Scholarly Colfax is to have a bronze statue erected in one of the squares of the city of Indianapolis. The Legislature recognizes the act by giving the land for the site of the statue. The order of Old Fellows contributes the money for its and superintending the work, especially in acknowledging for what Mr. Colfax did in introducing the degree of Rebekah into their organization. This being a woman's degree many women have had part in this tribute.

The Bright family in England is all torn up over this coercion business. John is anti-Gladstone, while Jacob, who is also an M. P., is pro-Gladstone. Mrs. Lucas, one of the sisters, and a well-known temperance advocate, is a staunch friend of home rule, while her daughter, Mrs. Thomasson, wife of the Ex-M. P., is opposed to the "dismemberment of the empire." Walter McLaren, a nephew of John and Jacob, favors the Dublin Parliament, while his brother, Charles McLaren, who was defeated at the last general elections, takes the opposite stand. Ewen John Bright's own son and daughter have separated from their father in this crisis.

England prides itself upon being the centre of European civilization, yet tolerates champion dog fighting, the most brutal of modern "sport." Some days ago one of these disgusting matches was fought at Cardiff, the contestants being a pair of rival bull terriers which had been victorious in many a battle. After twenty minutes one of the dogs was in a dying condition, but his frantic backers insisted upon having him driven into a final bout. The poor, mutilated beast had no fight left in him, and refused to face the other dog. The angry owner whipped out his jack-knife, cut the animal's throat into a ditch, and flung the carcass into a ditch. No arrests were made, and the shocking scene was described in the local and London press.

In Missouri there are county boards for the equalization of taxation. If the taxpayer does not put in all his assets this board adds to his list, but he has a right to appeal to a board of appeals, and this board's decision is final. A Missouri paper says that the board of equalization in Buchanan county has raised the assessed value of personal property in that county from $497,325 to $1,577,000, an increase of $1,080,275. The assessment was raised upon fifty-four individuals and corporations. The largest increase was upon the estate of Milton Totter, from $184,250 to $980,000. Quite a number of the assessments were more than doubled, while others were increased from $500 to $2,000—one from $140 to $5,040 and one from $220 to $10,000.

Seemingly Eradicated
With repeated and powerful doses of quinine salts and fever, in some one of its various forms, springs into a dire existence again, often without the slightest sporadic prostration. To extinguish the smoldering ember of this obstinate and recalcitrant malady, so less than to smother it when it rages, ferociously in the system. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is all that is needed. With every resource of the pharmacy has been exhausted against it, in vain, the Bitters conquer it—will remove every lingering vestige of it. Nay, more the Bitters protect those brought within the influence of the atmospheric poison that taints the stomach, liver and bowels. Disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels are among the most prevalent and are among the most cured and prevented by the Bitters. Rheumatism, constipation and renal complaints yield to its application.

You are feeling depressed, your appetite is poor, you are bothered with Headache, you are listless, nervous, and generally out of sorts, and want to "brace up." Brace up, but not with stimulants, spring medicines, or bitters, which have for their basis very bad, cheap whiskey, and which stimulate you for an hour, then leave you in worse condition than before. What you want is an alternative to purify your blood, start healthy action of Liver and Kidneys, restore your vitality, and give renewed health and strength. Such a medicine you will find in Electric Bitters, and only 50 cents a bottle at W. H. Green & Co.'s Drug Store.

Their Business Booming.
Probably no one thing has caused such a general revival of trade at W. H. Green & Co.'s Drug Store as their giving away to their customers of so many free trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their trade is simply enormous in this very valuable article from the fact that it always cures and never disappoints. Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, and all throat and lung diseases quickly cured. You can test it before buying by getting a trial bottle free, large size $1. Every bottle warranted.

A Bad Horse.
Mr. Louis J. Poisson was riding on horseback at about half past 9 o'clock this morning and while passing the store of Messrs. Adrian & Vollers, on the corner of South Front and Drex streets, and being quite near to the sidewalk, a vicious dray horse seized hold of his clothing and dragged him to the ground. Fortunately Mr. Poisson was not seriously hurt, but his clothing was badly torn by the angry beast.

Matrimonial.
Mr. E. D. Randall, of Ohio, and Mrs. Sallie E. Peterson, of Sampson county, were united in marriage in the Purcell House parlor at 8 o'clock this morning, Rev. Dr. Pritchard officiating. The Military.
Last night was a gala time for the ladies and gentlemen of our city. The weather was all that could be desired and the sidewalks of the principal streets were crowded with people who came out to see the military parade which was to take place during the early hours of the night. The Wilmington Light Infantry assembled at their Armory at about 8 o'clock and, preceded by their drum corps, marched to the corner of Princess and Front streets, where they came to a halt. Here a platoon, under the command of Lieut. Harris, was detached and marched to the Carolina Central Depot to act as escort for the Maxton Guards, who arrived at about 9 o'clock. The remainder of the Infantry waited on Front street, to be ready to receive the Fayetteville Independent Light Infantry, which was to arrive on the steamer Cape Fear at about the same hour.
The Maxton Guards Capt. Wm. Black, escorted by the platoon of Infantry sent to receive them marched to Front street, opposite the Orton House, where marching salutes were given by the two commands, after which there was a halt and "parade rest," while awaiting the arrival of their Fayetteville comrades. The Guards mustered thirty-two men, rank and file.
The Cape Fear arrived at about 10 o'clock and landed at the foot of Orange street where the Fayetteville Independent Light Infantry, Maj. W. F. Campbell, soon disembarked, to be met by the Light Infantry who had gone down to meet and receive them. The two companies thence, with our home company as escort—marched to the front of the Orton House, where the battalion was formed. Col. W. C. Jones then took command, and the line of march was taken up for camp William McKee, where the soldiers were glad to rest in the tents prepared for them. The Fayetteville Company mustered forty-five men, rank and file.

The column were the occasion of much favorable comment as they passed along our streets to the camping ground. There was considerable of a display of fireworks along the route and much enthusiasm prevailed among our people at the arrival of the military.
This morning the battalion, under the command of Col. W. C. Jones, who was accompanied by his staff, and preceded by the Cornet Concert Club, marched to Front Street Depot to receive the Sampson Guards, who arrived at about 10 a. m. With brief ceremony at the depot the line of march was then taken up for the City Hall, in the following order: Col. W. C. Jones and staff (mounted), Cornet Concert Club, Fayetteville Independent Light Infantry, Maxton Guards, Wilmington Light Infantry and Sampson Guards, the latter under command of Capt. W. L. Faison, and numbering thirty men, rank and file. The Wilmington Light Infantry turned out this morning with forty men, rank and file.
Upon arriving in front of the City Hall the battalion wheeled into line and came to a halt and a parade rest. In the manual of arms incident to these movements we were forcibly struck with the thorough and careful drill of the soldiers, who rendered the different motions with mechanical precision. There were many ladies and gentlemen on the steps and portico of the City Hall, who were eager and interested watchers of the proceedings. After a short delay Mayor Fowler appeared and was introduced to the military by Capt. J. H. Daniel, of Wilmington Light Infantry. Mayor Fowler then advanced and delivered the following appropriate address:

WELCOME:
Soldiers of the Second Regiment:
In behalf of the City of Wilmington, I extend to you most cordial welcome. The citizens of Wilmington are highly susceptible to the honor you bestow upon them by your visit, and they are proud of an opportunity of manifesting their appreciation.
Within the broad confines of our Republic there is not a State where more genuine hospitality, more cheerful welcome is extended than in this the State of North Carolina. Nor is there a city in the State of North Carolina where the visitor is more cordially received or more cheerfully entertained, than in this our "City by the Sea."
The people of Wilmington, approximating twenty-five thousand in number, are ever willing and ever desirous—indeed, it is their characteristic—to extend reception, sincere and cordial, to the visitor from every clime; hence, greater shall be the welcome when extended to the brothers of our own household, to the soldiery of our "Old North State."
It is needless for me to speak of, or descant upon, the deeds of chivalry which characterized the soldiers of Carolina, in the days of the past. How, combating for the cause of right and self-government and constitutional liberty, they waged successful war for a long period of years, testifying their prowess and transmitting to you—their posterity—examples most worthy of emulation.

With you, soldiers, I behold the typical soldiery of the past—soldiers whose chivalric deportment, whose daring deeds of valor, enacted upon a thousand battle-fields, receive, as they most justly merit, the plaudits and encomiums of the world.
We recognize in you, soldiers, the custodians of our liberties, the preservers of our peace, our security, our protection and defense. As such we greet you with the sincerity of a Carolina greeting. The liberties and privileges of the city are yours, and in behalf of our entire people, I bid you welcome.
While the Concert Club was playing a short selection Mayor Fowler was warmly and deservedly complimented by many upon his felicitous address. The line then wheeled into column and moved off for the camping ground. They are a fine body of men and one of which North Carolina has just reason to be proud.
After reaching camp, and partaking of something to eat the men were dismissed until 6 this evening, at which time there will be a battalion dress parade. We neglected to mention, in the appropriate place, there was a regular battalion guard mounting this morning, and the discipline of camp life was initiated. During the afternoon many of the soldiers were witnesses of the regatta and rowing race, in which they took quite a lively interest.

Carolina Beach.
The steamer Passport made her first trip to-day, carrying passengers, to the new Summer resort known as Carolina Beach, near old Camp Wyatt, and among those who took advantage of the opportunity for a visit to that point was a reporter of the DAILY REVIEW.
Carolina Beach is situated about 15 miles below the city and is approached by steamer as far as a landing on the river, between Gander Hall and Sugar Loaf.
At this point a commodious pier has been erected and after landing the passengers find a train of cars waiting, with steam up to take them across the peninsula. The ride by rail is only about a mile and a half and it is made in five minutes. The road terminates directly on the shore of the Atlantic Ocean, where a large and comfortable pavilion, dining rooms and bath houses have been erected. The beach is wide, smooth and firm and the view seaward is magnificent. It is just the spot for a Summer resort. We doubt if there is another place on the Atlantic Coast which presents the natural advantages found there. In front is the vast and limitless sea, "the deep, the blue, the ever free," on the right is a large fresh water pond, running out almost to the verge of the ocean and filled with fine fish, and on the left is the head of the Sound, the beginning of that vast inland sea which stretches, almost without interruption, from the Cape Fear to Currituck. There need be, therefore, no lack of amusement and occupation for the visitors to this favored spot. The surf at this point is excellent for bathing and the shore is said to be as safe as it is anywhere, while still-water bathing may be had in the Sound. The fishing is also good, and the famous fisherman's paradise, the Rocks, is only a few miles distant and easily approached. The Company have certainly got one of the most highly favored spots on the coast, and we hope that they may see their way to erecting a large hotel and cottages there. It is within an hour and a half's ride of the city, and the Passport will make two trips there daily during the season.

Truly a Household Remedy.
240 BEDFORD AV., Brooklyn, N. Y., Mar 12 '84.
I have used ALLOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS for the last twenty years. They are truly a household remedy. It one of my children has a cold and wheezes, I put an ALLOCK'S POROUS PLASTER on the chest and one between the shoulder blades. If any of the children have croupy coughs, or coughs of any kind, I place the Plaster close up around the throat; the soothing effect is apparent almost always in two hours. If they have a disordered stomach, a Plaster placed just below the chest bones makes digestion perfect in half a day. If there is any looseness of the bowels, accompanied by coldness of the skin, two ALLOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS applied over the stomach in care in from two to five hours. I care in from two to five hours. I notice particularly that these Plasters never irritate the skin or cause the slightest irritation. From my own experience, I know they never fail for rheumatism, pains in the back or lumbago.

Drowned.
Yesterday morning three colored men, living on Middle Sound, started in a whaleboat to go to the Blackfish Grounds, and when in Queen's Inlet the boat capsized and two of the party, named respectively Andrew Dudley and Jim Spicer, were drowned. The third man of the party, whose name we failed to learn, saved himself by swimming ashore. We have no further particulars.

The Yacht Race.
We regret that we are not able to give the result of the yacht race in this issue, as we had expected to do. The wind has been very light, from the Southwest, all day, and it was the hope of all that with the incoming tide and declining sun it might freshen, so as to give interest to the race, but there failed to be any perceptible increase of breeze and at half past 3 o'clock the first yacht started, followed by the others in order by the signal of the steam whistle on the Commodore's boat. There was a throng of ladies and gentlemen present to witness the race, which was in progress when we went to press.

Working People
are often too ill to labor, but they have not time to take medicine and lay off.—Simmons Liver Regulator can be taken without causing any loss of time, and the system will be built up and invigorated by it. It has no equal as a preparatory medicine, and can be safely used when a doctor cannot be called in. In all common diseases it will, unassisted by any other medicine, effect a speedy cure.
