Representative elect Cole, of Maryland, says there is no question of Democratic success in that State; that the Republicans and their allies are already beaten.

A Rochester woman has been awarded $2,000, the assessed value of her husband's affections, which had been alienated from her by another woman, defendant in the case.

Mr. Langtry, husband of the "Lily," is said by one of the London "society" weeklies to have accepted an offer to become manager of a well known hotel, patronized chiefly by commercial travelers.

In Belgium two hundred freight trains which formerly ran on Sunday have been stopped. Nearly 8,000 workmen who were employed in the Government workshops have been set free on Sundays.

Since 1879 the South has built 7,000 miles of new railroad, besides improving old roads, relaying tracks with steel rails, etc. In the same time the assessed value of property has increased $90,000,000.

A Parisian dentist, assisted by some twenty men, recently cured an elephant of the toothache, or, more properly, tuskache. An ulcer was cut away and a cavity was filled, to the final joy of the pain struck pachyderm.

A wine merchant in Hamburg has bequeathed 1,000 thalers per annum, the interest of his capital, to the balddest man in the city, with the proviso that should a man turn up with no hair at all on his head, he is to take the entire capital.

The United States has 87 "regular" medical schools. Of these 39 have been opened within 15 years, and 21 within 5 years. With them are associated 1,300 instructors and over 10,000 students; they turn out about 3,600 new doctors annually.

William Jones, "the Avenger," who attempted to kill Guiteau, has gained additional notoriety by being indicted for the robbing of Hamilton Hunter of $180 in April. He escaped conviction on the charge of robbery, and was fined $50 for an assault.

The Maoris of New Zealand, who numbered 100,000 in Capt. Cook's day, are said to be decreasing in numbers at a rate that will leave the race extinct at the beginning of the next century. The Laplanders, too, a disappearing race, are said to number now not over 30,000.

Senator Logan is getting rich. He has just been offered $40,000 for the stone mansion which he bought last summer for $30,000. The publishers of his book inform him that a subscription of 100,000 copies has already been guaranteed, and that anywhere between 50,000 and 100,000 copies will be sold.

Young alligators are raised and tamed for the Northern visitors by a Sanford, Fla. man who finds it quite a lucrative business. He has now a hundred of the animals under training, and reports that his sales last season would have been five times that number could he have procured the alligators.

During the month of August enormous swarms of ants passed over the town of Solothurn, in Switzerland. They came from the Jura mountains, and formed a cloud, consisting of twenty-five perpendicular columns, in general form. The swarm lasted for twenty minutes, the height of the cloud being upward of ninety feet. Millions of them fell to the ground without, however, making any visible change in the phenomenon.

Charles D. Frederick, 770 Broadway, N. Y., the celebrated photographer, says that Alcock's Porous Plasters, have been used by himself and family for twenty years. He found them wonderfully efficacious in coughs, colds, and pain in the back and side. Applied to the pit of the stomach they quickly relieved him of indigestion and dyspepsia. He also found them admirable liver stimulants when applied on the right side.

There was no City Court this morning.

The receipts of cotton at this port today foot up 1,355 bales.

Schooner John A. Griffin, Bennett, cleared at Baltimore Oct. 20th for this port.

Painters and those in need of white lead, colors, oil, etc., can get the best and save by buying at JACOB'S Hdw. Depot.

When you think that you need a new hat, you will be reminded that the "Melville" is the best, and it is sold by DYER.

We have seldom seen finer fruit than is now offered for sale in this market. The display is beautiful and tempting and the prices asked are very reasonable.

For the best unlaundried white shirt in the city, call at the Wilmington Shirt Factory; only 75c. J. ELSBACH, Prop., No. 27 Market st.

Br. steamship Marema, Hasker, cleared to day for Liverpool with 5,000 bales cotton, valued at $218,613, shipped by Messrs Alex. Sprunt & Son.

We ask those in need of a heating stove to examine our stock and hear our low prices, before purchasing, JACOB'S Hdw. Depot.

Indications.
For the North Atlantic States, fair weather, Northerly winds, becoming variable, nearly stationary temperature on the coast and slight rise in temperature in the interior. Light frosts are indicated for the South Atlantic States to-night. They will extend over Georgia and may reach the Northern boundary of Florida. Light frosts are reported at Smithville and Wilmington this morning.

First of the Season.
With indications of a more chilly atmosphere and cooler nights comes the advent of the tramp fraternity. One of these gentry applied for lodgings at the guard house last night, the first for a number of weeks. They may be expected, however, with considerable regularity from now until the time "When the roses bloom again."

Success Attained!
Messrs. W. H. Gibson and Wm. A. Easterday, representatives of The National Life and Maturity Association, of Washington, D. C., have met with unprecedented success during their short stay in this city. These gentlemen represent a very popular plan of insurance, which pays the face of one's policy while living. More than (40) forty of our leading citizens have taken out policies in this Association, and the outlook for greater progress is very promising for this Association.

Personal.
Mr. J. D. Corrie and wife, of Clarkton, Bladen Co., are in the city and registered at the Orton.

We are glad to learn that the condition of Capt. W. H. Newell has very much improved and that he is now in a fair way of speedy recovery.

Capt. Wm. Smith, Superintendent of the Raleigh & Gaston R. R. and the Raleigh & Augusta Air Line, was in the city yesterday and registered at the Purcell House.

Prof. J. H. Denek is in the city today and gave us the pleasure of a call. He is making preparations for a piano recital, to be given by him in the early part of next week. He is eminent as a pianist and our people will appreciate an opportunity to listen to his performance upon that instrument.

Sad Death.
It is with much regret that we learn of the death, in this city, this morning, of Master Frank Ward Sholar, the eldest son of Mr. A. M. Sholar. He was but a few months more than 14 years of age and was a bright, promising lad, the idol of the household, his father's hope and his mother's darling, and a general favorite with all who knew him. Truly has it been said that "whom the gods love die young," but in this instance, at least, there is much reason to hope that the lad had been transplanted to a happier, brighter sphere than this, where there is no sickness, or sorrow, or grief or parting from loved ones.

The Special Delivery.

The introduction of the new "immediate delivery" system in the postoffice department has brought up a number of questions, and third assistant postmaster general A. D. Hazen has issued a circular letter to postmasters authoritatively deciding several issues raised. Postmasters are not required to have special delivery messengers report on Sunday, or to keep their offices open in any different manner on that day from what is now provided by regulation. They are at liberty, however, to deliver special delivery letters arriving on Sunday, if their business arrangements can be conveniently adopted. If a messenger fails to deliver a special delivery letter by reason of there being no one to receive it at the addresser's residence or place of business, or for any other cause for which the postoffice or the messenger is not responsible, he is to return it to the postoffice, where it will be treated as an ordinary letter. After a special delivery letter has been taken out for delivery by a messenger, and has been returned with the information that the person addressed has removed to the delivery of another special delivery office, and the letter is forwarded, it is not entitled to special delivery at the second office, but must be endorsed by the forwarding postmaster: "Forwarded, delivery free; paid by office of first address." Where, however, a party expecting mail at one office leaves directions for forwarding the same to him at another, and a special delivery letter is received and forwarded without any attempt at delivering the same, no endorsement must be placed upon it, and in all such cases the forwarded letter must be at once delivered. Attention to these rules will save much needless delay and vexation. The system is being taken hold of slowly by the public, and up to date the messengers do not feel that they have struck a big bonanza. The public seem slow to realize its benefits. In a place like Wilmington, for instance, a saving of twelve hours of daylight in the answer to an important letter can be made. A special delivery letter arriving here on the last mail to-night will be delivered promptly on receipt and the answer to a letter which reaches here at 10 o'clock may be posted by 10:30, or 11. This answer will leave on next morning's train before, in the way of ordinary delivery, the first letter might be received, thus making the saving of the twelve hours alluded to.

A New Project.

Our friends residing in the neighborhood of Scott's Hill and Topsail Sound are determined to secure rail connection with the outside world, and have been working earnestly to make a direct connection with Wilmington, but as they have failed to get that recognition and encouragement from our citizens necessary to carrying out the enterprise, they have taken the matter into their own hands to build a route with their own means and by their own efforts. The distance from Rich Inlet, on Topsail Sound, to rail road connection at Castle Haynes is only seven miles and this route has already been surveyed and the full amount of subscription necessary to obtain and pay for the requisite convict labor for building the road has been obtained, so that it only remains to secure a legislative enactment to enable the movers in the enterprise to go ahead. At Rich Inlet there are eight feet of water close up to the beach, so that small vessels of that draught can come up, and the formation of the shore is such that but very little wharfage would be necessary. Vessels could be brought right to the cars so that there would be no necessity for drayage in loading or unloading freights. The land along the line of the proposed route is nearly level and there is only one creek to cross in the entire distance, in consequence of which the grading could be done very cheaply. An abundance of material suitable for crossies is to be had along the entire line. Those who are moving in this matter are in dead earnest, and are bound to push the enterprise with determination and vigor. The products of that section and other sections which the Sound and Railroad would make tributary to it, such as cotton, corn, peanuts and enormous quantities of fish and oysters, would make a large item in the sum total of shipments from Eastern North Carolina, and would be largely increased through the facilities thus afforded for a speedy outlet to the markets of the country.

Schooner Annie Wadsworth, Smith, hence, arrived at Baltimore Oct. 20th.

A Boom.

A boom in the clothing business has struck this town and Mr. S. H. FISHLATE is the originator of it. How did it happen? He made up his mind to do an immense business this Fall and Winter, and accordingly purchased an immense stock of the latest styles and newest fabrics, in all the fashionable colors, to be had in the market. FISHLATE's success is due to the excellence of his clothing. He keeps a class of Tailor-made clothing that the people want, such clothing as no other house contains. You will find at his large stores a full assortment of the square cut sacks, and four-button cutaway frock coats, which are now all the rage. He keeps no shoddy or cheap goods. He takes as much interest in the make up of his cheapest class as he does in his finest goods. Mr. FISHLATE has certainly gained the distinction of being the leading clothing house in this State, and we take great pride in referring to his success.

Easy Way to Test It.

People are waking up and it is time they did. Each and every house claims to sell the cheapest. Now how, to test it to your full satisfaction is very easy and requires but little time. We will cheerfully send clothing for men, boys and children to your own homes for comparison with those from elsewhere, and you can judge side by side. That is the only true test, and whenever we have such competition, SHIRER gets the sale. But we will not tolerate humbugging, lottery or gift schemes of any kind, but guarantee to give at all times more and better value for your money than can be had elsewhere. We will cheerfully refund your money if goods are not found satisfactory. No one can ask more. SHIRER, the Old Reliable Clothier, 114 Market st., sign of the Golden Arm.

Do not want thy teeth like ivory white,
Thy lips like rose blooming,
Thy breath perpetual delight,
The common air perfuming?
Use SOZODON, for that will bring
Health, beauty, fragrance, everything!

The Standard Tooth Wash
of the age, is SOZODON. It has distanced competition. Discolored teeth rendered white by its use. The breath derives fragrance from its aroma. It prevents and arrests dental decay. The gums become rosier and harder under its operation. All its ingredients are vegetable and antiseptic.

The Othello is, without doubt, the best cook stove in this market. Call at JACOB'S Hdw. Depot, and see it before buying.

DIED.

SHOLAR—This morning, October 21st, 1885, at 6 o'clock, FRANK WARD, eldest son of A. M. and S. J. SHOLAR, aged 14 years and 2 months.

Funeral services to-morrow (Friday) at 3:30 o'clock, p. m., at the residence of Capt. J. H. Williams, 415 South Fourth st.

We God should have taken this lovely youth, the star of whose life was so bright, and left many of the old and the young, to us inscrutable. But while His ways are past finding out, we may be assured that a narrow does not fall to the ground without His knowledge, and that this and all other events of His providence are ordered in wisdom and mercy. To his bereaved parents we would say: "Weep not for him whom the will of the tomb in life's happy morning bath did from your eyes,
"Ere he drew a blight o'er the spirit's young bloom,
Or earth had profaned what was born for the skies."
