THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. IX. WILMINGTON, N. C. TUESDAY, AUGUST 25, 1885. NO. 198

The Daily Review has the largest circulation of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

Some of our friends of health and vigor have gone to the Tuam and Islands, seeking the restoration of their health.

Some of our friends of health and vigor are already in an active state of subscription list.

Dr. Ludwig Meyer is putting the papers of the late Dr. Lyaker, the German physician, in shape for publication.

The government is keeping John R. Smith's work on work finishing the papers under way. Secretary Whitney merely discharged John Roach.

Dr. Devine, of Atlanta, Ga., dispels the prevalent idea that Jefferson Davis is sane and disengaged and says that he is gentle, amiable and thoroughly sympathetic.

The Mississippi Democrats in convention thanked Mr. Cleveland for going Mr. Lamar a place in his cabinet, and unqualifiedly endorsed the Administration.

On the 27th inst. Archbishop Gibbons, assisted by Very Rev. Robert Fulton, Provincial of the Order of Jesuits, will ordain at Woodstock College twenty-two sub-deacons and priests.

Capt. S. H. Buck, who succeeded Major Barge as director of the New Orleans expedition, will resign the position September 1, to assume the more pleasing duties of the New Orleans postmastership to which he has been appointed.

About his chances of re-election to the United States Senate from Maryland Senator Gorman says: "There is now practically no opposition of any great moment. I think I shall be re-elected without any trouble."

Petersburg Index-Appel: "It is not believed that Wise can get the vote given to Blaine, by many thousands. — But there is no reason why Lee should not receive the full vote of Cleveland. All that is needed in this campaign is a full vote of the people."

Professor Wiggins, the Canadian weather prophet, says that with the great planets Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus and Neptune all so near their perihelion a mild winter is an impossibility. He predicts extreme cold weather. The old theory that the nearer a planet is to the sun the hotter it is will not do. It is colder. The winter of 1885-6 will be cold and stormy.

The New York World administers a severe and needed rebuke to a correspondent who proposed a revival of the Know Nothing programme, and closed in this wise: "Out upon such sentiments. America is for Americans, and all citizens who are naturalized under our laws are as much Americans as those who are born on the soil. The glory of our country is in the intelligence, the worth, the integrity of its citizens, and not in their birthplace."

The growth of the female population in the large cities is a remarkable feature of the censuses of the time. New York has a surplus of about 25,000 women, Boston of 18,000, Baltimore of 17,000 and so on through the whole list of cities in the East. Fifty years ago the women stayed at home while the men came to the city to pursue their careers, now, both in Europe and America, the women are crowding to the business centres.

Pension Commissioner Black is doing some effective work in this way of checking the frauds in his department. He finds that the pension rolls throughout the country are speckled with the names of people who have no earthly right to draw money from the government. In Chicago 500 persons are receiving pensions who have no lawful claim. Money is being drawn for men who are dead and for soldiers' widows who are now married. Gen. Black has a big field in which to introduce reform, and he is evidently the man for the work.

Her form was sylph-like, and her face was just a miracle of grace. "That's why I thought it very strange," said the doctor, "that you should have been so young when you were so old." "Her breath was tainted," said SOZODONT, "and she was not acquainted."

The Only Remedy. Those who suffer from foul breath are open to the charge of carelessness. It is an offence that can be speedily cured. SOZODONT will unmistakably keep the work. No toilet table should be without it. It will preserve the teeth white, and the breath pure and sweet.

It is said that Mr. Cicero W. Harris "will be one of the North Carolina Democrats whose party services will be rewarded by the President." This is the way some of our exchanges put it. Just exactly what those "party services" which are to be "rewarded" consist in we are not told. Mr. Harris is a clever gentleman, an able journalist and has been a good Democrat, and we do not grudge him any preferment he may meet with. He has, we believe, been filling a government position for some years past. But it is time, we think, to drop this talk about party services. It is being run into the ground. We have seen some of it here and we are not enamored of it. We have seen a good paying position given to a man as a Democrat—presumably for "party services," else why should it have been given him at all?—who a few years ago went to the polls in this city and voted for a Republican for Congress in opposition to the regular Democrat nominee.

Those who render the party real service are not always those who draw the prizes in the political lottery.

The Gale. Last night the storm centre was on the coast of Georgia, working North. During this forenoon the wind blew at 35 miles an hour at Smithville. The lines were down in the direction of Fort Macon, so that no news could be obtained from that point.

Great Longevity. Mrs. Tabitha Pridden died a few days since at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Miles P. Costin, at Moore's Creek, Pender county, at the advanced age of 81 years and 2 months. She had been the mother of 12 children, 9 of whom are now living, and it is a remarkable fact that the only children she had ever lost were killed in battle during the late war. Her living grandchildren number about 100, while she leaves 30 great-grandchildren. She had been a consistent member of the Baptist church for more than 60 years. Her death was not caused by disease, but was a wasting away of the vital forces.

The Acme Fertilizer. Mr. R. C. Applewhite, a friend and subscriber at Brinkley, Columbus county, writes us that he planted last Spring ten acres of very inferior land in cotton. It was such poor land that without the aid of fertilizers it would produce only about two bushels of corn to the acre. On this land he used 400 pounds of the Acme Manufacturing Company's fertilizers to the acre and with the most astonishing results. Where none of the fertilizers were used the stalks of cotton are now only about six inches high, but where they were used the cotton stalks are from three to four feet high and give every promise of a bountiful crop. The Acme fertilizer has done the work and, with good reason, Mr. Applewhite is loud in his praise of it for use upon poor and worn out lands. Mr. James McDall, who has had 50 years' experience in cotton planting, says that he has never seen such entirely satisfactory results from the use of any commercial fertilizer, and recommends it to all cotton growers.

Was Never Better. The sanitary condition of the city of Wilmington was never better than it is now. We speak this in the recollections of a long residence here. Nature and man have both combined to ensure this satisfactory condition of affairs. Yesterday's rain was in itself an excellent scavenger but when it came, it found but little to do in that line. We have twice recently alluded to the cleanly condition of the streets, alleyways and by-ways and we have nothing to take from what was said then. Our information is founded upon observation and not upon hearsay. It is thoughtless and inconsiderate to speak of a condition of affairs which does not exist.

We do not pretend to say here that the sanitary condition of the city is perfect. Such a condition of affairs could hardly exist anywhere and only for a very short time. A town or a city might be thoroughly policed one day and on the next there would surely be more filth to be removed. It is only by constant, ceaseless care and attention that a good standard can be attained and maintained and we assert that this has been the case here in Wilmington. We think, with the limited means at their disposal, the authorities have done wonders in policing the city. For the past 40 days the entire force of the city, consisting of three wagons, eight carts and the entire street force of laborers, has been devoted to the work. Every street and every alley has been looked after, close attention has been paid to private premises, and disinfectants have been freely scattered everywhere. It must be remembered, too, that we have here no regular system of sewers to carry away the accumulating filth.

Slash the Prices. From now until Fall SHIRER don't expect to make any money. We guarantee to give our patrons, at all times, more and better goods for their money than can be had elsewhere. The values we are offering in suits for men, boys and children are fully from 15 to 25 per cent. cheaper than their equal can be had for elsewhere. Your opportunity is now to get more and better value for less money than at any time yet. All our Spring and Summer goods must be sold before receiving our new Fall stock. Come and see the prices this week. SHIRER, the Old Reliable Clothier, 114 Market st. Sign of the Golden Arm.

Orton House. Such is the name by which the new hotel in the Marchison building on North Front street will be known.—Messrs. Giles & Murchison, who were burned out in the fire which broke out in the building several months ago, returned to their quarters some weeks since, the store having been completely rebuilt and put in the very best possible shape for the business in which they are engaged. In the meantime many hands have been busily employed in enlarging, improving and remodeling the structure so as to make it convenient, comfortable and attractive for hotel purposes, and as the work approaches completion it becomes remarkable to see what important changes have been made in the interior as well as exterior of the building.—Through the extension and enlargement which have been made the second and third floors are now converted into a commodious hotel property with forty large, well ventilated and well lighted rooms. The main entrance is from North Front street, with vestibule folding doors at the top of the first landing. The main office is in the front of the building on the second floor and is so arranged that the clerk can see the entire length of that floor, upon which, aside from the regular rooms for guests, are located the large dining room and kitchen. Every room in the house is well lighted and ventilated and each room for guests is supplied with a nice wardrobe, and will be furnished with carpets, bedding and furniture made expressly for them. The measures for them have been taken so that there will be no trouble of a misfit. The rooms are all nearly of a size, and are made as comfortable and convenient as human ingenuity and forethought can devise. The kitchen is the perfection of convenience and has every appliance for hot and cold water, with a large cooking range to make the work light and expeditious with a due regard to the most perfect cleanliness. The water closets and bath rooms are supplied with every modern improvement known in the plumbing art, and are so constructed and so well supplied with ventilators as to make an offensive odor impossible.

The third floor is similar to the second, with the exception of the dining room and kitchen. On both floors, on the South side of the building, are wide balconies, from which a view of the river and far into the surrounding country may be had, and where the guests may have the benefit of the fresh breezes which blow at nearly all times of the day and night. The passages are spacious, so that there will be no danger of crowding while passing from one part of the house to the other. The means of egress in case of fire are ample, and the occupants of both floors could be placed upon the street in less than five minutes. The entire wood work of the structure is of North Carolina pine, which will be well oiled and varnished, but not painted, giving the very finest possible appearance to the work.

Nothing has been left undone in designing and completing the building which would tend to the comfort, convenience or health of the guests. One of the most important and useful of all the contrivances for convenience in the arrangement of the property for hotel purposes is the "Needle Annunciator," of which Col. F. W. Foster is the agent here. This is an electric machine placed in the office which is connected by wire and bell with every room in the house, so that communication with a particular room or with all the rooms is instantaneous and unerring. It is so arranged that by touching a button in any room the number will be at once indicated on the disc of the machine in the office. It is a very simple, inexpensive and entirely reliable arrangement, far superior to any of the older methods in use for intercommunication with hotel rooms.

We are informed by Mr. R. B. Wood, the contractor, that the work will be completed by the 15th of September next, and then, with the proper person in charge, it will be an honor to the city as well as to the projector of the enterprise and will soon yield a large interest upon the capital invested in its construction.

The Ohello, New Emerald, Zeb Vance and New Excelsior Penn., are the leading cook stoves, both in quality and price. They can be seen at JACOB'S Hdw. Depot.

A Hurricane. At 45 minutes past 3 o'clock this afternoon the gale had reached the magnitude of a hurricane at Smithville, the wind blowing 60 miles per hour. The Passport had then left for this city and grave fears were being entertained for her safety, but we think without any real foundation. She is an excellent seaboat, and Captain Harper is a skilful sailor and a man of cool judgment, and the only thing to be dreaded in our opinion is the inconvenience, discomfort and fright to which the passengers, especially the ladies, will be subjected. At 4 o'clock this afternoon the indications were that the storm had not reached its greatest violence here.

DIED. HASHAGEN—NINA MAY, beloved daughter of F. E. and M. D. Hashagen, died at the residence of her parents this 25th day of August, at 11 a. m., aged 3 years and 23 days. Funeral services will be held to-morrow (Wednesday) at 4 p. m., at the residence of the parents, 203 N. Second street, between Mulberry and Chestnut streets. Friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend.
