The Daily Review.

JOSH. T. JAMES, Editor & Prop. WILMINGTON, N. C. TUESDAY, APRIL 7, 1885.

In the early fall a Boston firm bought 5,000 cases of canned peas. The market afterwards dropped, but after consideration the firm decided to protect the original investment.

Ben Perley Poore, the veteran Washington correspondent, does little active work in these days, but he still watches the course of events at the Capitol with interest.

A strange fatality seems settling down upon the Pennsylvania postmasters. Within the last week or so three have gone—two wrong and one right.

The Republicans, says the New York Herald, adjourned the Senate without acting on a number of the nominations set in by the President.

We believe the public interests will be subserved if the Senate shall set and fix the precedent that these officers shall not be removed without cause assigned.

missed his place for partisan ends, why should he be removed? If, on the contrary, he is not capable, efficient or honest, if he is disobedient to his superiors, or if he has misused his official place and influence for partisan purposes, the country will uphold the President in removing him.

The Republican leaders have not been friendly to civil service reform, but the reverse, as their contemptuous rejection of Mr. Arthur showed.

Hundreds of malcontents are leaving Chicago for the Canadian Northwest and fears that the Fenians will aid Rie are expressed in Canada.

Silver jewelry grows more fashionable every day. Black chenille fringes are finished with tiny gilt balls.

Decorative curtains are of fine white bolting cloth, hand-painted in some conventional design. Humming birds of bright tinsel, five or more in a spray, are seen among the new artificial flowers.

White woollen lace with a thread of tinsel interwoven is a very pretty trimming for morning house saques. Jersey silk corset-covers are in pale shades of blue, cream and pink.

Lamps to heat sealing wax are pretty ornaments for a lady's escritoire, when of hammered bronze with a lizard, snake or quaint figure for decoration.

Lovers of art work are now turning to the imitation of Gobelin tapestry, which consists of oil painting upon a canvas especially prepared for the purpose.

A very curious fabric used for portieres and wall drapery is woven of gold threads, and little round mirrors about the size of a silver dollar are thickly interspersed in the composition.

ACTUAL BLINDNESS IS NOT EASY TO CURE, but remember that disease of the eyes often results from impure blood. If you have reason to think your sore eyes may have come from this cause lose no time in buying a bottle of Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy."

A Cure for Gravel.

There are few diseases with which the patient is called upon to endure greater inconvenience and pain than with Gravel. In its more advanced stages the agony it produces is often so great as to call for the use of narcotics in extraordinary doses before any relief can be obtained.

It seems to have been reserved for Dr. DAVID KENNEDY, of Rondout, N. Y., to accomplish the great feat of curing Gravel, and others have failed to compass. The subjoined letter will be found of vital interest to sufferers from Gravel, and to the general public.

DEAR SIR—Let me tell you frankly that I have never been particularly afflicted with Gravel, but I have been afflicted with it for many years, and I have tried every remedy that has been recommended to me, but I have never been cured.

As a result of a sudden attack of Gravel, I was confined to my bed for a long time, and I was unable to do any of my usual duties. I was in great pain, and I was unable to get any relief.
