THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. IX. WILMINGTON, N. C. TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1885. NO. 256.

PLEASE NOTICE. We will be glad to receive communications from our friends on any and all subjects of general interest but the name of the writer must always be attached to the Editor.

Communications must be written on one side of the paper.

Personalities must be avoided.

And it is especially and particularly understood that the Editor does not always endorse the views of correspondents unless so stated in the editorial columns.

The Daily Review has the largest circulation of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

London has a birth every five minutes, writes Max O'Rell.

So faint is the vanishing star in Andromeda that it can barely be seen.

Shops raising in South Mississippi is said to have paid about 50 per cent this season.

Salsbury is macadamizing its streets with gold quartz, said to be worth $14 a ton.

The hats of Gotham are out of favor; the sign "To Let" hangs against 2,000 of them.

A single chandelier in the mountain castle of that spendthrift, the King of Britain, cost $4,800.

It is said that President Cleveland, Secretary Manning and Secretary Whitney have each contributed $1,000 to the Democratic campaign fund of New York State.

Paris, Maine, and Stony Point, in Alexander county, North Carolina, are said to be the only two places in this country where mining for gems is systematically carried on.

A "tournament" at Spearfish, Dak., a running start of seventy yards was given to a steer and Cowboy Driscoll overtook him, lassoed and threw him, and, dismounting, tied his feet in forty-one seconds.

The discharge of one hundred men from a navy yard within two weeks of an election, says the New York Times, is an event without parallel in American history.

Nevertheless, this pleasing spectacle has just been furnished at the navy yard in Brooklyn.

A poor woman came into the dissecting room of the New York University Medical College last week and offered to sell her body to the curator in order to get money to secure food for her children. The students raised a purse for the poor denuded and relieved her pressing necessities.

Escorting Archdeacon Farrar about the White House one day recently it is said the President, all by accident, entered the conservatory for the first time in his life; not, he explained to his visitor, that he does not care for flowers, but that he has been too busy to indulge his taste in that direction.

Base ball for the season of 1885 is at an end. Never before in the history of the national game has there been so much interest in the many sport as during the past season, and that almost from the beginning of the championship race. In the League, especially, the interest was notable.

Considering the business depression throughout the country, which had a telling effect in the matter of attendance in many cities, the season has been much better than was expected.

When a United States mail contractor attacks us with a formidable Latin quotation, we feel much embarrassed; the more so from the fact that we have hunted through the entire list of classic quotations in the back part of Webster's unabridged without being able to find a suitable retort, and are compelled consequently most reluctantly to confine our brief remarks to plain United States talk.

We have never complained of Mr. Garganus personally nor insisted that he should work at a loss. It is the service, or rather the lack of service, of which we find fault, although Mr. Garganus will insist that it is of him that we complain. We say again, and for the last time, that it is the service and not the contractor of whom we complain, and we think he would arrive at a better understanding of the matter if he would give our plain English a careful reading instead of trying to overwhelm us with a shower of Latin.

We have given him much space in which to air himself, but must decline to trouble our readers further with a useless and entirely uncalled for discussion to the exclusion of other and important matter. In the absence of a Latin quotation we will say that future correspondence in this matter will be "Not for Joseph."

From the Sisters of Charity. PROVIDENCE HOSPITAL, WASHINGTON, D. C., April 21, 1884.

We take pleasure in attesting the merits and soothing qualities of Allcock's Porous Plasters, having used them on various occasions with much benefit to many of the patients under our charge during many years.

SISTERS OF CHARITY.

The interest in the elections to day seems to centre chiefly in Virginia and New York. The former is safe on the gubernatorial ticket and we are confident also, that the State ticket will win. The biggest fight of all seems to be in New York and the issue there is very doubtful. Both sides appear equally confident and equally uneasy. The Sun says that Hill's majority in King's county will be about 12,000 and the Democratic State Committee claim the State by 30,000 plurality for Hill.

Mortuary Report.

Dr. F. W. Potter, city physician, has rendered his regular mortuary report for the month ended Oct. 31st, 1885, from which we learn that the total number of deaths during that time was 50. Of this number there were 10 white males and 7 white females; 16 colored males and 17 colored females. There were in the above 13 white adults and 4 white children; 15 colored adults and 18 colored children. There should be deducted from the above number 5 still born, which leaves the actual number of deaths from disease at 45. This appears to be a large number, but it is 16 less than in the corresponding month last year.

Bible Presentation.

At the services at Fifth Street M. E. Church last Sunday night, Rev. Charles J. Soon, the Chinese clergyman, was presented by the congregation, through Rev. D. H. Tuttle, the pastor, with a fine Bible. Rev. Mr. Soon will leave the city to-morrow for Tarboro. Thence he will go to Durham to be in attendance upon Conference, where he will be ordained, soon after which he will leave for his field of missionary labor in China. He will take the overland route to San Francisco, thence by steamer across the Pacific ocean to his destination.

Audit and Finance.

The Board of Audit and Finance met in regular semi-monthly session yesterday afternoon. Present; W. I. Gore, chairman, J. W. Gerdis, R. J. Jones and C. F. VonKampen.

Bills to the amount of $17,834.33 were audited and coupons to the amount of $3,176, which had been redeemed and cancelled, were burned in the presence of the Board, and 180 coupons of the denomination of $30 each, which were never issued, but cut from what is known as the Market House Bonds, were burned. Thirty notes, known as "Market House notes," for which a like amount of bonds had been substituted, were also burned.

It was moved and carried that hereafter the meetings of the Board shall be at 3 p. m. instead of 5 p. m. as heretofore.

U. S. District Court.

The U. S. District Court, Judge A. S. Seymour presiding, convened at the U. S. Court room in this city at 10 o'clock this forenoon. The morning session was devoted to selecting and empanelling a grand jury and in the delivery of the customary charge to the same, after which the Court took a recess until 3 o'clock this afternoon.

The following compose the grand jury for the term:

D. A. Lamont, foreman; N. Gillican, R. J. Williams, Emanuel Nichols, Jas. H. Taylor, John Maunder, M. J. McRaney, Jas. Ingram, Jordan Nixon, Alfred Alderman, W. H. Yopp, H. P. West, D. D. Wells, Jabez Frink, Wm. Sutton, Jr., G. W. Hobbs, R. W. Hargrave, J. D. Powers.

Special Call.

Every ordained minister of the Gospel, white and colored, in the city of Wilmington, is requested to be at the Library Hall to-morrow, Nov. 4th, at 12 m. to commune together in regard to the spiritual interests of the city.

City Court.

Susan Hooper, Eliza Usher and Eliza Floyd, all colored, were brought before Mayor pro tem Bear this morning charged with disorderly conduct, were all found guilty and the two former were fined $5 each and the latter was fined $3.

Mail Robbery.

The mail pouch for Red Banks, Robeson county, on the Carolina Central Railroad, was thrown off at that place last Saturday night by the route agent when the train passed on its way to Charlotte. A colored man was standing on the platform at the time the pouch was thrown off, but no postmaster or man authorized to receive the mail was present, and it was stolen, cut open and robbed of its contents. It is presumed that the colored man alluded to, who was not identified, was the thief.

Special Services.

Special services, commemorative of the three hundred and sixty-eighth anniversary of the commencement of the Reformation, will be held at St. Paul's Lutheran Church to-night, at which the pastor, Rev. F. W. E. Peschau, and Rev. William Stoudenmire, of Salisbury, N. C., will make addresses.—Fine music will be furnished for the occasion. Messrs. J. E. Williams and S. A. Schloss will render a cornet duet and Professors Hobbs, violin; and Greenwald, piano, and F. W. Ortman will take part in the exercises.—The public are respectfully invited to attend.

County Commissioners.

The Board met in regular session yesterday afternoon, all the members being present.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The Treasurer submitted his report for the month of October, as follows: General fund, balance on hand, $13,113.24. Educational fund, balance on hand, 14,478.15. Of the above general fund $7,000 is in the shape of the certificate of deposit in the First National Bank.

It appearing to the satisfaction of the board that there was an error in the listing of the poll tax of John H. Savage, in Wilmington Township, the same having been listed in Cape Fear Township, it was ordered that the said tax be remitted.

The poll tax of several persons was remitted on account of physical disability.

On account of a clerical error in the valuation of the real estate of A. E. Jackson, in block 267, it was ordered that the valuation of the same be reduced from $350 to $150.

The Board then adjourned, subject to the call of the Chairman.

Wear and Tear.

Wear and tear is one thing to be considered when you buy clothes. Durability is what one should look to as well as style, shape and color. Perhaps you have learned by bitter experience that a suit, which seems all right at the store, in many cases proves anything but all right when you wear it a short time. Buttons drop off, seams give way, material wears out, and colors fade. Such things are common to the lot of man, for but few are expert enough to detect clever imitations of honest goods offered by unscrupulous dealers.

There is one certain way to avoid being deceived—and that is to deal with a house who base their reputation and success on keeping only honest, reliable goods; who aim to secure continuous patronage by supplying their customers with goods which shall invariably prove satisfactory. S. H. FISHLATE is determined that your purchases of him shall be just right every time. All his clothing is expressly manufactured for him, with an eye to durability and lasting qualities. He uses the best of materials, and insists that thorough work shall be put on every article even to the minutest detail. You will find FISHLATE'S clothing all that could be desired, and equal to the best tailor made garment. He keeps no shoddy goods or clap trap baits. Try him and we guarantee that you will be perfectly satisfied.

The Orphans.

The singing class of the Oxford Orphan Asylum, under the charge of Miss Burwell, will give a concert for the benefit of that institution at the rooms of the Library Association next Thursday night. We hope there may be a crowded house to greet them.

"Mixed Pickles."

In speaking of this play, which is to be presented at the Opera House on Thursday night, by the J. B. Polk Comedy Company, the New York Evening News says:

"The story is probable and interesting, yet so full of comical incidents and entanglements that it may be called a comedy in one continuous laugh. The characters are well marked, and the dialogue exceptionally good, being bright, champaigny and witty. With all the brilliant sayings, new ideas, and amusing situations, there is not an approach to coarseness."

The cheapest and best heating and cook stoves can be had at JACOB'S Hdw. Depot.

A Big Majority!

You are about to buy some clothing, said a newspaper man to a friend a few days since. Well, I'll relate a little incident which may influence you in your purchase. Last summer I went to Clinton, to the Farmer's Dinner, and on returning home I found myself among what Senator Vance would have called a lot of plain people. The subject of clothing was being discussed, and somebody suggested that a vote should be taken to ascertain who was the most popular clothier in Wilmington. The result was a big majority for SHIRER—he being the principal favorite because it was conceded that his styles were more correct, his garments more durable, and prices far lower than any other house in the city.

This was a very high compliment to SHIRER, who is really the people's Clothier. He certainly has passed beyond successful competition for splendid quality of goods, and beauty of fit and finish. Call and examine our stock before purchasing elsewhere.
