the Postoffice at Wilmington, N. C. a second-class matter.

The Connecticut Legislature has signed a bill restricting railroad traffic in the Sate on Sunday. It goes into effect next June, and forbids the run- apyone. ning of trains for any purpose between 10.30 a. m. and 3 p. m. except in cases of urgent necessity. Before 10:30 a m and after 3 p. m. the only trains permitted are mail trains and such other trains as may be authorized by the commissioners, if it shall appear that they are required by the public necessity or for the preservation of freight, The interpretation of the law depends n some measure upon the commis- less than ever now."

On account of the failure of Congress to pass the general deliciency bill, the postoffice depar ment will not be able back yard." to make the authorized extension of the free delivery system until the beginning of the new fiscal year. It appears, however, that the time between now and July will be necessary for making prep. Hold on to Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. arations for the extension in many of the cities entitled to the benefits of the system. While they are very anxious to have their letters delivered by carriers, they do not afford the facilities necessary for the successful working of he system. Investigation shows that ment. they have many streets without names; and without numbers to the houses, and they cannot expect the carriers to hant up their citizens by their names alone If they want all the improvements in mail delivery, they must adopt he conditions necessary for their appli-

Money in New York city has been in very good supply below the legal rate, and the continued large volume of ex ports, favored by the low rate of interest abroad, has caused a smart reduc | whelmed by a surprising run of trade tion in the rates, of sterling exchange. Having reached the present period without seeding gold abroad, the chances are now fair that New Yorkers will not have to make any shipments. out rather that they will import the precious metal. A few croakers have been predicting financial stringency to ccur as the result of treasury operaions, but the arguments on which this fear is based are far tetched. There is no end of money in the treasury, and as Treasurer Jordan remarked the other day: "It is within the power of the secretary to place it where it will do he most good to the commercial community in the event of a threatened pioch in the market."

"The energy and activity of the German Emperor would be remarkable were he twenty years younger than he is," says the St. James Gue He. of March 2. "In a man who hopes this month to celebrate his ninetieth birth day, they are little short of miraculous. Here, for example, is a record, taken from the court chronicle in the Berlin Tageblatt, of the occupations of his Majesty on two consecutive days of last week. On the first day he began, as usual, by receiving and criticising the reports of Count Perponcher. Having BENEFACTOR ......Friday, Mch 4 heard them, he inspected specimens of the new field equipment of the German infantry, and then retired to do two hour's hard work in his study with Gen. von Albedyll Later on he received two other officers, went for a drive, dined and attended a concert .-On the tollowing morning he again gave audience to Count Perponcher, and then reviewed the Berlin Fire Br g. ade, atterwards working in his study with Count Stolberg-Wernigerode. He next received two ambassadors, and, having dismissed them, went for a harp walk with one of his aides decamp. After dinner he was so little latigued that he was able not only to appear, but to remain for more than an hour at the theatre."
