THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. IX.

WILMINGTON, N. C. MONDAY, APRIL 6, 1885

NO 78.

PLEASE NOTE: We will be glad to receive communication from our friends on any and all subjects of general interest but the name of the writer must always be attached to the Editor. Communications must be written on one side of the paper. Personalities must be avoided. And it is especially and particularly understood that the Editor does not always endorse the views of correspondents unless so stated in the editorial columns.

The High Sheriff of Worcestershire, England, this year is Mr. Perrin, of Worcestershire sauce celebrity. He was formerly a member of the chief druggist firm, Lee & Perrin, in Worcester, but they sold the business to devote their energies exclusively to the sauce, which pays much better, yielding on an average over $200,000 a year, although so extensively pirated, especially in this country.

The troubles of Rev. Dr. Burchard, of Rum, Romanism and Rebellion notoriety, have culminated at last in the closing of his church. Saturday's New York Herald tells the story as follows: The troubles of the Murray Hill Presbyterian Church have culminated in the resignation of the pastor, the Rev. Dr. Burchard, the man who talked to Blaine, and in the dissolution of the church society. The church property will be surrendered to the Presbytery, with the proviso that the sexton shall be maintained in his present position. Some Republican members of the church think they have more use for a sexton now than they did before election.

The history of the church is unique. When Dr. Burchard was called to its pulpit, five years ago, the church was struggling under a varied assortment of debts. Dr. Burchard had gained popularity in other fields and had made quite a reputation as a speaker during the long years of his work in the ministry, though nothing like the reputation he gained in one memorable day last fall. Under his management the congregation increased and the debts were paid.

Then came the campaign of 1884. The church never got over Dr. Burchard's speech. Part of the congregation had previously removed to Harlem, and a good many of those who were left wished their pastor there too. Because Dr. Burchard's son supported Cleveland, some members of the church were mean enough to accuse Dr. Burchard of having done it on purpose, and they wrote him a letter demanding his resignation, though they afterward withdrew it.

Dr. Burchard was retired by the Presbytery on a pension of $500, but a mild measure like this was not sufficient to counteract the effect of the speech. The troubles continued, many members of the church threatened to withdraw and there seemed little prospect that the church would continue self-supporting. At a meeting of the trustees on Monday evening resolutions were adopted dissolving the church and surrendering the property to the Presbytery, with the stipulations that that body should care for the church poor and let the sexton keep his place. This action was ratified subsequently by the congregation.

On Wednesday evening last Dr. Burchard wrote, resigning as pastor and asking that out of consideration for his long service in the denomination the people request that he be made pastor emeritus. The resignation was accepted and the request granted. William McClellan, M. B. Smith and Thomas Graham, were appointed commissioners to transfer the property. The church will probably be turned into a mission—not a foreign one for Dr. Burchard.

How the hearts of a crowd swell and throb with pitiless hatred against the man who coughs during the performance at a theatre, when they know he is too stinging to invest twenty-five cents in a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

Don't forget to send your old suit to Dyer's, and have it cleaned and repaired.

In the First Baptist Church last night three persons, one lady and two gentlemen, were baptized.

There was no session of the City Court this morning, everybody having been on his good behavior yesterday.

Put it on record that Easter Monday, A. D. 1885, was one of the dullest days we have ever known in this locality.

All in need of a Canary or Mocking Bird Cage, will do well to call at JACOB'S Hardware Depot, and examine his large and fine stock.

Easter Monday is proverbial fisherman's day and quite a number went out of town to-day to "try their luck." They will get it and we know what it is.

The wonderful revival of religion in the Fifth Street M. E. Church still continues. There were 10 accessions to the church yesterday morning and a number of penitents were at the altar last night.

Knights of Honor. Carolina Lodge No. 431. Regular meeting this evening at 8 o'clock. Full attendance desired.

Protracted Meetings. The series of protracted meetings in the First Baptist church will begin to-day, with prayer meeting in the afternoon and regular church service to-night and this will be the order of services throughout the week. The pastor, Rev. Dr. Pritchard, will be assisted in the good work by Rev. W. H. Battle, of Wadesboro.

No Alarm. There was a narrow escape from a serious conflagration at about 8 o'clock this morning at the residence of Mr. Henry Schutte, on Market street, near Third. The fire caught from the stove-pipe, and near the roof of the building, it having been ascertained afterwards that the pipe did not reach the flue. The flames were put out by some parties on the premises and the damage was but slight. There was no general alarm but a portion of the fire department reached the ground to find, fortunately, that their services were not needed.

Memorial Day. The Raleigh News and Observer says: Next Memorial day Col. Alfred M. Waddell is to deliver the address, and as the determination of the Ladies' Memorial Association is to be commemorative of some distinguished soldier who fell in the Lost Cause, the theme of Col. Waddell's address will be the "Life and Services of Gen. Geo. B. Anderson." From Col. Waddell's reputation for eloquence, elegant diction and discriminating judgment, we may well anticipate an effort of unusual beauty, that will be very gratifying to the admirers and friends of the lamented Gen. George B. Anderson.

Now is the season for painting your houses. Go to JACOB'S Hardware Depot and buy your paints, if you want to save money.

Easter Music. The following has been handed in as a communication to the REVIEW. It is from the pen of one who is thoroughly capable of judging in all musical matters, and these remarks, which are volunteered, will be read with much pleasure and endorsed by all who were so fortunate as to be present on the occasion referred to. The following is the communication:

Under the guiding and instructive skill of Mrs. M. P. Taylor, the worshippers at St. John's Church were treated yesterday morning to some of the finest and best Easter music to which we have ever listened. The music selected for the occasion was from the work of Mr. Dudley Buck, an American composer, who has won an enviable reputation in the musical world as the author of classical music. Mr. Buck, aside from being a fine natural musician, has evidently been a thorough, earnest and successful student of the old masters, of whom he has seemed to catch inspiration by which to form beautiful melodies and frame for them most superb harmonies. Mrs. Taylor was most fortunate and evinced musicianly skill and taste in making these selections, for they could hardly have been improved upon. She presided at the organ and conducted the music yesterday with the apparent ease and skill of a professional, and in fact it was owing in great degree to her thorough training of the choir and orchestra that the difficult music was rendered with such precision and expression. The instrumental accompanists were Messrs Mitchell and Schlo's, cornetists, and Mr. Alderman, flutist. The choir was composed of Mrs. Wm. H. McFarland, soprano; Mrs. J. E. Lippitt, alto; Mr. J. E. Willson, tenor, and Mr. A. G. Conoley, base. All the voices were thoroughly trained, were in perfect tune and there was a blending of harmonies that was superior. Mrs. McFarland has a pure soprano voice of exquisite sweetness, combined with flexibility, compass and power. Mrs. Lippitt's rich, pure alto is too well known to need praise from me. Mr. Willson has a full tenor voice, while Mr. Conoley's is properly a baritone. It would hardly have been possible for voices to blend more sweetly and the choir and orchestra deserve a credit which will never be fully awarded them for their efforts to render the music so skillfully. Had they been paid professionals from some far away city, they would have received unstinted praise.

Musicus. The Boy Clipper Plow has earned a reputation of being the best ever used and are pronounced perfect by the best farmers. Sold wholesale and retail at the factory agency, JACOB'S Hardware Depot.
