intered at the Postoffire at Wilmington, N. C. as second-class matter.

The National Capitol at Washington has cost, up to date, $13 100,000, while the State Capitol at Albany, N. Y., has cost $18,000,000, and it is estimated that before the design is fully carried ut as to the building itself and the ad. incent grounds and subsidiary struc tuacs, the expenditure on the Albany building will be not less than $22,000 .-000 The original estimate was $4,-000 000. The contrast between the cost of the Capitol at Washington and the one at Albany puts the latter at a great disadvantage, as the national Capitol is very much the finer. The Albany building is of course, an exceedingly handsome one, but the big difference between the estimated and the real cost shows an immense margin for extrayagance and jobbery.

A latter in the San Francisco Chronscle from the Yellowsione Park, ceser bes a road of glass: "By and by we reached the obsidian cliffs, a biuff from 150 to 250 feet in height and 1 000 feet in length. As it was necessary to build a carriage way under this cliff, and, in deed, across it. Col. Norris accomplish ed it by building huge fires upon the largest masses and then dashing cold I ever found. I assure you, it is the water upon the heated surface which, only thing that ever relieved me of a being suddenly couled, were shattered into fragments that were easily moved, and thus the road bad is composed of broken obsidian or volcanic glass. The glass oozes from the rocks like gum from a tree. It is almost black, quite opaque, and the edges of it, when chips ped off at a proper ang e, are as sharp as razors. Of it the Indians tashioned arrow heads, weapons and tools. The supply seems inexhaus ible."

Princeton R view, gives the following estimate of the character of General Mc Clellan, on whose staff he served during the first part of the civil war: McClellan was the first to show appre ciation of the qualities of his enemies. This respect for his adversaries (an essential quality in a great military commander) was in him the result of old personal intimacies with some of them but still more, the result of a keen sense of justice joined to a mild Lining to Every Cloud; Strangers Yet firmness of character and temperance of spirit; and in setting an example in this to others he accomplished a brilliant stroke of policy-he prepared the Army of the Potomac to appreciate Ask your Druggist for "CHICHESTER'S IN. the Army of the Potomac to appreciate stamps) to us for particulars in letter by raturn mail. The reduction of internal revenue and the taking off of revenue stamps from Proprietary Medicices, no doubt has largely benefited the consumers, as well as relieving the burden of home manufacturers. Especially is this the case with Green's August Flower and Boschee's G rman Syrup, as the reduction of thirty six cents per dezen, has been added to increase the size of the ment at home, the whole of the time or for bottles containing these remedies, thereby giving one fith more medicine in earn from 50 cents to $5 00 per eventeg, and a the 75 cent siz. This medicine combines Iron with pure vegetable tonics, and is invaluable for Diseases peculiar to Women, and all who lead sedentary lives. It Enriches and Purifies the Blood, Stimulates the Appetite, Strengthens the Muscles and Nerves—in fact, thoroughly Invigerates.

Clears the complexion, and makes the skin smooth, It does not blacken the teeth, cause headache, or produce constipation—all other Iron medicines do.

Mrs. ELIZABETH BAIRD, 74 Farwell Ave., Milwankee, Wis., says, under date of Dec. 26th, 1884:

"I have used Brown's Iron Bitters, and it has been more than a doctor to me, having cured me of the weakness ladies have in life. Also cured me of Liver Complaint, and now my complexion is clear and good. Has also been beneficial to my children."

Mrs. Louisa C. Bragdon, East-Lockport, N. Y., says: "I have suffered untold misery from Female Complaints, and could obtain relief from nothing except Brown's Iron Bitters."

HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE has been called "the model of what a periodical for young readers ought to be," and the justice of this readers ought to be," and the justice of this commendation is amply sustained by the large circulation it has attained both at nome and in Great Britain. This success has been reached by methods that must commend themselves to the judgment of parents, no less than to the tastes of children—namely, by an earnest and well sustained effort to provide the best and most attractive reading for young people at a low price. The illustrations are copieus and of a corspicuously high standard of excellence.
