THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. XI.

WILMINGTON, N. C., MONDAY, APRIL 4, 1887.

NO 80

Now that the almost complete subjection of Burma to British rule has been accomplished a movement has been started to bring into extensive use the oil wells of the Irrawaddy valley. These wells have long been known, and to a small extent oil has been taken from them for local consumption. But they are capable of such a development that the promoters of it expect to supplant American oil in British India, where the demand of late years has been steadily increasing. The machinery for some of these wells has already been shipped to Burma from England, and the money subscribed for developing their capacity.

Even the divinity that doth hedge a king yields to the power of the press.—The reporters who were puzzling over the toilets at a recent Court ball at Rome were taken in tow by King Umberto, to whom they frankly stated their fix, and introduced to Queen Margherita, with the suggestion that she should coach them. She did this with a readiness and winning grace that completely captivated the quill-drivers, dictating to them a description of the handsomest dresses. She wound up with the injunction not to forget her necklace of pearls, "for these are the things that especially interest your lady readers."

The London correspondent of the Manchester Guardian writes: "It is intended to hold an international congress on cremation in September of the present year. The place selected for this gathering of the savants of various countries who are interested in cremation and cemetery hygiene is Milan—French will be the official language of the congress; but the speakers may, if they like, make use of any other language. Reports will be submitted as to the progress made in the practice of cremation in different countries, and the formation of an international league will be proposed. An exhibition of models of crematories, urns and other objects connected with the campaign now being conducted against the present methods of disposing of the dead will be open during the congress."

The streets are getting dry and dusty again.

The receipts of spirits—turpentine are unusually light.

Headquarters for base ball supplies is at Heinsberger's.

The receipts of cotton at this port today foot up 19 bales.

Fruit and Vegetables.

There is now no question about the almost total destruction of the peach crop in this vicinity by the recent cold weather. Mr. L. W. Howard, who is the principal peach grower in this section, says that his crop is ruined. There are yet a few peaches hanging on the trees, but these have been so chilled by the cold that they will soon drop off. Other orchards on the Sound present the same appearance. Beans, the tenderest and most susceptible to cold of the early vegetables, are killed; while peas have suffered materially, but about half a crop will be realized. Other vegetables are not badly injured.

Services for Holy Week.

The following order of services will be observed in St. John's Church during Holy Week:
 Monday—7:30 and 11 A. M.; 5:30 P. M.
 Tuesday—7:30 and 11 A. M.; 5:30 P. M.
 Wednesday—7:30 and 11 A. M.; 5:30 P. M.
 Thursday—7:30 and 11 A. M.; 8:30 P. M.
 Good Friday—11 A. M.; 5:30 P. M.
 Saturday—7:30 A. M.
 JAS. CARMICHAEL, D. D., Rector.

The Produce Exchange will be closed on the 8th inst, Good Friday.

Nor. barque Vanadis, Thomassen, hence, arrived at Buenos Ayres March 1st.

The peaches in the city are not all killed. We have examined several trees and did not find any indications of injury by the recent cold.

The regular annual meeting of the stockholders of the Carolina Central R. R. Co. will be held in New York on May 5 h.

Mrs. E. A. Lumsden has returned from the North and the ladies are invited to call this week and examine the new and pretty goods she displays.

Messrs. Behrends & Monroe have on exhibit now the handsome stock purchased by the senior member of the firm on his recent trip to the North and West.

A revival of religion is in progress at Ebenezer Baptist Church, colored, on Seventh street, between Orange and Ann, conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. L. Fennell.

The Hibernian Benevolent Society will give a sociable at Germania Hall on Easter Monday night. There will be refreshments and music will be furnished by the Italian band.

April appears inclined to become good natured. The month began in a most surly and disagreeable mood, but it has been growing better since, and to-day the weather is delightful.

There was a heavy frost and plenty of ice in the vicinity of Magnolia, Duplin county, Sunday morning. It snowed there last Friday night until the ground was covered, but it melted in the sunshine of Saturday. Vegetation has been seriously damaged in that section.

Nearly every Northern bound train has two or three cars, loaded with Italian laborers who have been employed in building railroads South of here, but who, having completed their contracts, are hastening to the thickly settled North, where there are many of their countrymen.

The attention of the ladies is invited to the large and attractive advertisement of Mrs. E. B. Wiggins as it appears in this issue. There are more things enumerated there than we know the uses of as there are mysteries in the scientific world which we do not wish to penetrate. The ladies will find out all about it, however, by conning the advertisement and inspecting the stock.

Knights of Honor.
 Carolina Lodge No. 434. Regular meeting this (Monday) evening, at 8 o'clock. Full attendance is desired.

Easter Cards.
 A large and beautiful line of Easter Cards, plain, fringed and very fine ones in boxes have just been received and opened for inspection at Heinsberger's.

Slight Fire.
 There was an alarm of fire at about 2 o'clock Sunday morning, caused by the burning of an outhouse on the premises of Mr. Joseph McLauric, on Market street, between Eighth and Ninth. The alarm was sent out from box 35, corner of Eighth and Market streets, and the firemen turned out promptly, but there was no occasion for their services, as the flames were extinguished before their arrival.

Almost a Fire.
 A lamp which was suspended from the top of the first floor of Mr. R. C. Orrell's stables exploded at about 6:30 o'clock this morning, and for a moment a serious fire was threatened. Capt. Legg, who was present, had the presence of mind to throw a blanket upon the burning oil, and the flames were extinguished almost instantaneously, without doing any damage further than the breaking of the lamp.

Shrier's Spring Daises.
 We have gathered a bouquet of daisy suits for small boys and big boys—young and old, that will tickle the fancy of every mother and father in Wilmington. In Confirmation suits our assortment of diagonals, corkscrew and cassimere, in all qualities, made up reliable and first class in every respect, is worthy of inspection and are as low, frequently from $1 to $3 lower than the like can be purchased for elsewhere and we guarantee that each and every article sold by us shall be exactly as represented. I. SHRIER, the Tailor, 114 Market Street.

Step-ladders of all lengths can be found at JACOB'S Hdq. Depot.

A new weather vane has been placed on a staff on the roof of the Signal Office to day. The workmen who adjusted it had a windy and uncomfortable job which was attended with considerable peril.

The National Life & Maturity Association are so well satisfied with the exhibit they make in the official statement published in Saturday's REVIEW, that they have concluded to keep it at the masthead for a week. It is, indeed, a good showing, although it is a one-sided affair. It is all assets and no liabilities and there are none of these latter for the simple reason that all claims are paid as soon as they mature.

Cotton.

The receipts of cotton at this port for the month ended March 31st, 1887, foot up 2,181 bales, as against 4,775 bales for the corresponding month last year; a decrease of 1,594 bales. The receipts for the crop year to March 31st, 1887, foot up 132,334 bales, as against 95,886 bales for the corresponding time last year, an increase of 36,448 bales.

A Cruel Act.

Mr. James O. Ormsby, who lives on Swann street, between Fourth and Fifth, had the misfortune to have a valuable cow shot last Saturday morning. He milked the cow, as usual, on that morning and turned her out of the lot, when the animal wandered as far as Fourth street, near Brunswick, where she was shot by some one through the neck with a pistol bullet, from the effects of which she died. It was a good cow, for which Mr. Ormsby had recently paid $35.

Magistrate's Court.

Fred Hill, colored, charged with an assault and battery on Ben Williams, also colored, last Saturday night, had a hearing before Justice E. D. Hall this morning. The quarrel arose concerning the payment of rent. Williams is the lessee of the house and he had sublet two rooms to the defendant on condition that the latter should pay his rent monthly in advance. This the defendant had failed to do, and in an altercation about the matter Saturday night, harsh words were used which resulted in the defendant striking Williams on the head with a stick. He was fined one cent and costs.

Personal.

Mr. John Taylor has returned from his visit to the Northern markets.
 Dr. Thomas B. Hill, of Goldsboro, arrived in the city last night.
 Maj. C. W. McClammy, Representative elect to Congress from the neighboring district, was in the city to-day.
 Miss Annie Chasten started on this morning's Northern bound train for Boston, where she will remain during the Summer to finish her studies at the New England Conservatory of Music.
 Judge Waiter Clark, of Raleigh, arrived in the city yesterday and proceeded to Smithville, where he will preside at Brunswick Superior Court, which convened this morning and will continue one week.

City Court.

Mayor Fowler presided for the first time at the session of the City Court this morning. He presided with dignity and disposed of the business with firmness and dispatch.
 Thomas Leboe, a colored boy, charged with fast driving, was the first case. The evidence was conclusive and the defendant was required to pay a fine of $2.50 or go below for five days.
 Robert Banks, colored, one of the nuisances who infest the Front street bridge upon the arrival of trains, was arrested Saturday night for disorderly conduct. He was fined $10, with the alternative of going below for twenty days.
 One case of assault and battery was transferred to Justice E. D. Hall for trial.

State Medical Convention.

The thirty-fourth annual meeting of the Medical Society of the State of North Carolina will be held in Charlotte, Wednesday, April 13th, 1887. Subjects for discussion: 1. The rational treatment of Ileo Colitis of childhood. 2. Our autumnal fever, its nature and treatment. 3. Are the dangers of high temperature in acute diseases over-estimated? Leader of debate, Dr. W. P. Beal, of Greensboro. Besides this a great many papers will be submitted, the annual essay, oration reports of sections, prize essays and voluntary reports. Many distinguished members of the profession from abroad will be present. The meeting promises to be a large and enthusiastic one. Excursion rates on all railroads.

The New Summer Resort.

A day or two since a small party of gentlemen, among whom were the projectors of the New Hanover Transit Company, got aboard the Louise and left for a visit of inspection of the new resort at the head of the Sound, near old Camp Wyatt, and known as Carolina Beach.

The new resort is situated directly on the beach, and within 15 miles of the city. The trip is made by steamer and rail, by steamer to a long pier in the river just this side of the high bluff known as Sugar Loaf, and from thence 1 1/2 miles by rail to the very spot where the ocean waves lap the beach. The trip can be made from the dock here to the beach in one hour and a half and it is intended to make three trips a day during the season. The Company own 150 acres of land on the Sound and beach, much of which is wooded land, which will be cleared up and laid off into groves and pleasure resorts for the benefit of their guests. Croqueted pavilions are to be driven into the sand and a good foundation secured and on these a large pavilion and a dining room will be erected for the benefit of guests.

These two buildings will stand directly on the beach and will give a magnificent view on either hand and far out to sea. The dining room will be 30x20 feet and the pavilion 70x30—of ample dimensions to accommodate a large party. Next, comfortable and cosy cottages will also dot the grounds and there will be all of the necessary conveniences for surf and still water bathing.

Possibly there may also be horses and vehicles kept there for hire but of this we are not informed. We only know that at low tide there is a magnificent beach for driving, both above and below the grounds.

It is calculated that the new resort will be opened to the public by the middle of May and to this end every energy will be brought into play in the prosecution of the work. The Passport it is said, will be placed on the line and will make three trips per day during the season—morning, noon and evening.
