THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. IX. WILMINGTON, N. C., MONDAY, AUGUST 31, 1885. NO. 203

Compulsory vaccination has been resorted to at Montreal as a means to staying the ravages of smallpox. All public assemblies or popular gatherings are at this time prohibited. A circus is not allowed to enter the city, the schools are closed and people are leaving as if the cholera were in the place. The death rate there from smallpox is so large that the authorities have been forced to take arbitrary and energetic measures to abate the evil.

From the character of the books which members of Congress are drawing from the Congressional library and buying at the book-stores, it is evident that there is a great deal of posting up being done by them on the subject of finance, most likely in anticipation of the agitation of the question of silver coinage. The advocates of the coinage do not anticipate that a suspension will be ordered by Congress, but they expect a lively session next winter, and are preparing themselves accordingly.

There was no City Court this morning. The storm signal was hoisted to-day and a storm is reported as off the coast of Georgia.

The rainy season seems to have fairly set in, but in most places it came somewhat too late.

You will be delighted to see the beautiful line of new goods which is shown by JOHN DYER, the Tailor.

FOR MEN AND BOYS—Pee Dee Plaids. Working shirts. "The poor man's friend", all sizes. A first class article. at 25 cents, at the Wilmington Shirt Factory, No. 27 Market st., J. ELSBACH, Prop.

The Standard Dramatic Company arrived in the city last night from Wilson, where they concluded an engagement of three nights on Saturday, and registered at the Commercial Hotel. They will commence a six nights' engagement at the Opera House to-night with "Zingari," or, Flowers of the Forest.

The Cornet Concert Club will give their excursion, which was postponed last Tuesday on account of the storm, on Wednesday next. They have made every preparation for a good time, and we hope that the Passport may be crowded to its utmost capacity for their benefit.

Personal.
Capt. H. D. Gilbert and family, of this city, are at Burton's Springs, in Lincoln county.

Mr. C. G. Herbert, Supervisor of Agencies for the Robert Portner Brewing Company, was in the city to-day.

We are glad to state that Capt. H. C. Brock has so far recovered as to be able to be again at his post at Police headquarters.

Capt. R. M. McIntire returned to the city on Saturday night from his regular Fall visit to the Northern markets, and the ladies will hear from him soon.

Rev. W. H. Lewis, who has been quite sick for several days, undertook yesterday morning to conduct services in St. John's Church, but was unequal to the exertion and was suddenly compelled to dismiss the congregation just as he began to read the First Lesson. We are glad to learn that he is better to-day.

Pic Nic for Purchasers.
Bargains in Clothing. Odds and ends and broken assortment of sizes will be sold without regard to cost. A chance for all in want of Clothing or Furnishing Goods. Our rule is not to carry over any goods from one season to another if low prices will sell them, therefore we cut prices accordingly. It is useless to quote prices. Come and see the goods and you will be astonished at the marvelous bargains we are giving our patrons. SHRIER, the Old Reliable Clothier, 114 Market st. Sign of the Golden Arm.

'Magistrate's Court.
Hattie Canaday, colored, was arraigned this morning before Justice E. D. Hall, charged with an assault and battery upon Addie Harris, commonly known as "Long Nine," at a dance in the "Hollow," on Saturday night. The testimony showed that, while there was much abusive language used by both parties, no blows were struck and they were found guilty of an affray and the costs were divided equally between them.

The Standards.
The Standard Dramatic Company open a season at the Opera House to-night and we trust that a full house will welcome them back to Wilmington. The following, from the Charlotte Observer, will show somewhat of the appreciation they met with in that city: McElreth's Standard Dramatic Company is taking the town by storm, as the constantly increasing crowds at the nightly performances indicate. The play last night was "Divorce," and it was presented to the satisfaction of the large and critical audience. "My Partner" will be played to-night and it will be worth going to see. The performances are of the same character that have usually been given in Charlotte for $1, but the admittance being charged by the Standard is only 25 cents.

A Slight Delay.
The steamship Benefactor, which left here yesterday morning for New York, struck on what is known as the Red Bay shoals at about half past 12 yesterday afternoon, and the tugs Italian and Blanch, together with the cutter Colfax, went to her assistance, but could do nothing on account of its being low tide. They went out again later when the tide had flowed, but the Benefactor had succeeded in getting off at about half past 8 o'clock last night, with but very slight damage, and proceeded on her passage. The cause of the accident was the shifting of the buoy a distance of about 50 yards during the recent storm. The channel is quite narrow and crooked at the point in question, and a very slight deviation either way would cause an accident.

Accidentally Killed.
A colored girl, whose name we could not learn, was killed yesterday in Brunswick county, at what is known as the "McIlhenny place," now owned by Col. J. W. Atkinson, by the accidental discharge of a fowling piece in the hands of Giles Nixon, also colored. The account furnished us is very meagre, but it appears that Nixon was doing something to the towing piece, thinking, as he claims, that it was not loaded, and the girl who was killed, with her sister, was seated upon a bank a few paces distant when the gun was discharged, the entire load striking the unfortunate girl under her chin and blowing her head all to pieces. Of course she was instantly killed. She was about twelve years old. There were quite a number of other witnesses who saw the accident, and a magistrate was sent for, but had not reached the scene at last accounts. It was undoubtedly an accident, but one in which there was criminal carelessness which should not go unpunished.

Near by Notes.
Our correspondent at Brinkley's furnishes us with the following interesting notes from that section: Farmers throughout this section are busy stripping fodder. The wind which blew with such terrific force on Tuesday of last week did no damage here, though at one time it was feared the corn would be seriously injured. Mr. Lovelace, the efficient telegraph operator of the Carolina Central R. R., at Cronly, is paying a visit to his relatives in Shelby and his place is being filled, during his absence, by Mr. McCLOUD, of Matthews. The weather of the past few days has been pleasant and continues so, consequently the tramp resumes his journey. The walking facilities afforded by the W. C. & A. R. R. insure us an abundance of this conglomeration of humanity. The fertilizer mills of the Acme Manufacturing Company are now complete and I was shown through the extensive establishment by the clever Superintendent, Mr. Moran, who is familiar with the remotest piece of machinery, having personally superintended the erection of the building as well as all the machinery—which is immense—contained in it. He seems to fully understand the manufacture of fertilizers and the Acme is to be congratulated on having secured the services of one so competent. M. W. J.

Indications.
For the South Atlantic States, local rains, variable winds, and stationary temperature. We noticed quite a fine display of dog collars at JACOBI'S Hardware Depot.

A Tear of Gratitude.
When the Shelby excursion was down here and the gangway fell in, causing several standing upon it to fall into the water at the "Rocks," one of them became badly frightened and jumping on a fish coop, which was on the bottom, shouted lustily for help, an account of which was published in the papers at the time. Since his arrival home he has addressed the following to his friend in this city, and we have been permitted to publish the same: DEAR SIR:—My trip to Wilmington was a pleasant one and rendered doubly so by your kindness, of which rest assured I am not insensible. The impressions received as you say, when falling from the gangway, were such as cannot be described. And the truth should never be denied, I felt that all the powers above had ceased their acts of kindly love; I felt I must leave the fish fraternally and breast the wide ocean of eternity. 'Tis true, I howled and more did yell. Then into the briny waters fell, but the powers above saw fit to send 'To my relief a trusty friend; In a few moments Masfit stood, As few—yes fisherman would, And with a melancholy croak He bade me jump upon his back, I thought, could heaven be so kind, And set my hoofs against his spine. He walked through the briny like a man. Until we reached the glorious sand, And then among so many shells, I forgot the city belles! But now my mind runs like a shuttle. To the rude conduct of Albert Suttle; How he promised, may he swore. That he'd remain upon the shore, And how kindly we did all beseech, That he would wait upon the beach. But alas! like a Adam and Err, He was tempted so took his leave. Now my brother I'll cut no pranks, But please accept my many thanks And if to judge I have the brain, You certainly can entertain, With best wishes to you and July, Subscribe myself yours very truly

Literary.
The Magazine of American History for September is a number of extraordinary interest. It opens with a steel portrait of Gen. Grant, in uniform, and its leading paper treats of the "Historical Associations of General Grant's Resting Place," at Riverside Park.—The second paper of the number, "Washington's First Public Service," is from T. J. Chapman, A. M., and is extremely entertaining. Three articles follow in the Civil War Series—"Baltimore in 1861," by Major-General John C. Robinson; "The Beginnings of the Civil War in America. The Confederates Taking the Offensive" (third paper), by Gen. Thomas Jordan, who has traced the causes leading to the firing on Sumter; and Gen. Meredith Read's second contribution on the "Military Affairs of New York State in 1861" while he was Adjutant-General in the State. Published at 30 Lafayette Place, New York City.

Having a Good Time.
Mr. N. Jacobi, who is now in Boston, Mass., as Supreme Representative of North Carolina of the American Legion of Honor, the Supreme Council of which is now in session in that city, writes to his son, Mr. M. W. Jacobi, that he is having an excellent time.—He says that on last Wednesday they were the guests of the Grand Council of Massachusetts, who took them to Nantasket Beach on the steamer Nantasket, which had been chartered for the occasion, and to the Nantasket Hotel, where they sat down to a superb dinner. There were 500 guests at the table. They afterwards visited Fort Warren and the Retortatory on Deer Island, all in Boston harbor. On Thursday last they were the guests of the Mayor and the Common Council of Boston, who took them, in carriages, to Banker Hill, in Charlestown, and Harvard University, in Cambridge, and afterwards to the famous Parker House, in Boston, where another splendid dinner was in waiting for them. He writes that the council will not get through its business until to-night or, possibly, to-morrow. It is Mr. Jacobi's first visit to the "Hub," and he is much pleased with what he has seen and heard and with the cordial treatment with which he has been received.—Mrs. Jacobi is with her husband and she gives a cheerful and glowing description of her visit.

"My love, what magic spell is thrown Upon your face? Its charm I own. Whence came thy pure and pearly teeth? Thy rosy lips? Thy perfumed breath?" She said, in accents sweet and clear, "'Tis only SOZODONT, my dear."

The Atmosphere of Love
Is a pure, sweet breath. This desideratum is one of the results of using SOZODONT, which not only invigorates and preserves the teeth, but renders the mouth as fragrant as a rose. "SPALDING'S GLUE," handy about their 43 mends everything.
