The Daily Review has the largest bona fide circulation, of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

Ex-President Mark Hopkins, of Williams College, although over 82 years old, preserves his mental faculties unimpaired. He recognizes with ease the faces of men who were his pupil's half a century ago.

The Secretary of the Southern Historical Society, in a lecture in Atlanta on Wednesday night, said that if Stonewall Jackson had commanded the Confederates at Gettysburg Longstreet would have been shot.

An Englishman who lately visited Antwerp Cathedral declares that Ruben's masterpiece, "The Descent from the Cross," is such a wonderful picture that it is worthy of Miss Thomson, the painter of the "Roll Call."

It is proposed in England to provide the news for war with Russia by raising the tax on patent medicines. The Daily News thinks there is a sort of poetic propriety in making patent medicine furnish the funds with which to kill people by other means.

According to the Revue des Maladies de l'Enfance sixty per cent. of the children born in Russia die before the age of 5 years. Less than one-half of the males reach the age of 35, and a third of these are unfit for military service, either through constitutional debility or from not having attained the requisite stature.

Baron Victor Erlanger seems to have had as poor luck in fine art as in stocks. Having been ruined on the Vienna Bourse, he has sold his picture gallery, which was supposed to be very valuable. But only the most meagre prices—a few dollars each—were obtained even for works by Rembrandt, Teniers and Rubens; perhaps it would be better to say works attributed to those masters.

Dr. Theodore von Oppolzer of Vienna announces the early publication of a very extended list of the dates of solar and lunar eclipses, which has been prepared under his direction. There will be 8,000 of the former, and more than 5,000 of the latter class of phenomena, and all included between the years 1208 B. C., and 2161 A. D.

M. de Lesseps relates that on the occasion of his marriage, the day of the opening of the Suez Canal, November, 1869, his father-in-law handed him 100,000 francs as a present to his wife. At that time, he adds, Suez Canal shares were selling at 250 francs, or 50 per cent. discount. He invested the present in these shares, on which he realized 1,500,000 francs.

Fred Douglass is ready for reconstruction. He appears to have been trying to get on the good side of President Cleveland by hiring a pew in the church where the President worships, directly in front of that gentleman. Here are the facts as told in a special to the Charleston News and Courier:

WASHINGTON, May 17.—A highly sensational scene was to day enacted at the First Presbyterian Church. As is well known President Cleveland is a pewholder in that church, therefore vacant seats have been at a premium ever since it was determined that the Presidential family would worship there. Recently a pew directly in front of that rented by the President became vacant. It was immediately secured and but few members of the congregation knew to whom it had been rented. This morning their curiosity was gratified when Frederick Douglass, the colored recorder of deeds, accompanied by his white wife and two friends, entered the church and took possession of the pew.

The congregation became so excited that they paid very little attention to the divine service. Neither the President nor any member of his family were in attendance. Nevertheless, great excitement prevailed when, at the conclusion of the service, Dr. Sunderland descended from the pulpit and greeted Recorder Douglass and his party cordially. The elders, deacons and members of the congregation did not leave the church until they had expressed their indignation at the minister's conduct in unmistakable language.

An informal meeting of the congregation was held on the spot, and it was agreed that Fred. Douglass should be requested to relinquish his right to hold a pew in the church. Otherwise the congregation would secede. It is alleged that Douglass on a previous occasion almost ruined the Church by a lecture which he was permitted to deliver from the pulpit, and therefore he was considered an unprofitable member.

For a time excitement ran high and the scene was intensely dramatic. It is said that Douglass rented the pew through a personal friend, and that his idea is to establish a friendly relationship with the President through the church, and by that means retain his office as recorder of deeds.

THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. IX. WILMINGTON, N. C. TUESDAY, MAY 19, 1885. NO. 115.

Considerable sensation, according to the London Truth, has been excited in Vienna society by the announcement of the betrothal of Prince Lichtenstein to the daughter of a merchant in the city, such a marriage being regarded as a mesalliance by the austere purists of the court of Austria. This Prince was formerly well known in London, and his first wife was Miss Fox, the adopted daughter of Lady Holland.

The storm signal was flying to-day. There were no tramps at the guard house last night.

The receipts of cotton at this port to-day foot up 5 bales.

Schooner Franconia, Falkner, sailed from Portland, Me., May 17th for this port.

At a meeting of the Wilmington Light Infantry, held at their armory last night, there were six applications for membership in the company.

It is earnestly hoped that all contributions for the festival may be at the City Hall as early as possible to-morrow morning, in order that they may be arranged properly before night.

John Waddell, colored, was brought before the Mayor this morning charged with disorderly conduct. He was adjudged guilty and fined $10 for the offense.

Miss E. Karrer, intending to make some changes in her business, is selling now at greatly reduced prices. The attention of the ladies is invited to advertisement in this issue.

The ice cart of the new ice manufacturing company was out this morning with a load of the ice made by steam, which was being sold rapidly to customers. The ice was clear and pure.

When the weather turns warm and you discard your coat, and display a worn out suspender and a torn shirt, you will remember that Dyer will replenish your stock at low prices.

The children connected with St. James' Home were given a picnic at Hilton to-day. They were taken out on a train at 11 o'clock this forenoon, and were to return at 6 o'clock this evening.

The committee of arrangements and other ladies were busy to-day in decorating the City Hall, preparatory to the festival for the benefit of the Wilmington Light Infantry, which will begin to-morrow night.

Some of the members of the Wilmington Light Infantry indulge in target practice nearly every afternoon on the West side of the river, in order, we presume, to be able to do some fine shooting on their anniversary celebration.

To-morrow (the 20th inst.) will be the anniversary celebration of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence. It is a legal holiday in this State, in consequence of which the banks will do no business on that day.

At about half past 1 o'clock this morning a party of youngsters were "trampoosing" around the Eastern section of the city making the hours hideous by attempting to sing. It would have been poor music at any time, but at that unseasonable hour it was simply execrable.

The Wilmington District Sunday School Conference of the M. E. Church, South, will be held at Magnolia, Duplin county, on the 29th and 31st inst. Delegates can get return tickets over the Wilmington & Weldon, and Wilmington, Columbia & Augusta Railroads for three cents per mile each way.

The Executive Committees of the various Ladies' Missionary Societies of the Lutheran Synod of North Carolina have chosen as their delegates to the Ladies' Missionary Convention to the Northern General Synod of the Lutheran Church, to be held in two weeks at York, Pa., Mrs. F. W. E. Peschau and Mrs. L. Vollers, of this city.

We noticed quite a fine display of dog collars at JACOB'S Hardware Depot.

Indications.

For the South Atlantic States local rain, partly cloudy weather, winds shifting to Easterly and then becoming variable and slightly colder.

Base Ball.

The Seaside were victorious in their match game with the Goldsboros yesterday, the score being 7 for the former to 6 for the latter. The grounds were in bad condition and the playing was reported as being loose.

Stricken Down.

Mr. E. T. Hancock, who has been seriously sick for several months, was stricken with paralysis yesterday afternoon, and his condition is so critical that there are but small hopes of his recovery. Mr. Hancock was out on Sunday and again yesterday morning and was thought by many to be making favorable progress towards ultimate recovery, but the sudden affliction of yesterday afternoon has dispelled all of those hopes.

Personal.

Mr. Jno. F. Garrell returned to the city last night from Richmond, where he has been with several carloads of stall-fed cattle which he disposed of to advantage.

Mr. J. D. Kerr, of Sampson county, was in the city to-day. He reports the season as backward in his section, but that the farmers are working like beavers to make good crops.

Mr. R. M. Wescott, of Kelly's Cove, Bladen Co., gave us the pleasure of a call yesterday. He reports that, in consequence of the long continued cold weather, the crops are extremely backward.

Cold Wave Signal.

The Signal Service of the army, with a desire to be of as much value as possible to the people of the different sections of the country, has perfected a plan by which the approach of a cold wave may be known at any given point from 24 to 48 hours previous to its actual appearance. By the term "cold wave" is meant a sudden change by which the temperature falls from 15 to 30 degrees, or more, within a very short time. This information will be of value to many and especially to those engaged in truck farming. The "cold wave" signal will be a square white flag with a black square in the centre, and it will be displayed from the signal station here whenever the occasion may demand, on and after the first of July next.

The May Queen Crowning.

The Lutheran parsonage yard was thronged last Friday afternoon by old and young, and especially the latter class, who made use of it as a playground. To give the children a good time was the object and it was fully realized. At 6 p. m. refreshments were given the children and at 7 p. m. the adults were served. At 8 p. m., the final preparations for crowning the May Queen were made and the crowd thronged into the Luther Memorial building. All seats were occupied and many were compelled to stand to witness the act of crowning.

The stage presented, indeed, a fine sight. A handsome arch, covered with moss, bedecked with flowers and adorned with wreaths and from which also was suspended the words, in letters made of flowers, "Our May Queen," was pleasing to the eye. Back and underneath stood the handsome flower throne, surmounted by a pretty star of flowers, made by Miss Lillie Gerken.

The ladies deserving the most credit for the beginning and managing of this very decided success are Mrs. F. W. E. Perchau and Mrs. Jno. F. Loughery. They were untiring in their efforts to have it succeed and succeed it did. Many readily and promptly remarked that they had never seen it done better. There was no prompter on the stage and none of the girls who spoke made a mistake or even hesitated.

Eighteen girls took part, sixteen of whom recited. We herewith present their names:

The Five Mayers—Mamie Heyer, Eliza Adrian, Rosa Zeigler, Annie Stolter and Emma Hutaff.

The Four Maids of Honor—Katie Runge, Linda Peschau, Louisa Bappler and Yetta Bremer.

The Fairies—Cora Peschau and Louisa Strauss.

Garland Bearer—Eliza Bissinger; Sceptre Bearer—Katie Hintz; Directress—Annie Stemmermann; Crowned—Maggie Peschau; Queen—Maggie Schulken.

The Fairies called forth loud and long applause. The exercise of crowning was ended by a charming tableau, in which, in addition to the above named girls, the two little 3-year-old children, Emma Stolter and Mita Miller, took part.

The young ladies deserving special mention for rendering valuable assistance are the Misses Lydia Peschau, Lillie Gerken, Mary Blomme, Lena Stemmermann, Lillie Rulfs and Annie Bremer.
