The Daily Review has the largest home file circulation, of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

Minneapolis girls have red-ribbon clubs with the motto: "The lips that touch wine shall never touch mine." Beer is becoming the popular beverage

Some wine makers of California, taking advantage of the uncertainty of the local market, are endeavoring to introduce their products into England and India direct.

The Great Mogul, the Emperor of Delhi, is no more. The last descendant of that dynasty, Jewan Bukht, died recently at Rangoon, where he had lived a political prisoner.

Twenty-two daughters at the present moment live with their father, George Riddle, Esq., in Carroll county, Mo.
Also eight widows of the nine deceased sons of the late Capt. George Cook, of Hartford, still survive.

Base ball, according to the provisions of a bill that has passed the Tennessee Senate, cannot be played on Sunday in that State hereafter, under penalties of $25 and $50. The heavier of the fines is probably for the umpire.

The first application of a woman to be admitted to the bar of Oregon was made recently by a lady from Washington Territory, where she passed a good examination and was admitted. The Supreme Court held that the statute will not allow the admission of a female lawyer.

As a rather singular coincidence, the recent session of the Arizona Legislature was organized on the 13th day of January for the thirteenth time in Arizona. It adjourned on the 13th, and had during its session thirteen fights. There was a tie politically in each branch, as well as in matrimony and bachelorhood.

A special dispatch from Washington to the Indianapolis Journal says: "Register of the treasury Bruce will not be superseded or displaced," said a colored man who called upon the President in reference to the matter, "and the colored population of the States everywhere will be recognized in the distribution of offices."

A company, cultivating 2,800 acres of vineyard in the foothills of Sacramento county, Cal., has abandoned the use of irrigation for wine grapes. The company has plenty of water at all times but experience has convinced the management that the best wine is made from grapes not irrigated, and that vines thrive without irrigation.

Two new laws whose workings will be watched with interest have gone into effect in Maine. One provides that contraband liquors shall be turned over to the mayor and aldermen of cities and such as are fit for use shall be placed in the city agencies for sale.
The other does away with the fining of persons for the first offences of drunkenness. Hereafter if a man gets drunk he will have to go to jail from five to thirty days; for the second offence from ten to ninety days.

The Rev. Charles F. Thwing says that, whatever influence the requirements of Greek for admission may have in keeping men out of college, he feels assured that another cause, quite remote from the question of the classics, has far greater influence. This is found in the expenses usually attending a residence of four years in the ordinary American college. They have not undergone since the close of the civil war that decline which nearly all articles, except books, have experienced. College expenses are now fourfold what they were fifty years ago, and double what they were twenty-five years ago.

An entomologist has reported having found 721 species of noxious insects in the trees, shrubs and plants of the New York parks last year. These include the cotton worm of the South, the wood borer of the West, the sugar-cane beetle, many species unknown to the entomologist, and some entirely new species. The most destructive insects to the trees are the bag worm, the tent and web caterpillars, the scale insect, the coccus and elm beetle. Of these insects seven bushels of cocoons and egg masses were removed.

Take little annoyances out of the way.
If you are suffering with a cough or cold, use Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup at once. This old and reliable remedy will never disappoint you. All druggists sell it for twenty-five cents a bottle.

THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. IX. WILMINGTON, N. C. FRIDAY, APRIL 17, 1885. NO. 88.

A writer in Bradstreet's asserts that after 35 years' experience in Iowa, he has never known a mortgage foreclosed on a dairy or stock farm.

We are glad, heartily glad, that Gen.
Grant is getting better. We are sorry for the doctors, though. It is quite a come-down from cancer to ulcerated sore throat.

A dispatch from Washington to the Philadelphia Record says that Gen.
Black, Commissioner of Pensions, has declined to obey Secretary Lamar's order to sell his horse and carriage.
Gen. Black is reported as saying: "The Republicans have been riding for twenty-four long years. Now I am going to ride."

The Gazette des Hopitaux tells of a sailor who, having met with an accident which deprived him of a molar, applied to a surgeon some seventeen hours afterward to have the tooth replaced. It appears that no cases were on record of a tooth retaining its vitality for more than four hours after separation from the jaw, but the surgeon succeeded in the operation through his wise precaution of soaking the tooth in water. The hint is a good one in these knocking-out days.

Robert G. Ingersoll lays the defeat of Mr. Blaine in large part to protection saying that the trouble with protection as the chief issue was that every morning after Mr. Blaine had been asserting from the stump the beauties of protection, "come the news of some big factory closing up and 2,000 employees being thrown out of work. That sort of thing stalked after him like a ghost.
Then he had to admit that such things as business depression came in spite of protection, and that gave away his position."

Peace may yet be maintained between Russia and England but we doubt it, notwithstanding the pacific appearance of the negotiations at this juncture. The latest news is to the effect that an agreement has been reached between Russia and England as to the Afghan boundary, that Pendjeh is to be ceded to Russia, and that a collision has probably been averted for the present. This is good news, if it "will do to tie to," but the rub is in a saving clause in the provision that the agreement is subject to an explanation from Russia of her battle with the Afghans. If satisfaction upon this point is insisted on, a peaceful solution of the trouble may really be no nearer than it was a week ago.

The chief of the Oklahoma raiders has entered Washington and is encamped in one of the hotels of that city. He proposes to convince the President and the members of his Cabinet that when the yeomen of Kansas have set their hearts upon possessing the lands of the civilized Indians, treaties and laws and Executive proclamations and Federal troops should not be allowed to stand in their way. He will not deny that there is an abundance of good land in Kansas and Missouri upon which his followers could easily settle, nor is it probable that he will explain why it is that for six years he and his companions have been trying to grab lands that are guarded by a treaty, and from which they have been repeatedly driven by the army. Possibly a vigorous cross-examination might cause the successor of Payne to disclose the force that stands behind these raiding parties and supports them.

Literary.
We have received the April number of the United Service Magazine, a periodical devoted to the interests of the Military, Naval and Civil Service of the United States. The present number contains several articles which are continuations from previous numbers, besides several articles entire. Among the latter are, "Civil Service Reform," an interesting and instructive paper by Leroy D. Thomas, one of the U.S. Civil Service Commissioners; "General Gordon's career," from an English paper, giving an epitome of the life of that remarkable man and soldier; and "The Fight between the Monitor and Merrimac," by the late commander S. Dana Greene, U.S.N., who was First Lieutenant of the Monitor during the fight.
The magazine is well gotten up, the articles are well written, the subjects diversified and the whole forms an interesting and instructive periodical for those for whom it is specially intended.
Published by T. H. S. Hamersly, 835 Broadway N. Y., at a subscription price of $4 per annum or 35 cents for a single number.

it "their golden wedding."

We thank Mrs. H. Webb, most kind-Unavailable.

There is unavailable matter in the Postoffice in this city addressed to T.
King, Narrow Gap, N. C.; an account book of A. H. Robbins, and a number of letters addressed to "Tailor."

Indications.
For the South Atlantic States, local showers and partly cloudy weather, variable winds, stationary temperature in Southern portion and slight rise in temperature in the Northern portion.

Lippincott's Magazine.
Lippincott's for May contains several articles of interest, the principal being "Is the Monopolist Among Us?" by Edward C. Bruce; "New York's Lyceum School for Actors," by P. G.
Hubert, Jr.; "Haworth and the Brontes," by Emily F. Wheeler, "The Home of Rubens," by Rose G. Kingsley, and "Wigs" by O. A. Bierstadt.
The number is especially strong in fiction. "On this Side" maintains its attractiveness by a succession of amusing and life-like incidents and conversations; "Aurora" embodies a striking description of the great earthquake at Casmicicola; and there are several short stories and sketches that will repay perusal.

Personal.
Mr. B. F. Penny returned to the city last night from a visit to the Northern markets.

Hon. D. L. Russell, of this city, was registered at the Yarbrough House, in Raleigh, on Wednesday.

Rev. W. M. Kennedy, of Duplin county, was in the city to-day and gave us the pleasure of a visit.
Dr. W. P. Kennedy, son of Rev. W.
M. Kennedy, has just graduated from the University Medical College of Baltimore, Md., but will not engage in practice until he has been examined by the State Board of Medical Examiners.

Dr. Everett's Remains.
The remains of Dr. S. S. Everett will, we understand, be interred in the family burying ground near Goldsboro.
There are but few particulars learned here as yet in regard to his death. He died of a hemorrhage and it is supposed that it was from the ear as he suffered very much in that way a year or so ago.

Religious.

The religious meetings at the Second Presbyterian Church are well attended and quite an interest is being manifested. Services are held daily at 4 o'clock p. m. and 8 o'clock p. m., and will be continued until Sunday and probably longer. The pastor, Rev. J. W. Primrose, is an earnest worker, and he is ably assisted by Rev. Mr. Vass of New-bern.

The Wilmington Mutual.

At the regular annual meeting of the Wilmington Mutual Insurance Company, held in this city at the office of the Secretary and Treasurer, Capt.
J. K. Brown, the following, the old Board of Directors, were elected for the ensuing year, viz: Messrs. W. A.
French, R. E. Calder, D. L. Gore, D.
O'Connor, H. VanGhan, H. M. Bowden, Wm. Larkins, R. E. Heide, J. H.
Freeman, E. T. Hancock, W. P. Oldham and J. K. Brown. Mr. W. A.
French, was elected President; Mr. R.
E. Calder Vice President, and Capt. J.
K. Brown, Secretary.

He Touched the Spring.

An attempt was made last night—the fourth in a few months—to rob the junk shop of Mr. W. C. Farrow, on Mulberry street, near Nutt. It was an undertaking that nearly proved fatal in this instance. Latterly Mr. Farrow has had a shot gun arranged so as to give the intruder a warm welcome but last night it was arranged by Mr. Far-row's clerk, and in some way the explosion was premature. The rascal opened the shutters from the outside and as he did this he touched the spring and the gun was discharged and the fellow managed to escape with a whole skin. Next time he will not be so lucky.

Death of Mr. Ashley Gilbert.

It is with great sorrow that we announce the death of that admirable gentleman, Mr. Ashley Gilbert, which occurred at his father's residence, in this city, this forenoon. He was afflicted with Bright's disease of the kidneys and this was the cause of his death.
For nearly fifteen years past he has been bookkeeper of the First National Bank, in this city, a position which he filled with rare fidelity, but for which he has been incapacitated from sickness for the past six months. Lat-terly he had seemed to grow somewhat better, and about two weeks ago he appeared on the streets, and therefore the greater the shock which has been inflicted by the news of his death. Mr. Gilbert was, we think, about 36 years of age, and was unmarried. He was one of the most amiable gentlemen we ever knew and was unflinchingly honest, upright and true in every department of life and of duty. Peace to his ashes!

Interesting Exercises.

At the Hemenway School this afternoon there were very interesting and entertaining exercises in which the pupils of the first grade, taught by Miss Alice Yarbrough, and of the second grade, taught by Miss Josie Myers, participated. The exercises consisted in reading, writing and arithmetic, in which the pupils evinced commendable progress. There was music also to give variety to the entertainment. Quite a number of ladies and gentlemen were present and all were pleased at the promptness and precision of the answers to the various questions presented. The exercises in mental and written arithmetic were excellent and it was a matter of wonder to the spectators to see how quickly and correctly the answers were given. Some of the pupils of the first grade were in their first term and did not know all their letters when the session commenced, but they read with accuracy and much more gliding than we should have supposed.
Writing was a branch in which the pupils of both grades were particularly proficient. There were nearly or quite 100 children in the recitation room, and their deportment was good and their advancement a credit to themselves, their teachers and to the graded school system. Prof. Noble had a general supervision of all the exercises, while Miss Myers and Miss Yarbrough had special charge of their respective classes.

There was a wild rumor on the streets this afternoon that Mr. M. J.
Dingelhof, in an altercation with some one, had been severely cut and was in a dying condition. We are glad to state that the rumor was entirely false in every particular. Mr. Dingelhof is alive and well and has had trouble with no one.

Memorabilia.

The house which has been torn down on North Second street was built in 1802 by Mrs. Toomer, widow of Mr.
Henry Toomer, who had recently died.
Mrs. Toomer was the mother of the late Judge Toomer, a well known jurist of North Carolina, and many of her descendants are now living in this city and State. It was in this house that many of those who have since been conspicuous in the history of North Carolina were born. Here in the early part of the present century were frequently gathered the beauty and chivalry of the State, until the Toomer house became a synonym for open-handed hospitality, the cultivation of the graces and rare intellectual discourse. It has been the witness of many a joyous scene of happy marriage and welcome births. It has also seen the picture of desolate grief where some loved one has been snatched away by death, and its entire history would furnish material for a drama more interesting and truthful than has ever yet been put upon the stage.

City Court.

John Taylor, colored, was brought before the Mayor this morning, charged with interfering with the Chief of the Fire Department while in the discharge of his duty at the fire on Ninth and Swann streets, on the 10th inst. The evidence showed that the defendant was playing "Big Ike" at the fire, giving directions to the firemen after the latter had received their orders from Capt. Myers. After being told by the Chief to go away and not interfere in a matter in which he had no business, he still persisted in giving directions and finally became quite obstreperous. A fine of $5 was the penalty inflicted in his case.

Duncan Shaw, a colored boy, was next arraigned upon a charge of using insulting and obscene language to a lady on Fourth street. The charge was fully sustained and the lad was sent below for 30 days. Good enough!

There were 11 cases of failure to pay the required license tax, but judgment was suspended in each case upon the payment of the amount due.

necessity and our readers will find the
