SATURDAY, MAY 9, 1885.

STATE NEWS.

Asheville Citizen: Mr W. E. Ferguson, of Haywood, who sold his tobacco at the Bancombe Warehouse, goes home rejoicing over an average of $22 on the balance of the crop, making for him an average of nearly thirty dollars on his entire crop of 1,300 pounds.

Kinston Free Press: A twelve year old colored boy was struck and killed by lightning at his home near Ormandville, Greene county, on Wednesday of last week. The boy was passing the chain from the kitchen door to the staple on the door facing, when the lightning struck the chain and went from that to his body, causing instant death.

Newbern Journal: A careful examination of the various fields around Newbera develops the fact that the crop of peas has been seriously damaged during the past two weeks. At one time we predicted that Newbern would ship the largest crop this Spring that has ever been sent from here, and our prediction would have been verified had it not been for about one week of hot weather, combined with the excessive drouth then prevailing, just as the blooms were falling from the young pea, which has reduced the yield about twelve thousand boxes.

Tarboro Southerner: Kill Quick was much excited Saturday over the cutting of Mr Frank Allbrook, the town constable, who was endeavoring to arrest his assailant, Bill Bridgers, (col.). Mr Allbrook was fearfully cut. One side of his face was literally slashed with a razor, and his mouth on the right side cut in the direction of the ear an inch or more. On his right side were several cuts, one of them, at least, eighteen inches long and in some places nearly three inches deep. Several cuts were found on his legs. The latest from him is that he is slowly recovering. The negro who assaulted him ran away and has not been caught. When last seen he was in Whitakers.

Goldsboro Argus: The rice mills belonging to Messrs J. Strauss & Co., that since their foundation in this city several years ago have been constantly becoming more widely and favorably known, closed operations for the season a few days ago, as has already been announced, and according to promise we herein give the statistics of their season's work in the milling department, which foots up 10,450 barrels. Those familiar with the usual price of rough rice per bushel can easily calculate the large sums of money these mills bring into this community from the north—for that is where they sell most of the commodity—and pay out to our farmers, who in their turn, spend it among our merchants.

Asheville Advance: The following account of the recent trouble in Jackson county is sent us by a correspondent: "Great excitement prevailed in Barker's Creek township, April 30th. Wm. Bumgarner was traveling a road that led through the lands of George McCurry, which road he had been forbidden by McCurry to travel. They met near McCurry's house, and there was but few words spoken, when Bumgarner threw his gun from his shoulder and snapped at McCurry's breast, but the gun failed to fire. McCurry then threw an axe at Bumgarner, and also a rock; the rock struck Bumgarner on the head and knocked him down. Bumgarner then called to his son, who stood by, for help. The boy ran up, stabbed McCurry twice in the shoulder and three times in the head. McCurry turned on the boy when Bumgarner drew a pistol and shot McCurry in the side, the ball striking above the hip joint, ranged toward the third lumber vertebrae. McCurry is improving. Bumgarner was arrested, taken before Justice Wm Jones and bound to court."

Charlotte Observer: Workmen yesterday commenced rolling the old frame structure away from its location on the west corner of Tryon and Fourth streets, to make room for the new Carson building for the Southern Express Company and the North State club. The old building which is being moved from the location which it has so long occupied is one of the several historical houses of Charlotte. It was the stopping place of President Jefferson Davis, and it was from the steps to this house that President Davis made his speech, the last of the Confederacy, in which he spoke of the assassination of President Lincoln in terms of deep regret, proclaiming to our people his opinion that it was a deplorable affair. This speech of President Davis was greatly distorted by the northern press, and there are many who yet believe that President Davis spoke exultantly of the killing of President Lincoln. There are many still living who heard the memorable speech, and whose testimony has vindicated President Davis from the false charges and statements that were made against him. At this time President Davis stopped at this house, it was occupied by a Mr. Bates, who was then agent of the Southern Express Company.

Elizabethtown Bulletin: About 10 o'clock Thursday night the usual hush and quiet of our peaceful little village was disturbed by the sickening cry of fire, which rang out on the stillness of the night like the wail of distress, which, indeed it was. In a moment all was bustle and confusion, and when it was ascertained where the fire was, which originated in Mr. J. M. White's dwelling, the citizens of the village and the surrounding country hurried to the scene, and at once commenced with commendable industry to save the furniture and other property of Mr. White. The fire, when it was first discovered, had made so much progress that it was found impossible to save either the dwelling or store, and other houses of Mr. White, and therefore, every effort was directed to saving the large stock of goods which Mr. White had on hand, which efforts were nearly successful; all the goods and much of the furniture being saved, but in a much damaged condition. The fire spread from the store of Mr. White to a dwelling belonging to the estate of S. McK Mulford, deceased, and thence, after consuming it, to a store-house belonging to the same estate, which was occupied by our young friend, Mr. T. H. Hales, as a dry goods store, where he was displaying a large and well selected stock of new goods. The store-house was quickly consumed but fortunately the goods had been removed or nearly so, but in a damaged state. Mr. White had only $1,500 insurance on his house and none at all on his goods, store, office and other houses, therefore, his loss will be about three or four thousand dollars. Mr. Hales lost some money, about $150, and several hundred dollars worth of corn, peas and other goods, that were too heavy to be conveniently removed.

A Mean Old General Routed. Old "General Debility" has been put to flight in Arkansas, with happy results. From Brinkley, from Webb City, and from Walnut Ridge, Messrs. P. R. Anderson, E. M. Taylor and F. S. Pinchbeck respectively, write that they were afflicted with general debility, and received solid benefit from Brown's Iron Bitters. This is pleasant to know, not only for Arkansas people but for all sections of the country where General Debility has counted victims by the thousand. For sale everywhere.

LOCAL NEWS.

The receipts of cotton at this port today foot up 11 bales.

Brig Hallie, Coombs, cleared to-day for St. Pierre, Martinique, with 199,529 feet lumber and 78,600 shingles, valued at $2,651.14, shipped by Messrs E. Kidder & Son.

A large derrick, with all the modern improvements, has been put in position on the wharf of the Carolina Central Railroad for the purpose of aiding in loading and unloading heavy freight of vessels.

The question is now asked: What has become of the iron bridge which was to be thrown across Smith's Creek, in place of the wooden structure which now spans the stream? We do not know.

The Bladen Bulletin is the latest candidate for popular favor in this section. It is published at Elizabethtown, in Bladen county, by Mr. R. H. Lyon, Editor and Publisher. It is a bright newspaper and we wish it much success.

Personal.

Col. H. B. Short, who was in the city yesterday, left on this morning's train for Baltimore and Washington, but mainly for the latter city, where he expects to remain for a couple of weeks.

Base Ball.

The Raleigh boys almost had a walk over in their match game with the Goldsboro nine. On Thursday they scored 9 to 6 for the Goldsboro's, and yesterday they scored 18 to 3 for the Goldsboro's.

School Pic-nic.

Miss Josie W. Myers, teacher of the second class at Hemmenway Graded School, gave her pupils the pleasure of a pic-nic to-day at the Mineral Springs. It was a kindly act in the teacher and was much appreciated by the pupils who passed the day in lots of fun and frolic in the open air.

Cotton.

The receipts of cotton at this port for the ten days ending with to-day foot up 28 bales, as against 109 bales for the corresponding period of last year, a decrease this month of 81 bales. The receipts of the crop year to date foot up 93,654 bales, against 91,396 bales to same date last year, an increase this year of 2,258 bales.

Algebra and Acid Phosphate. We have received from Prof. W. B. Phillips, of this city, a copy of a little pamphlet "Algebra and Acid Phosphate," relating to "the possibility of calculating beforehand the probable composition of acid phosphate manufactured from the better grades of Charleston rock." The subject will also be found more elaborately discussed in the forthcoming Journal of the Elisha Mitchell Society and the American Chemical Journal, vol. 7, No. 2.

Shrier Making Things Hum.

Business is easy to do if you do it right. The way to stir things up is to give the people bargains, and through this we have built up a big business and we propose to hold it by continuing the fair and square dealing for which our house is noted far and wide. We do and can afford to sell goods cheaper than any other clothing house in this city, and we make the same liberal offer to everybody. If any article bought of us is not exactly as represented or is in any respect unsatisfactory, it may be exchanged, or we will promptly refund in cash the price paid for it. Examine our goods at your homes, compare them, their quality and price, with goods from other stores and you will see why our trade continues to grow and prosper. We are now showing great bargains in men's, boys' and children's clothing. See our prices and post yourself before you buy and you will surely save from 15 to 25 per cent. on every dollar. Death of Mr. Dally.

We regret to learn of the sudden and untimely death of Rev Jonathan H. Dally, formerly a member of the North Carolina Conference of the M. E. Church South and at one time pastor of Front Street M. E. Church in this city. Mr. Dally died by his own act and there is no doubt that he was insane. We believe, in fact, that he has been mentally unsound ever since he left this State and this opinion is shared in by those who knew him best here. At the time of his death he was on his return from New Orleans where he had been studying medicine, he having some time previously left the ministry, and it is believed that his arduous application to his studies served to still further unbalance an already unsettled mind. The New York Herald says of his death:

He was at the time studying medicine in New Orleans. His retentive memory and previous knowledge enabled him to complete his course in a few months. On April 27 he wrote to his wife at Woodbridge that he would that day start for St. Louis, where he intended locating, and expected her to rejoin him there. He stated he would write as soon as he arrived at St. Louis. Mrs. Dally and her father waited impatiently for intelligence from her husband, but none came, until Wednesday a letter was received from the captain of a Mississippi River boat plying between New Orleans and St. Louis.

Mr. Dally had been a passenger on his boat. He noticed that his passenger was an intelligent man and evidently in great mental distress. He feared he contemplated suicide, and the captain made him share his spacious stateroom. He always looked Mr. Dally in at night, so strong was his suspicion that he intended drowning himself. On last Friday night, while the captain was absent, Mr. Dally forced open the door, and before he could be intercepted ran to the deck and jumped overboard. The steambot was stopped and all the small boats were promptly lowered and manned. He was seen to rise to the surface once, then sank and did not again appear. From the letters found in Mr. Dally's writing desk the captain learned the address of his relatives. The sad news was a shock so severe to Mrs. Dally that her condition is critical. She has no children. The officers of the Jersey Church have arranged to have the body when recovered forwarded to that city. They have offered a reward for its recovery.

The unfortunate man was born in Woodbridge on October 7, 1838. He was a graduate of the Wesleyan University and was admitted as a preacher by the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1863. Desiring to labor nearer home, he was transferred to the Newark Conference in 1871. He was assigned to the church at Mount Horeb, in Somerset county. His later charges were at Washington, Warren county; Roseville, Essex county; Market Street Church, Newark; Market Street Church, Paterson, and Trinity Church, York street, Jersey City.
