There was no City Court this morning.

The receipts of cotton at this port today foot up 380 bales.

The storm has passed and we are now blessed with fair weather and a bracing atmosphere.

Two white tramps and one colored tramp were accommodated with lodgings at the guard house last night.

Messrs. John F. Garrell & Son, at the Fourth Street Market, have a handsome and attractive ad. in this issue, to which we invite attention.

Swed. barque Liana, Andersen, cleared to day for Bristol, Eng., with 950 casks spirits turpentine and 1,245 barrels rosin, valued at $17,944, shipped by Messrs Paterson, Downing & Co.

The ladies of the congregation of Temple Israel are making active preparations for a fair which they will give at the City Hall on the nights of the 29th, 30th and 31st inst., which they intend shall be an interesting occasion.

The proprietors of the new toy store on North Front street, in Capt. Boat-wright's old stand, advertise in this issue. They have a beautiful and attractive stock of Christmas goods there, which they are selling at low prices.

We saw this morning a set of photographs, three in number, executed by Mr. C. M. VanOrsdell, formerly of this city, but now of Orangeburg, S. C., which were beautiful pictures and handsomely executed. They remind us of some of the superb work executed by his father in this city years ago.

Reward of Merit.
Capt. F. M. James, who for several years has devoted much of his time in securing Thanksgiving and Christmas gifts for the worthy and needy poor of the city, has been presented by Mr. S.
H. Fishblate with a fine, nice and substantial suit of clothes as a partial reward for his self-sacrificing labors.— Capt. James desires to express publicly his thanks to the generous hearted donor for the valuable gift.

"The Last Hymn."
For the pleasure of those who would like to have the words of "The Last Hymn," so beautifully and touchingly rendered by Miss Janie G. Savage, at the Opera House last night, we have published it on the third page of this issue. We consider it a piece of rare good fortune that we happened to have a copy of the Hymn and thus have an opportunity of presenting it to our readers, many of whom, we are assured, will be glad to secure and preserve it.

Tobacco in Laurinburg.
We understand that Capt. Frank Biz-zell, of Laurinburg, who by the way is now postmaster of that thriving town, will go into the cultivation of tobacco largely next season and that a number of other farmers in that locality are also thinking of planting it. As the color of the soil in which it is grown gives its color to the leaf, it seems to us that the lands near Laurinburg will produce an excellent article and we believe that those who try it will find more money in one acre of tobacco than in three acres of cotton.

Table and Pocket Cutlery Carrying Knives and Forks, Razors, Scissors, Shears, Corkscrews, etc., etc. We have a fine line of reliable goods. Give us a call before looking elsewhere. JACO-BI'S Hdw. Depot.

Shrier as Santa Claus.
"You may just say to the people of your acquaintance," said SHRIER, the Old Reliable Clothier, "that I am going to play Santa Claus this season and will distribute from my headquarters the following appropriate things for presents: An overcoat of fine beaver, or a dress suit, a business suit, a boy's suit, or a child's suit, silk handkerchiefs, driving gloves, dress gloves, furnishing goods, &c., &c." Just invite Santa Claus to call at our store, 114 Market street, and see the things I have selected for Santa Claus.

For the Lally Review. CAMILLA URSO'S PLAYING.

BY G. M. HOBBS.
Sweet sounds I hear;
They fill my ear
With music so divine
It doth appear That heaven is near;
Though one I can't define.

My powers of speech Can never reach
A sentiment so high;
So I beseech
That you will each One ask me not to try.

An Exquisite Entertainment.

It was a stormy evening but that seemed to have very little effect in keeping one of the most refined, cultured and appreciative audiences we have ever seen in the Opera House from the enjoyment of one of the finest, and most elegant musical and literary entertainments we have ever attended.
The novelty of hearing a female violinist may have induced a few to attend, but a large proportion of the ladies and gentlemen present were real lovers of the refined in music and art and were well able to form a correct opinion of the merits of the several artists. The fact was demonstrated last night if never before that the culture and refinement of Wilmington fully appreciate and are ever ready to pay cheerful tribute in the real science of art. Of course Camilla Urso, the female violinist, was the central figure of attraction, and although her name and fame as a violin virtuosa had been the subject of inquiry and comment among our people for the past few weeks, and all were expecting an elegant performance, yet we are confident that none in the house were prepared for the marvelous skill which she displayed. It was a revelation to all.
Her power and skill with that "king of instruments," held regal sway over the hearts and souls of all present, until all seemed to live and breathe in the varied emotions produced by the tones which came at her bidding. The audience were spell bound and fairly entranced as the strains, liquid, pure and sweet, now soft as the breath of a sleeping babe and now rolling and surging and dashing like the roar of a cataract, came from the obedient violin. We never saw an audience so silent during a performance as that of last night, but when the last note had been given and the wonderful woman was retiring from the stage the pent up admiration burst forth in one long peal of applause. It was a tribute of appreciation which would not be controlled. With a good nature equal to her skill, the fair violinist responded cheerfully to the rapturous calls of the audience, until, instead of giving four pieces, as announced in the bills, she gave eight.

The vocal efforts of Miss Alice May Esty were remarkably pure and sweet and displayed a consummate skill only to be attained by an excellent musician after a most thorough and careful training. She is possessed of a fine presence, a sweet face and a voice of rare excellence, strength and purity of tone.
She was repeatedly encored and responded cheerfully to the calls made upon her.

Miss Janie G. Savage, the elocution-ist, was also an interesting and attractive feature of the occasion. Her rendition of "The Last Hymn" was singularly exquisite and her other recitations were extremely good. Perhaps she would have done better by substituting some selections for the two which were rendered in the Scotch dialect, as many of the audience were not familiar with its peculiarities.

Mr. Tabbutt, the tenor, did not meet the expectations of some nor the hopes of many.

Mr. August Sauret, the pianist, was an excellent performer, yet we fear that his efforts were not fully appreciated. The piano was not suitable for an entertainment of that kind, and while it has a good tone in the orchestra, it had upon the stage a dull "tin pan" sound that was not at all pleasant. The artist, however, showed himself to be master of the instrument and his technique was superb. But it was as an accompanist that he became conspicuous as a musician of high order and a genuine artist in his profession.

The artists must have been gratified at the reception given them by a Wilmington audience and we feel that we but echo the sentiments of our people when we say to them in the language of the poet, "Come again."

A great lot of Gent's heavy Canton Flannel Drawers, from 40c and upwards, at the Wilmington Shirt Factory, 27 Market st., J. ELSBACH, Prop.
