A Chicago speculator sold 50,000,000 bushels of wheat on a capital of $5,000.

"Sunset" Cox is a very sick man, although no serious fears are yet entertained. We hope soon to hear of his improvement.

The Democrats in Indiana have scored a very important point. A decision of the lower Court, enables them to retain the President of the Senate. The Rada have appealed.

It is proposed to establish a college for Japanese women at Tokio, with English teachers, and the Japanese promoters are desirous that the teachers should convert their pupils to the Christian faith. They openly say that Buddhism is powerless to raise a nation.

The Commercial Bulletin shows the reduction of the public debt this year to have been $100,832,000, against $83,516,000 last year. The revenue was $351,133,000, against $326,687,000. The expenses were $258,236,000, against $257,256,000 last year. The gold held at the end of 1886 was $281,310,852 against $256,437,355 last year.

There seems to be no immediate prospect of a settlement of the differences existing between the tobacco firm of Lorillard & Co. of Jersey City, and their 3,000 employees who went out last Friday. The strikers declare that they will not return to work until the firm dismisses from their employ the obnoxious foreman, Brown, who, they declare, has been the cause of all the trouble.

The balance in the Alabama State treasury, January 1, was $143,363. This is $40,000 more than was in the treasury at the corresponding date last year, and all the money for the payment of the January interest has been withdrawn and forwarded to the points of payment. The taxes of the past year were collected under the six mill rate, while those of the preceding year were under the six and a half mill rate.

The man who framed the original legal-tender act is still living. His name is E. G. Spaulding, of Buffalo. He is nearly eighty years of age. At the breaking out of the war he was a leading member of the lower house of Congress. His famous bill, known as the legal-tender act, was slightly altered by Secretary Chase and Mr. Lincoln before its introduction. The original bill is now in the possession of its author. Mr. Spaulding is a bank president and is worth $10,000,000.

A little book has just appeared in New York entitled the "Social Register," which is a well arranged list of the members of New York society, with their residences, club addresses and other useful information, but its best feature is an accompanying model of a monthly social bulletin, which it is announced will be sent to all subscribers throughout the year and which will give, as far as is possible, all removals and changes of residence, departures, marriages and deaths, and coming social events.

John S. Wise is telling how the Republicans were victorious in Virginia at the recent election and how they can carry the State in 1888. He says that he will work for the nomination of John Sherman for President, but that he will support Blaine if he is nominated.

The vintage this year in France is poor in quantity and bad in quality. The falling off may be estimated from these figures: 1885 1,820,000 gallons; 1886, 553,023,000 gallons. Eleven years ago France exported fifteen bottles to every one that she imported; now she imports four to every one she exports.

Dr. Samuel B. Ward, of Albany, who is one of President Cleveland's most intimate friends, is quoted as having said that the President's rheumatism is muscular and not at all dangerous. The President suffered from such attacks as the present one when in the north woods with the doctor.

The Hon. John M. Hewitt, who has just been elected Speaker of the Arkansas Legislature, went through the late war as captain of a company of Federal troops. Of the 127 members of the Legislature, 70 are Confederate veterans and only five were on the side of the North.

Brig. Gen. W. B. Hazen, Chief Signal Officer, died at Washington City on Sunday evening, rather suddenly. He had been suffering with diabetes for some years but of late had improved. He was abroad on Saturday and expected to be in his office on Monday. He was in his 57th year.

It was not clearly proved that Cluverius saw Miss Madison in Richmond on that fateful March 13th, and with the doubt hanging over the matter his positive denial of it during the last moments of his life will carry with it much of conviction to the minds of fair-minded, charitably-inclined Christian people.

The sugar planters of Louisiana, after several meetings, have concluded that the proper thing to do to revive their drooping industry is to establish central factories. It is conceded that the plantation sugar factories must give way to the large central factory, with its modern machinery and labor saving appliances, which would increase the amount of sugar obtained from the cane.

There is material for a century of children's books in the adventures of Ahmed Ben Abmar, who was recently rewarded with the cross of the Legion of Honor for bravery as a lion killer. In Algeria, in twenty-six years, he killed over 300 lions. One lion is estimated to destroy 10,000 francs' worth of capital annually and to keep it up for ten years at least; so the lion-killer saved Algeria about 20,000,000 francs.

A young Irish sailor named Welch, in the United States navy, is credited with having invented a remarkable and complete life buoy. It is a circular belt in which are mounted six vertical hollow tubes. These are each filled, first, with Greek fire in sufficient quantity to burn fifty seconds; second, with Roman candles that explode every ten seconds, and third, with a sort of rocket to which are attached life lines. These, as the rocket explodes, are projected in six different directions, giving the drowning man as many chances for his life.

Bro Bonitz, of the Goldsboro Messenger, thinks as we do in regard to the judicial murder in Richmond last Friday. He says: The case of Cluverius has been much discussed in this city since the execution. Some think he was guilty, some think that he was innocent, and many think that the evidence was insufficient to convict him. Certainly there was and is doubt that he committed murder and the fact that a man has been hanged under such doubtful circumstances is enough to make every good citizen tremble for safety. Truly it is better that ninety-nine guilty persons should escape than that one innocent one should suffer.

The cheapest place to buy your school books and school stationery is at Heinsberger's.

Tax Settlement.
Sheriff Manning last night settled in full with the County Commissioners for the taxes of the county for the year 1886. He paid over as follows: State taxes $17,166.93; county taxes and school fund, $15,902.81; general fund, $33,468.25. Total, $66,537.99.

On to Asheville.
We see, by a little article in the Asheville Citizen, that Capt. F. J. Moncure, the engineer, has written to a gentleman in that city that he is ready to make the preliminary examination of the survey of the railway line between Asheville and Rutherfordton, pursuant to an order to that effect from the authorities of the Carolina Central road.

The Blizzard.
There is cold weather all around us, and it signs do not fail to-morrow morning will be much colder than it was this morning. During the twenty-four hours ended at 7 o'clock this morning the thermometer had fallen 45 degrees at Pittsburgh, Pa.; 36 degrees at Buffalo, N. Y., and 33 degrees at Vicksburg, Miss., with a corresponding decline at nearly all other points.

Entertainment.
The ladies of St. Agnes' Guild will give another of their entertainments at St. James' School Room to-morrow night. There will be vocal solos by some of the best amateur talent of the city, recitations, and the pantomime of Bluebeard. Added to these attractions refreshments of all kinds and of the best quality will be served to hungry and thirsty mortals by the fair hands of beautiful ladies. The managers are making every preparation to insure the success of the entertainment, intending to make it equal and, if possible, superior to any of its predecessors. We bespeak for the ladies a hearty and liberal patronage.

Charleston, S. C.
We have received a short sketch of Charleston, S. C., and how it fared in two wars and an earthquake, which has recently been published by the Atlantic Coast Line. It is a well and pleasantly written work and correct in its historic data. There are several well executed illustrations of the ruins caused by the earthquake, which leads us to rejoice that we were not present upon that memorable and disastrous occasion. The sketch also contains a fine map of the Atlantic Coast Line and its connections, which makes the work valuable to the tourist and traveller.

The Weather.

The weather yesterday was decidedly mixed. There was sunshine during the day, although the wind was too strong for real comfort. Towards night it became colder, the wind shifted, heavy clouds rolled up and before 7 o'clock it was raining hard. The rain soon turned to sleet and the sleet was followed by "big hominy" snow, after which there was rain again. All this occurred before 10 o'clock at night. The thermometer was falling all the time and continued to fall after the storm had abated, until this morning, when we had good, hard winter weather.

Toothsome Things.
Mr. T. E. Wallace, at the Gem Saloon, made a handsome exhibit in his show window to-day, of things good for the inner man, as has ever been displayed South of Baltimore. There is handsome Western beef there, flanked by oysters, snipes and giblets; a saddle of venison, supported by wild ducks and woodcocks; a big fat turkey, with pork chops and brook trout to set it off, and other nice things which we cannot recollect now. The whole was arranged by Mr. Walker Moore, one of the most experienced caterers in the city.

Military.
The Wilmington Light Infantry will celebrate the anniversary of the organization of the company in May next, and it is the desire of the members of the corps to invite the field officers and the several companies comprising the Second Regiment to join with them upon that occasion, and have a regular encampment for two or three days. Steps are being taken towards the accomplishment of this purpose, although no decided action has as yet been made. It is proposed, however, that the encampment shall be held near the head of Market street, where there is a very suitable place, not only for camping purposes, but for parade and drill. It is also proposed that the encampment shall be under the regular rules of military discipline, and that some time during its continuance there shall be a competitive drill for one or more prizes. We learn that in view of the proposed encampment the several railroads and steamboats leading into the city will make very reasonable rates for the visiting military, and they will also probably make excursion rates for civilians who would like to come to the city to witness the display.

We hope that the wishes of the Infantry may be realized, and that they may find no serious stumbling block to hinder them. The project, if successfully and fully carried out, would be of decided advantage to Wilmington. Many people would be brought here who would otherwise stay at home or go somewhere else. Every person who came would leave more or less money with the merchants, boarding house and hotel keepers. New acquaintances would be formed, with the probability that new channels of future trade would be opened to prove an enduring benefit to the city.

To make the proposed encampment a success money will be needed; not a large amount, but more than the members of the company could pay without distressing themselves. As a body they are not rich, save in robust health and manly strength; but they are not found wanting, as was evidenced by the alacrity with which they turned out and did faithful and important duty by protecting the property of our citizen during the disastrous fire of February 21st, 1866. In carrying out successfully their plan for the proposed encampment they will need funds, and we hope that our citizens will cheerfully and generously respond to the calls that will be probably made upon them for contributions to this entirely laudable and worthy object.

Imported suitings will be closed out at a very small figure at MUNSON'S.

Inflammation of the Kidneys.
BAZAR, CHASE CO., KANSAS, Feb. 13, 1891. I have been afflicted with chronic inflammation of the kidneys. I suffered so much pain that I could not lie on my back against a chair. My water also contained a chalky sediment. I tried many remedies, but could get no relief. I then took two ALCOCK'S PLASTERS and put one over each kidney, making them meet on my backbone. These plasters, strange as it may seem, cured me in a week. All soreness was gone, and my urine was natural.

Audit and Finance.

The Board of Audit and Finance met in regular session yesterday afternoon, all the members being present, and Mr. W. I. Gore in the Chair. Bills amounting to $1,264.32, for current expenses, $243.23, on account of sinking fund and coupons to the amount of $5,617 were audited and approved and the coupons were burned in the presence of the Board.

It is said that there is most assuredly to be another street railway in the city in the near future, and that the matter is in the hands of those who will push it to completion.

Leave your orders at Heinsberger's for the Life, Trial and Conviction of Cluverius the murderer of Lillian Madison.

LAND PLASTER.
300 TONS NOVA SCOTIA LAND PLASTER, 91.36 per cent. of Sulphate of Lime. The want of Plaster has been one of the greatest drawbacks to successful farming in this State, and it is an important service to this great industry and to the State. It is quite indispensable in any judicious system of agriculture, and it serves several important ends, besides the direct one of furnishing lime and sulphur; it gathers nitrogen and prevents its dissipation and loss; it is a specific for clover and other leguminous plants and it directly renders the potash of the soil available and so acts in the restoration of worn lands. We have sold Plaster to many during the last year, all from whom we have heard, express their satisfaction a its results. The application of Plaster to animal manure will increase the value of that manure beyond calculation. Composting with plaster will greatly improve the value of your compost 3 1/2 per cent. Sowing from 20 to 40 pounds of plaster to the acre, over your small grain after it is in the ground, will give you an increased crop of from 50 to 100 per cent. It is in its application in early trucking for such as strawberry beds, asparagus beds &c. For sale in lots to suit by THOS. F. BAGLEY, Wilmington, N. C. Jan 15 1m pac
