

Gladstone has from the estate of Hay-ward an income of $25,000 a year, and he is patron of four church livings, one of which, held by his son, is worth $12,500.

Chinamen in Chicago have stolen a number of pug dogs for roasting purposes. The pets of the belles are declared to be very like the breed commonly eaten in China.

Three men started to climb Chamounix glaciers. Bad weather set in, and they did not return. Search revealed their mangled bodies at the foot of a three thousand-foot precipice.

Opera is not financially successful in Paris. The Opera House lost $30,000, and the Odeon $2,500, while the Comique cleared only $560. These three houses have Government subsidies, too.

Roller skating seems to be waning. Many of the rinks in parts of the country where the sport first raged are being turned to other uses, and everywhere the tendency of the diversion is toward unfashionableness.

Atlantic City is said to have a flag so wired that it cannot hang limp, even if there is no breath of air stirring. It is fixed above the gable of a hotel, and is intended to convince the heated guest that his discomfort is imaginary.

A balloon railroad is to be constructed on the Austrian Tyrol. The balloon will have grooved wheels on its car, and these will run on nearly perpendicular rails, the gas providing the lifting power. Gravitation will be utilized on the down trips.

In a recent review of the once despised Persian army 10,000 finely uniformed and equipped soldiers were in line. Russian instructors for the cavalry, and Austrian for the infantry and artillery, have brought the troops up to a good standard of efficiency.

A Chinese belle has arrived in San Francisco. She is the first genuine exhibit of her kind on the Pacific coast. She is tall and handsome, and her feet possess the requisite deformity so thoroughly that whenever she walks a servant supports her on each side.

Every year the Judges of Assize in England send to Queen Victoria the written names of three men in each county from whom to choose High Sheriffs. She indicates her selections by sticking a pin through the names. But this is an empty ceremony, for the choices are really made beforehand by the Prince Minister.

The wealthy merchants of London are discussing the advisability of private subscriptions toward the defence of that city against assault by warships. They fear that, in the event of war with a foreign country equipped with a powerful navy, a fleet might make its way up the Thames and enforce an enormous ransom for sparing the town.

Boston has for months been full of the wildest theories about ghosts and visions. The subject is almost invariably discussed in every social gathering, and wonderful stories are commonly told of personal experiences. As evidence of the kind of minds engrossed in these things, it is noteworthy that four members of Harvard's faculty are members of a society for investigation. Numerous haunted houses have been developed, and several prophetic dreamers have become famous.

The results of a series of observations carried out by the Hydrographic Bureau at Washington, in order to determine the length, depth, and duration of ocean waves, have been published. The largest wave observed is said to have had a length of half a mile and to have spent itself in twenty-three seconds. During storms on the Atlantic waves sometimes extend 600 feet and last from ten to eleven seconds. The most careful measurements of the heights of waves give from forty-four to forty eight feet as an extreme limit.

Said handsome Tom to smiling Nell, "Where did you find that mystic spell that hovers 'round your every smile. And would my throbbing heart beguile?" Quoth laughing Nell, "You silly boy, it is ZODONTO, the cream of joy."

The Fair Daughters of Fashion Prefer ZODONTO to every other article for the teeth, because nothing renders those ornaments of the mouth so spotless, or imparts such an agreeable odor to the breath. Moreover, experience proves the article to be perfectly wholesome, which cannot be said of all dentifrices.

There was no City Court this morning.

The crops are reported as rather backward, but growing very rapidly.

The heated term continues and seems in no hurry to abate its intensity.

At 3 o'clock this afternoon the thermometer in this office registered 90 degrees.

The health officers are busy and watchful in looking out for the sanitary condition of the streets, yards and lots.

The last of the delegates to the District Conference of the M. E. Church returned from Smithville this morning.

Call at JACOBI'S Hardware Depot and examine his fine assortment of fishing poles and lines.

Blue, white, grey, brown and olive flannel shirts, are sold by DYER. The visitors to the mountains will take notice.

The Atlantic House, at Smithville, kept by Messrs. Davis & Bender, is becoming very popular. It is located next South of the garrison. Meals furnished there at all hours.

According to a calculation made by an engineer officer there is enough stone in the breakwater at New Inlet to build a wall 8 feet high and 4 feet wide, all of the way from Wilmington to Smithville, a distance of 28 miles.

Unity Tent No. 60, Independent Order of Rechabites, will give their next excursion on Tuesday, August 11th, instead of on the 13th, as we announced in Saturday's issue. The change was made necessary on account of the engagements of the Passport.

Remember the moonlight excursion to the "Rocks" to-morrow night.—Music by the harpers, free use of bath house and a sheephead supper will be among the attractions, to say nothing of the pleasures of moonlight on the waters with Glory Ann or some other sweet and beautiful young lady.

Now is the season for painting your houses. Go to JACOBI'S Hardware Depot and buy your paints, if you want to save money.

Indications.

For the South Atlantic States, generally fair weather except preceded in the Northeastern portion by local rains. Winds generally Southwesterly, nearly stationary temperature.

Personal.

Dr. Johnston B. Jones, a prominent physician of Charlotte, N. C., is in the city to-day.

Mr. George Wilson, Solicitor of the Criminal Court of Mecklenburg county, is in the city to-day.

Capt. W. M. Parker was in New York on Saturday last, and we regret to say that he was very much prostrated by the extreme heat of the weather.

Hymeneal.

Our friend, Mr. William M. Hays was a delegate from Fifth Street M. E. Church to the Conference of the Wilmington District which was held at Smithville last week. He went a single man, but returned a Benedict, Miss Emma, daughter of the late Mr. Sylvester Pettoway, having been united to him in marriage last night, Rev. Paul J. Carraway, Presiding Elder of Wilmington District, officiating.

The Delegates.

The delegates to the M. E. District Conference, held at Smithville last week, have all returned to the city. They speak in high terms of the hospitality and kindness of the good people of Smithville and say that their visit was made one of much pleasure.—Among others they speak in very high terms of the courtesies extended them by Capt. J. T. Harper, who not only himself entertained many of the delegates but who gave them a trip on the Italian some miles out to sea, which was very much enjoyed by all. Capt. John Harper also extended them the courtesy of a trip to the Rocks, on the Louise, which was also one of the most pleasant features of the week.

At the Old Stand.

Messrs. Giles & Murchison have returned to their former stand, in the Murchison building, on Front street, and a ramble through their extensive establishment this morning was interesting, as showing not only the magnitude of their business, but the excellent arrangement of their goods for the convenience of salesmen as well as customers. The business requires the full use of two stores, with basements under each. The basement under the crockery store is devoted to the storage of crockery and glassware in the original packages as they are received from on board the vessels, while the other is devoted to the storage of ploughs, plough castings, steel shapes for agricultural implements, bar iron in appropriate racks, nails, buggy and wagon materials, pot ware and wood and willow ware. All these different articles are arranged in the most complete order with a strict regard to detail, so that there can be no possible delay or confusion in selecting any article desired.

Entering the first floor by the South door we came to hardware in all its variety, conveniently stored or packed upon shelves. In the centre of this room is the private office of the proprietors which is well lighted and from which they can see the entire length of the room. In the rear of the office are bins containing tinware, so arranged that one can see at a glance whatever article he may desire to purchase. Here are also large quantities of tin ware in the original packages. Near these is arranged a large sample table upon which every variety of hardware kept in stock, from a needle to a plough, may be seen without causing delay to either salesman or purchaser. The stock of the entire room is arranged in most perfect order, and every available space is utilized either for the storage or display of the merchandise.

The North store room of the building is devoted exclusively to the display and sale of crockery, china and glass ware, and here, as everywhere else on the premises, the arrangement of the goods is as perfect as human skill can devise. All of the goods in this department, which are known under the trade names of "C. C." and "W. G." wares, are direct importations from the large potteries of England, via Liverpool. There is a large room in the rear of the crockery department where goods are taken from their original packages and stored for sale as occasion may demand.

The hardware and crockery rooms are of alike dimensions, each being 140 feet long and 37 feet wide, with 17 feet pitch, and are well lighted and ventilated.

Literary.

The contents of the August Magazine of American History are varied and of substantial worth. It has four essays on the Civil War, and an equal number on other historical topics. Gen Thomas Jordan's second paper on the "Beginning of the Civil War in America," touches many controverted points in an able manner; General Henry M. Cist writes a chapter on "Cincinnati with the War Fever, 1861;" General Cochrane discusses "The Charleston Convention," of which he was a member; the Editor, in a sketch of "Major General John A. Dix," describes the great Union Square War Meeting in New York; Hon. James W. Gerard contributes a paper on the "Revocation of the Edict of the Nantes;" Professor E. W. Gilliam, in "Presidential Elections Historically Considered," calls the attention of every voter in the land to the inconsistencies of the electoral system; Ethelbert D. Warfield writes of "John Breckenridge, a Democrat of the Old Regime." The pictures are by Theo. R. Davis, and the portraits of Jefferson Davis and his first Cabinet are given with much effect. Published at 30 Lafayette Place, New York City.

Won the Prizes.

From a private letter received from Asheville this morning, by a gentleman of this city, we learn that the Second Regiment N. C. S. G. won the prize at the State encampment for drill, discipline and efficiency. This will be good news to the citizens of this section who take pride in our State Guard, and who feel a special interest in our military organizations.

We also learn, from the same source, that the Cornet Concert Club of this city won the prize for the best music; which is just what we predicted. It is a mighty good band, and there is none North or South, which can discourse music in better style than the Cornet Concert Club of this city.

How to Treat It.

Good watermelons are now abundant and cheap enough to be within the reach of almost everybody. To enjoy this delicious fruit properly, says an authority on the subject, select a dark green, fat one, with a yellowish spot where it has hugged mother earth. Put it on ice for twenty-four hours, cut a hole in one end of it and pour a bottle of claret into the hole, plug it up and put it on ice some more. Cut it in longitudinal slices, bring it on the table surrounded by wild flowers and other fancy fixings, and you have a dish fit for the gods. Some luxuries palates, happily accompanied by means enough to gratify their gustatory whims, find one or two bottles of champagne emptied into the almost frozen melon, in place of claret, a decided improvement. But the man who cannot like a good, ripe, sweet watermelon without wine, is deserving of much pity.

Se-ven-ty five cents only for the best white unlaundried shirt in the city, at the Wilmington Shirt Factory, No. 27 Market st., J. ELSBACH, Prop.

Sentenced.

The following are the cases tried at the recent term of the Criminal Court when the penalty was imprisonment:

Thomas Whitfield, larceny. Six years in the State Penitentiary.
Ulysses Richardson, assault and battery with deadly weapon, 13 months in the County House of Correction.

Gen. Lee James, larceny, two years in State Penitentiary.
Lizzie Floyd, assault and battery with deadly weapon, three months in County House of Correction.

Scilla Brady, nuisance, 12 months in County House of Correction.

Andrew Russ, assault and battery and resisting a police officer, 12 months in County House of Correction.

John Anderson, breaking into a storehouse, 2 years in State penitentiary.

Edward Edwards, affray, 30 days in County House of Correction.

Robert Manning, affray, 30 days in County House of Correction.

John N. Sheldon, assault and battery with deadly weapon, 3 years in County House of Correction.
William Harris, embezzlement, 2 years in State penitentiary.

Richard Herring, assault and battery with a deadly weapon, 3 months in County House of Correction.
Guilford Hendricks, larceny, 2 years in State penitentiary.

We have had plentiful and gracious showers here of late but at Smithville, 28 miles distant, there has been no rain in three weeks.

It will be to your interest to call and see our goods and prices before you spend a dollar. Never before could you make a dollar go as far in clothing as at the present time. We have yet a large stock of Summer Clothing, which must go. We do not intend carrying over one dollar's worth this Fall, so have put prices where we know they cannot help but go. You know our reputation; when we say goods are cheap you know they are. SHIRTS, the Old Reliable Clothier, 114 Market st. Sign of the Golden Arm.

We noticed quite a fine display of dog collars at JACOBI'S Hardware Depot.

DIED.

GALLOWAY—In this city, on Sunday July 26th, 1885, at 4 o'clock, p. m., WILLIAM, son of G. M. and Ellen Galloway, aged 25 years and 10 months.
Interment this afternoon in Bellevue Cemetery.
