The Daily Review has the largest circulation of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

Milwaukee was 50 years old last week.

Great Britain received by import, during July 37,500 head of beef cattle, and of these 18,252 were from the United States.

An effort is being made in New York to have seats placed on top of the Broadway line of street cars for the convenience of smokers.

The mileage of the Pacific Railroads is $2,903, or more than one-tenth of the total for the whole country. These roads had net earnings of $30,000,000 last year.

The popularity of Southern California as a sanitarium is such that there are over 200 cottages, worth from $600 to $2,500 apiece, in course of construction in Los Angeles and suburbs.

Some of the camels taken to Texas in ante-war days with a view to breeding them for army transportation contracts, have perpetuated themselves in a herd in Bastrop County, whence showmen make frequent purchases.

A paper presented before the French Academy of Sciences estimates that a man at fifty years of age has slept an aggregate of 6,000 days, worked the same length of time, eaten 2,000 days, walked 500 days and been ill 500 days.

The increasing masculinity of English girls is a topic for many London essayists. In dress, talk and manners it is the fashion with daughters of wealth and refinement to be as much like their brothers as decorum will allow.

Ex-Senator Chaffee, of Colorado, says that when Congress meets an effort will be made to obtain Mrs. Grant's consent to have Gen. Grant's remains removed to Washington. He says that there will be no difficulty in obtaining her consent.

Superiority in American hotels over those of England, as judged by Blackwood's, lies in the fact that whatever the guest wants is ready for him at all hours. From the posting of a letter to the eating of a meal he finds the facilities in readiness.

The Western Reserve University, after letting girls into its medical department many years, now excludes four candidates. The President says that the best opinion now is that feminine pupils in medicine or surgery ought to be in separate institutions.

Charles G. Leland writes that the masses in France believe that our civil war was between the Spaniards of South America and the negroes of North America. He affirms that as fast as Frenchmen learn that we are very much like Englishmen their feelings change to hatred.

Alphonse Daudet is still remarkably handsome, but so crippled by rheumatism that he can seldom walk. His ailment was contracted in the Franco-German war. Zola is described as a heavy, gross man, with short, bristling hair. Halcy is thin, sombre, pale and morose in appearance.

The skeleton of a man nine feet one inch in height is said by the St. Louis Globe-Democrat to be on exhibition at the office of a firm in Thayer, Oregon county, Mo. The skeleton is further said to have been discovered by a party of men who were exploring a cave about three miles in length situated about nine miles from Thayer.

Prof. Henry, of Harvard, says that he was discussing Greek with a friend at dinner in a Saratoga hotel when their negro waiter ventured a quotation that they could not recall correctly. The servant was one of a party of Howland University students at work during vacation. His fortunate remark caught the fancy of one of the hearers, who presented $500 to him for the completion of his collegiate education.

The Chinese have invaded another industry at San Francisco. There are now three printing offices in that city which are owned by Chinese. Only white compositors are employed, there being no Chinamen as yet who understand the trade, but that want will no doubt be soon supplied. In China native printers, wholly ignorant of the English language, frequently master the art of setting manuscript into type, and do it almost as rapidly as white compositors who know the meaning of the words before them.

THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. IX. WILMINGTON, N. C. THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 24, 1885. NO. 223

Burlington, Vt., had its first snow yesterday.

There is a natural bridge near the boundary line between Arizona and New Mexico, twenty miles North of the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad, which surpasses in every way the famous one in Virginia.

Somebody remembers that Morse once predicted that talking through a hundred miles of wire would become common, and that ocean steamers on a voyage would keep up communication electrically with the shore. The first prediction having come true, the second is hopefully regarded, though regarded as wild when made.

Our friends, the enemy, yesterday nominated their State ticket in New York, as follows: Ira Davenport, for Governor; Gen. James B. Carr, for Lieut. do.; James W. Washington, for Comptroller; Anson S. Wood, for Secretary of State; Edward B. Thomas, for Attorney-General, and Wm. P. Van Renssaler, for State Engineer. The Democrats meet at Saratoga to-day.

It is the opinion of Prof. Hodge of Princeton, who has studied the subject carefully, that Sir Moses Montefiore has gone to the Christian heaven, although he was a devout Jew. Prof. Hodge argues the orthodox belief to be that God may "lead a person outside the Church to essential truth, independently of human agency," and may "save him, although his relation to Christ may be so obscured by peculiar conditions as to elude our recognition."

Gen. Grant's dying utterances in regard to the North and the South have been made public through his son, Col. Fred Grant. They were read by Col. Grant at the reunion of the veterans of Gen. Grant's old regiment, the 21st Illinois, on Tuesday night. They are as follows, Col. Grant speaking:

"I do not intend to make you a speech, for I have not been trained as a public talker. I have here a document that I would like to read you. It is the last line written by my father upon matters pertaining to the war, and has never before been made public. As he entered into the war with you for his first companions, and as he always spoke of your regiment with affectionate interest, it is fitting that you should be the first to hear his parting words. This is what he wrote upon the pages I hold here: 'I feel that we are on the eve of a new era, when there is to be great harmony between the Federals and Confederates. I cannot stay to be a living witness to the correctness of this prophecy, but I feel it within me that it is to be so. The universally kind feeling expressed for me at a time when it was supposed that each day would prove my last, seems to me the beginning of the answer, to 'Let us have peace.' The expression of these kindly feelings were not restricted to a section of country nor to a division of people. They came from individualities; from all denominations—Protestant, Catholic and the Jew, and from the various societies of the land, scientific, educational, religious and otherwise. Politics did not enter into the matter at all. I am not egotist enough to suppose all this significance should be given to this matter because I was the object of it. But the war between the States was very bloody and very costly. One side or the other had to yield principles they deemed dearer than life before it could be brought to an end. I commanded the victorious side. I was, no matter whether deservedly so or not, a representative of that side of the controversy. It is a significant and gratifying fact that the Confederates should have joined heartily in this spontaneous move. I hope the good feeling inaugurated may continue to the end.'"

How vain the loving darts that fly From e'en the most bewitching eye, Unless the teeth are pure and bright And ever kept a snowy white. If you would save your teeth from harm, In SOZODONT you'll find the charm.

Diamonds and Pearls. Eyes bright as diamonds should be supplemented by teeth white as pearls, and this latter element of beauty can be secured by using SOZODONT. If brushed in night and morning, this fragrant vegetable preparation is guaranteed to preserve the soundness of the teeth, and prevent their turning yellow.

The receipts of cotton at this port today foot up 263 bales.

Last night was very cold for the time of year, owing probably to the eclipse.

The display of beef in the market today was unusually fine.

Cold, with frequent showers, is the forecast for to-day and to-morrow in Turner's almanac.

At 3 o'clock this afternoon the thermometer in this office registered 73 degrees, with the wind from the South-east.

Rev. Peyton H. Hoge will conduct the services at the Lecture Room of the First Presbyterian Church to-night at 8 o'clock.

For the best unlaundried white shirt in the city, call at the Wilmington Shirt Factory; only 75c. J. ELSEBACH, Prop., No. 27 Market st.

The weather of the last few days has been such as to induce chills and fevers, and a good many are afflicted with those complaints.

There was one case of disorderly conduct brought before the Mayor this morning which was settled by the payment of a fine of $10.

If these cool nights should continue, the policemen will begin to need their Winter uniforms. An overcoat would not have come amiss at about daylight this morning.

Nor. barque Mozart, Gjeruldsen, cleared to-day for London with 1,822 casks spirits turpentine, valued at $28,620.64, shipped by Messrs Williams & Murchison.

Mr. John R. Melton speaks again today through our advertising columns. He tells us that lots of beef are selling at 10 cents per pound for choice cuts and that he intends to stick to the reduction whether school keeps or not.

It is expected that the Wilmington Light Infantry will turn out with full ranks to-night for their regular monthly parade and inspection and will maintain the enviable position to which they have attained for proficiency in drill and discipline.

Indications. For the South Atlantic States warmer and generally fair weather, except in the Southern portion, local rains and generally Northeasterly winds.

Off to Richmond. Quite a number of our young German friends have recently left the city to enter different educational institutions. Among the number are Mr. George Haar, son of Mr. Henry Haar, who is at the New England Conservatory of Music, Boston, Mass.; Mr. John F. Rulfs, Jr., who is at Roanoke College, Salem, Va.; and Mr. Willie Kordlander, who is at Bingham's School, in this State.

Quarantine Them. A steamer from Montreal, Canada, and another from a port on the Southern coast of Spain are en route for this port, and we are glad to know that the proper authorities have taken the matter vigorously in hand and will permit neither vessel to come up to the city until she has been thoroughly disinfected at the quarantine station. Montreal has been declared an infected port on account of the alarming prevalence of small pox in that city, and all Spanish ports are in the same condition from the cholera scourge which has been devastating that stricken country, and our authorities are acting wisely in taking such steps as shall prevent the possibility of the introduction of either disease into our city or country.

The Heathen Chinese.

Wung Ling, or "Ose Lung," as one of the incorrigible printers of this city calls the Chinese laundryman on Second street, was in difficulty to-day and was a "heapee maddee." It seems that a colored woman went into his place and asked him to buy some grapes, which he declined to do. She then asked him if he didn't want to buy some rats, which roused his ire and he slapped her in the face and pushed her out of doors. Forthwith she went to Justice Joe Hill's and got a warrant for Ling's arrest, but the latter wouldn't be arrested by the colored man who was sent to serve the warrant. He, however, quietly submitted to arrest by one of the policemen and was taken before Justice Hill, by whom a fine was imposed which, together with the costs, amounted to thirteen dollars and forty-five cents. This Ling refused to pay saying that he would see the "big man," meaning Mayor Hall. The matter was finally adjusted by Ling paying about six dollars. This is the substance of the affair as near as we could gather it.
