THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. IX.

WILMINGTON, N. C. MONDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1885.

NO. 267

H. B. Clafflin, the merchant prince of New York, died of apoplexy on Saturday afternoon at his residence in Fordham, N. Y.

Louis Riel, the half-breed rebel—had he succeeded he would have been dubbed a patriot—was probably hung this forenoon, in accordance with the edict of the Governor-General.

An intimate friend of Jas. G. Blaine says that the late Presidential candidate rejoices over Davenport's defeat in New York. He says that Blaine proposed to the Republican nominee in 1888, and wants the records to show that his Presidential vote is the strongest Republican vote that has been cast in New York since 1884. He thinks that the Mugwumps should retire from the political arena since their recent defeat.

To Clothing Buyers.

FISHBLATE is outdoing all previous efforts to please the public; he offers new attractions, magnificent in quality and unprecedented in price. Now is your chance, as he will allow no one to undersell him in goods of quality equally as those he offers. Shoddy goods made to "sell," not to "wear," can be sold at prices lower than any honest article he can offer. Such goods are dearly bought at any price and those that are misled into purchasing are welcome to their so-called bargains. With this class of trade FISHBLATE does not compete. Comparison solicited; goods freely shown and experienced buyers especially invited to look at his new line of seasonable goods. Call and see his stock and prices, and if he cannot plainly show you that it is to your interest to give him your trade, you are under no obligations to purchase.

To all who seek that glorious boon, A fragrant and wholesome breath: To all who seek to shield their teeth From swift decay and early death Take this advice from us as friends, Use SOZODONT and gain your ends.

Personal Comeliness is greatly enhanced by a fine set of teeth. On the other hand, nothing so detracts from the effect of pleasing features, fine eyes and a graceful figure, as yellow teeth. That popular toilet article SOZODONT checks their decay and renders them as white as snow.

City Court.

There was a large docket for the Mayor's consideration this morning, mainly four misdemeanors committed on Saturday night. James Roan and Cambridge Hines, both young colored men, charged with firing a pistol by which a man came near being shot, was the first case. Upon the confession of the boys Roan was discharged and Hines was bound over to the present term of the Criminal Court in the sum of $50 upon the charge of carrying a concealed weapon.

James Willis and Thomas Brown, both colored, for disorderly conduct at the Market House on Saturday, were the next on the docket. Brown was fined $3, and Willis, whose case was aggravated by an attempt to resist the officer, was fined $10.

Richard Hargrave, colored, disorderly conduct, discharged.

Thomas McClammy, a colored boy, disorderly conduct, 10 days in city prison.

Joseph Aaron, colored, disorderly conduct, continued until to-morrow.

One white man, whose name we suppress by request, charged with disorderly conduct, was sent to the city prison for 10 days.

How to make home happy. Buy an Othellocock stove from JACOB'S Hdw. Depot.

Merry Wedding Bells.

The Star, of Charleston, W. Va., gives us a full and graphic account of the festivities and ceremonies attendant upon the wedding of our townsman, Mr. Rufus W. Hicks, and Miss Sallie M. Spears, near Charleston, on the 21st ult. We clip from the account as follows:

Society has been long on the qui vive at the approaching nuptials of Mr. Rufus W. Hicks to Miss Sallie Moore Spears, one of Kanawha's most lovely and popular daughters. After early hour Wednesday evening the invited guests began arriving at the grand old mansion at "Riverview," some five miles above the city on the northern bank of the Kanawha. Here for many, many years Col. John D. Lewis, the stepfather of the bride had resided, and had made it one of the finest country homes in the State, whose generous hospitality had become proverbial.

About one hundred guests were present, many of whom were from Virginia and North Carolina, and among the former Hon. W. A. Glasgow, of Virginia, uncle and guardian of the bride. Promptly at 9 o'clock the doors of the large reception room were opened and the bridal party entered in the order named: Mr. Charlie Coleman, preceding, and was followed by six little girls, three dressed in white and three in blue—Nellie Brown, Elizabeth Noyes, Annie Lewis, Bessie Dance, Helen Gallaher and Rebecca Brown, to each of whom was handed by Mr. Coleman, a broad ribbon suspended from a beautiful floral bell of ferns, camellias, roses and geraniums, hanging from the centre of the ceiling. The little Misses were arranged with their pendant ribbons so as to form a very picturesque avenue in which the bride and groom marched until reaching the marriage bell under which they were married. Then came the attendants—the first couple in rank coming last. Henry Winkler and Miss Mary Hill, J. L. Logan and Miss Mary Moore Brown, Hon. E. J. Hill and Miss Mary R. Houston, Dr. Wm. Tompkins and Miss J. Bowcock, Cam Lewis and Miss Mary L. Hicks; the groom following with his "best man," E. R. Hicks, and finally the bride leaning on the arm of her first maid of honor, Miss Bettie Glasgow, followed by the mother of the bride supported by Mr. W. A. Glasgow. Rev. J. C. Brown of the Presbyterian church at Maiden, assisted by Rev. J. C. Barr of the First Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony, which was brief and strikingly appropriate. The scene was a charming tableau in every detail. The bride was arrayed in a rich cream colored satin with broad velvet front and made on train, and flowing veil—ornaments, diamonds—while the groom was attired in full evening dress, as were his attendants. Two of the ladies were in white, two in pink and two ladies were in blue. The congratulations were hearty and fervid, for the bride has a large circle of devoted friends, wherever known. The groom is a prominent merchant in Wilmington, N. C., and is certainly to be congratulated. At 10 o'clock the dining room was opened, where the guests found a bountiful feast of "viands of various kinds to allure the taste," and refreshments of every kind. The presents were very rich and numerous and bore witness of the fond friends of the young couple. The affair was a good old fashioned Virginia wedding, which from our standpoint, is a most pleasing description. The arrangements of Mr. Coleman, who had charge, were superb. The bridal party left Thursday on the fast express to visit New York and elsewhere and will make their home in Wilmington, North Carolina.

Indications.

For the South Atlantic States fair weather, no decided change in temperature, and variable winds.

The receipts of cotton at this port today foot up 667 bales.

Personal.

Mrs. Thos. D. Pitts, with her children, is in the city for a few days, the guest of Mr. Charles H. King. Mrs. Pitts is on her way to Florida.

The venerable Mr. Luke McClammy, of Scott's Hill, was in the city to-day on one of his rare visits.

Messrs. Walters and Newcomer, of the Directory of the W. & W. and W. C. & A. R. Railroads, are in the city to-day and others of the Board will arrive to-night.

This Judicial District.

There is already much interest manifested as to who will be Judge McKoy's successor. Hon. D. K. McRae and Hon. A. M. Waddell, of this city, have both been spoken of for the position, as has also Col. E. T. Boykin, of Sampson county. The indications at this time seem to point to Col. Boykin and yesterday's Charlotte Observer claims to have information direct from Raleigh to the effect that Gov. Seales will appoint that gentleman. The News and Observer says that it is understood in Raleigh that the appointment would be made to-day.

Supreme Court.

In this Court, on Friday morning the consideration of appeals from this district was resumed and causes disposed of as follows:

Barksdale vs commissioners, from Sampson. Argued by Boykin & Faison, Battle & Mordecai for plaintiff, and E. C. Smith and attorney general for defendant.

Middleton vs Duffy et al., from Onslow. Batchelor and Devereux for plaintiff and Battle & Mordecai for defendant. Continuance struck out by consent, petition for certiorari, petition dismissed. This ends the consideration of appeals from the sixth district.

Just received a lot of burglar proof blind fasts. Call and see them at JACOB'S Hdw. Depot, and you will buy.

Our November Trade.

Opened with wholesome promise of a lively business and finds us thoroughly prepared: Our stock, notwithstanding the great rush we had, has been renewed, increased and strengthened when necessary and is now in splendid condition. Our enormous purchases from the largest clothing houses in the country this Fall enables us to give bargains in all grades of Clothing that others in the trade have found it impossible to approach. Hence it is that our trade has exceeded all former years. Should it become necessary, we can do still better, for we are determined to deserve and hold the patronage we have won and to increase it by all honorable and legitimate means. We have never published an untruth. We stand ready and prepared to discount in value quality and indispensible any house may offer in the State. SHUTZ, the Old Reliable Clothier, 114 Market street.

We have a large lot of glass for Hot-houses which we are offering low. JACOB'S Hdw. Depot.
