Three months, $1.00; One month, 35 cents. The paper will be delivered by carriers free of charge, in any part of the city, at the above rates, or 10 cents per week. Advertising rates low and liberal. Subscribers will report any and all failures to receive their paper regularly.

The Daily Review has the largest circulation of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

A laboratory to cost $100,000 is to be built at the Johns Hopkins University.

Cincinnati Enquirer: The logic of a Republican victory is the selection of Fisher for the Ohio Senatorship.

Twenty-five monuments to Napoleon I are standing in the cities of France, despite the Commune and revolution.

Mrs. Compton Reade is soon to appear on the English stage. Her first appearance is to be in the character of Desdemona.

Secretaries Endicott and Whitney discourage further attempts to reach the North Pole, saying such exploration are of no practical value.

Prince Colonna, who married Eva Mackey, has already spent all the money he got with the girl, and is bankrupted.

A letter in the Chicago Mail from New York says that in 1875 and the following year it was all that Mary Anderson's friends could do to keep her from becoming a nun.

Trenton State Gazette: William Walter Phelps is mentioned by our Washington correspondent as the possible Republican caucus nominee for Speaker of the House.

Egypt will probably be the scene of Mr. W. S. Gilbert's next satire, the author of "The Mikado" being, it is said, in the land of the Pharaohs at work on the text of an operetta.

The Humane Society of London has awarded a bronze medal to the American, Henry Wellcome, in recognition of his heroism in saving an American lady from drowning in the Thames.

London Life says: "I hear from a member of the National Casino at Buda Pesth that the winnings of the Prince of Wales there during his recent stay in the Hungarian capital amounted to a sum approaching half a million florins."

Springfield Union: A lot of Pennsylvania Democrats have gone to Washington to facilitate the transfer of the remaining offices to the Democrats. Mr. Randall is there for the winter, and intimates that he means to have a clean sweep before Congress assembles.

An epidemic of immorality seems to prevail at Logansport, Indiana. Here is a dispatch from that place on the 29th: "The sixth elopement of this month occurred to-day, when John Knapp, a butcher, went off with Mrs. Nora McCabe, leaving a wife and nine children."

"Of the wealth of the world," says a fanciful statistician, "$736,000,000 is owned by four men as follows: Mackay, $275,000,000; Rothschilds, $200,000,000; Vanderbilt, $175,000,000; and the Duke of Westminster, $86,000,000. Their income per minute is $25, $20, $18 and $7 respectively."

A memorial has been sent to President Cleveland by the New York Board of Trade asking that a national bankruptcy law be enacted as soon as possible. The memorial says that "it is most desirable that the abuses and gross inequities of administering insolvent estates, as they now exist under the various State laws, should be corrected and prevented by the enactment of one uniform law for one commercial people."

"Boy" preachers having become an old story, a "child" preacher just five years of age has appeared in Cartersville, Ga. He has not made a public debut yet, but exercises his peculiar gift in the village stores or wherever he can get an audience. The local reports say that his sermons are singularly impressive and eloquent, and that his hearers are often moved to tears. Georgia seems to be fertile in preachers, and this time appears to have beaten the record.

F. B. Culver, of Westfield, Chactauqua Co., N. Y. was afflicted with scrofulous eruption over the back and thigh, accompanied with nausea and neuralgic pain in the head, so severe that on one occasion he fell unconscious in the street. Physicians failing to do him good, he commenced using Braudreth's Pills—five every night for a week, then rested three days, and took five every night for another week, then two every night for thirty days. To his delight, at the end of that time, the eruptions had disappeared and all pain had gone. He continues to take one Pill occasionally as a precaution.

THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. IX. WILMINGTON, N. C. SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1885. NO. 277

In the Samaritan synagogue at Nablous is an altar covered with a veil of yellow silk, and within this altar is kept a manuscript, written, it is claimed, by Abishua, the son of Phineas, 3,500 years ago. It is seen by the congregation but once a year, when elevated above the priest's head on the day of atonement.

Washington Star: In most of the Catholic countries the use of wine and other liquors, as beverages, has been almost universal, and time out of mind the excellence of the wine cellar of monasteries has been proverbial. But within a few years a strong temperance movement has made headway in the Church in America. And now we are told that the whole authority of that Church is to be thrown against the grog-shop. If this be true, the temperance cause will have an ally whose strength can scarcely be over-estimated.

The recent establishment of a restaurant in Paris, in which all the waiters were dressed like convicts, suggested to some one else the idea of opening a restaurant in which the waiters would be habited as monks and the female servants as Sisters of Charity. The project got wind, however, and was received with such emphatic marks of disapproval by the public that it was abandoned. It is difficult to believe that sane business men can be guilty of such absurd tomfoolery, and it is pleasant to know that even Parisian public opinion has rebuked it.

The successor to Vice-President Hendricks will be a Republican and the Senate will name him.—Morning Star.

In that you are mistaken. There will be no successor to Vice-President Hendricks, either in the Senate or out of it. There is no power by which the vacancy can be filled. The law seems to ignore the office once it becomes vacant. There will be a President of the Senate chosen, just as there would have been had Mr. Hendricks survived, and this officer will preside at all deliberations of that body. He is in no sense a Vice-President. If President Cleveland should also die during the term then the President of the Senate will become Acting President without having once touched the Vice-Presidency.

There was no City Court this morning.

The storm signal was hoisted this morning.

There were no tramps at the guard house last night.

The weather moderated materially during last night.

The market was well supplied with meats of good quality this morning.

The moon enters on its last quarter at 43 minutes past 8 o'clock to-night.

If you need a meat cutter you can be supplied at JACOBI'S Hdw Depot.

There was one interment in Pine Forest Cemetery—an adult—this week.

JACOBI has well earned the reputation of keeping the best and cheapest Stoves. Call and see his stock before buying.

There were three interments in Oakdale Cemetery this week—one adult and two children.

This has been a miserable, disagreeable day for news gathering, and items have been distressingly scarce.

The Register of Deeds issued three marriage licenses this week, all of which were for colored couples.

There will be preaching at Brooklyn Hall by the Rev. J. W. Gurganious at 11 o'clock. A. M. Sunday morning.

Christmas is coming and many of the Christmas goods are already here, and the display is most tempting to the little ones.

A great lot of Gent's heavy Canton Flannel Drawers, from 40c and upwards, at the Wilmington Shirt Factory, 27 Market st. J. ELBACH, Prop.

There will be a "Magic Lantern" Exhibition at Luther Memorial building next Tuesday night, for the amusement of the children, and it promises to be a pleasant affair.

To-morrow is known in the Church calendar as Advent Sunday, the first Sunday in the Christian year. There are four Sundays in Advent, all just preceding Christmas Day.

The freight traffic on the Carolina Central Railroad is said to be unusually large, every train coming to the city being loaded to its utmost capacity.

The "Crazy Quilt" will be presented under the auspices of the Cornet Concert Club. Every one should help the Band and buy their clothing from DYER.

We hear it stated that there is a great deal of cotton in the country, along the line of the several railroads leading into the city, which is being held back in the hope of an advance in the price of the staple. We hope that the better prices may be realized.

John E. Taylor, the young colored man who has been for some years past Deputy Collector at this port, has opened a new boot and shoe store in Mr. Sol Bear's new building, on Princess street, where he will be pleased to see and serve the public in need of new understandings.

Indications.

For the South Atlantic States, cloudy weather, local rain, winds North-easterly, no decided change in temperature.

For Women.

Rev. Dr. Pritchard will preach at the First Baptist Church to-morrow night the fourth sermon of the series especially addressed to women. His subject will be, "Sarah, the Deferential Wife." These sermons, thus far, have been replete with interest and instruction.

Exports Foreign.

Br. Schooner Julia Elizabeth, Ingraham, cleared to-day for Harbor Island, W. I., with 12,000 feet lumber, 4 pairs window sash, 20 barrels flour, 2 barrels pitch, 2 barrels shingles, valued at $729.13, shipped by Messrs. Cronly & Morris. Sshr. Udnie Turner Keen, cleared for Posco, Porto Rico, with 287,715 feet lumber, valued at $4,613.62, shipped by Messrs. E. Kidder & Son, making a total of exports foreign amounting to $5,342.75.

From Conference.

From a postal card received here to-day from the M. E. Conference we learn that the Committee on Division of the Conference were to have reported last night. The committee stands twelve for division and seven against division. It was expected that a vote in the matter will be reached to-day and that the vote will be very close.

This subject has agitated the Conference for several years, many contending that it is now entirely too large and unwieldy, and it will probably continue to be a matter of discussion until it is eventually effected. At least, in our observation such has been the result generally in such controversies.

A Rag Baby.

The next entertainment at the Opera House will be on Tuesday and Wednesday nights next, with a Wednesday matinee, when a laughable farce with the above unique title will be presented. It was written by Mr. C. H. Hoyt, the author of that exceedingly funny farce, the "Bunch of Keys," which was presented here last year. The Kansas City Times, in speaking of this new candidate in the theatrical world for popular favor, says:

"That 'Rag Baby' show is something really unique in its way. We won't discuss its literary merit, but will only remark that there is not a dull line in it, or a situation which is not excruciatingly funny. I suspect the company has something to do with its fine success, for the people who play it are artists in their line. The dog, Handsome, is a thoroughbred English bull, 8 years old, and probably the ugliest brute alive. He is thoroughly good natured, however, and is a great pet with the ladies. Mr. Hoyt paid $200 for him."

The Hunter's.

Some of the gunners who went into the country to slaughter sparrows, squirrels and other wild game on Thanksgiving Day were successful, and some were not. One party who went to the neighborhood of Rocky Point were so fortunate as to kill a fine deer, which is the only prize yet reported of any material value. Others had to content themselves with a few birds or a few squirrels.

Capt. Wooster.

The Raleigh News and Observer speaks thus feelingly in writing of the death of that lamented gentleman, Capt. Wooster:

We note the death, at his residence in Wilmington, of Capt. John L. Wooster, one of the most elegant and scholarly gentlemen in the State. He was a man of the highest character and of singular purity of life. Modest and retiring as a woman, he was yet as gallant a soldier and suffered agony until the day of his death from a wound received in doing battle for the State. He was little known perhaps, but he was as true a son as North Carolina possesses, and in his death the State loses a man of letters of whom it had reason to be proud.

Literary.

We have received from the publishers, Messrs Houghton, Mifflin & Co., through the courtesy of Mr. P. Heinsberger, one of the latest productions of the facile pen of Charles Egbert Craddock (Miss Murfree) entitled, "The Tennessee Mountains." It is a fiction describing much of the scenery of that wild and romantic section of our country and the characters, mostly rough and uncouth mountaineers, are made to converse in the dialect common to the uneducated of that locality. The tale is told with graphic force and is unflaggingly interesting throughout. Why the gifted and talented young authoress should have adopted a masculine nom de plume is a mystery for, although much of the work might with safety be attributed to the sterner and rougher sex, there are many exquisite passages which betray the tender and refined sensibilities of a pure and cultured woman. Among the notable things in the story is the transition from the coarse, uncouth and wicked words and acts of many of the characters to the elegant and chaste diction with which the authoress describes scenes and events are clothed. It is a rare book whose merits cannot well be told in a short review, and is a work well worthy the exalted position which the fair authoress has already attained in the literary world.

Why Will You?

Throw away ten, fifty—yes, one hundred dollars or more every year when you can save that amount by trading with SHRIER, who is always ready to show goods? And it does not cost a cent to see them. It is only a matter of five minutes' time, and we are willing to stand or fall in any sensible man's opinion on the result. The fact is, that while we have been for years in business, we never saw the time when people looked so closely at goods as they do to-day, and nothing ever pleases us better, for our clothing, as everybody admits is all the choicest in style and quality. All we have to prove to the most suspicious buyer is that our prices are the lowest, and this is why we want every one to come and see our offers. We have only one thing to say, and that is, we guarantee to give you full value for your money every time, and will refund money if you are dissatisfied. Call and convince yourself of the fact.

North Carolina Conference.

THIRD DAY.
(Reported for the Daily Review.)
CHARLOTTE, Friday, Nov. 27th.
Divine service conducted by Rev. T. H. Pegram, after which Mr. Palmer, the manager of the publishing house at Nashville, was introduced, and addressed the conference.

The various committees are at work, and by to-morrow will have some very interesting matters for conference consideration. The following ministers were received on trial into the conference: W. S. Davis, Chas. J. Soob, Solomon Pool, Jas. M. Downum, Geo. W. Fisher, Jas. A. Forker, Robt. M. Taylor, Jas. A. Green, B. G. Rawling, Thos. B. Lovin, Wm. H. Townsend, W. O. Hytower, M. C. Best, W. A. Bonner, R. B. Gilliam, N. H. Guyton. Rev. Dr. Lafferty, editor of Richmond Christian Advocate, was introduced and addressed the conference. The collection yesterday for the Oxford Orphan Asylum amounted to $112.

METHODIST.

There will be preaching in English, to-morrow, both morning and night, in St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church by Rev. F. W. E. Peschau, the pastor.
