> Ex-Speaker Randall, who has been studying the political situation in New York closely, predicts the success of Governor Hill and the Democratic ticket. After carefully canvassing the registration and making a comparison of the falling off in Democratic and Republican wards of New York city and county he estimates Governor Hill's plurality in New York and King's counties at 60,000. He does not believe that the Republicans can poll votes enough in the remainder of the State to overcome these figures. Mr. Randall's opinion of the result in New York has cheered the Democrats considerably, as a good deal of weight is attached to his judgment.

> There is talk in England of an inten tion to tax bachelors, and the absurdity of the proposition affords much amuses ment. But the matter is not so outra-Greece? Bachelors were heavily taxed, widows were compelled to marry after one year of mourning-some of them may have thought eleven months too long-and at one time a legatee, if unmarried, could not obtain a bequest unless within the space of one hundred days he found some woman to join him in holy wedlock. But we need not go so far back. William III taxed the bachelors in order to carry on his war with France.

Here is one of Viguaux's big licks with a billiard cue: "The object balls were in a straight line, and a foot apart, in the centre of the table. The cue ball was also in a straight line with them, a foot and a half distant from the first object ball. He raised his cue and struck the cue ball a smart half-masse stroke. It jumped from the table, touched the top of the red object ball, and glided to the white The moment it collided with the latter it darted backward again and sped swittly, nearly the whole length of the table, to the lower cushion. Vignaux explained that it was a little idea of his own in imparting "reverse English" to the cue ball. He said nopody else could do it "

Bradstreet's furnishes the following commercial summary for the past

The most conspicuous feature in the general trade situation reported this week to Bradstreet's is a pronounced improvement in the iron and steel in-Prices for pig iron are unchang ed, aithough an early advance for best quality Lenigh irons would not be surprising. Stocks are very light. Old rails are scarce, and the nominal quotations of $18 and $19 do not buy them. The feeling in these trades is buoyant. and considerable confidence is expressed as to the future. Bar iron is in bet er demand also. Steel rails, however, have made the greatest advance thus far, touching $32 per ton at the East and $35 at Chicago, a gain of $1.— Orders from Southern railroads have been frequent, and these with renewal and extension requests generally, while not as heavy in the aggregate as some exaggerated statements recently made concerning them, have filled up mills for the current year. The prospect is that 1885 will prove a busy one for the rail mills. Anthracite coal is fully as active as heretofore and bituminous somewhat more so. This argues well for manufacturing industries. Strikes in certain lines of the glass and nail industries continue. The movement of general merchandise is no heavier than last week, with the exception that at Chicago it is reported that seasonable lines of goods move briskly, and that with a continuance of the existing rate of country purchases another period of noticeable activity is likely to result. At St. Louis, too, dry goods are selling actively, and although the weather has checked trade generally, the volume of sales for eight weeks past has been of gratifying proportions. Cincinnati

The Dalrymple Home for Inebriates, near London, which was established in order to give the 'Habitual Drank-ards'act" a fair triat, has been declared are but few new features. Petroleum hangs about where it landed after the late rush upward. The ex-port movement in grain and provisions is as light as ever, and ocean freights prices for tea, coffee and sugar. Dairy products are dull, except for fancy butter, and the expert trade is disappointing. There were 170 failures in the United States during the past week,

The New York Times says that it is not surprising that the subscriptions to the Grant memorial fund should decrease with the lapse of time, when no special effort is made to increase them, but it is a matter of surprise that certain members of the executive com mittee appointed to forward the movement take so little interest in the matter that they do not even attend the meetings. It is not cheering to the friends and admirers of the hero who now rests from his labors in Riverside Park to learn that more than one-third of the members of the monument committee have either absented themselves altogether from the meetings of that body or have attended but one or two of them. That the fund languishes under these conditions is natural, and the condi tions should be changed at once.
