Thanksgiving.

Well, to-morrow is the day we all celebrate. It is Thanksgiving and Thanksgiving Day ranks next to Christmas and the Fourth. It is not a day of fast and penance for sins but one of praise and thanksgiving for the many mercies and blessings vouchsafed to us during the past year. This is, at all events, the character of the day as outlined, in the proclamation issued regularly about the first of November by the President and the Gov- Boucle, Tricot, ernors of the various States but in point of fact it has become of late days more of a holiday than anything else. Some few go to church but the majority, and a vast majority it is, take to the woods, With many it is a day, however, for those pleasant family reunoins which are looked forward to so eagerly in many households, when the scattered members of a family come home once more and nestle together in happiness and brotherly kindness under the broad shadow of the parental wing

It is meet, however, that all should give thanks on this day, either with the voice or with the heart, or with both. There has been much vouchsafed to us all as a people during the past year for which the heart should swell in thank, fulness to the Almighty Power which has vouchsafed to us so much of good -so much of peace and plenty and Another lot of RUGS by next Steamer. prosperity, far beyond our deserts.
