There was one interment in Bellevue Cemetery last week—a child.

No more holidays now until Thanksgiving Day! November 26th.

The Standard Dramatic Company are playing in Charlotte to good houses.

That was a delightful and a seasonable rain which fell yesterday forenoon.

The moon entered on its last quarter at 12 minutes past 7 o'clock this morning.

Saturday seemed to be something like a regular old-fashioned Fourth of July.

At 3 o'clock this afternoon the thermometer in this office registered 90 degrees.

There were four interments in Oakdale Cemetery last week; all of whom were children.

The Register of Deeds issued six marriage licenses last week; all for colored couples.

Base Ball, and Summer underwear go together. Get the latter from Dyer who has a fine line.

Those Blind Doors have arrived. Parties in want of them can now be supplied at JACOB'S Hdw. Depot.

Yesterday was quite cool during the morning hours, with some thunder and lightning, accompanied by light showers.

Another almond-eyed celestial is in the city for the purpose of establishing a laundry on Market street, near Second.

Mrs. Lizzie Bowden has sent us a cotton bloom picked on her plantation, near Ormsby's Bluff, on the North East River, on Thursday last, the 2d inst. by Mr. H. M. Hocut. We understand that Mrs. Bowden's entire crop of cotton is very fine.

Knights of Honor. Carolina Lodge No. 434. Regular meeting this evening at 8 o'clock. Full attendance is desired as business of importance will be transacted.

The National Base Ball Club, of Goldsboro, will play an exhibition game with the Seaside on the grounds of the latter to-morrow afternoon. The Nationals now have eight professionals and an exciting game may reasonably be expected. They will appear here with new uniforms.

A lady friend in this city has sent us an immense poster, 8 feet long by 4 feet wide, printed in colors, red and blue, setting forth that a monster Fourth of July celebration was to have been held in Auburn, N. Y., last Saturday, under the auspices of Seward Post G. A. R. with R. E. Lee Camp of Confederate Veterans as their guests. This is a substantial indication that the war is over at last.

Nor. barque Insula Capri, Danielsen, cleared to-day for Liverpool with 1,450 casks spirits turpentine and 1,500 barrels rosin, valued at $37,100, shipped by Messrs Alex Sprunt & Son. Sch. Robert Ruff, French, cleared for Kings-ton, Ja., with 180,000 feet lumber and 200 shooks valued at $2,671.30, shipped by Messrs Northrop & Cumming; making a total of exports foreign amounting to $29,771.30

At about 2 o'clock yesterday morning the wife of Anderson Wood, who lives on the corner of McRae and Gwynne streets, in the Northeastern section of the city, discovered some one trying to break into her house, whereupon she screamed "murder" four or five times at the top of her lung power, waking up all the people in that neighborhood. Her husband was absent from the city, but her screams proved effectual for they frightened not only the would-be burglar, but a good many others who were awake by the noise.

Call at JACOB'S Hardware Depot and examine his fine assortment of fishing poles and lines.

THE FOURTH AND ITS INCIDENTS.

Yacht Sailing at the Sound—Excursions to the "Rocks" and Smithville—Fishing Parties—Base Ball—Fire-works—A Gala Day.

Saturday last was the 109th anniversary of the Declaration of American Independence, and it was very generally celebrated by the people of Wilmington and this immediate vicinity.

Among other amusements which had been arranged to take place during the day was the first regatta of the season of the Carolina Yacht Club, over the regular course on Wrightsville Sound.

The time of starting and the time of those which sailed to the finish, with the actual running time of the latter, were as follows:

Bubble, Capt. J. Wright Stedman. Mable, Capt. G. Herbert Smith. Glide, Capt. H. R. Latimer. Restless, Capt. J. McR. Cowan. Louie, Capt. J. W. Atkinson, Jr. Frolic, Capt. C. W. Worth. Lillian Florence, Capt. H. M. Bowden.

Rosa, Capt. W. L. Smith, Jr. Mist, Capt. John H. Daniel. Phantom, Capt. D. M. Williams. Ripple, Capt. Norwood Giles. Idler, Capt. Pembroke Jones.

The time of starting and the time of those which sailed to the finish, with the actual running time of the latter, were as follows:

Bubble started at 12:30; Mable started at 12:30.50; Glide started at 12:31.55; Restless started 12:32; Louie started at 12:32.10; Frolic started at 12:32.45; Lillian Florence started at 12:33.55; Rosa started at 12:33.40; Mist started at 12:34; Phantom started at 12:34.35; Ripple started 12:35.10, and finished at 2:26.02; actual running time 1:50.52; Idler started at 12:36.45, and finished at 2:29.13; actual running time 1:51.28.

The last two boats were all that made the race to the finish, whose time was taken by the judges, although the Phantom sailed the entire course, but came in too late to be counted. There was a strong Southwest breeze blowing during the race, and there were several mishaps, as the following chapter of accidents will show:

The Bubble capsized after passing the gangway buoy the first time from Mott's Channel. The Mable capsized after making only one tack. The Glide and Louie capsized when about half way down the channel before reaching the falet buoy. The Restless and Rosa collided and capsized together, after rounding Inlet buoy the second time. The Lillian Florence fouled the Idler and afterwards withdrew from the race. By this accident the latter yacht was somewhat delayed in the race. The Mist parted her job stay after rounding Mott's Channel buoy the first time, and was compelled to withdraw. The Frolic had her mast broken off at the deck just after rounding Mott's Channel buoy the last time and she also was compelled to withdraw.

During the race there came very near being an accident by drowning and the escape was almost miraculous. When the Glide capsized Mr. Walter Smallbones, who was one of the crew, was of course thrown into the water and in some unaccountable way he was carried under the sail, where he would have been drowned had not Mr. Gilbert Greene dived down and rescued him. It was a perilous position in which to be placed and the attempt at his rescue was attended with extreme hazard. This was the only accident which threatened serious results.

At about 2 o'clock Saturday morning the steamer Susie took a party of 15 or 20 to the "Rocks," for a day's fishing, and at 9 o'clock the steamer Passport left her wharf at the foot of Market street with one of the largest excursion parties we have ever seen upon that boat. We had predicted a large party, but not such a throng as we saw. Tickets were sold until the steamer could accommodate no more, yet others were wanting to get on board even after the lines had been cast off and the gang plank had been taken in. The ride down the river was delightful. Capt. Harper, with the politeness which is characteristic of the man, and which has made him so popular with excursion parties, did all that he could for the comfort of his guests. The music was first rate and was much enjoyed, not only by the merry dancers, but also by those who love and appreciate a combination of sweet sounds. The boat made a short stop at the "Rocks" where she left a few passengers, then she proceeded to Smithville, where a few got off and a large party came on board; thence to Fort Caswell, where a large portion of her living cargo disembarked and thence, with those who wished, out to sea for an hour's ride upon the breast of old ocean. Fortunately there was but very little sickness and the sea trip was highly enjoyed. Col. J. C. Tipton, of the Lincoln Press, was one of the party who went outside. He was not in the least sick and came back as true blue a Democrat as ever, without any revulsion of sentiment. Returning the boat stopped at the Fort just long enough for the passengers, who had been left there, to embark and then for Smithville. Here a stop of an hour and a half was made, which the passengers improved, some by securing a dinner and others by rambling about the quaint old town. The boat started for Wilmington at the appointed time, making a short stop at the "Rocks" on the way, and arriving at the wharf in this city at a few minutes after 7 o'clock. A fine sight for the excursionists, many of whom had never seen the like, was presented by a barque under full sail which the steamer overtook and passed a few miles below the city, on her way up. There was no confusion nor accident during the day to mar the pleasure of the occasion.

BASE BALL. Another feature of enjoyment for the day was the match game of base ball between the Mechanics, of Columbia, S. C., and the Seaside, of this city, on the grounds of the latter, which was played in the afternoon. The Mechanics came to the city with an excellent record, and it was feared by some that our home team would be defeated in the contest. The game of the day before, contrary to the expectations of the most sanguine, had been declared in favor of the Seaside by a score of 10 to 0. This fact stimulated the curiosity of many, and as a natural consequence there was a large throng in attendance to witness the result of Saturday's game. This was also declared in favor of the Seaside in a score of 7 to 0. The Mechanics were strong batters, but somehow they failed to hit Kurtz's balls very often, and when they did, it was only to be caught out by the fielders.

FIRE WORKS. Quite a number of our citizens had provided themselves with fireworks for the occasion, and at night there was considerable of a pyrotechnic display, and at times the heavens were beautifully illuminated.

It was generally observed by our citizens as a gala day. Business was suspended at all the public offices; nearly all the stores were closed during the day, and all seemed inclined to enjoy the time as a season of pleasant enjoyment; and thus ended the Fourth of July, 1885.

An Incident. A learned and eloquent divine of this city was one of the crew on board one of the yachts which sailed in the regatta at Wrightsville on the Fourth. He was attired in true sailor toggery and reported for duty before the mast, and as he was assigned there he was notified by the commander of the yacht that he might hear some ugly words said by some of the crew during the excitement incident to the progress of the race. "All right" has the reply; "but let us make an agreement. Suppose a fine of 10 cents be agreed upon for every profane word uttered on board this craft to-day, for the benefit of St. James' Church yard." The crew assented to this, rather unwillingly, and it is said that the amount realized from this source was a very small one indeed but it is a lamentable fact that the "old salts" on board became so oppressed and subdued by the restraint put upon them that they not only did not get in first but that they managed so badly that the boat was accidentally (?) upset and the gentlemen got a severe dacking thereby.

Personal. Our good friend, Col. Jno. C. Tipton, of the Lincoln Press, is in the city to-day and favored us with a visit. Our young townsmen, Messrs J. W. Monroe and H. W. Collins, passed the Fourth at Charleston, S. C., and arrived home this morning.

Indications.

For the South Atlantic States, local rains, Southwesterly winds, and nearly stationary temperature.

Fannie Gore was drunk and uproarious at the corner of Mulberry and Nutt streets Saturday night and was taken in by the police. This morning the Mayor required her to pay a fine of $10 or go below for 30 days. She went below.

A match game of base ball was played at Myrtle Grove on the afternoon of the Fourth inst., between the "Old North State" and the "Masonboro" nines. The former were declared the victors in a score of 7 to 4 for the latter. Only 6 innings were played.

A sealed letter addressed to Dr. C. T. Peckham, of the Marine Hospital here, was lost somewhere on the street yesterday, after having been taken from the Postoffice. It is of no value to anyone but the party to whom it is addressed and the finder is requested to leave it at the Postoffice.

Now is the season for painting your houses. Go to JACOB'S Hardware Depot and buy your paints, if you want to save money.
