The Virginia Republicans say that Foraker and other prominent Republicans from Ohio will soon take the stump in Virginia. It is proposed to use this foreign aid in counties where there are large white majorities and where Wise says the Republicans are making gains.

The Rev. John E. Massey, the Democratic candidate for Lieutenant-Governor of Virginia, is dangerously sick at his residence near Albemarle. It is feared that he has pneumonia. Mr. Massey is an old man, and up to a week ago was actively engaged in canvassing. His illness is the result of exposure during the campaign.

The Rev. Mangasar M. Mangasaria, who has been the cause of a theological sensation among the Presbyterians of Philadelphia and in consequence of his peculiar theological belief has left the Synod, has established an independent church. He has a large and wealthy congregation who have provided a suitable building for him, and have guaranteed him a salary equal to the one he received when in the regular ministry.

There is now no doubt that the number of Christians massacred during the Summer in Tongking, Anam, and Cochin-China was even much larger than was at first stated. The first account set down the total number of massacres at 10,000, but the Superior of the foreign missions in Paris now states that 24,000 Christians, including several French missionaries, were murdered. Seven or eight thousand Christians escaped.

The result as to the Legislature in Ohio is as yet undecided. Both parties claim a narrow majority on joint ballot. We clip the following from a special to yesterday's New York Herald as the latest on the subject. It is from Columbus: There is a prospect that the election excitement will subside in a day or two. Fifty-nine of the eighty counties in the State have been officially heard from at the office of the Secretary of State. This evening it is thought the majority of the balance will be in tomorrow when the official canvass will be made in full. The greatest anxiety is now centred on the result in Cincinnati, as a great deal depends on the count there. Some impatience is felt over the slow manner in which the count is progressing in Hamilton county. It is conceded by Chairman Powell, of the Democratic committee, that the Republicans have two or three majority on joint ballot. The Republicans are anxious for a majority in the Senate so they may not be hampered in the work of the Winter. They want to redistrict for Congress, and have a number of reorganization schemes and party measures on hand which they cannot successfully handle unless they have the Senate.

The Democrats of Hamilton county are especially anxious to have the Senate, as they fear the city will be again turned over. The Republicans have positive information to-night that they have 75 votes to the Democrats 72 on joint ballot. This is on the assumption that Hamilton county will be counted solid for the Democrats, which is not conceded by the Republicans. Certificates of election have already been issued to seventeen Republican Senators and fifty-eight Republican members of the House.

The Mikado.
The excellent Bijou Opera Company played last night at the Opera House, the second and last night of their engagement here, to a much smaller audience than was commensurate with the merits of the troupe. There are but nine performers in the company and there is not an indifferent actor among them. A full chorus is all that is lacking and that is felt as a serious drawback, yet we have never seen anything more charmingly rendered than was the Mikado last night. We trust that the troupe may have full houses wherever they go as they are eminently deserving of such.

Synod of North Carolina.
The seventy-second annual session of the synod of North Carolina met at Reidsville yesterday. The synod embraces all the Presbyterians in the State. The delegates from this city were Mr. Samuel Northrop, of the First Presbyterian Church, and Rev. J. W. Primrose, of the Second Presbyterian Church. Mr. Northrop will be in attendance upon Synod; but Rev. Mr. Primrose has been obliged to remain at home on account of sickness in his congregation. The Memphis and Missouri Synods met last week, followed by the North Carolina, Virginia and Texas Synods which met yesterday; South Carolina, Kentucky, South Georgia and Florida Synods, which met to day, and the Nashville and Arkansas Synods which will meet to-morrow.

Easy Way to Test It.
People are waking up and it is time they did. Each and every house claims to sell the cheapest. Now how, to test it to your full satisfaction is very easy and requires but little time. We will cheerfully send clothing for men, boys and children to your own homes for comparison with those from elsewhere, and you can judge side by side. That is the only true test, and whenever we have such competition, SHRIER gets the sale. But we will not tolerate humbugging, lottery or gift schemes of any kind, but guarantee to give at all times more and better value for your money than can be had elsewhere. We will cheerfully refund your money if goods are not found satisfactory. No one can ask more. SHRIER, the Old Reliable Clothier, 114 Market st., sign of the Golden Arm.

Pine Straw Matting.
We saw this morning at the office of Messrs Cronly & Morris, general agents of the Acme Manufacturing Company, a couple of rolls of matting, one of which was made entirely from the fibre of pine straw, which was spun at the works of the Acme Manufacturing Company, at Cronly, and woven in Brooklyn, N. Y. The other roll was made from jute and pine straw combined, and both are excellent articles for the purpose for which they are intended. The mattings are two feet and a half wide and are woven in variegated colors, green predominating, and the two rolls contained 110 yards. The frames for weaving the fibre have been ordered and when completed will be put up at Cronly and as soon as they are placed in position the manufacture of matting in its entirety, a full yard in width, will be carried on at that place and will become, as it ought to be, exclusively a North Carolina industry. The Acme Manufacturing Company have been engaged for nearly three years in perfecting their machinery at Cronly to successfully carry on this enterprise, and the result has shown that an excellent article of matting can be made from the leaves of our native pines, which will be cheap, durable and desirable. We saw also a number of samples of yarn spun from pine fibre and it was marvellously neat and strong.

Indications.
For the South Atlantic States, fair weather in West portion, local rains, followed by fair weather in East portions, generally colder, winds shifting to Northerly in Southern portion North to West in Northern portion, with higher barometer and frosts in the interior.

The oyster season is in full blast now and the shipment every day of New River oysters to the interior is large. With the completion of the Onslow railroad Wilmington would become about the largest fish and oyster market on the Atlantic coast.

Wm. Davenport, colored and evidently insane, was brought before Acting Mayor Bear this morning charged with attempting to set fire to his father's house. The unfortunate condition of the accused was so apparent that he was held for examination by a physician before any other action is taken in his case.

Two other persons, charged with disorderly conduct, were discharged.

The Lecture.
Rev. Charles J. Soon, the young Chinese who has embraced Christianity and fitted himself for a life of missionary work in his native land, and for which he will depart in a few weeks, will deliver a lecture at Fifth Street M. E. Church to-night. It will be free to all and his subject will be, "China—Its People, Customs, Manners and the Missionary Works."

Pew Renting.
The annual renting of the pews of St. James' Church began at noon today. Col. James G. Burr was the auctioneer and the different selections for seats were made quickly and at reasonable prices.

During the Summer the interior of the church has been almost entirely remodeled, much enlarged and made more convenient for rector, choir and congregation. It has been considerably lengthened so that the chancel is entirely in the new part of the edifice. The organ has been taken from the gallery and moved to the East end of the Church, and the gallery has been shortened upon each side.—The seating capacity of the gallery, however, remains nearly as before, as the place formerly occupied by the choir and organ has been supplied with pews for the accommodation of worshippers. The seating capacity on the main floor has also been considerably enlarged. Among the additions are a neat and cosy room for the rector and a robing room for the young men who compose the choir. These are conveniently arranged and are connected with each other by a door, and each, by doors, with the chancel. The work has all been done under the immediate supervision of the rector, Rev. W. H. Lewis, and is a credit to him as well as to the church.

Wear and Tear.
Wear and tear is one thing to be considered when you buy clothes. Durability is what one should look to as well as style, shape and color. Perhaps you have learned by bitter experience that a suit, which seems all right at the store, in many cases proves anything but all right when you wear it a short time. Buttons drop off, seams give way, material wears out, and colors fade. Such things are common to the lot of man, for but few are expert enough to detect clever imitations of honest goods offered by unscrupulous dealers.

There is one certain way to avoid being deceived—and that is to deal with a house who base their reputation and success on keeping only honest, reliable goods; who aim to secure continuous patronage by supplying their customers with goods which shall invariably prove satisfactory. S. H. FISHLATE is determined that your purchases of him shall be just right every time. All his clothing is expressly manufactured for him, with an eye to durability and lasting qualities. He uses the best of materials, and insists that thorough work shall be put on every article even to the minutest detail. You will find FISHLATE'S clothing all that could be desired, and equal to the best tailor made garment. He keeps no shoddy goods or clap trap baits. Try him and we guarantee that you will be perfectly satisfied.
