THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. IX. WILMINGTON, N. C. THURSDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1885. NO. 235.

The Daily Review has the largest bona fide circulation of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

A young lady of Buffalo, who is very successful as an amateur photographer, is frequently asked to bring her camera when she is asked out to lunch, just to commemorate the occasion.

There are not less than 3,000 white opium smokers in San Francisco. Many joints in China Town having been closed, "opium fiends" get their own apparatus, and "hit the pipe" in their own rooms.

Miss Clara Barton, the heroine of three wars and president of the Red Cross International Association, one of the most practical and influential women in the world, has recently declared for woman suffrage.

Will H. Kernan, formerly editor of the Okonago States, has drifted to far-away Dakota. His name appears as associate editor of the Northwood Headlight—a journal whose motto is: "We believe in boiling hell down to a half-pint, and administering it at a single dose."

In Omaha, a city of 60,000 inhabitants, there are sixty policemen enrolled. Six of these are engaged in routine work, four or five are suspended for drunkenness or discipline, two or three are on the sick list, leaving fifteen for active duty. Hence seven men protect the city by day and eight by night, and crime is growing more prevalent constantly.

Alexandria Gazette: As already said, nobody approves, and, so far as can be ascertained, all condemn, the treatment Mr. Wise received here last Thursday night. But for all that, it is doubtful if Mr. Wise was at all surprised at it. How could he have been, when, the very next day, at Fairfax courthouse, when admonished that he was going too far, he replied that if "he had said anything for which he should be sorry, he was glad of it."

Mr. J. W. Schuckers, formerly private secretary of the Hon. S. P. Chase, explains that the letter from Mr. Halstead to Mr. Chase, which was lately published by the Cincinnati Enquirer, and which has caused such extensive comment, was not furnished for publication by him. It was stolen, he says, from his office in Philadelphia some months ago, and in whose hands it has since been he does not know.

As two out of twenty two Presidents have been assassinated, or about 10 per cent., the risk in life insurance is extra hazardous. It is said that Arthur had a policy of $10,000 on entering the office of Vice President, and that after becoming President he obtained a second for the same amount. Five thousand dollars were lost on Lincoln and twelve on Garfield. Cleveland had policies for $16,000, all issued before his election, and a month ago application was made for $10,000 more. This will be granted at ordinary rates.

United States army recruiting officers now argue that the road to wealth, or at least to competence, lies in a march of thirty years with the soldiers. "You are a single man of nineteen," said one inquirer; "suppose you enlist now, you will lead a healthy, easy, respectable life, with no anxiety as to maintenance; you will draw pay surely and regularly, and out of it you can, with perfect comfort, save fifty dollars a year. Put that on interest, and at fifty years of age, adding the sum allowed by the Government to men who retire after thirty years' service, you will have enough to live on the rest of your life in idleness."

The oak tree planted by Lord Byron at Newstead Abbey is large and flourishing, although the alder on which he cut the names "Byron and Augusta" long since died. The portion of the tree on which the names were carved is preserved among the treasured mementos of the poet in the Abbey. The tree planted by Dr. Livingstone is on the lawn, as well as the one planted by Stanley. The present owner of Newstead was the one white friend and bosom companion of Livingstone during his years of wonderful work in Africa. This Col. Webb, who bought the Abbey of Col. Wildman, the wealthy West Indian planter who bought it of Lord Byron, is the man who saved Livingstone's life by shooting the lion which, after fearfully mutilating him, still stood over his prostrate body.

"The orders taken for suits at DYER'S since the arrival of the new and stylish English Cutter, is wonderful. They are full of work and selling more all the time."

A large number of ladies have taken advantage of Miss E. Karrer's opening days to visit the new store she has opened on South Front street, opposite the New Market. It is a handsome place and the stock is bewildering in its beauty. It will be open until 9 o'clock to-night, and handsomely illuminated.

Messrs. E. J. Moore & Co. made a tempting display to day of fruits and candies at their store on North Front street. Their specialty is home made candies, and in these they are hard to beat, although they carry a full line for jobbing purposes. The little folks, as well as the big folks, know how toothsome are these dainties.

City Court.

Thomas Armstrong, colored, drunk and down, was sent to the city prison, by the Mayor this morning, for 12 hours, in order to give him time to get sober.

There were several cases of failure to pay license tax in which judgment was suspended upon payment of the same.

The Green House.

Mr. I. B. Rhodes has just opened, at the Northwest corner of Princess and Second streets, a cozy little establishment, to be known as the Green House, to which the attention of the public is invited in advertisement in this issue. He has made a wonderful improvement there and has opened one of the most cozy little retreats in the city.

Hurry Up.

There is considerable complaint that the freights shipped from the Western portion of the State over the Western North Carolina Railroad for this city do not reach here as quickly as they ought. Bills of lading of produce shipped on the 1st, 2nd and 3rd inst., were shown us yesterday, but the articles had not been received. As the freight shipped was of a perishable nature the delay in its reception here would work to its material injury.

Opera House.

The performances which are to be given at the Opera House on the nights of the 12th, 13th and 14th inst. will be far superior in point of merit. Zo Zo, the Magic Queen, is a spectacular extravaganza without the ballet. The scenery is gorgeous, the music attractive, and there will be nothing in its presentation to offend the delicacy of the most fastidious. Mr. George H. Adams, who is well known to the amusement loving people of this city as one of the very best comedians of the day, is with this company, and as a matter of course takes a leading part, which is a sufficient guarantee that it will be mirth provoking.

An Immense Stock

of Fall and Winter Clothing, Hats, Caps and Gent's Furnishing Goods is now in stock and ready for inspection. We call particular attention to our display this Fall, as we have never before been able to meet the bargains we have made this year, and we now stand ready to divide them with customers, but we will not tolerate humbugging, gifts, or schemes of any kind, but guarantee to give at all times, more and better value for the money than can be had elsewhere. We will cheerfully refund your money if goods are not found satisfactory, and will gladly send goods to your homes for comparison with goods from other stores. It will pay to trade at the Old Reliable's. Convince yourself of the fact. SHREK, the Old Reliable Clothier, 114 Market st., sign of the Golden Arm.

Death of a Good Woman.

Mrs. Betty J., wife of Mr. George J. McMillan, at Teachey's Depot, Duplin county, died a few days since after a brief illness aged about 48 years. The deceased was in all the relations of life as wife, mother, sister and neighbor, a model woman and was a most sincere and devoted christian, having been for many years an exemplary member of Mt. Zion Presbyterian Church, in Duplin county, and her death will create a deep void, not only in the church, but in the neighborhood where she was known and beloved and in the family circle where she was idolized. Her husband and seven children—three sons and four daughters—survive her.

Drill and Festival.

The Exhibition Flag Drill and Festival at the City Hall last night was a most unique entertainment and one which reflected the highest credit upon the fair and beautiful young ladies composing the Cantwell Light Guard. There was a good attendance, but it was not near as large as the merits of the entertainment demanded. The Hall ought to have been crowded to its utmost capacity, and it undoubtedly would have been had our citizens generally known what an interesting scene was to be presented. The uniforms (of costumes) of the young ladies were composed of red, white and blue cloth, the stripes vertical, with a broad blue stripe in front which was ornamented with white stars bordered with gold. There were thirteen stars, representing the thirteen original States of the Republic. The caps were red with the legend "C. L. G." embroidered in gold letters upon the band. The bands to the caps were presented by Col. J. L. Cantwell, in whose honor the company was named. A crimson sash suspended from the right shoulder and falling to the left side completed the uniform. The drill was conducted by Lieut. F. L. Meares, of the Wilmington Light Infantry, and reflected much credit upon that gentleman as a drill master and instructor, as well as upon the young ladies for the promptness and precision with which they executed the evolutions. Their movements were as nearly perfect as it was possible to attain. There were no false motions, no false steps, but everything was done with the skill and precision of veterans, eliciting the hearty applause of the spectators. It was indeed a beautiful sight and one long to be pleasantly remembered.

At the festival was to be found every delicacy to tempt the appetite, which was partaken of heartily and thoroughly enjoyed. The proceeds of the entertainment were for the benefit of the drum corps of the Light Infantry. You will find a full assortment of paint, horse and scrub Brushes, made by the best factories, at JACOBI'S Hdw. Depot. His low prices please all.

Zo Zo, the Magic Queen.

The Norfolk Va., Landmark, of the 6th inst., in speaking of Zo Zo, the Magic Queen, which is to be presented at the Opera House on the nights of the 12th, 13th and 14th inst., says: "The theatre-goers of Norfolk are rarely favored with a good presentation of a spectacular drama, but the audience which was present at the Academy of Music last evening enjoyed the richest treat which has ever been experienced here in that line. Zo Zo is a nautical extravaganza with an endless variety of incidents, gorgeous scenic effect, well chosen costumes and taking music. The company has something over twenty ladies who are young and pretty. The part of the Magic Queen was taken by Miss Grace Woodbury, who was a favorite with the audience from the start. The centre of attraction was Washington Knowall, the typical American. In this part Mr. George H. Adams kept the audience convulsed in laughter. The entertainment opened with a scene from "Fairy Land," and the splendor of its surroundings awakened the greatest admiration. But if the first scene was more so, while the transformation scene in the fourth act was one of marvellous beauty. Miss Marie Dantes, from a dahlia, was seen as a fairy, Miss Leo Coles, from a tube rose, as a statue queen, and she looked it every inch. Miss Florence Bindly as a danseuse was a success, while her efforts on several musical instruments was wonderful. Mr. Harry Barrymore, as the demon, was excellent, and the same may be said of Mr. Howard James, as Cupid. To sum up, the entire performance was such that everyone should see it this evening. The drama is free from anything which might be construed in coarseness or vulgarity. Everything is conducted with good taste and refinement, and there is nothing to offend the most fastidious.

The best ready mixed paint can be had at JACOBI'S Hdw. Depot. He has it in all size cans, from half pints up.
