THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. XI. WILMINGTON, N. C., WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 16 1887. NO. 40

Editorial Correspondence.

OSOLA, FLA., Feb. 14, 1887.
I found a short ride from Wilming- ton to this place, as expressed by hours, but really a long one when computed by miles. You take supper in Wilming- ton, go to bed in North Carolina, wake up in Georgia, breakfast at Savannah, then Jacksonville and sup at Ocala. The power of steam grows more and more wonderful, day by day. It is the Aus- tralian of the age, and works exceed- ingly well. The marvels when you rub it the way.

Ocala is a lovely place. It is in the middle of the orange belt and is fast becoming a great railroad centre. The population is said by some to have in- creased 50 per cent during the past five months. But this I doubt. It has gained 25 per cent on last year's figures. Its growth has been marvelous and wonderful. There are four good hotels here, one of which, the Ocala House, is superior to anything I have seen or heard of in North Carolina. It is headquarters for the "bloated board- ings" of the black North who come south in such droves during the Win- ter months. It was built and is owned, by the way, by some of these same blacks whose presence and whose enter- prise and whose money has awoken the crackers' heresabouts to the fact that they have one of the most delightful and attractive climates in the world.

North Carolina, and especially Wil- ington, is well represented here, among the tar heels may be mentioned P. G. Snowden and family, Mr. S. Birdsey, and family, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Huske, Mr. and Mrs. Wil- liam Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lippitt and Miss Augusta Lippitt, Messrs. Sanders, daughter of Mr. French, of Fayetteville, and Mr. E. G. Whitney and family. My welcome to them has been an exceedingly warm one. It is a well-known fact at the delight with which the exiled Wilmingtonian greets a former towns- man is only equalled by that of the said woman in finding an old friend in a new land. Both are glad and happy.

I find this climate wonderfully pleas- ant. We generally look to higher alti- tudes from what we call a "bracing atmosphere" but here, to my delight, I have found it in a country bordering on the tropics. It has, at all events, had a lessening effect on me, for it seems that I can scarcely get enough to eat. This may be due, in a large measure, to the effect of the citric acid of the fruit in the gastric juices of the stomach. I have eaten a great many oranges here. In fact, I may safely say that I have eaten an orange until I came to this country, for the fruit here, taken directly from the tree, perfectly ripe, and full of the juice and the flavor of its own individuality, if we may so say, is far superior to anything of the kind I get farther North. To get the range in its full flavor it must be eaten fresh from the tree, and that can be done only on the spot where the fruit is grown.

I got here too late however, to get the full benefit of the season. The oranges are open and are picked and shipped in the fall, although there are a few yet on the trees, saved, generally, for home use. The trees are now in bud and in a few days will be in full bloom. Last week the atmosphere was warm and the sun shone all day long and hence all vegetation has advanced rapidly. The streets are green with grass, lettuce and onions and beets and cabbages are large enough for the table and the beautiful and fragrant yellow jessamine which grows here in profusion, as it does with us, is in full and magnificent bloom. Yesterday morning, however, the scene had changed, and instead of a "sunny sun" there was no sun at all and the atmosphere had fallen from 74 degrees, which was recorded at 8 o'clock on Saturday night, to 56 degrees. To-day, however, it is warmer, and vegeta- tion has not been retarded. We sit by the open windows here and read, with a shiver of the blizzards and snow storms of the North and West.

I have much more to write but must postpone it to another day. I want to tell you something about the other products of this country, and to speak of the bananas, the palmettos, the orange groves, &c., of this beautiful land. This, however, must be reserved for a future letter.

Valentines.
Extra fine Box Valentines. Second large lot. The finest and most beau- tiful assortment ever brought here and on exhibition to-day. Ladies and Gen- tlemen your hearts can now be made happy and your wishes gratified at Heinberger's.

Wonderful Cures.
W. D. Hoyt & Co., Wholesale and Retail Druggists of Rome, Ga., say: We have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery, Electric Bitters and Buck- len's Arnica Salve for two years. Have never handled remedies that sell as well or give such universal satisfac- tion. There have been some wonder- ful cures effected by these medicines in this city. Several cases of pronounced Consumption have been entirely cured by the use of a few bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery, taken in connection with Electric Bitters. We guarantee them always. Sold by W. H. Green & Co.

A Captain's Fortunate Discover- ury.
Capt. Coleman, schrr. Weymouth, playing between Atlantic City and N. Y., had been troubled with a cough so that he was unable to sleep, and was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. It not only gave him instant relief, but allayed the ex- treme soreness in his breast. His chil- dren were similarly affected and a single dose had the same happy effect. Dr. King's New Discovery is now the standard remedy in the Coleman house and on board the schooner.

Ger. brig Atlantic, Bey, cleared to- day for Stettin with 2 867 barrels rosin, valued at $2,865, shipped by Messrs. Paterson, Downing & Co.

The entertainment of the Young Gleaners, which was announced to take place on the night of the 18th inst., has been postponed until the night of Tues- day, the 22nd inst.

Indication.
For North Carolina, slightly colder, fair weather with variable winds.

A Correction.
The obsequies of the late Mr. Thomas H. Smith were held at St. Paul's Epis- copal Church and were conducted by Rev. T. M. Ambler instead of at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, as we stated yesterday.

Personal.
Judge O. P. Meares is holding the Criminal Court of Mecklenburg County, at Charlotte, this week.

Hon. Alfred Rowland, Representa- tive-elect from this Congressional Dis- trict, is registered at the Purcell House.

City Court.
Margaret Gummer, Dorcas Frank and William Williams, a trio of colored people, were brought before the Mayor this morning charged with dis- orderly conduct. The defendants were all found guilty and were required to pay a fine of $5 each for the offense.

A Holiday.
Next Monday will be the 155th anni- versary of Washington's birthday, and it will be observed in many places as a public holiday. It has been suggested that the merchants of Wilmington close their stores on that day in order that their employees may have a short season of recreation.

At the Hotels.
SUTTON HOUSE—Dr S. Tatom, N. Tatom, W. J. Springs, F. McGhee, W. Cain, I. J. Cain, Bladen Co.; A. Sim- mons, T. A. Simmons, Brunswick; J. C. Cottingham, A. M. McCall, Little Rock; O. R. Mallard, Pt. Caswell; C. T. Cash- well, R. M. McNair, Alma; A. J. Floyd, A. Hope; Rev. J. P. Bailey, Lincoln; R. C. Morton, Onslow; L. C. Linebury, Burgaw.

To-Night.
Do not forget the Sociable, to be given to-night by the Hibernian Benev- olent Society, at Germania Hall. Messrs. D. O'Connor, T. Donlan, Wm. Flanagan, L. Brown, J. W. Bailey, J. H. Sweeney and M. O'Brien, are the committee of arrangements, from either of whom tickets may be secured. The committee have spared no pains to make the occasion pleasant to all, and from the success that has attended their previous efforts, we bespeak for the entertainment to-night a large attendance, and a generous patronage at the tables, where refreshments will be served at reasonable prices.

A Reward.
The Carolina Central Railroad Com- pany have offered a reward of $250 for the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who placed an obstruction on the track near Alma, on the 15th inst. We do hope that some of the scoundrels who thus jeopardize the lives of travellers may be caught and brought to justice, and we also hope that, when caught and there is suffi- cient evidence to convict, no mawkish sentimentality may interfere to prevent the infliction of the extreme penalty of the law.

A Just Complaint.
Persons in the Eastern portion of the city have been much annoyed recently by the conduct of a lot of youngsters who frequent the streets at night un- molested, removing gates and often- times leaving the premises exposed. It has gone so far, that if the city au- thorities do not put a stop to it, the citi- zens will resort to self-protection and rely upon powder and a little mustard seed shot. A gentleman whose front gate was removed Monday night had been unable to find it up to 7 o'clock last night, and, of course was very in- dignant that his rights and property, as a quiet, law-abiding citizen, are not protected.

For Clinton.
Work on the branch railroad from Warsaw to Clinton, is progressing rap- idly. The road is now under the con- trol of the Wilmington & Weldon Rail Road, and we soon expect to hear that it is open its entire length. The grading is completed and the rails are now being laid. "All aboard for Warsaw and Clinton!"

Street Railroad.
The charter for a street railroad in this city has been granted by the pres- ent Legislature, and those interested in the enterprise are preparing for the work. The contractor is expected to arrive here in a few days to begin the work, which will be pushed vigorously to completion. The route of the road has not yet been definitely settled upon, but it probably will be in a few days. That is a matter in which the Board of Aldermen have a controlling voice, but we imagine that they will offer no ob- stacle to the construction of the road on such thoroughfares as will best accom- modate the people generally.

A Handy Book.
We have received from the publish- ers, Messrs Rand, McNally & Co., of Chicago, the "Pocket Atlas of the World," which contains, in epitome, a vast amount of useful information. It has a map of every country and State in the habitable globe, and with each map there is a condensed history of that particular country, in which its area of territory, principal products, system of education, officers, with the salaries of each, population of the chief cities, be- sides much other valuable information are given. We regret to see, however, that there is error regarding Wilming- ton, which is described as the chief city of North Carolina, with a population of 13,446, which is nearly 4,000 less than was given by the census of 1880. The work is neatly bound and put up in a convenient shape to be carried in the pocket. It has 190 pages, 90 full page colored maps and 42 colored diagrams, and all for the merely nominal price of 25 cents.

"Oh! What a Night!"
Gus Williams, the only genuine and never-to-be forgotten Gus, the imitator Gus, the laugh provoking Gus, will appear at the Opera House on Friday night in a new comedy, entitled, "Oh! What a night!" In speaking of this play the New York Daily News said:

To relate the complications that arise from the contemplated marriage of the daughter of Major Herman Pottegeiser to Howard Laing at the unusual time of midnight would involve a deal of recollection and much space. To re- member the many laughs caused by the mishaps of Pottegeiser (played by Mr. Gus Williams) and others who figure in the dramatic story, is to break into a broad smile. The funny incidents are so numerous and follow each other in such rapid succession that the face of the audience is puckered into laugh shape all the evening. To say that Gus Williams is funny as the stupid old German, who had no chance to "go it while he was young," but was willing to do so in his ripeness, is not saying enough. He is quietly natural and ex- cessively droll, every look, gesture, raise of the eyebrows, etc., indicating something to laugh at. It is a finely artistic piece of comedy work and in- tensely humorous, being by far the best work done by comic Gus.

Pianos and organs can be bought cheaper at Heinberger's than at any other house in the State.

Rt. Rev. Wm. Mercer Green.
In our issue of yesterday we simply announced the death of this venerable and saintly prelate, but a more extended notice is due of one who was so widely known and so greatly beloved.

Bishop Green was a native of this city, (where many of his relatives still reside) having been born in the then town of Wilmington May 2, 1798. His paternal grandfather, Dr. Samuel Greer, came from Liverpool, England, early in the 18th century and settled on the Cape Fear river in this section, married and had seven children, of whom, William, the Bishop's father, was the sixth. In the old burying ground of St. James' Church may still be seen the old brown sandstones that mark the spot where their ashes repose, the found- ers of a family widely and honorably known, and distinguished in the annals of our State for wealth, intelligence and virtue.

The father of the Bishop was a rice planter of independent fortune, but he died when the Bishop was too young to remember him, and it was his mother's example and influence that shaped his future life. In 1814 he entered the University at Chapel Hill and graduated in 1818, receiving the degree of A. B. in a class of unusual distinction. In 1821 he was admitted to Deacon's Orders and in 1823 to those of the Priesthood. His first charge was at Williamsburgh, where he re- mained four years. He then removed to Hillsboro and founded St. Matthew's church, where he labored faithfully until the year 1837, when he was appointed to the chaplaincy and the chair of Belles Lettres in his Alma Mater, in which position he continued until elected the first Bishop of Mississippi in 1849.

Few men have passed through so long a life with such spotless robes, and few have been so universally beloved. Gentle and winning in manner, diffi- dent, sensitive and modest as a woman, he was yet fearless in the discharge of duty, and shrank from none of the responsibilities of life. He loved the truth, for the truth's sake; was open, candid, free in intercourse with man- kind, and loving, and with a charity that embraced all within its scope, he went about doing good; thanking God continually for the opportunity of doing so. And God blessed him with honors and length of days far beyond the period of man's allotted time on earth. At the ripe age of four-score and nine years he has been gathered to his fa- thers, and the faithful warrior of the cross sinks to his rest leaving, as an example to those who follow after, the record of a pure and holy life, the re- membrance of one who walked with God.

BAKING POWDERS.
Interesting Tests Made by the Government Chemists.

Dr. Edward G. Love, the Analytical Chemist for the Government, has made some interesting experiments as to the comparative value of baking powders. Dr. Love's tests were made to deter- mine what brands are the most econ- omical to use, and as their capacity lies in their leavening power, tests were directed solely to ascertain the avail- able gas of each powder. Dr. Love's report gives the following:

Name of the Baking Powder.	Strength Cubic inches Gas per each ounce of Powder.
"Royal" (absolutely pure).....	127.4
"Patapoco" (alum powder).....	125.9
"Ramford's" (phosphate) fresh.....	122.5
"Ramford's" (phosphate) old.....	32.7
"Hanford's" None Such, fresh.....	121.6
"Hanford's" None Such, old.....	81.35
"Redhead's".....	117.0
"Charm" (alum powder).....	116.9
"Amazon" (alum powder).....	111.9
"Cleveland's" (contains lime).....	110.8
"Sea Foam".....	107.9
"Czar".....	106.8
"Dr. Price's" (contains lime).....	102.6
"Snow Flake" (Grosf's St. Paul).....	101.88
"Lewis's" Condensed.....	98.2
"Congress" yeast.....	97.5
"C. E. Andrews & Co's" (con- tains alum).....	78.17
"Hecker's".....	92.5
"Gillett's".....	84.2
"Bulk".....	80.5

In his report, the Government Chemist says:
"I regard all alum powders as very unwholesome. Phosphate and Tartaric Acid powders liberate their gas too freely in process of baking, or under varying climatic changes suffer deteri- oration."

Dr. H. A. Mott, the former Govern- ment Chemist, after a careful and elab- orate examination of the various Bak- ing Powders of commerce, reported to the Government in favor of the Royal brand.
Prof. McMurtie, late chief chemist for the U. S. Government at Washing- ton, says: "The chemical tests to which I have submitted the Royal Baking Powder, prove it perfectly healthful, and free from every deleteri- ous substance."

James L. Anders' "Pride of America" Corn.
I WILL SEND SAMPLE AND CIRCULAR of Jas. L. Anders' "Pride of America" Corn for 6 cents. It has been improved for the past 15 years and is now to perfection. It is pure white corn with grains 3 1/2 inch long, very wide and thick, it is a solid heavy corn, 56 to 72 ears make a bushel, has from 24 to 30 rows of grains on cob, husks exceedingly well on high or low land. I want every farmer in our Southern and Northern land to plant my corn the year 1887. Testimonials, reference, &c., sent with samples and circulars.
Farmers and farmers boys, here is a chance to make a $5 present absolutely free. The way I want you to do this: Go to every farmer and tell them to give you 3 cents for which they will receive samples and circulars of the Corn advertised above. You see in this way the farmers will get their samples and circulars for half price. Send every far- mer's name and the 3 cents for each and the one sending me the largest list before March 1st, will receive $5 cash by return mail, every- thing is explained in circulars.
