For many years, until the present Administration came into power, it has been a rule in the several departments that no soliciting of alms or subscriptions or canvassing of any kind would be permitted, the repson being that it interferred with the public business.

Mr. James Anthony Froude, the eminent English historian, has arrived at San Francisco from a trip of four months in the Australian colonies. On being questioned as to society in Australia, Mr. Froude said that on the whole he thought it quite as good as in England. He had been treated with the greatest courtesy in all the large cities, and retained very pleasant recollections of his visit. Being asked about the aggregation of wealth in the hands of a few, Mr. Froude said in regard to the land it seemed to him that the Australians are undergoing an ex' perience precisely similar to that of the Americans. In Australia and in New Zealand large companies are being formed and are buying up enormous tracts of land. He thinks this bodes ill for a young country. but does not see any way by which it can be stopped without interfering with the rights of property, and from a long study of history he has found that all attempts on the part of governments to interfere with the rights of property have always ended in disaster.

Ex-State Senator Francis Kiernan is quoted in the New York Commercial Advertiser as saying recently, at Utica: ed. 'I visited Washington recently and found the President anxious to know what the people thought of him. Mr. Cleveland, notwithstanding all reports to the contrary, is extremely sensitive in this regard, and when sure that a certain line or policy meets the favor of the public he is greatly pleased. I

Chicago people worry little about a Socialistic demonstration that would upset the authorities of a foreign city for a month. The other night when May 9-10. the big board of trade banquet was going on the Socialists had a meeting in Market square, to which delegations May 16-17. marched to the music of bands and carrying black and red flags. There were several red and black speeches, of which these are samples: "A new board of thieves is to be opened tonight. It is time this thing is stopped. These robbers fatten off our toil. We must bring the revolver and Winchester rille to our aid, and learn the use of dynamite. The demonstration to-night shows that if we would achieve the a humbug as heartily as any man.
