THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. IX. WILMINGTON, N. C. SATURDAY, AUGUST 15, 1885. NO. 190

PLEASE NOTICE We will be glad to receive communication from our friends on any and all subjects; general interest but the name of the writer must always be attached to the Editor. Communications must be written on one side of the paper. Personalities must be avoided. And it is especially and particularly understood that the Editor does not always endorse the views of correspondents unless so stated in the editorial column.

August is half gone already. Fifty cents a peck for peaches is too much.

Another fine shower of rain this afternoon. Canteloupes have about disappeared and watermelons are preparing to follow suit.

At 6 o'clock this afternoon the thermometer in this office registered 88 degrees, with the wind from the South. A match game of base ball was played this morning on the corner of Seventh and Dock streets, between the Review, Capt. J. H. Hanby, Jr., and the Star, Capt. J. Penny; the game resulted for the Review in a score of 11 to 6.

Unfortunate. Mr. D. H. Walsh, who lives on Seventh St., between Mulberry and Walnut, has been twice victimized within the last week. In the first instance they came like a thief in the night and stole an axe, and a night or two after they came and stole a number of chickens. It is easy enough to understand what the thieves wanted of the poultry, but there is some doubt as to what they wanted of the axe unless it was for the purpose of decapitating the chickens.

Poor Accommodation. A gentleman who resides on South Second street has been much annoyed by people sleeping under his house nearly every night, and on Thursday last concluded that he would find some way to put a stop to it. Accordingly he secured a large otter trap and set it under the house, making it fast to one of the pillars which support the structure. Yesterday morning he found the trap sprung, with spots of blood upon it and other evidences of a struggle, from which he thinks that some would-be lodger got caught, and not liking the way the bed was made, sought some other resting place for his weary limbs, with as little noise as possible, so as not to disturb the family.

Prof. Otis F. Manson, M. D. We are gratified to learn from the Richmond State that Dr. Otis F. Manson was chosen Emeritus Professor of Physiology and Pathology in the Medical College of Virginia.

Dr. Manson is a medical scholar of high standing, having been a student from the earliest days of his remarkable medical career to the present time. He is a native of Richmond, but won his substantial fame in North Carolina, and it was as a North Carolinian that he was intrusted with the noble and helpful institutions for his adopted State in Richmond—an admirably supplied hospital for the sick and wounded, and a refreshment house for the soldiers en route to and from the army—which were conducted with so much satisfaction to all interested.

Gov. Vance said of him: "As Medical Agent of North Carolina and chief of the hospital assigned to the sick and wounded from this State, during the war, he endeared himself not only to me, but to all of our people."

Dr. Manson's skill in teaching and his storehouse of mature learning should not be relegated simply to an emeritus chair, but engaged for the active business of a college that needs the best men just now.

Literary. Harper's Magazine for September is an attractive Number. General Horace Porter's "Reminiscences of General Grant" will command the reader's attention. The article is accompanied by an entirely new portrait. The Number opens with an illustrated article on Labrador. An illustrated paper on the English publishing house of Murray is of interest to literary people. The art paper of the Number is an interesting sketch of Antoine Louis Barye, by Theodore Child, with sixteen illustrations. One of the illustrations, "The Tiger Hunt" serves as a frontispiece to the number. R. F. Zogbaum, the artist, contributes an animated sketch of a march "Across Country with a Cavalry Column," with five illustrations. In serial fiction the two best American novelists—Constance Fenimore Woolson and W. D. Howells—are represented. J. S. Billings, M. D., contributes an article of vital interest on "Sewage Disposal in Cities." In many ways the most important contribution to the Number is Charles Dudley Warner's "Impressions of the South." Mr. Warner finds that the feeling of nationality has nowhere developed so rapidly of late as at the South, and he is convinced that this is a genuine development of attachment to the Union and of pride in the nation.

Pharmaceutical Association. At the recent meeting of the State Pharmaceutical Society held in Greensboro the following officers were chosen for the ensuing year: President, H. R. Horne, Fayetteville; first vice president, A. W. Rowland, of Wilson; second vice president, F. W. Hancock of Newbern; third vice president, John Tull, of Morganton; secretary, J. C. Munds, of Statesville; local secretary, B. E. Sadberry, of Fayetteville; treasurer, A. S. Lee, of Raleigh. The association adjourned to meet at Fayetteville the second day of August, 1885.

Fearful Accident. Yesterday as the freight train on the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad was leaving the station at Dudley, in Wayne county, and while it was in motion, a man named Pennington, who lives about 12 miles from Mount Olive, endeavored to get upon the shanty car, but missed his foothold and was dragged a considerable distance before the train could be stopped so that he could be extricated. He was fearfully mangled and, although he was alive last night and was brought to Mount Olive on the passenger train, there is hardly a possibility of his recovery. Two of his brothers were on the train at the time of the accident, having succeeded in getting on board before the train started.

Shark Fishing. On Thursday last the fishing party which went out from the Rocks did not catch any sharks, nor, indeed, did they hang any. But at the Rocks, on the steambot wharf at that place, Capt. Mayo and Mr. Fred Hashagan succeeded in catching a young shark, about six feet long and weighing perhaps 125 pounds. They also hung one much larger, apparently twice the size of the other, and they had him fairly out of the water, but while waiting for help from the hotel to pull him up he managed to cut the line and made off with the hook in him. That which was caught was shot five times by Mr. John Masfitt while suspended above the water. He was taken off on the Passport by a country visitor who took it home with him to astonish the natives.

Personal. Dr. W. G. Curtis, of Smithville, was in the city to-day. Mr. Isaac Macks, of Baltimore, Md., is in the city on a visit to his son, Mr. J. I. Macks. Capt. E. J. Pennypacker, after quite a prolonged absence, returned to the city last night. Dr. A. T. Jones, of the New Orleans Times-Democrat, is in the city and registered at the Purcell House. We are glad to state that Captain Henry Savage, whose sickness we mentioned yesterday, is reported as being considerably better this morning. We were glad to see Capt. W. A. Cumming upon our streets this morning. He is yet rather feeble, but in much better health than he was before his trip to the mountains. Col. W. P. Craighill was in the city yesterday and went down the river on the steam tug Jos. T. Easton, in company with Capt. W. H. Bixby and Mr. Henry Bacon, on a tour of inspection of the government works. Mr. Robert R. Bellamy, who has been in attendance upon the meeting of the N. C. Pharmaceutical Association, for the purpose of an examination as a druggist, has returned to the city. The Goldsboro paper, from which we gathered the information that Capt. J. C. Borden was not so well as he has been, was mistaken, as we are happy to learn that his health has decidedly improved. Mr. W. Alden James, who was last summer engaged on the government works near Georgetown, S. C., but who has more recently been with Gen. Ransom on the Neuse river, is in the city for a few weeks. Mr. N. Jacobi will leave here on Monday next for Winston, N. C., to be in attendance upon the meeting of the Grand Lodge Knights of Honor, which will convene in that town on the 19th inst., and of which he is one of the officers. Thence he will go to Boston, Mass., as Supreme Representative of North Carolina to the Grand Council American Legion of Honor, which will convene in that city on the 25th inst. His wife will go with him and Mrs. I. L. Greenwald will accompany them as far as Raleigh.

Gen'l's Wamsutta Jeans Drawers, equal to linen, all sizes, at 60 cents, at the Wilmington Shirt Factory, No. 27 Market st., J. ELSBACH, Prop.

The Last Base Ball. The game with Wilmington, which will probably be played to-morrow, says yesterday's News and Observer, will be the last struggle of the Raleigh baseball club. It will then die a natural death, its professional players will be released, and home folk have to handle the bat and ball if it is done at all. The club's finances are in a bad condition. It is no exception to a pretty general rule in the South this year, it appears, for in Atlanta, Macon, Norfolk and other places the same trouble exists. There have been some grand games played during the season and some exceedingly poor ones. Baseball, properly regulated, is the cheapest and most exciting of amusements. Certainly the Raleigh people, taking things by and large, have had their money's worth. There has been some poor management, resulting in bad playing and lack of concert, yet much of the season the management was able. It is not known how the championship matter will stand. Raleigh is now far ahead in the race, but too much money is being lost, owing to small attendance and falling off in interest, to permit the consideration of winning to weigh for much.

There were no exports foreign of cotton or naval stores from this port this week, which is an extremely uncommon occurrence for Wilmington.

It is Impossible. For any concern that pays for their goods to undersell SHRIER, for the two following reasons: 1st. SHRIER pays spot cash for every dollar's worth of goods purchased. 2d. Our light expenses and economical arrangements enable us to sell goods at the very smallest profit possible, and our percentage of profit is frequently much less than it costs other clothiers to pay for their enormous daily expenses. In other words SHRIER'S expenses average about one-third or less. This being the case, our doing a big business lowers the percentage. We will cheerfully refund your money if goods are not found satisfactory and will gladly send goods to your homes for comparison with goods from other stores. It pays to trade at the Old Reliable's all the year round. Convince yourself of the fact. SHRIER, the Old Reliable Clothier, 114 Market st. Sign of the Golden Arm.

Now is the season for painting your houses. Go to JACOB'S Hardware Depot and buy your paints, if you want to save money.

There was one interment in Oakdale Cemetery this week, that of a child. There was one interment in Bellevue Cemetery this week, that of a child.

The Register of Deeds issued two marriage licenses this week, both for colored couples. Turner's Almanac speaks of cold weather as early as the latter part of September.

There will be no preaching or other services at the First Presbyterian Church to-morrow.

"Can you do without underwear?" "Certainly not." Then get your outfit from Dyer at once.

There were five interments in Pine Forest Cemetery this week, three adults and two children.

In walking and driving or riding, if every one would go to the right, much confusion and trouble would be avoided.

Last night was much cooler than it had been for several of the preceding nights, and sleeping was a comfort as well as a luxury.

Rev. E. S. Alderman will preach in the Second Presbyterian Church to-morrow evening. There will be no morning services.

Farmers from some sections in this vicinity begin to complain of the dry weather, and say that rain is very much needed with them to make the crops a success.

It is about time for the appearance of the first bale of new cotton. The first bale last year was received on the 25th of August, and that date is not far off.

The Germania Gornet Band have moved their headquarters from Tienken's Hall to Vollers' Hall, opposite the New Market. The band now numbers 16 pieces, who meet every night for practice, and are making commendable progress.

The choraleists have been placed in the Fifth Street M. E. Church and the improvements are so nearly completed that night services, which have been suspended for several weeks, will hereafter be held commencing with to-morrow evening.

Mr. Julius Taylor of this city has a remarkable hen. She has presented him with three eggs laid on alternate days. The first is about the size of a pigeon egg, the second of a partridge egg and the third of a bird egg. After laying the last she concluded that she was tired and stopped to rest awhile.

You'll find her smiling night and day. Although at times she is not gay. And should you wonder why you meet This constant smile, regard her teeth. She only laughs those gems to show, Who SOZODONT makes white as snow.

Laughter Lends a Charm To beauty when it discloses a pretty set of teeth. Whiteness, when nature has supplied this element of loveliness, may be retained through life by using the fragrant SOZODONT.

"SPALDING'S GLUE," mends Furniture, Toys, Crockery, all ornamental work.
