THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. IX. WILMINGTON, N. C. WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 16, 1885. NO. 216

The Daily Review has the largest bona fide circulation of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

Blaine has been invited to Ohio to magnetize the faithful.

Prof. Huxley will probably take up his permanent residence in Italy.

The Taunamy Hall General Committee, by a rising vote, unanimously adopted resolutions denouncing Civil Service Reform.

Hon. Leopold Morse is mentioned among those likely to receive the Democratic nomination for Governor of Massachusetts.

Edward Everett Hale reiterates Bulwer's assertion that three hours of daily brain work is ample to get from a man the best that is in him.

To a recent caller Ex-President Davis spoke as a man at peace with the world, as one who had forgiven whatever wrongs of which he might have been the victim.

At a wedding in Bridgeport, Conn., recently the groom, a young man, who appeared nervous from the start, broke into hysterical sobs before the ceremony was over.

The first Grant monument completed is on the State Fair Grounds, Peabody, Kansas. It consists of a shaft forty feet high, built of ears of corn, wrought into elaborate mosaics.

The Swiss army now numbers 477 commissioned officers, and its effective strength is 20,754 men. The highest rank recognized in the Swiss army during peace is that of Colonel.

The Providence (R. I.) authorities have decided to license only two skating rinks in that city this season, and to charge each $3 daily for license, subject to revocation at any time.

A glass bestead has been made at a Birmingham, Eng., factory for a Calcutta millionaire. It is of solid glass, the legs, rails, &c., being richly cut. The King of Barmah also has one.

A writer in the Bulletin Generale de Therapeutique says that refrigeration of the lobe of the ear will stop hicough, whatever its cause may be. Very slight refrigeration, such as a drop of cold water, is said to be sufficient.

The Rev. T. De Witt Talmage declines to run as Prohibitionist candidate for Governor of New York. He thinks "that the cause will march on to complete success," but doesn't think he is the man to head the procession.

New York Herald: Those who favor the English type of yacht saw nothing in the behavior of the Genesta to make them swerve one jot from their allegiance. And the stock of the Puritan was never quoted at a higher premium than it was last night.

There is a curious uniformity in the number of persons killed annually in India by wild animals and snakes. The Indian Medical Gazette gives the number of those killed in Bengal alone by animals, for five years, at from 1,264 to 1,200 in each year. The snakes destroyed from 9,153 to 10,064 annually.

"Is it not a significant fact," says the Utica Observer, Democrat, "that only one Union soldier of note, John A. Logan, is engaged in the effort to prejudice Northern sentiment against our fellow-countrymen in the South; that it is left for the stay-at-homes of the Blaine-Sherman stripe to hurl insulting and undeserved maledictions at our Southern neighbors?"

A number of dogs were recently dosed with morphine until they became insensible, the object being to determine what drug would act most rapidly as an antidote. It was found that hypodermic injections of theine neutralized the narcotic almost instantly, although it was employed only after the heart had ceased to beat. Caffeine had a considerable anti-narcotic power, but was not equal to the principle derived from tea.

A lately published report on the British army gives the number of recruits inspected for 1883 at 59,436, of whom 23,595 were rejected as unfit for service. There seems to be no further reason for the popular belief that Ireland fights England's battles, for the recruits born in England numbered 773 per 1,000. Scotland gave but 91, and Ireland 125 per 1,000. The number of short men offered was unusually large, so much so as to give rise to a question whether Englishmen were decreasing in stature.

The new idea in nostrums is not to pretend that a particular medicine will cure all maladies, but will positively and completely cure the one disease for which it is designed. The clear-sighted student of human nature who discovered this slant is said to be on the road to a fortune.

A native of Madagascar who studied medicine in Edinburgh and returned home, now has seventy young men studying under him, and a large class of women whom he is training for nurses. He is in great favor with his Queen, and is about to marry the Prime Minister's daughter.

The Meat War.

The meat war is assuming huge proportions, all of the butchers in the New Market, with one exception, we understand, have agreed to hereafter sell the best beef at 10 cents per pound for choice cuts. This is interesting news to consumers and we hope that it will be productive of good results to all interested.

The Race.

At 3 o'clock this afternoon the Puritan was about a mile ahead of the Genesta, with a fair prospect of being the winning yacht. It has blown hard during the day, the wind some of the time being at the rate of 25 miles an hour.

LATEST—The Puritan was the winner in the race by 1 minute and 15 seconds.

The Proposed Iron Bridge.

Mr. S. H. Morton exhibited to us this afternoon a plan of the proposed iron bridge over Fourth street, to take the place of the present unsightly and unsafe structure, which will probably be the one adopted. He will leave it at Yates' bookstore where it may be seen by all interested. This plan provides for a double roadway, each section 23 feet in width and a sidewalk on each side, 10 feet in width, which will bring the bridge to the width of the street. We think that this bridge will surely be constructed, and that at an early day.

Duplin County.

Hon. A. M. Waddell, of this city, agrees with the News and Observer that Col. Wheeler was in error in ascribing the origin of the name of Duplin county to a corruption of the word Dublin. He thinks that it was probably named in honor of Lord Dupplin, who was one of the lords of the treasury connected with the colonial government at the time the county was formed. This suggestion is certainly original with Col Waddell, as we have never seen it advanced before, and we believe that it must be correct.

A Runaway.

At about noon to-day a horse attached to a buggy, the property of Mr. I. B. Rhodes, was standing at the Front Street Market and from some cause the animal became frightened and dashed down the alley on the North side of the market overturning the fish tables in her course and making them fly around quite lively. The animal turned up South Water street and ran to Market street, up which she dashed to Front where the buggy struck the telegraph pole at the Northeast intersection of Front and Market streets, which stopped the team when the animal was caught. The buggy was considerably damaged, but the horse received no perceptible injury.

City Court.

Wm. Hodges and Amelia Bradley, both colored, were arrested last Saturday night by Officer Skipper, for fighting on Nutt street. The case was continued until this morning when they were arraigned before Mayor Hall to answer the charge. The evidence was positive as to the fight and a statement made by Hodges was to the effect that he went into a place on that street with another "lady," and as they came out this "lady" (meaning Amelia) pitched into him and got his finger in her mouth. In the struggle she fell and he was compelled to follow his finger and fell also, as a matter of course. It was further demonstrated that Hodges had been tender on Amelia in days gone by, and that his affections had been stolen from her by the other "lady" and when she saw the couple together her lacerated heart got the better of her judgment and she was proceeding to "chaw" up the perfidious William when they were both arrested. Hodges was fined $3 and Amelia $5 for the offense, both to remain in custody until the fine is paid.

A Good Time.

The citizens of Point Caswell had an entertainment on the night of the 11th inst., consisting of tableaux and music, for the benefit of the Baptist Church which has just been constructed at that place. There was a large throng in attendance from the surrounding country, and even Wilmington and Smithville were represented. The opening of the entertainment was instrumental music, Miss Annie Vollers playing "The last idea of Weber," in a most charming and musical manner. This was followed by Miss Eliza Murphy, who played "Nellie Gray," with variations. This was followed by the charade "Master Piece," participated in by Misses Lula Black and Katie Paddison and Masters Willie Vollers and Howard Paddison, all of whom acquitted themselves with much credit. After the literary portion of the entertainment had been concluded came the feast, which was excellent and tempting in quality and abundant in quantity and to which all present did ample justice as they were in duty bound, and by inclination impelled, to do. The sum realized from the entertainment was sixty dollars, which will be expended in beautifying the new church, of which the good people of Point Caswell have so much reason to be proud.

Mr. Thos. W. Strange, who has been visiting some of the Summer resorts in the North and Northwest, has returned to the city.

Mr. M. M. Katz returned last night from an extended business trip to the North, which has been spent mainly by him in New York in purchasing new Fall and Winter goods.

We regret to learn that our friend, neighbor and fellow-worker in the reportorial field, Mr. J. H. Muse, of the Star, is quite sick and unable to be at his post to-day. He has not been well for several days, but we had hoped that he would get well without leaving his work, and we now hope that he will be all right in a day or two.

Capt. John L. Boatwright is to remove on the 1st of October to the store Nos 11 and 13 South Front street.

Messrs W. S. Briggs & Co. have leased the premises No. 1, Vollers' Building, on South Front street, opposite the New Market, and will remove there October 1st.

Mr. James C. Stevenson will remove on the 1st prox to No. 2, Granite Row, he having purchased that property and prepared it for his business.

Miss E. Karrer will take possession of No. 2, Vollers' Building, and is already moving her stock and opening there the purchases recently made by her in New York.

Mr. J. C. Mueller will remove on the 1st to the store Northeast corner of Market and Second street, now occupied by Geo. W. Price, the auctioneer.

Mr. L. G. Cherry has removed from the corner of Market and Second to the store on South Front street, near the New Market, recently occupied by Messrs. Hollingsworth & Croom, that firm having retired from business.

Thermometrical.

It has been kindly charged by some of our friends that the thermometer in our office is a wayward instrument that fails utterly in giving a true statement of the condition of the temperature, and, in fact, that it is entirely unreliable. It is an ordinary thermometer, which we have had in use several years, and we have been convinced that it is as near correct as it is possible for such instruments to be. If the surroundings were all the same there would hardly be a perceptible difference in any of the thermometers in ordinary use, and the difference which has been manifested between ours and others in the city should be attributed to the difference in situation. The purpose of thermometric observation, as we understand the matter, is not to see how hot or how cold we can make it appear, but to seek for a moderate exposure and be guided by the readings they give. The thermometer in our office is placed in such an exposure, it being suspended near a window on the North side of the building. Our thermometric readings have been somewhat higher than others published in the city, but that does not prove that we are not correct; it only proves a difference in recorded temperature. To satisfy ourselves and, we hope, the public, we have taken pains to compare our thermometric readings with those at the signal office here, and we find that we agree in the main, the only difference being that our record is somewhat lower than those of that office. As an instance, on July 22d, 1885, the hottest day of the year, the signal office recorded the temperature at ninety-four; the REVIEW recorded ninety-three and a half. In several other instances the record at our office and the signal office are the same, and we have made up our mind that our thermometer is "just as good as they make 'em." We shall not hang it in the cellar nor by the side of an ice chest in order that an excessively hot day may appear cool and comfortable, nor shall we put it in a hot place to see how high it can be made to climb, but shall keep it in its accustomed moderate exposure and publish its readings as the true condition of the atmosphere.

Now is the season for painting your houses. Go to JACOBI'S Hardware Depot and buy your paints, if you want to save money.

War in Prices.

Attention is invited to the attractive advertisement of Mr. Jno. R. Melton, of stalls Nos. 1 and 3, New Market which appears in this issue. He proclaims war to the knife (butcher) in prices and publishes a list to show just what he means. The best of everything is reduced to 10 cents per pound and second best is in proportion.

Unpleasant Results.

We hear of a gentleman of this city who went to the mountains of Western North Carolina this Summer for health, and caught chills and fevers. He returned to the city several days ago, but has not been able to get rid of his mountain acquisition, which he would be mighty glad to shake off. It will do to travel for pleasure, rest and sight seeing, but for real good, three-square-meals-a-day health Wilmington is the place.

At the Opera House.

The play of "Tally Ho," which was presented at the Opera House last night, was one of the best which has ever been witnessed in this city, and it is to be regretted that a larger audience was not in attendance to encourage and cheer the actors. The play was well mounted, the support was good and the leading character of "Hank Monk," taken by Mr. Robert L. Downing, was an excellent impersonation, and the audience were in full sympathy with the actors throughout the entire performance.

Bullets and Pullett.

One of the typos of the REVIEW office was the hero of a startling adventure last night. He lives on McRae-treet and had just got into bed when he heard a chicken squeal. He knew what that meant and so he sprang for his trusty self-cooking bull dog and alighted in the yard just in time to see a colored gentleman standing by the hen house with a pullet in his hand. For a time the two men glared at each other, and then the trusty bull-dog barked and the thief dropped his booty and made for the fence. Six of the seven barrels of the pistol were emptied after him in rapid succession, but he got off safely. A careful examination of the fence this morning failed to show any signs of damages in that direction. None of the balls could be found anywhere, and it is supposed that the thief must have carried them all off with him. At all events we charge him to beware of that hen coop hereafter. He might escape again and then again he might not.—Accidents happen occasionally, and he might get shot.

Have you seen our Fish Scales? All housekeepers should have one. Can be had at JACOBI'S Hardware Depot.
