THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. IX. WILMINGTON, N. C. WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 2, 1885. NO. 280.

The Daily Review has the largest circulation of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

Extensive improvements will be made next year at Mount Vernon by the ladies in charge.

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad station in Philadelphia is to be after the plan of that at Charing Cross, London, with a fine hotel at one end.

A Somerville, Mass., teacher punished a little boy by making him hold red pepper in his mouth. Burns were caused which resulted in illness and death.

A statue recently discovered in the bed of the Tiber proves to be a Bacchus. He stands six feet high, is cast in bronze, with ivory eyes, is exquisitely modelled, and in excellent preservation.

Paper is now used as material for picture frames. The pulp, mixed with glue, oil and whiting, is run into moulds and hardened, after which it may be gilded or bronzed in the usual way.

A doukey which there seems every reason to believe was more than a hundred years old died lately at Cromerty, Scotland. Since 1779 it had been in the family of a Mr. Ross, and how old it was when it came to that family is not known.

It is estimated that Connecticut will pay more revenue tax upon cider brandy this year than upon all the tobacco industries. In Western Massachusetts thousands of barrels of apples are rotting on the ground, though an enormous quantity of cider was made.

The megalscope is a new apparatus lately brought to the notice of the Academie des Sciences. It is armed with an incandescent light, and is used to explore the stomach, bladder, and other cavities of the body. By its means an objective lens may be carried into the cavity and a magnified image of its interior be obtained for the physician's inspection.

While King Humbert of Italy was shooting in the park at Monza his gun missed fire, and when he put in another cartridge and fired he received such a shock that he thought the gun had burst and broken his arm. It was found that the first bullet had not issued from the gun, and the second occasioning a block, it was only the excellence of the gun that prevented it from bursting.

The French Minister of Public Instruction is doing all he can to put a premium on large families. An old law of the Convention has already been revived whereby every ninth child of a family is educated free, and now it has been decided that in the case of the lycee, or high schools, the fees should be reduced when several brothers attend.

The manufacture of mild steel by the Bessemer process has, it is said, been so greatly reduced in cost in England that steel ships and iron ships of the same class have come to be offered at precisely the same price. This possibility, it is remarked, arises largely from the fact that a steel ship of a given strength can be made of much lighter weight than one of iron.

Rutland (Vt) papers tell the story of a farmer in that neighborhood, a widower and well to do, who not long ago wrote to a woman near by whom he had never seen, describing his circumstances. He told her that if he did not hear from her to the contrary within two weeks he would call with a minister and marry her. No letter came, and he carried out his threat at the appointed time.

There is a remarkable lull in the English real estate market. The fact is that so many who have tried to sell have found the attempt hopeless, except at an enormous sacrifice, that others are deterred from it. So people live in big houses with a few servants, awaiting events. In some cases half the house is shut up, and the kitchen gardens, bothouses, &c., are leased to the gardener.

Prime Minister Estrup of Denmark is credited with a long cherished design to imitate Prince Bismarck in his anti-socialistic policy, and Rasmussen's attempt on his life will give him a good excuse to begin the work. The leading Danish Socialist paper sells 23,000 copies a day, and it is remarkable that socialism is found equally among the rural and urban populations. The former assisted the latter by giving a home gratis to their children during a recent great strike.

A Justice of the Peace in Groton, Conn., was obliged, not long ago, to content himself with a kiss from the bride in lieu of a marriage fee. He has now put up a placard "Terms cash."

The remains of Vice President Hendricks were duly interred yesterday at Indianapolis. The city was thronged with strangers and the esteem in which the distinguished deceased was universally held was plainly manifested. Committees from both Houses, and Cabinet officials, were present, but President Cleveland did not leave Washington.

The receipts of cotton at this port today foot up 779 bales.

Three white tramps were lodged at the guard house last night.

If you need a meat cutter you can be supplied at JACOB'S Hdw. Depot.

F. W. King, in the New Market building, sells New River oysters in the original packages.

A great lot of Gent's heavy Canton Flannel Drawers, from 40c and upwards, at the Wilmington Shirt Factory, 27 Market st. J. ELSBACH, Prop.

We regret very much to learn of the suspension of the Goldsboro Argus. It was a bright, newsy paper and we shall miss its welcome daily visits.

Prince Mack, colored, was brought before the Mayor this morning charged with disorderly conduct. Owing to his hitherto good reputation, he was let off with a fine of $3.

Food cannot be properly cooked, in a poor stove, so don't blame your cook but go to JACOB'S Hdw. Depot and buy one of his fine stoves. Then you will have Peace, Comfort, and Happiness at home.

The Cornet Concert Club is a musical organization to which the public of this city are much indebted for many enjoyable musical treats. Show your appreciation by going to the performances of Crazy Quilt, and buying several tickets and let your friends enjoy the show.

Indications. For the South Atlantic States, generally fair weather, clearing in the extreme Northeast portion, North to West winds and nearly stationary temperature.

Show Fall. There was quite a fall of snow at Goldsboro to-day, but it did not reach far South of that city. Somehow there seems to be a "mighty onsartinty" about the weather predictions recently, and the weather bureau has become about as good authority as a last year's almanac.

L. S. of the W. L. I. There was a very pleasant meeting last night of the Literary Society of the Wilmington Light Infantry. A number of new volumes were received as donations to the library, which is now fast assuming handsome proportions. It has been suggested that the Veteran and Honorary corps of the Company should take an interest in the society and aid it with donations of books and encourage it by their presence at its meetings.

Why Will You? Throw away ten, fifty—yes, one hundred dollars or more every year when you can save that amount by trading with SHERRIE, who is always ready to show goods? And it does not cost a cent to see them. It is only a matter of five minutes' time, and we are willing to stand or fall in any sensible man's opinion on the result. The fact is, that while we have been for years in business, we never saw the time when people looked so closely at goods as they do to-day, and nothing ever pleases us better, for our clothing, as everybody admits is all the choicest in style and quality. All we have to prove to the most suspicious buyer is that our prices are the lowest, and this is why we want every one to come and see our offers. We have only one thing to say, and that is, we guarantee to give you full value for your money every time, and will refund money if you are dissatisfied. Call and convince yourself of the fact.

Christmas Celebration. The Sunday School at Wesley Chapel, corner of Fifth and Wooster streets, will celebrate the approaching Christmas festival by vocal and instrumental music, tableaux and recitations suitable to the occasion. The programme, so far as it has been determined upon, is entirely appropriate and will be a great aid in making the entertainment interesting and enjoyable.

Exports Foreign. Ger. barque Melcor, Voss, cleared to day for Liverpool with 2,350 bales cotton, valued at $101,900, shipped by Messrs. Alex. Sprunt & Son. Swed. barque Vulcan, Lenander, cleared for Monte Video, for orders, with 324,695 feet lumber, valued at $5,926 48, shipped by Messrs. E. Kidder & Son, making a total of exports foreign amounting to $107,826 48.

Personal. Mr. A. B. Bennett, agent of the Belia Moore Comedy Co., is in the city to-day and gave us the pleasure of a call. The company will appear here on the 9th and 10th inst., in a play entitled "A Mountain Pink," the scenes of which are laid in North Carolina.

Dr. Frank Boyette, of Clinton, Sampson county, is in the city to-day with a view of making Wilmington his permanent residence where he will establish himself in the practice of dentistry. Mr. O. G. Parsley has received his commission as postmaster of this city, but it will be several days before he will enter upon the duties of the position. The names of those who will occupy subordinate positions under Postmaster Parsley have not yet been fully determined upon further than that Col. James G. Burr will hold the most prominent and responsible place.

A Rough Journey. An aged man by the name of Piner, with his equally aged wife, living in Carteret county, have relatives at Wrightsville Sound whom they wished to visit, and to accomplish that object they started a week or two ago in an open boat and made the entire journey through the Sound, a distance of nearly 150 miles, arriving safely at their place of destination in due season. While at Wrightsville they concluded to pay a visit to Mr. John Quinn, living at No. 513 North Seventh street, who was an old acquaintance, and trudged on foot to this city and are now the guests of Mr. Quinn. When they are ready to return they will trudge back to Wrightsville and thence by boat to their home in Carteret. This would be considerable of an undertaking for young people in the full prime of vigorous manhood and womanhood, and for a couple who have passed the allotted period of three score and ten it is a formidable task. We wish them a safe return to their home.

A Rag Baby. There was a large, fashionable and cultured audience at the Opera House last night to witness the rendition of the new theatrical candidate for popular favor entitled "A Rag Baby." The play had been well advertised, and it was expected that it would exceed anything in the mirth-provoking line that had been presented here this season. But in this there was some disappointment, for while in many of its parts it was intensely ludicrous and laughter-provoking, there was a good deal that was strained and far-fetched. The actors and actresses generally did well, but the fault was in the play. It had not half the merit, and consequently did not afford the performers half the chance for effective and telling work as did its predecessor. The "Bunch of Keys," by the same author. Sport, as a comedian, was good and Venus, as a soubrette, was lively and vivacious, but for the life of us we could not see what particular attraction was created by the presence of the dog Handsome. The dancing was fair and the same might be said of the singing—"only this and nothing more." Still there was a good deal of solid, hearty laugh in the piece, and the audience were kept in the best of humor by the occasional bursts of irresistible drollery. The gag, "Grab it quick," which seemed to be thrown out as a "hit," amounted to but little, and might as well be dropped. An excellent violinist accompanies the troupe. As a matter of fact the piece itself is a trifle—mere dramatic syllabub, made to tickle the fleeting palate of the moment and nothing else. In this it was successful and the company, which is a really good one, worked it for all it is worth. It is pretty full of fun, though, and that fills the bill. It will be presented again to-night and for the last time here.

Abandoned. The signal station at Scott's Hill, Pender county, has been abandoned and the property attached to the office has been packed up and shipped to headquarters at Washington, D. C. No reason has been assigned for the abandonment of that station, and we have been under the impression that it subserved a good purpose.

Published by request of Col Lamb J. Mrs. Greenough's Satchel. NORFOLK, VA., Nov. 30th, 1885. H. A. McFACHERN, Esq., Chadbourn, N. C.

Dear Sir:—On my return from attending the Harbor Convention in Savannah, I find your letter of the 24th. Mrs. Rose Greenough, the celebrated female spy of the Southern Confederacy was drowned in attempting to run the blockade at Fort Fisher, in the British steamship "Condor." The steamer grounded in attempting to cross the bar and Mrs. Greenough, in opposition to the wishes of Capt. Hawitt, insisted on being sent ashore in a boat. The boat was capsized in the breakers and Mrs. Greenough was caught underneath and drowned. Her body was recovered and tenderly cared for and sent to Wilmington for burial.

She left two orphan children, young girls, in France to be educated and as her means were limited care was taken to save all of her effects for their benefit. Her trunks, which had gotten wet, were opened and the articles carefully dried under a strict guard. One of the soldiers who found her body brought me a small satchel, which he represented was fastened to her neck, containing one hundred sovereigns (gold coin worth $4.84 cents each). There was no check on England in the satchel, as you have heard, nor do I think there could have been one found about her person, as it would have been valueless except endorsed by her legal administrator, who would have heard of it.

When I had secured all of the unfortunate lady's effects, I communicated with President Davis and he got Wm. Albright, Esq., of Wilmington, N. C., to administer on the estate and I turned over all the money and property to him, taking his receipt for the same. I should judge from your letter that some soldier had charged Lieut. H. D. Williamson with appropriating some of the contents of the satchel. This is not only unkind, but most contemptible, for I am sure there was no one in my command who would have taken anything from the poor orphan girls of this Confederate heroine. The records of the Clerk's office in Wilmington will doubtless show the carefully taken inventory of Mrs. Greenough's effects and this money was all returned to the children, as well as their mother's wardrobe, jewelry and other articles which were found on her person and with her baggage. Yours truly, WILLIAM LAMB, Formerly Confederate Commander of Fort Fisher.
