During the year 1886 thirty six telegraph offices were opened in China.
 A physician says the beds on sleeping cars should not be made up with the head to the engine. It is bad for the brain of the sleeper, and many travellers experience ill effects from it.
 The dress coat has to earn its living in Alabama. A Mobile newspaper says that at a recent ball a gentleman wore the swallow-tail coat in which he was married fifteen years ago; which seventeen other bridegrooms had worn, and which had done duty at forty-three weddings.

"Speaker Carlisle," says the Washington correspondent of the New York Herald, "is very enthusiastic about the future of Kansas. His next term in Congress will close his political career. It is his intention to locate in Wichita, Kan., two years hence, and, eschewing politics forever, settle down to the practice of his profession."

At Avon, Mich., recently a resident had the remains of his wife, who died on February 8, disinterred for the purpose of having the body photographed as it laid in the coffin. Excited men and weeping women witnessed the proceeding, and since then those of his fellow townsmen who do not consider him insane are in favor of tarring and feathering him for the desecration.

We have a word or two to say to the Democrats of this town. The approach of city election is an important one. Go to your primaries to-morrow night, enter with a good conscience upon the work before you and cheerfully accept the decision of your convention. Don't stay away and then come down town next day and swear at the result. Your vote and your influence may both be needed in your convention.

There is one thing in especial which we would urge upon the Democrats of every ward in this city. PUP NONE BUT DEMOCRATS ON GUARD. Don't allow any man to enter your Convention who is not a Democrat, pure et simple, and above all, do not allow any name to be brought forward for nomination which is not that of a good, true Democrat.

"Von Moitke," says the St. James' Gazette, "has the reputation of being a chess player of the first order, and enthusiasts of the game do not hesitate to attribute his success as a strategist to his mastery of it." Rosenthal, however, who has just been astonishing the Parisian amateurs with one of his phenomenal feats of force, tells a journalist that the great captain's skill as a chess player has been grossly exaggerated. He cannot compare with Bismarck, who has beaten him without difficulty over and over again. Rosenthal has encountered some of the players who have tried conclusions with Bismarck, and the trouble he has had in beating them gives him the measure of the Chancellor's strength. Nevertheless, from what he knows of M. Grovy's play, Rosenthal believes him to be more than a match for the Chancellor, and he would be prepared to back the President, M. de Freycinet and M. Leon Say against any three players in the world."

The Goldsboro Messenger has the following pleasant references to Judge Bennett and C. Green on the conclusion of their Congressional terms:
 Judge Bennett has been conspicuous to his courage, ability, and integrity. His speeches in the contested election cases of the 48th and in the Judiciary Committee reports of the 49th Congress have obtained wide celebrity. He is a man of splendid talents. His speech in opposition to Mr. Tucker's Anti-Monopoly bill was a masterly piece of learning and reasoning and it was politically sound as the case, as Mr. Tucker's own impassioned argument was not. Judge Bennett, unlike the others, retired voluntarily. We hope to see him again in our public councils. He is an honest and an able man.

Confederate was our special Representative. First representing the Wilmington District when a comparative stranger to this part of the State, he became the Representative of the Third District after the new apportionment. He has represented us as if he had been born and reared amongst us. He has seen that all of our public wants have been ministered to in proper time and manner. He has spoken for us on the floor of the Congress. He has been our representative in the party councils. He has dispensed an elegant hospitality at home and at Washington as the Representative of the Third District. Throughout his several terms in the Congress he has been the choice of a large majority of our people, and they heartily welcome him back amongst them. His is an honorable retirement; for he was their excellent, cultured and high minded Representative whilst he served them, and he comes now to share the joys and sorrows of the people. Let him raise from every Democratic heart all praise for his faithfulness.

According to the Washington City correspondent of the Charleston News and Courier, it was John Sherman's special desire to come South under the protecting arms of Senators Ransom and Butler. But Ransom and Butler were smart enough not to be of the party. Here is what the correspondent says:
 Senators Butler and Ransom were to have been members of the Senatorial party now travelling through the Southern States, of which John Sherman, of Ohio, is the central figure, but at the last moment they changed their plans, and Senator Ransom went home alone and Senator Butler remained in Washington. It is no secret here that Senator Sherman's principal reason for making a Southern tour at this time is to make a personal survey of the field, if possible, to put in motion a movement looking to the election of Sherman delegates to the next Republican convention. It is said that he was very anxious to start South in company with two such influential Democrats as Senators Butler and Ransom, and he counted on being materially benefited thereby. These gentlemen, it appears, ascertained the true situation before it was too late, hence they changed their course and allowed the crafty Sherman to paddle his own canoe. For fear that the Southern press will not give sufficient notoriety to his presence and his utterances, he is accompanied by a representative of the leading Republican paper in Ohio, and also a representative of a syndicate comprising several hundred weekly and tri-weekly papers in the West and Southwest. The first gun of the Sherman campaign will be fired at Nashville, on the 25th instant, when the Ohio statesman will deliver himself of a speech carefully prepared to tickle the Southern Republican palate.

Saved His Life.
 Mr. D. I. Wilcoxson, of Horse Cave, Ky., says he was, for many years, badly afflicted with Phthisis, also Diabetes; the pains were almost unendurable and would sometimes almost throw him into convulsions. He tried Electric Bitters and got relief from first bottle and after taking six bottles, was entirely cured and had gained in flesh eighteen pounds. Says he positively believes he would have died had it not been for the relief afforded by Electric Bitters. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by W. H. Green & Co.

Good Results in Every Case.
 D. A. Brandford, wholesale paper dealer of Chattanooga, Tenn., writes that he was seriously afflicted with a severe cold that settled on his lungs; had tried many remedies without benefit. Being induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, did so and was entirely cured by use of a few bottles. Since which time he has used it in his family for all Coughs and Colds with best results. This is the experience of thousands whose lives have been saved by this Wonderful Discovery.

Moulding. Best in city, at JACOB'S Hd. & Depot.

The receipts of cotton at this port today foot up 102 bales.

Rev. Dr. Pritchard will preach at the Baptist Chapel, corner Fifth and Wooster streets, at 7:45 to-night.

The next attraction booked for the Opera House is Mr. Frederic Warde, the tragedian, who will appear on the nights of the 22nd and 23d inst.

The cold wave struck the city last night in earnest, and this morning good fires were needed in the houses and overcoats and gloves were in demand.

Carpenters, bricklayers, painters and plumbers are now having about as much work as they can attend to. They are employed in nearly every section of the city.

The street parade of Forepaugh & Samwell's show late yesterday and today drew quite a crowd of lookers-on to the sidewalks on the line of the procession.

Mrs. E. B. Wiggins, who is now in New York purchasing goods, has something pleasant to say to the ladies in a new and attractive advertisement published in this issue.

Rev. A. J. Chambers will begin a series of sermons at St. Stephen's A. M. E. Church next Sunday night on the Prodigal Son, which will be chiefly in the interest of the young.

Forepaugh & Samwell's circus is a good show; all may rest satisfied of that fact. It is as good, in fact, as some of the high-priced shows which have visited Wilmington in past years.

On account of the failure of the last Congress to pass the necessary appropriation bill, we shall have no daily reports from the signal office for a while and, consequently, we will have to take the weather as it comes.

Forepaugh & Samwell's show drew quite a large crowd last night. The canvass is pitched on the vacant lot on the East side of Fifth street, between Chestnut and Mulberry, and there the boys find their chief attraction.

The Hibernian Association of this city will celebrate St. Patrick's Day (the 17th inst.) as usual by attending divine service at St. Thomas' Church. They will meet at Germania Hall at 9 a. m., in regalia, and march thence to the church, where a sermon appropriate to the occasion will be preached.

In the Jail.
 There are now 24 prisoners in the County Jail awaiting trial at the next term of the Criminal Court, which will convene on Monday next. Three prisoners who have been confined there were taken yesterday morning to Burgawler trial at Pender Superior Court, which convened at the Court House in that town yesterday.

Personal
 Rev. Dr. Rosser, the successful evangelist who is to assist Rev. D. H. Tuttle in conducting a series of meetings at the Fifth Street Methodist Church, of this city, has arrived and will commence his meetings here to-morrow (Wednesday) night. He has met with great success at many places and especially quite recently at Wilson and Fayetteville.

The Primaries.
 Remember and attend the primaries to-morrow night. The meetings will be held at 8 o'clock at the following places:
 First Ward—Minnie Hall.
 Second Ward—County Court House.
 Third Ward—City Hall (up stairs).
 Fourth Ward—City Court Room.
 Fifth Ward—Wigwam, corner Seventh and Castle streets.

You will save money and get the best work by sending your clothes for repairs to John Dyer and Son.

Take care of your eyes. An agency for the LeMare's celebrated Rock Crystal Spectacles and Eye Glasses is established in this place at Heinsberger's.

Mail Robbery

When the mail which came in this morning on the Carolina Central Railroad reached the post-office, it was found that some of the pouches were missing. They were delivered to the mail wagon at the depot, and how they disappeared is a mystery to the post-office officials. They could furnish no further information than the foregoing in the matter.

Monte Cristo

There was a small audience at the Opera House last night to greet Aiden Bequet's "Monte Cristo" Company, which is much to be regretted, as the play has rare merit, and was well presented and well mounted. The scenic effects were very fine, and Mr. Benedic, in the title role, was excellent. The support was in the main very good. The audience, although small, were appreciative and testified their approval by frequent bursts of applause.

City Court.

William Connor and Alexander Howe, both young and colored, were brought before the Mayor this morning charged with disorderly conduct. The evidence showed that the offense was of an aggravated character, and the defendants were fined $20 each, the amount to be worked out on the public streets at 40 cents per day.

William Kelley and Ulysses Richardson, both colored, charged with disorderly conduct, were fined $3 each.

Lock Your Doors.

The thieves are busy and they are equally reckless and bold. We hear of an instance of stealing that occurred last Sunday morning, which was a remarkably cool proceeding. There are two small families living in the house where the stealing was done and both families had their Sunday's dinner, besides other provisions, in their sales in the pantry, and while the household were seated in their respective rooms in the front part of the house, some thief gained an entrance to the pantry and took all that he could lay his hands on in the shape of edibles. The house is in an exposed part of the city, and how the thief could escape without detection is a mystery.

At the Hotels.

Black, steamer Lisbon; Capt. A. Hubbard, steamer Delta; W. O. Carlyle, Maxton; C. H. Alexander, New Hanover.

"Go Slow."

A correspondent who signs himself as above submits the following sensible remarks for publication in the REVIEW:

The approaching city election is a matter of great importance to owners of property. It is not the time simply to honor favorites as aspirants for aldermanic honors who have axes to grind, neither is it the time to bow in quiet submission to the boasts of certain parties who wish to control and dictate in our political affairs, or that we should be governed by cliques or rings, but it is the time when our taxpayers should see that our best men, our business men, our men who are accustomed to managing finances, should be elected to this important position. One hundred and fifty thousand dollars worth of city bonds will soon mature and it will require tact and ability to manage the finances of this city. This qualification and the experience which will be necessary may not be possessed by all whose names will be presented to the primary meetings and hence great care should be taken as regards the Democratic nominations.

The Wrong Man.

While one of the merchants of this city was seated alone in his place of business at rather a late hour last night a man from the country entered the store and began to abuse him in regard to some goods, and finally became so outrageous in his conduct that he was ordered out of the store. The countryman refused to leave, when the merchant drew a pistol and threatened to shoot. Upon this three others came in to assist their country friend, when the merchant threatened to shoot them all and they left. The merchant shouted for the police, but none were in hearing. He followed the men, who took courage from the non-appearance of the police, and began again to abuse the merchant, when he picked up them and some of them received pretty hard usage.

 94.26 per cent. of Sulphate of Lime. The want of Plaster has been one of the greatest drawbacks to successful farming in this State, and it is an important article to the great industry and to the State. It is quite indispensable in any judicious system of agriculture, and it serves several important ends, besides the direct one of furnishing lime and sulphur; it gathers nitrogen and prevents its dissipation and loss; it is a specific for clover and other leguminous plants and it indirectly renders the potash of the soil available and so it tends in the restoration of worn lands.
 We have sold Plaster to many during the last year, and from whom we have heard, express their satisfaction with its results. The application of Plaster to animal manure, will increase the value of that manure beyond calculation.
 Composting with plaster will improve the value of your compost 25 to 30 per cent. Sowing from 20 to 400 pounds of plaster to the acre, over your small grain, after it is in the ground, will give you an increased crop from 10 to 100 per cent.
 It is indispensable in early trucking for such straw-berry beds, asparagus beds, &c. For sale in lots to suit by
