

The Daily Review has the largest circulation, of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

The private fortune of Queen Victoria is $30,000,000.

No less than 3,000,000 gallons of Vichy are exported yearly.

The Mikado of Japan is said to have become a convert to Christianity.

Mr. Curtis, the correspondent, declared that the Argentine Republic is the "United States of South America."

The Indians of New Mexico are doing very well at making ancient pottery from the historic mounds and selling it to captious tourists.

The betrothed bride of a Springfield Republican man objects to marrying while in mourning for the death of a relative, and he has waited thirty-five years for an interval in her grief, so close together have been the bereavements.

The nine now living ex-Senators who were members of the United States Senate at the beginning of the war and who took their seats at the memorable first session of the Thirty-seventh Congress on July 4, 1861, are Willard Saulsbury, of Delaware; Lyman Trumbull, of Illinois; James Harlan, of Iowa; Samuel C. Pomeroy, of Kansas; Henry M. Rice and Morton S. Wilkinson, of Minnesota; Daniel Clark, of New Hampshire; John Sherman, of Ohio, and James R. Doolittle, of Wisconsin.

Emory Storrs enjoyed an income of $25,000 to $30,000 a year, earned at the Chicago bar, and yet he was always out of money and in debt. It is said that he habitually drew on Samuel W. Alorton, a millionaire friend, who never failed him in his frequent emergencies.

This friend helped him out of the dilemma when, at the time of sitting down to dinner to Lord Coleridge, an unfriendly Sheriff seized the viands.

Two tiny boys with good voices and clever mimicry have been singing on Western railroad trains. They said to sympathetic questioners that they were working their way alone from San Francisco to New York and one passenger estimated their receipts in a single day at $40.

He also discovered that they had a manager and treasurer in the person of their father, to whom they slyly rendered up the money.

The Women's Temperance Christian Union of Boston has been instrumental in procuring laws in fourteen States for compulsory education in the effects of liquor on drinkers.

The society now seems to feel the responsibility of indicating what the lessons ought to be. It has been decided that, in Massachusetts at least, children shall be instructed that alcohol is never desirable as an article of food, that any considerable indulgence in it is sure to be correspondingly injurious to the body, and that mental and moral ruin is bound to result from excess.

The nomination of Hill and Flower, for Governor and Lieutenant Governor respectively, of New York, by the Democratic State Convention, at Saratoga, on Friday last, was undoubtedly an excellent move, provided both candidates had accepted. But Mr. Flower, grievously disappointed at not having secured the first place on the ticket, has declined to accept the second.

This regrettable action on his part gives a new phase to the affair. It is generally regarded as unwise and as more or less disastrous to the ticket which would have started out on the race with every prestige of success.

But to say one man makes or unmakes a party is ridiculous. Mr. Flower was not the head of the gubernatorial ticket but its tail and tails to tickets are of less importance than heads.

Mr. Flower is a very popular man with certain classes but he is not necessarily essential to the success of the ticket. There is a precedent for the present state of affairs. In the presidential election of 1876 the candidate for Governor declined and it took two weeks to fill the place and yet the Democrats carried the State by more than 33,000 majority.

Small Dose Cure. During the past fifty years the proprietors of Broadbent's Pills have received thousands of voluntary testimonials of the wonderful cures effected by these Pills.

They not only cure rheumatism, dyspepsia, piles, diarrhoea, liver complaint and all fevers, but greatly prolong the human life. One or two at night, on an empty stomach, for a week or two is sufficient.

Indications. For the South Atlantic States, occasional rains, easterly winds and stationary temperature.

Artesian Well. Experiments have been in progress at Hilton for some time in boring for an artesian well, one of which has been sunk to the depth of 50 feet, with excellent results.

A pure white water has been obtained, and it is intended to continue the experiments with a view to obtaining a larger supply.

The Superior Court was occupied during the morning hours in arranging the Calendar for the term, after which the Court took a recess until 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Mrs. Monk, widow of the late Thos. Monk, died yesterday at the residence of her son, John Monk, about two miles from the city, on the Oaslow road. The funeral took place this afternoon.

The first meeting of the literary society connected with the Wilmington Light Infantry will be held at the Armory of the company to-night, at eight o'clock. It is expected that there will be a full attendance of the members of the company and that the exercises will be instructive and interesting.

School Days. The young lads and lassies of the city may make the best use of their vacation possible during this week, as the schools will open on Monday next, and study will then be in order until next Summer. The teachers and pupils have had a good vacation time and will return to the duties of the school room refreshed and with a hearty will for its labors.

You can save money by buying your heating and cooking stoves from JACOBI'S Hdw. Depot. There you will find a large and fine assortment to select from.

An Interesting Picture. We saw this morning a photograph which contains the picture of a man, his wife, six daughters and four sons, all taken upon one plate. The family reside in Forsyth county, are all living at home, with one exception, and are the pictures of intelligent people possessed of rosy health.

The picture is a curiosity from the fact that it is seldom that husband and wife live to see clustered around them in one family group ten hale, hearty and decidedly good looking children.

Personal. Mr. O. H. Allen, of Kenansville, is in the city to-day on professional business.

Mr. Leo Taylor arrived home from Jacksonville, Fla., on yesterday morning's train from the South.

Mr. John Taylor and wife, of "Taylor's Bazaar," returned to the city from New York last Saturday night. We were pleased to meet Capt. John W. Hinson, formerly of this city, but now in business in Charleston, S. C., in the city to day.

Mr. H. Hollingsworth, the longest established and one of the most successful merchants of Magnolia, Duplin county, was in the city to-day.

Rev. Dr. Pritchard arrived home, after a two weeks absence, on Saturday night and occupied the pulpit of the First Baptist church yesterday.

Mr. I. Shirier left on last night's train for the North, where he expects to purchase a large stock of goods for the Fall and Winter campaign.

Hon. Allmand A. McKay arrived in the city this morning and will preside at New Hanover Superior Court, which convened this morning.

Mr. Fletcher Manning left yesterday morning on the steamship Regulator for New York, where he will engage in the commission business. He carries with him the best wishes of a host of friends.

Prof. Gaston M. Hobbs, formerly of Clinton, but now from Boston, arrived in the city last night and registered at the Commercial Hotel. He will remain in the city and devote his time to teaching music.

Prof. Frank Wright, of Philadelphia, has arrived in the city and will give instructions in vocal and instrumental music. He has been engaged for awhile to give instruction to the choir of St. James' Church.

Mr. J. R. Monroe, of Fayetteville, who recently graduated at the State University with distinction, has accepted a position with Prof. W. Catlett, in the Cape Fear Academy, as assistant teacher. Mr. Monroe has the very best of recommendations and will, without doubt, prove an efficient aid in conducting the Academy.

Clinton Caucasian: Rev. J. Carmichael, D. D., rector of St. John's Church, Wilmington, preached two highly interesting sermons at the Episcopal Church last Sunday morning and evening, and delivered a religious address to the Sampson Light Infantry in the afternoon.

The latter was greatly enjoyed by the soldiers and all who had the pleasure of hearing it. In the course of his remarks the Doctor uttered some sentiments, which always find a responsive echo in every truly Southern heart.

The storm signal was flying again to-day, and a good many citizens were wanting to know what had become of the cyclone.

The arrival of the season's crop begins to give a boom to business, although it has not yet reached stupendous proportions.

The white members of the Fire Department are on parade this afternoon, with their engines and truck, but the report is too late for this issue.

Quite a number of our citizens went to Burgaw yesterday to attend the closing services of Wilmington Presbytery, which was in session in that town last week.

The old, unsightly wooden fence in front of the First Baptist Church has been removed, and the space in front of the building is now open to the street, as it was originally intended.

The impression seemed to prevail today among some of our citizens that the cyclone had got lost over in Green Swamp, and it would be impossible to tell when it would reach here.

A change of schedule on the Carolina Central goes into effect to-day. The mail train will hereafter leave Wilmington at 7 p. m., and the mail at the postoffice will close at 6:15 p. m.

We regret very much to learn of the death at Smithville, to-day, of Mrs. S. I. Fremont. There are no particulars as yet, other than that she died at 6 o'clock this morning and of heart disease.

The oyster dealers in this city make a very emphatic protest in this issue against the enforcement of the ordinance to confine the sale of oysters to the market house. It will be found on the 4th page of this issue.

The Fall term of New Hanover Superior Court, Judge Allmand A. McKay presiding, convened at the Court House in this city at 10 o'clock this morning, and will continue two weeks unless the business is sooner disposed of.
