THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. IX. WILMINGTON, N. C. THURSDAY, MAY 28, 1885. NO. 123

The Daily Review has the largest bona fide circulation of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

A footman 22 years old and six feet ten inches tall advertises for a position in a recent number of the London Times.

It is said that the electric lights at Sacramento can be seen from the high land near Jackson, Amador county, a distance of sixty miles.

The Queen, it is said, wants it to be known that it will ever be a regret to her that she had no personal acquaintance with General Gordon. His services were rendered for the most part to foreign sovereigns.

Henry George, the author and lecturer, has a pleasant home in Brooklyn and two boys, who are expert bicyclists. He has made considerable money of late, but is said to be often pinched to make both ends meet.

R. W. Criswell, the new editor-in-chief of the Cincinnati Enquirer, is only 35 years old. Fifteen years ago he was pumping an oil well at Petrolina. Thence he went to Oil City and Titusville, finally drifting to Cincinnati.

The State elections of 1885 will be held in Massachusetts, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Ohio, Iowa, Kentucky and Mississippi. Four of these went Republican last Fall and six Democratic.

Princess Mathilde is a very affectionate creature. When M. de Lesseps delivered his recent speech at the reception in the French Academy the overjoyed Princess said: "My dear Lesseps, I can't help it, I must kiss you." "Do," briefly replied de Lesseps. And she did.

No less than 4,536 relatives of English titled families are quartered on the public service. The drafts on the treasury for the sisters and aunts of dukes amount to $48,800,450; the brothers-in-law and nephews of marquesses to $11,529,950, and the cousins and others of earls to $210,906,040 per annum; or a total sum, going to prove John Bright's assertion that "the aristocracy lives on patronage," of $331,236,210.

Now is the season for painting your houses. Go to JACOBI'S Hardware Depot and buy your paints, if you want to save money.

Another heavy thunder storm this afternoon.

Eight bales of cotton received at this port to-day.

Strawberries sell now at from 5 to 10 cents per quart.

Full moon this afternoon at 17 minutes past 3 o'clock.

Shrimps are coming in freely now and sell for 15 cents per quart.

Base Ball, and Summer underwear go together. Get the latter from Dyer, who has a fine line.

Tickets for the St. John's Sunday School excursion to Waccamaw Lake, on Saturday, may be had at either of the bookstores.

You can get the best unlaundried white shirt in the city at 75 cents at the Wilmington Shirt Factory, No. 27 Market street, J. ELSBACH, Prop.

A large crowd went down the river this morning on the excursion given by Unity Tent No. 60, I. O. R., in compliment to the High Tent, now in annual session here.

The Seaside was at Henderson yesterday but did not play there because of the very rainy weather. A dispatch received by Mr. Kasproicz this morning says that they will return here to-night.

There has been no rain in Smithville in two weeks past, and we are told that it is badly needed there. We have had more or less about every day during that time and could readily spare our neighbors some of our surplus.

It rained very hard yesterday at Raleigh and yesterday and last night along the line of the Wilmington & Weldon R. R. It seems to have been particularly severe about Magnolia and tears are entertained of injuries to vegetation.

We noticed quite a fine display of dog collars at JACOBI'S Hardware Depot.

The Mascot.

It was a large and a fashionable audience which was present last night at the Opera House to greet the Bijou Opera Company in their first appearance here, the piece presented being the ever popular Mascot. The troupe is a small one, as its name would indicate, and we would hardly look for a genuinely pleasing entertainment from a company found on the road at this season of the year, and the surprise was therefore the more agreeable. There is some genuine talent and really much ability comprised in this small company, and we venture to say that no entertainment presented here during the past season carried its audience with it more heartily than did that of the Mascot last night. Certainly, taking into consideration all of the disadvantages apparent and especially that of the want of a chorus and a full orchestra, the piece has never yet been more successfully presented in this city. Miss Adelaide Randall, as Bettina, carried all hearts by storm. She is simply charming in this character. She is petite, pretty, vivacious and original, and withal has a delicious soprano voice, clear, distinct and birdlike.

Mr. Hamilton, as Lorenzo, is simply "immense," to use a hackneyed expression, and kept the audience convulsed with laughter; Mr. Pepper, as Pippo, is a good actor and has a fine, well-trained tenor voice, while Miss Carrie Tutin, as Fiametta, sustained her role most admirably. Unfortunately she was suffering from severe hoarseness last night and could not, evidently, do herself full justice. Miss Helen Harrington appeared to advantage as Frederic, as did also Mr. Paxton as Rocco. The gobbie song was one of the features of the evening. It was sung twice and was heartily encored on each occasion.

The Company will make their second and last appearance here this evening in Olivette, when we are sure they will be greeted by a full house.

The following is the programme for Decoration Day, Saturday, May 30th, 1885:

After the above services the J. C. Abbott Post will hold a special service over the grave of George E. Berden, late Quartermaster of the Post, who died during the year past, in accordance with the rules and customs of the order.
Committee of Arrangements—Reuben Carter, Lewis Nixon, Love Parker, Alexander Stewart, Wm. Taylor, Chairman.

The Chief Marshal requests his aids and assistants to meet him at one o'clock on the day above named at his residence, corner of Sixth and Ann streets (No. 302) mounted.
Some half dozen trifling cases of drunkenness and disorderly conduct were all that claimed the Mayor's attention this morning.

At 11 o'clock this forenoon the thermometer in this office registered 86 degrees, the highest it has yet attained. At 3 o'clock it had fallen to 81.

St. James' Churchyard.

We learn with much pleasure that an art loan exhibit, for the purpose of raising the necessary funds to improve and beautify the old St. James' Churchyard, will soon be held in some suitable hall of our city. The object will certainly commend itself to every one of our citizens, and with the active help and sympathy of the community, the ladies and gentlemen who have charge of it will be able, we are satisfied, to make a grand success of the exhibition. Aside from our local artistic talent, which is by no means despicable, as shown by a similar exhibition so successfully gotten up by Mrs. E. H. Parsley, of this city, a short time ago, we are sure that in many of our families there are paintings, statuary, bronze and other objects of art, and also many antiquities and relics of bygone times, which if gathered together would make a most creditable exhibit, even in large cities like New York, Boston and Philadelphia.

While some of us may feel a sentimental regret in seeing our old landmarks, around which so many historical reminiscences cluster, so rapidly disappear, still we must march with the progress of improvement, and "God's Acre" should be carefully and lovingly tended and improved.

Let us all cooperate towards so worthy an object and do all in our power to make it a success. A meeting to arrange the details will be held at the mayor's office to-morrow, and all are urgently requested to attend.

A Full Band.

The Wilmington Cornet Concert Club has received lately several additions to its membership and is now the largest in point of numbers as well as best in musical ability in the State. Prof. R. J. Herndon is the Instructor and the band, which consists of 18 members, is organized as follows:

J. E. Willson, solo E flat cornet and leader; S. A. Schloss, solo B flat cornet; D. B. Mitchell, first B flat cornet; D. B. Burkholder, second B flat cornet; W. Carr, W. L. DeRosset, Jr., P. Boatwright and F. Daniels, altos; I. N. Greenwald, slide B flat trombone; R. Hawes, R. French, J. D. Smith and G. Harriss, Jr. tenors; J. Schloss, baritone; S. W. Sanders and U. M. Robinson, bases; George R. Dyer, base drum and cymbals and W. T. Johnson, snare drum.

The club is in constant and careful practice and contemplate giving a concert at an early date, and will meet at half past 8 o'clock next Friday night to make some arrangements and to transact other business of importance. It is desired that every member be on hand promptly at the hour designated.

A Pleasant Episode.

There was quite a pleasant episode connected with the closing hours of the High Tent, I. O. R. last night. During yesterday afternoon Mrs. S. G. Hall and Mrs. H. H. Foster prepared a very tasteful buttonhole bouquet for each member of the High Tent, besides two bouquets for the wives of two of the delegates who came with their husbands. These were taken to the Tent last night and presented by one of the delegates when a committee was appointed to wait upon Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Foster and request their presence that the Tent might thank them personally for the delicate compliment. The ladies went and were met at the door by a committee appointed for the purpose and escorted into the hall where they were presented by Mr. J. N. Minnix to the Tent in a graceful, appropriate and felicitous speech and were then introduced personally to the two visiting ladies, who were also present, and to whom the bouquets were presented. The ladies were then seated, and after a few speeches by different delegates, in which they gave expressions of gratitude for the hospitable kindness with which they had been treated in Wilmington, the Tent closed in due form to meet again at Newark, Ohio, on the fourth Tuesday in May, 1886. The Tent having been closed there were personal introductions, lemonade was served to the ladies and after a short time the parties left for their respective homes.

This was the first time that ladies were ever present at a High Tent meeting since the organization of the order.

We republish to-day in a corrected form the list of members of the Cornet Concert Club. It was sadly mutilated yesterday's issue. It was correctly written, but when the proof came in an "out" was found and in correcting the galley the printer carelessly inserted the omitted matter in the wrong place.

Personal.

Maj. J. C. Winder, General Manager of the Carolina Central R. R. was in the city to-day.

Col. John D. Taylor, City Clerk and Treasurer, returned yesterday from St. Louis, where he has been in attendance in the session of the Grand Lodge of Knights of Honor.

Hymeneal.

Mr. John C. Wagner, formerly of this city, but now of Goldsboro, was married in Raleigh yesterday to Miss Ida B. Cordes. The happy couple arrived here last night and will remain here a week on a visit to relatives and friends in this city and on Masonboro Sound.

Moonlight and Music.

It will be clear and pretty to-morrow night (see if it isn't!) and the Young Men's Pleasure Club of Wilmington Steam Fire Engine Co. No. 1 will give a pleasant excursion down the river. As the moon fills to-day and the night will be clear (haven't we said it?) there will be every reason for the young folks to expect a pleasant evening. There will be good music and refreshments at city prices. Messrs. T. H. Thompson, W. C. VonGlahn, W. N. Jacobs, J. T. Reiley and J. M. Donlan are the Committee of Arrangements and they will do all that lies in their power to make the occasion pleasant to all.

Some of the goods obtained from the shop-lifters still remain at the sheriff's office, unclaimed. Parties who may have lost goods are notified to call and identify their articles before 10 o'clock, Monday next, for all not claimed at that time will be returned to the parties in whose possession they were found, by order of Court.

Schr. Edna M. Barter, Barter, cleared to-day for Georgetown, Demerara, with 242,030 feet lumber, valued at $1,011.68, shipped by Messrs. E. Kidder & Son.

How to Prevent Fires.

Here is something of interest, benefit and advantage to housekeepers. It should be carefully studied and always preserved and a close attention to it may prevent a disastrous conflagration:

1. Always buy the best quality of oil.
2. Never make a sudden motion with a lamp, either in lifting it or setting it down.
3. Never place a lamp on the edge of a table or mantle.
4. Never fill a lamp after dark, even if you should have to go without a light.
5. See that the lamp wicks are always clear, and that they work freely in the tube.
6. Never blow a lamp out from the top.
7. Never take a light to a closet where there are clothes. If necessary to go to the closet, place the light at a distance.
8. Use candles when possible in going about the house and in bed-rooms. They are cheaper, can't explode and for many purposes are just as good as lamps.
9. Matches should always be kept in stone or earthen jars or tin.
10. Matches should never be left where rats or mice can get hold of them. There is nothing more to the taste of a rat than phosphorus. They will eat it if they can get at it. A box of matches is almost certain to be set fire to if a rat gets at it.
11. Have perfectly good match-safes in every place where matches are to be used, and never let a match be left on the floor.
12. Never let a match go out of your hand after lighting it until you are sure the fire is out, and then it is better to put it in a stove or earthen dish.
13. It is far better to use the safety matches which can only be lighted upon the box which contains them.

The Public Have Confidence.

In us. Every day brings fresh proof to us of the good will of all classes. Our sales each week foot up far in excess of corresponding week in any previous year. This effect must have its cause, and that may be found in the fact that we are giving better value for all money received than we were able to give before. Our advantages for buying are equal if not superior to those of any other house in America. When we desire to buy goods we ask no favors of any manufacturer or wholesale dealer on earth. We buy closely and quickly, but qualities must be up to the mark and prices our own. As we buy we sell; we mark our goods lower than any other house and can afford to. All customers in our house are treated alike and whether young or old in experience, will ever receive the very best value for their money that is in our power to give.
