It is stated that the British franchise law will add over 1,300,000 voters to the register in England and Wales, 200,000 in Scotland and 400,000 in Ireland. The act of 1832 added only 500,-'00 to the voting population. The Reform act of 1867 increased the number of voters from 1,136,000 to 2,488,000. The new law increases the voting population from 3,000,000 to 5,000,000. When universal suffrage is reached a republic will succeed the monarchy and

The cholera in Spain seems to be spreading rapidly and with the most la mentable results. A merchant who has just arrived in London from Murcia tells a correspondent that it is absolutely impossible to describe the national panic, loss of nerve and reason, and the freezy of local quarantines. Not only has this feeling of panic paralyzed the business of Spain, but it threaens to work more evil by deranging the food supply then even the cholera has worked or may yet work.

Ila an address to young men. Dr. W Fratt, of London, says that married life is by far the most healthy. In 1,000 married men of 25 to 30 years of age there are 6 deaths; 1,000 bachelors furusin to deaths, and 1,000 widowers 22 deaths. In young men married before D years the figures are unfavorable, being 50 per 1,000. In unmarried men er 20 the rate is but 7 per 1,000. If girls marry before 20. a like mortality befalls them. Married people from 18 to 20 die as fast as people from 60 to 70. After 21 marriage should be contracted as soon as practicable.

The revival of the era of real womanhood in the White House is at hand and should be instructive to the dainty madams and misses who confound the useful with the menial. We are told that the sister of the President thought that the annual Spring cleaning of the White House needed her personal supervision, and she gave it. We indorse a exchange when it says that "The country need never blush for the woman who can receive a diplomat in the highest style of the art or when in ber pinion occasion demands ably fill the ole of housekeeper."

W II Howe-F xoursion to Washington, D C Where are you going on the Fourth? There was no City Court this morn-

A store on Market street was found open by the police last night.

In some portions of the city this is the 'dog goned" part of the year.

It strikes us that last night was unusually cool for the time of year.

Watermelons and canteloupes are beginning to come into market quite freely.

Base Ball, and Summer underwear go together. Get the latter from Dyer who has a fine line.

Peaches were being offered in the market this morning at 20 cents per basket. They were nice and were rais. ed by Capt. R. P. Paddison.

Those Blind Doors have arrived. Parties in want of them can now be supplied at JACQBI'S Hdw. Depot. †

The Charlotte Observer comes to us to-day in a new form, that of an eightpage daily, in celebration of the 17th year of its publication. The Observer is about the best daily newspaper pub iished in North Carolina, and we congratulate Bro. Jones on his success.

Indications.

For the South Atlantic fair weather, local rains, winds, generally Northeasterly, and slight changes in temperature.

Call at JACOBI'S Hardware Depot and examine his fine assortment of fishing poles and lines.

Base Ball.

yesterday evening between the Little Giant Club, Capt. W. N. Jacobs, and the Pleasure Club, Capt. John E. Grant. The score stood 18 to 3 in favor of the Little Giant Club.

Mr. Jeff. D. Beery acted as umpire.

From Sumter.

About 60 excursionists from Sumter, among them a number of ladies, arrived here this morning on the mail train and embarked at the depot on the Pass port for Smithville. The Sumter Light Infantry did not come as an organization, although many of its members were present in citizen's dress.

A New Boat.

Capt. R. P. Paddison, who was in this city to-day, tells us that he has abandoned all idea of raising and rebuilding the steamer John Dawson, which was burned some weeks since. Instead, he has contracted for an entire new boat and she is to be ready for the river, according to the contract, by the first day of October.

Mortuary Report.

The report of the Dr. F. W. Potter. city physician, for the month ended June 30th 1885, shows the number of deaths in the city during that period to be as White-males, 6, females, 4-total whites, 10. Of this number 4 were adults and 6 were children.

Colorded-males, 15, females 11total colored, 26. Of this number were adults and 20 were children.

Total white and colored, 36, from which should be deducted I white drowned, 7 colored still born and 1 colored killed, and the number of deaths from disease would be 27.

A Narrow Escape.

On Tuesday evening last Mr. D. J. McEachern took his wife and two children in a buggy for a trip to the Sound, and when he had gone a part of the diswhich was loaded with a party for the Master N. Jacobi: same destination. Mr. McEachern undertook to pass the wagonette, and to do so struck his horse with the whip. This caused the horse to jump to one side and he landed in the ditch, taking the buggy and all of its occupants with him. The ditch was about four feet wide, four feet deep and was nearly half full of water. In striking the ditch the buggy was turned over, throwing Mrs. McEachern, with the younger child, which she held in her arms, against the opposite bank, the vehicle falling over upon them. The other child was thrown into the water right behind the horse's heels. The wagonette was stopped immediately and as follows: Mr. W. W. Shaw, Clerk of the Board A very interesting game was played of County Commissioners, who was one of the passengers, sprang to the assistance of those in the ditch. The latter were soon extricated from their perilous positions without any further injury than soiled and wet garments and a thorough shaking up. The horse was somewhat bruised and the shafts of the buggy were broken. It was a fortunate escape from a serious, if not tatal, accident
