The Daily Review has the largest bona fide circulation of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

A late cyclone in India destroyed five hundred villages.

Henry Ward Beecher is suffering from his annual attack of hay fever.

The Grant monument fund in New hangs fire. Up to date the figures show $1,973.39.

Common Pleas Court No. 1 has appointed William M. Connor, of New York, to act as committee of the person of John McCullough, the insane actor.

Evidence is being taken which would seem to prove that the Chinese fired their own houses at Rock Springs, Wyoming, and that Americans had nothing to do with the disasters.

Philadelphia Press: Montreal is a festering mass of smallpox, but, with unreasoning caprice, the disease has thus far failed to attack a solitary one of the American bank cashiers sojourning in the place. This is an extraordinary discrimination.

Philadelphia Record: The independent voter, if he cannot have candidates who will carry out proper policies, is bound to refuse his support. Whenever parties are no longer means to good ends it is the duty of the honest citizen to assist in chastening them by defeat.

Whale fishing in small steamers off the coast of New England is getting to be a business of some importance. Four steamers (formerly catching menhaden) having been steadily engaged during the past season. They cruise off the Maine and Massachusetts shores as far south as Cape Cod.

In the law of New York there is a curious exception to the rule that divorce ends the married relation. A divorced defendant is prohibited by statute from marrying again during a specified period. In a recent case a man, his wife obtained a divorce from him, married another woman, and the Court of Appeals held that he was guilty of bigamy.

The grand jury of Philadelphia, in their presentment of October 2, say: "We have been obliged to pass upon so unusually large a number of cases of wife-beating that we feel constrained to hope for the reintroduction and passage of the bill defeated at the last session of the Legislature making that crime punishable by the whipping post."

In New York, during the three Summer months ending September, 109,234 pounds of bad meat, 43,891 pounds of decayed fish, 1,150 barrels and boxes of apples, 1,740 of pineapples, 5,799 boxes and 821 bunches of bananas, 2,651 cocoanuts, 4,000 ears of corn, nearly 4,000 melons, 1,200 barrels of peas and 900 crates of unripe peaches were seized by the Board of Health inspectors and the Sanitary Police Squad.

Rev. Father Cronin and James Moon, of Buffalo, New York, who are among those named by the meeting in New York to proceed to Ireland for the purpose of assisting in the parliamentary canvass there, express their disapproval of such a course. They agree with Alexander Sullivan that the Irish people need funds, not oratory, and that they favor the policy of aiding Ireland in the direction where she is poor.

The manager of a circus that has gone through Canada says: "Nowhere else in the world are audiences so interesting to the performers. In Quebec, Montreal, Hamilton and London notable fugitives from United States law—such as Eno, Mother Mandelbaum, and I suppose not less than fifty more—are pointed out to the ring people by some resident person. These exiles are sure to go to the circus, to relieve the tedium of life in their uncongenial circles; and they are interesting to showmen, just as big financial rogues are to all sorts of Americans."

Henry Ullin, of a New Orleans Creole family, was a brisk, bright young fellow when he disappeared from that city twenty years ago. He has returned broken down in health but not in spirits. In the time of his absence he was a lieutenant in the navy, an inventor of a machine for which he got $60,000 in Paris, a gambler who spent that money in a year, a fighter in the French army in Mexico, a builder of bridges for the Suez Canal, and now an agent for De Lesseps in Panama. He thinks few men have more persistently been alternately pauper and prodigal.

THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. IX. WILMINGTON, N. C. SATURDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1885. NO. 237

The case of Jordan, Marsh & Co., the great Boston house, continues to be enveloped in mystery. It is said that a dozen cloakmakers in New York have bills against the firm ranging from $20,000 to $50,000 each, and have combined to prosecute their claims. Why the firm, which has a credit of a million dollars, does not pay is not understood, but it is more than probable it has some good defence.

Indications.
For the South Atlantic States, fair weather in the Northern portion, local showers in the Southern portion, Northeast to Southeast winds, slight changes in temperature and lower barometer.

Peanuts.
The outlook for the peanut crop this year is not promising. The stock on hand at Cincinnati, Ohio, on the 1st inst., amounted to only 97,000 bags by actual count, which is very small when it is considered that that city is one of the most important peanut markets in the country.

Personal.
Sheriff E. Murrill, of Onslow county, arrived in the city last night.

Mr. E. A. Richards, the press agent of Cole's Circus, gave us the pleasure of a call this morning and we found him a very clever, courteous and agreeable gentleman.

We regret to learn that Capt. Wm. Newell, conductor on the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad, is quite sick with continued fever at his residence on the corner of Walnut and Second streets.

Cole's Circus.

At an early hour this morning nearly all the juvenile portion of our population were astir to see the big show, and it was but a short time after sunrise when our streets began to be crowded with people, both citizens and those from abroad. Carriages began to rattle through the streets with their living freight. The hotels were crowded with a throng of strangers whose peculiar appearance bespoke them as men attached in some way to the circus company. By 9 o'clock in the morning the streets along which it was presumed that the street parade would pass were lined with men, women and children, both white and colored. At about 10 o'clock it was announced that the parade was moving and the streets were alive with impatience, and the children especially were full of curious and anxious enthusiasm. It soon made its appearance and presented an imposing pageant. The chariot, containing the band, was drawn by a team of ten camels. The music was about such as we usually hear on such occasions. The horses were fine and looked as if they had been well cared for. There was a fine equestrian display of ladies and gentlemen, gorgeously dressed, mounted on elegantly caparisoned horses. These were followed by a long procession of cages in which some of the animals of the exhibition could be seen. On the tops of some of the carriages were grotesque figures which were the wonder and delight of the little ones. The clowns, in their fantastic costumes and with their quaint sayings, were the observed of all observers. In passing the Parcell House where three well known and very popular railroad conductors were standing in a group, one of the clowns pointed at them and said, "One, two, three, I must get away from here, for I can't stand that crowd!" At which, of course, everybody laughed—the conductors as heartily as any of them. The procession closed with the inevitable steam piano. It is a remarkable instrument and is capable of astonishing results, as it can completely satisfy our rather ardent musical desires in two minutes. But take it all in all the parade was a good one, rather above the average of such displays, and was a fine card to attract an audience at the performance this afternoon.

Musical.

A meeting of the Germania Cornet Band was held last night at which one new member was added, so that it now numbers 17 members. Those now having instruments are as follows: Messrs. Jacob Mohr and J. H. Rehder, E flat cornet; A. Wehrhahn, solo B flat cornet; J. H. Boesch, 1st B flat cornet; M. Rathjen, 2nd B flat cornet; E. Schulken, solo alto; J. G. L. Geischen and J. H. Tienken, altos; W. Doscher and H. H. Gieschen, tenors; Benjamin Bellois, baritone; W. Mertons, B flat base; Charles Von Kampen, tuba; C. W. Polvogt, snare drum, and George Grotgen, base drum. The band is now in regular practice without the aid of a salaried teacher. Mr. A. Wehrhahn is the leader and we are glad to know that they are getting along remarkably well and making excellent progress in musical proficiency.

Death of a Wilmington Lady.

Mrs. Annie W. Miller, widow of the late Thos. C. Miller, Esq., who was previous to the war a prominent member of the bar in this city, died on Thursday morning in Asheville. Mrs. Miller has many near relatives in this city who will be grieved to hear this. The Asheville Citizen of Monday's date says: Mrs. Annie W. Miller, relict of the late Thomas C. Miller, of Wilmington, died at the residence of Gen. Johnston Jones, her son-in-law, in this city, at 6 o'clock this morning, after a long illness. She was born April 20, 1820. The funeral will take place at the Episcopal church at 11 o'clock to-morrow morning. Relations and friends are invited to attend the funeral from residence, and the public from the church at the hour appointed.

The death of this lady brings sorrow to many hearts here, and in the Cape Fear section of which she was a native, there are many who will grieve at the death of a lady so largely connected and so closely endeared by ties of lineage and social connection.

C. F. & Y. V. R. R.
The Board of Audit and Finance, at a meeting held yesterday afternoon, concurred in the recommendation of the Board of Aldermen as to the C. F. & Y. V. R. R. extension to this city. The committee appointed by the Board of Aldermen will therefore communicate at once with the railroad people, in regard to the proposed subscription by the city, but they have no authority to take action.

MONEY FOR LIVING!
$1,000 CASH IN FIVE YEARS TO every investor. It pays better than a Savings Bank; it pays better than Government Bonds; it pays better than Building Associations. But remember this amount can only be realized by securing a certificate in The National Life and Maturity Association, of Washington, D. C. Plan practicable, feasible and controlled by reliable and responsible men of the capital city. Endorsed by your Senator Z. B. Vance and Representatives Wm. R. Cox and Wharton J. Green. It is purely a business investment, therefore should receive the attention and consideration of the business men of Wilmington. This plan is popular throughout the South, because it pays its members while living! For full explanation of plan call at the Purcell House, this city.

Very respectfully,
WM. H. GIBSON
WM. A. EASTERDAY,
Special Traveling Agents,
National Life and Maturity Association,
Washington, D. C.

We are able to add the following testimony from this city:
W. H. GIBSON, Special Agent—Being acquainted with the majority of the officers and directors of the National Life and Maturity Association, I can truly say that no man stands higher in business or financial circles than they do. Their connection with the Company would make it good if there was nothing else to recommend it.
