can be best attained by using the N. Y. Enamel Paint sold at JACOBI'S Depo.

Cold rain and snow is predicted for to-morrow by Turner's Almanac. Its prediction of snow for last Monday was so nearly fulfilled that there may be some truth in that for to-morrow.

Rev. Dr. Pritchard will preach to-morrow morning and night at the First Baptist Church at the usual hours. The subject of his morning's discussion will be "The Proper Observance of the Sabbath."

Large mouths in sweet women are the present fashion; and the maids who are up to snuff no longer purse up their lips in the prunes and prism style. The wide, natural style of wearing the mouth is supposed to have originated with the popular belles who have pretty teeth.

Prof. E. W. Lineback, of Salem, N. C., gave us the pleasure of a call this morning. He is one of the most accomplished and thorough musicians in the State, and, as his card, to be found elsewhere in this issue, announces, will remain here for a short time and fill orders for tuning and repairing pianos.

The big snow which fell in this State didn't hurt us much here. It was rather refreshing than otherwise to vegetation. But it was cold last night and calm, and this morning the thermometer was down to 25, with a big frost on the ground which has, we fear, played the wild with young vegetation everywhere hereabouts.

An Exchange of Courts.

The News and Observer says: Governor Scales has consented to an exchange of courts between Judges McRae and Avery. Judge Avery exchanges the courts of Brunswick, Johnston, Robeson and Anson, for the counties of McDowell, Yancey, Mitchell and Watauga. The change is made on account of the continued severe sickness of Mrs. Avery.

To Remain Here.

We are glad to learn that Dr. N. Robinson will not leave the city, as we have heard asserted by some. He proposes to remain here and will probably embark again in a short time in the grocery business. The recent sale of the stock of goods was absolutely necessary for closing up the affairs of the late firm of F. G. & N. Robinson, which was dissolved by the death of the lamented Capt. Fred. Robinson. Dr. Robinson has made many friends during his comparatively short residence here who will be glad to know that he will remain in Wilmington.

The Moon's Mountains.

It is said by an astronomical observer that the most interesting feature of the recent eclipse of the sun was the appearance in the profile of the great mountain range on the eastern edge of the moon's disc. There are several places in the Eastern Hemisphere of the moon where a powerful glass will always show the serrated horizon line of the peaks and craters that lie close to the moon's edge, but when these same mountains are seen, as they were Monday, with their outlines showing absolutely black against the white sun, their appearance is more striking than usual. At moments when the air was steady, permitting the use of a high magnifying power, it was a grand sight to see the profiles of the gigantic ranges of the D'Alembert and Rook Mountains, and the Lunar Cordillera, pictured with sharpest outline against the brilliant background. The whole forward edge of the moon was seen to be deeply notched and lined with sharp peaks, presenting a striking contrast to the perfectly even curve of the sun's edges. Even with a small magnifying power the outlines of the principal mountains could be clearly seen. In one place a broad dish-shaped valley was conspicuous, with a ridge of mountains on either side and a lofty peak in the centre, whose sharp, conical form stood out from the blaze of the sunlight behind it with beautiful distinctness. The large mountain masses presented a particularly impressive spectacle just as they entered upon the sun's edge, peak after peak slowly moving into view, while the light streaming through the intervening valleys brought them into still greater prominence. Some of the mountains in this part of the moon rise to a height of 20,000 feet, and there are valleys among them which, in some cases, appear to sink to an almost equal depth below the lunar surface. The sharp profile of the mountains of the moon, as they stood in front of the sun's glowing disc, were observed at this point with the naked eye, but so distinctly and so prominently, of course, as with a glass.

The Register of Deeds issued three marriage licenses this week, one for a white and two for colored couples.

The beautiful ground now is moss in bloom in the woods near the city and the fragrant yellow jessamine is in bud.

There will be religious services at the Seamen's Bethel at half past 10 o'clock to-morrow morning, Rev. D. C. Kelly officiating. The public are cordially invited to attend. Seats free.

Send that old hat, old coat, old vest and old trousers to Dyer. He will clean, repair, or dye them, and save you the expense of a new outfit. Times are hard. Economize.

The schr. Isaac L. Clark, which went ashore on Stump Sound a couple of months ago, has been gotten off and was brought up the river this afternoon in tow of the steam tug Blanche.

To every Housekeeper a good substantial cook stove is an important necessity and our readers will find the best at Factory prices at JACOBI'S Hardware Depot.

Br. schr. Victory, Thompson, cleared to-day for Nassau with 23,310 feet lumber, 213,500 shingles, 3 barrels pitch, 3 barrels tar, 2 barrels flour, 1 bag coffee, 2 boxes soda bread and 2 boxes corned beef, valued at $1,610.80, shipped by Messrs Geo. Harris & Co.

Cotton.

The receipts of cotton at this port for the week ending with to-day foot up 189 bales as against 503 bales for corresponding week of last year, a decrease this week of 304 bales. The receipts of the crop year to date foot up 92,672 bales, against 89,906 bales to same date last year, an increase this year of 2,966 bales.

We observe quite a fine display of new Revolvers for very reasonable prices, at Jacob's Hardware Depot.

Criminal Court.

The following have been the proceedings before this tribunal since closing our last report.

State vs. A. W. Rivenbark, false pretense. Not guilty.

State vs. A. W. Rivenbark, false pretense. Continued until next term of court.

State vs. D. Hahn, Charles McLean and James Powell, larceny. On trial. Jury out.

The grand jury having concluded the business brought before them were discharged at noon to-day, and the court will probably adjourn to-night, as there were only two jury cases to try when the court took its usual recess this noon.

Inspection and Drill.

The regular inspection of the Wilmington Light Infantry took place yesterday afternoon in accordance with previous announcement. The company assembled at the Armory in the basement of the City Hall, at 4 p. m. Col. F. H. Cameron, Inspector General, was expected to arrive at half past 4, but was delayed and did not reach here until some time after that hour. In the meantime Lieut. Morrison, who was in command, took the company out for exercise in drilling and in the manual of arms and the precision of their movements as well as their soldierly bearing won the praise of all the spectators, among whom were many who had seen service on more than one hard fought field. We were glad to notice that quite a number of ladies and children were present, for there are but few things in our social element more worthy of consideration, respect and encouragement than our citizen soldiery. They are protectors when law ceases to have power in the land, and as such deserve the respect and regard of all. The company turned out yesterday with 42, rank and file, and in all the evolutions they performed evinced a thorough training and a just pride in their organization as well as a desire to deserve well of the city. They moved with the precision of veterans, and the city has just reason to be proud of its citizen soldiers. Col. Cameron was highly pleased with their maneuvers, as well he might be, for they could hardly be excelled.

The Boy Clipper Plow has earned a reputation of being the best ever used and are pronounced perfect by the best farmers. Sold wholesale and retail at the factory agency, JACOBI'S Hardware Depot.

Personal.

Mr. E. B. Engelhard, of Raleigh, was in the city yesterday.

Mr. H. D. Murrill, of Onslow county, was in the city to-day.

Mr. I. Shrier will leave to-night for New York, where he goes to purchase a stock of Spring and Summer goods.

We were glad to meet our esteemed friend, George W. Lamb, Esq., of Duplin county, upon our streets to-day.

Hon. Wharton J. Green is expected here to-night or to-morrow morning on a visit to his daughter, Mrs. Peabody Jones.

Mr. John Taylor left last night for the Northern markets for the purchase of Spring and Summer goods for the Bazaar.

Lt. E. T. Woodward, U. S. N., and wife, arrived in this city last night and registered at the Purcell House. They left this morning.

Mr. Horace M. Emerson, of this city, has been chosen Vice President of the State Base Ball Association. Col. W. E. Anderson, of Raleigh, is President.

Hon. R. T. Bennett, Representative in Congress from this District, returned to his home in Wadesboro on Thursday night, having passed through Charlotte. He was from Washington City although we had understood that both Col. Bennett and Col. Green had returned to the State two weeks ago.
