THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. IX. WILMINGTON, N. C. WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1885. NO. 228

Julia Smith, the Connecticut woman who got fame by refusing to pay taxes to a Government that would not let her vote, remarks to those who predicted unhappiness from her marriage five years ago, aged 85, that she is extremely happy.

The Salvationists of London find that their defense in the Eliza Armstrong case is expensive enough. Their leading counsel, Charles Russell, M. P., charges £200 for every day he is in Court. But the "Army" is a very rich concern now.

A citizen of Rochester, Minn., has just completed a monument made from stones gathered from all parts of the United States. It is about six feet high and four feet in diameter at the base. It contains stones from nearly every State in the Union and from the highest peak in the Rocky Mountains.

The Petersburg Index Appeal, discussing party annexions, wisely says: The year 1885 should be the year of return for those who have gone astray, of revival for those who have been cold, and of conversion for thousands who have never supported Democratic candidates. Virginia can now be made what she has not been for many years, a State powerful in the decision of great questions of government.

An odd coffee machine has been patented in London. A lamp beneath boils the water for infusion and at the same time roasts the berries, which, as roasted, are automatically emptied into a hopper and ground by a mill attached. Thus the whole process of roasting the green coffee berries, grinding and infusing the same, is simultaneously performed within about fifteen minutes.

There was no City Court this morning. September steps down and out today.

Turner's Almanac promises wind and rain for to-morrow. The receipts of cotton at this port today foot up 581 bales.

The weather is hazy and the Chief of the Weather Bureau is Hazen. September mullets are in their glory now. They are cheap and nice.

Schr. J. J. Little, Gandy, cleared at Philadelphia Sept. 28th for this port. New River oysters come in slowly now but they are getting fatter and better.

These cool nights are truly enjoyable and sleep has become a luxury profound. German barque Commerzienrath Todberus, Schultz, cleared at London, Sept. 28th, for this port.

Drop in and take a look at our suitings; the finest in the city and at a price below all others. J. DYER. At 3 o'clock this afternoon the thermometer in this office registered 78 degrees, with the wind from the Northeast.

Just received a lot of wood and galvanized iron Well Buckets, which we are offering low. JACOBI'S Hdw. Depot. Railroad travel is on the increase, and the indications are that it will be unusually large during the coming Fall and Winter.

For the best unlaundried white shirt in the city, call at the Wilmington Shirt Factory; only 75c. J. ELSBACH, Prop., No. 27 Market st. Boney's Bridge is now blockaded, in consequence of some repairs being made to it, and vehicles must cross the railroad track by the bridge on Sixth street.

Indications For the South Atlantic States, occasional rains, winds generally easterly, attending a slight disturbance in Florida, nearly stationary temperature. You can save money by buying your heating and cooking stoves from JACOBI'S Hdw. Depot. There you will find a large and fine assortment to select from.

The first ball of the season will take place this evening in Voliers' Hall. It is given by Germania Cornet Band and promises to be a very pleasant affair.

Mr. Geo. F. Herbert, of the Star Saloon, advertises in this issue that he will have New River oysters on hand every day in October. They are from the celebrated Winberry gardens.

The only business transacted before the Superior Court to day was the continuance of a number of cases until the next term of the court. At about 11 o'clock this forenoon the court took a recess until 10 o'clock to-morrow morning.

Fast Time. The Charlotte Observer speaks of the cotton compress in that city as having compressed 405 bales in the space of five hours, and claims that it "is the best time for the work done on record." We have been informed by a gentleman well acquainted with the business, that just as good work has been done at the compress in this city, and that the same amount of work can be done here again at any time should occasion require unusually haste.

Large Engines. Two large and powerful engines, numbered 78 and 79 respectively, have just been received here for the Wilmington, Columbia & Augusta Railroad. They were built at the celebrated Rogers' Locomotive Works, at Paterson, N. J., and are the largest on the road for which they were built, weighing 85,200 pounds, or something more than two and a half tons each. They have 18 inch cylinders, and will be used either for freight or passenger traffic, although they are intended principally for the latter business.

The Cantwell Guard. The above named organization, composed of young ladies of this city, will give an exhibition flag drill at the Opera House on the night of October 7th. They are making active preparations for the occasion and are practicing nearly every night. We have been told by those who have witnessed their drill that it is an interesting and beautiful sight. They will hold a festival at the City Hall on the same night, which will without doubt be liberally patronized.

Take a Chance. We saw in the window of Mr. M. M. Katz' dry goods store-day a beautiful doll which has been donated for the benefit of St. Thomas' Catholic Church, and will be disposed of by raffle. There are to be 50 chances at 25 cents each. The doll, which is enclosed by a glass vase, is dressed in elegant white satin, trimmed with pearl embroidery tulle veil, pearl ornaments and her forehead is surmounted by a wreath of orange blossoms. In fact, the dear creature is "all in bridal array" and is gotten up with an utter indifference to cost. Several chances have already been taken, but there are a few more left at the same price.

Personal. We regret to learn that Mr. H. C. McQueen is quite sick and confined to his house. Maj. J. C. Winder, General Manager of the Seaboard Railway system, was in the city yesterday.

Mr. J. D. Currie, of Clarkton, Bladen county, was in the city yesterday and gave us the pleasure of a call. Mr. Henry O. Hahn, of Cole's Circus, is in the city to day and will probably remain here until Friday.

Mr. Thos. H. Sutton, a prominent member of the Fayetteville bar, was in the city yesterday and registered at the Purcell House. Dr. K. J. Powers, of Pender county, was in the city to-day. He reports that there have been several cases of diphtheria in his vicinity, only one of which, however, proved fatal. He also states that the crops are generally good, and especially so where they have been well worked.

Dr. J. D. Roberts, superintendent of the colored insane asylum at Goldsboro, gave us the pleasure of a call yesterday afternoon. He informed us that there were now about 170 patients at the asylum, under his charge, of which the greater number were females. The Board of Directors of the asylum are having a dwelling erected for the use of the Superintendent, an improvement which has been much needed and will be when completed a great convenience.

If you need a Fluting Machine you can be supplied with one at JACOBI'S Hdw. Depot.

Memorial Services.

Memorial services will be held at the Temple of Israel in this city, on Sunday afternoon next, at 5 o'clock, in honor of Sir Moses Montefiore, the late eminent Hebrew philanthropist. This is in accordance with the recommendation of the Board of Delegates of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations at New York, and it is expected that the day will be generally observed by all Israelites in this country.

The Oyster Question.

It is hoped and believed by many that the Board of Aldermen, at their meeting next Monday night, will repeal the ordinance of the city requiring that the city dealers in oysters must sell the same from stalls in the market house. The Committee on Markets have declared that the ordinance must be enforced, and as long as it is on the books, we can hardly see how they can do otherwise. It is an old law and has never yet, that we are aware of, been carried out, and we think that the best thing that can be done with it is to repeal it. This, be it understood, is not merely our own opinion, but it is that of many tax-payers with whom we have conversed. It seems to be the general impression, and this doubtless is the correct one, that the enforcement of the law will bear hardly on consumers as well as dealers. The arguments against it were very clearly and very earnestly set forth by our correspondent in last Monday's issue of the REVIEW.

Michaelmas Day.

Yesterday was known in the Church calendar as Michaelmas Day, or the Feast of St. Michael and all Angels. It is a festival in the Roman Catholic Church and is also observed by the Church of England and the Episcopal Church of this country. Michael is regarded in the Christian world as the Chief of Angels, or Archangel. His history is obscure. In Scripture he is mentioned five times, and always in a warlike character, three times by Daniel as fighting for the Jewish church against Persia, once by St. Jude as fighting with the devil about the body of Moses, and once by St. John as standing at the head of his angels troops against the dragon and his minions. Probably on the hint thus given by St. John the Roman Catholic Church taught at an early period that Michael was employed in command of the angels to overthrow and consign to the pit of perdition Lucifer and his rebellious associates—a legend which was embalmed in the sublimest poetry by Milton. Michael is usually represented in coat armor, with a glory around his head and a dart in his hand, trampling on the fallen Lucifer.

The British steamship Wyo, Rogers, which arrived to-day, had the misfortune to get ashore on the shoal in the river off the foot of Red Cross street, and had not succeeded in getting off at 4 o'clock this afternoon.
