THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. IX. WILMINGTON, N. C. SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, 1885 NO. 225

The Daily Review has the largest circulation of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

A complete collection of American coins is worth $1,500. New York real estate agents say that the demand for houses is now greater than it has ever been before. The people are tired of living in flats.

The Provincial Bank of Buenos Ayres has a capital of $3,000,000 and deposits amounting to $67,000,000. These figures are not equalled by any United States bank.

The Emperor of Russia travels in railroad cars that once belonged to Napoleon III, but they have been greatly improved, and are said to be the finest in the world.

Cotton can be easily grown in the Joaquin Valley of California, but there has been no market dear enough for practical purposes. A big mill is now ready to weave the product.

From an address by the Rev. J. W. Hane, a pastor at Springfield, Ohio: "The Democratic party is the road to hell, and the Republican party is the road to damnation. I'll take to the woods."

Ex-Secretary Boutwell says as to oratory, that the only true way for a public man to transform himself about popular sentiment is to go on the stump, speak directly to the people, and note the effect of his words.

The practice of writing political sentiments on walls, benches and other available spots is common in Paris. They used to be directed mainly against aristocrats, but now the burden of denunciation is "Down with the wealthy."

Harrisburg Independent: It is a very suggestive fact that some of the most famous of the old Abolitionists still surviving heartily indorse the action of the Cleveland Administration and profess to have great confidence in its head.

Little Rock Gazette: All inquiries concerning Assistant Postmaster General Stevenson's health are answered daily by the press dispatches. A man who can grind out one hundred fourth-class postmasters every day is in excellent health.

A writer in the New York Tribune says he is "told on good authority that the recent resignation of A. M. Kelley as Minister to Austria was simply preliminary to his appointment to fill a vacancy to be created by the removal of the Third Assistant Secretary of State, Alvey A. Adee."

The men predominate in Mississippi, Vermont, Ohio, Kentucky, Delaware, Florida, West Virginia and Indiana, where the females are about ninety-five per cent. of the males, and in Illinois, Wisconsin, Arkansas, Missouri and Iowa the percentage of females is from ninety to ninety-five.

Boston special to Pittsburg Commercial-Gazette: "From the rock-bound coast of Maine to the rock-ribbed hills of Berkshire come encouraging reports of the revival of manufacturing industries, increased demand for help at higher pay and the building of new mills and factories."

The Washington Star in an editorial on the civil service commission, says that a complete reorganization may be expected. It asks: "How, for instance, would it do to appoint Allan G. Thurman, of Ohio; James E. English, of Connecticut, and Andrew D. White, of New York, as the three commissioners?"

The boundary between Massachusetts and New Hampshire has been in dispute 160 years. No strictly legal line exists. In 1741 the King of England directed representatives of both provinces to jointly make a map, in accord with some general directions. Massachusetts did not obey, and New Hampshire did the work alone. A strip of Merrimac valley is the doubtful ground.

A boy in a California school remarked that the teacher had red hair. He was whipped to make him retract, but insisted that he could not tell a lie, and he had the utmost confidence in his judgment of color. The woman declared that she would beat him to death unless he changed the word from red to auburn, and he abused his conscience to that extent, but afterward took the case to the trustees, who sustained him.

Cotton.

The receipts of cotton at this port for the week ending with to-day foot up 5,209 bales, as against 4,876 bales for the corresponding week of last year, an increase this week of 333 bales. The receipts of the crop year to date foot up 9,952 bales, against 8,373 bales to same date last year, an increase this year of 1,579 bales.

City Court.

Clinton Fair, a young colored man, was arrested yesterday for acting suspiciously, and after being locked up during the night, was brought before the Mayor for an examination. It appeared evident that the boy was idiotic as nothing coherent could be obtained from him, not even as to where he came from, and he was sent below to await a further examination and also to see if some further information could be obtained regarding the unfortunate creature. There being no other business the Court adjourned.

A Social Idea.

Society is always introducing new wrinkles. The latest was among the "swell" set of St. Louis, who, upon the inauguration of the present season sent out neatly printed invitations to their friends, inviting them to assemble at the Southern Hotel at the stated hour, and then attend W. W. Cole's ideal circus in a body. Special arrangements had been made for exclusive space for their accommodation, and the event proved a grand success. Other cities are not disposed to be behind St. Louis, and it is to be presumed the idea will spread. At any rate our "society" will have an opportunity to follow suit when W. W. Cole's colossal shows visit this city on Oct. 10.

Literary.

The most striking feature of the Magazine of American History for October is General Grant's autograph letter on the death of Alexander H. Stephens, addressed to Rev. Henry Whitney Cleveland, formerly a Colonel in the Confederate service. General Egbert L. Viele writes a brilliant description of the famous "Port Royal Expedition, 1861—the First Union Victory of the Civil War." An excellent portrait of the commander of the expedition, Commodore Dupont, serves as a frontispiece to the number. "The Fallacy of 1787" is a suggestive paper on certain features of the Constitution, by A. W. Clason. "The Homes of the Constitution, by Rev. W. M. Beauchamp; and "A Glastonbury Medal," by H. W. Richardson, are both papers of exceptional interest to the antiquarian. The shorter articles are: "Adventure Escape from Prison Life," by Gen. J. Madison Drake; "A Revolutionary Relic," by Clark Jilison; and "A Critical Notice," by Henry H. Harbut. Subscription price, $5 a year in advance. Published at 30 Lafayette Place, New York City.

Personal.

Col. Jesse Hargrave, of Richmond county, was in the city to-day.

Mr. S. W. Clements, the popular teacher of the Male Academy at Wallace, (Duplin Roads) Duplin county, is in the city to-day.

Mr. J. M. McKeithan, of this city, has removed to Lumberton, where he has gone into business.

Capt. John Kent Brown has returned to the city after an absence of more than a month, spent in traveling. We are glad to note that his health has improved.

Capt. H. D. Gilbert was out riding this morning, for the first time since his return from Lincolnton. We are glad to learn that his health is improving, although as yet very slowly.

Mr. John Egan, from the celebrated organ manufactory of Hook & Hastings, Boston, Mass., is in the city engaged in making some alterations and improvements in the organ at St. James' Church.

We learn from the Milwaukee (Wis.) Daily Sentinel, that Mr. Charles B. Draper, a brother of Mr. E. T. Draper, of this city, has been appointed postmaster at Oconomowoc, Wis. This is the right sort of civil service reform, for Mr. Draper is a true blue Democrat having inherited Democratic principles from his father, who was a leading citizen and Democratic mayor of Oconomowoc for six years. The city has about 10,000 inhabitants.

The U. S. Government buoy tender Wistaria, Capt. H. Brown, came up the river this morning and made fast to the wharf near the foot of Market street. She is a staunch looking craft.

The Parade and Inspection.

The following communication was received last night too late for publication in yesterday's issue. It was written by one who evidently knows how military movements should be conducted, and who feels, as every good citizen should, a warm interest in the welfare of the Light Infantry:

We witnessed last Thursday evening the drill and parade of the Wilmington Light Infantry, and to say it met our approval is giving but scant praise. The parade gave pleasure to the large crowd who witnessed it and the earnest manner and bearing of the commanding officer, Capt. Morrison received, the warmest encomiums from the crowd, as well as the prompt and willing obedience of the men; which was noted by all. "Tis a pity that our substantial citizens do not show their good will towards this company, which in care of trouble they are all willing to look to and call upon, but in times of peace permit it to pursue its course without one word of approval. All good citizens having at heart the welfare of our city, should take an interest in our boys, upon whom we look with so much pride whenever brought into competition with others. We heard Lieut. Eastman, of the 5th Artillery, U. S. Army, express his warm approval of several maneuvers; particularly, "on right into line" wheeling by company, and also of the manual. The firing was particularly good.

The greater efficiency of the company, the greater will be the esprit du corps, but much of both is due to Capt. Morrison, who seems well qualified for the position, his whole heart being given to this work.

You will find a large assortment of table cutlery, at very reasonable prices, at JACOB'S Hdw. Depot.

Will Double the Business.

SHIRER is determined this Fall and Winter to double the amount of business that he did last, and will not resort to any unfairness, schemes or give away presents to accomplish it, but merely by fair and honest dealing with the people. We guarantee to give to each and every patron fully one hundred cents value in return for each and every dollar and frequently much more. It makes no difference what inducements other houses may offer in the way of prices, we can always save you at least from 15 to 33 per cent. on the dollar by dealing with SHIRER, the Old Reliable Clothier, 114 Market st., sign of the Golden Arm.

Now is the season for painting your houses. Go to JACOB'S Hardware Depot and buy your paints, if you want to save money.

For the best unlaundried white shirt in the city, call at the Wilmington Shirt Factory; only 75c. J. ELSBACH, Prop., No. 27 Market st.
