The Daily Review.

How to Write it.

Now bring me a maid that is plump and dark.

And bring me a maid that is tall and fair.

One must be gay as a meadow lark, One with a grave and queenly air.

And a sort of high-toned, stately stare.

A man, old, rich and a perfect fright;

A man that is young and debonaire;

And let the story that I will write.

Bring me a summery moonlight park.

Bring me a house in a handsome square.

One in the country, a kind of ark

Of refuge for lovers; some mad despair.

Duty, education and grief and care.

To take the edge of love's delight.

A few odd people from here and there.

And let the story that I will write.

Bring me a trip in a tracherous bark.

A wreck in the mid-sea anywhere.

Bring me a duel, heaven save the mark.

A reunited and happy pair.

A gown from Worth's for the bride to wear.

And bring me a tale as dark as night.

For all the bold, bad ones to share.

And let the story that I will write.

ENVOY.

Bring ink and pen to my essay chair.

Of paper a realm all fair and white.

A publisher ready to do and dare.

And let the story that I will write.

—Carlotta Perry.

Storm signals

As the coming of a great storm is heralded by the display of cautionary signals, so is the approach of that dread and fatal disease, Consumption of the Lungs, usually announced in advance by pimples, blotches, eruptions, ulcerations, swellings, and kindred outward manifestations of the internal blood poison, which if not promptly expelled from the system, attacks the delicate tissues of the lungs, causing them to ulcerate and break down. Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" is the great remedy for this, as for all diseases having their origin in bad blood. It improves the appetite and digestion, increases nutrition and builds up the wasted system.

A Rough Deal.

A stranger went into an Austin restaurant and ordered a dinner. He made one or two attempts to eat it, but was badly defeated. Then he called the proprietor of the caravansary, asked how much the funeral expense aggregated, and was told "fifty cents." He handed over a five-dollar bill, but when the proprietor was about to return the change he refused to accept it.

"No, sir," he said magnanimously, "just you take that money and see if you can hire a right hungry man with it to eat that dinner. If he strikes for higher wages just draw on me. If he dies I'll pay the funeral expenses."

The proprietor of the caravansary now says that he put up a job on him.

The Gum Shoe Mystery.

"What makes rubbers wear out so fast nowadays?" was asked of a leather dealer.

"Oh, you needn't wonder at their wearing out. They are made of old rubbers ground up and mixed with a trifle of crude gum."

"How extensively is that carried on?"

"Well a dealer told me of one manufacturer who last year ground up 10,000 tons of old rubber shoes to make new ones. They pay three or four cents per pound for them. I remember the time when you could get what were then called gums, made on a block in Africa, that would last a man longer than a box of the frauds of to-day. Still you can go to a trustworthy dealer and get for $1 a pair of rubbers that will last a year."

A large number of factories have been built just for the purpose of grinding up old rubbers.

Pittsboro as a Summer Resort.

Pittsboro can be made a very pleasant and popular summer resort for health and pleasure seekers. The construction of the railroad to this place has removed the greatest obstacle hitherto presenting itself, and now that we are connected by railway and telegraphic communication with the rest of the world we may reasonably expect to see many visitors coming here during the ensuing summer. For one hundred years our old town has been noted for the salubrity of its climate. Before the beginning of this century it became the summer resort of many wealthy rice planters and others from Wilmington and the lower Cape Fear country. They built summer residences here, and about the first of every June would come here, after a long and fatiguing journey through the country, and remain until frost in the autumn. They continued this every summer until the late war began. Since the war other towns farther West have been reached by railroads and have become fashionable summer resorts. But as Pittsboro had no railroad, and the journey here over a very rough highway was exceedingly fatiguing, many persons, who otherwise would have spent their summers here, have been deterred from taking such a journey and have gone to other towns. Now, however, this obstacle having been removed, and our town having been placed in such easy and quick communication with the eastern sections of the State, we may expect Pittsboro to regain its former position as an attractive Summer resort.

Great Animalson Ships.

A Calcutta letter thus describes how elephants go to sea. They were lashed with strong ropes, slung as far as practicable in slings, hoisted up with cranes and threefold tackle and lowered into the steamer's hold like bales of cotton. When in the hold they were placed in pens built of strong teak timber baulks, bolted to the ship's side to prevent them from breaking loose.

The fear the animals suffered was the only pain they underwent, and by watching the eyes of the poor beasts their terror was very manifest. Tears trickled down their faces and they roared with dread, more especially when being lowered into the hold, the bottom of which was sanded for them to stand upon. We are told that one timid female elephant actually fainted and was brought to with a fan and many gallons of water.

As it appears that the animals got into a curious habit of occasionally settling at a preconcerted signal—settling to work rocking the ship from side to side by giving themselves, simultaneously, a swinging motion as they stood swart the side, the vessel rolling heavily as if in a heavy sea.

Itching Five Long Years.

New Bloomfield, Miss., Jan. 2, 1886.

HOP BITTERS CO:

I wish to say to you that I have been suffering for the last five years with a severe itching ailment. I have heard of Hop Bitters and have tried it. I have used up four bottles, and it has done me more good than all the doctors and medicines that they put down on or with me. I am old and poor but feel to bless you for such relief from your medicine and torment of the devil. I have had fifteen doctors at me, but your medicine has done more for me than all the other doctors. I feel that I am well and my skin is well, clean and smooth as ever.

HENRY KNOCHE.

GOOD WORDS—FROM GOOD AUTHORITY:

"I am a confidant that we are perfectly cured of our itching ailment, and never heard of the like. The writer (Benton) has been selling drugs here nearly thirty years, and has a serious practice irregularly of other doctors' and patent medicines, but never did any of them, in their best days, begin to have the run that Hop Bitters have. We can't get enough of your medicine. From letters of Hop Bitters, Co., from BENTON, MYERS & Co., Wholesale Druggists, Cleveland O."

MISERABLENESS.

The most wonderful and marvellous success, in cases where persons are sick or pining away from a condition of miserableness, no one knows what ails them (profitable patients for doctors), is obtained by the use of Hop Bitters. They begin to cure from the first dose and keep it until perfect health and strength is restored.

WICKED FOR CLERGYMEN.

"I believe it to be all wrong and even wicked for clergymen or other public men to be led to giving testimonials to quack doctors or vile stuffs called patent medicines, but when a really meritorious article is made up of common valuable remedies known to all, and that all physicians use, and trust in, why should we freely commend it. I therefore cheerfully and heartily commend Hop Bitters for the good they have done me and my friends, firmly believing they have no equal for family use. I will not be without them."

—REV. E. R. WARREN, Felton, N. Y.

A GOOD ACCOUNT.—"To sum it up, six long years of bedridden sickness and suffering, costing $200 per year, total $1,200 of which I was supported by three bottles of Hop Bitters taken by my wife, who has done her own housework for a year since without the loss of a day, and I will give everybody to know it for her benefit."—J. H. WEEKS, Butler.

NEVER FORGET THIS.

If you are sick Hop Bitters will surely aid Nature in making you well when all else fails.

If you are constive or dyspeptic, or are suffering from any other of the numerous diseases of the stomach or bowels, it is your own fault if you remain ill, for Hop Bitters is a sovereign remedy in all such complaints.

If you are wasting away with any form of Kidney disease, stop tempting Death this moment, and turn for a cure to Hop Bitters.

If you are a frequenter, or a resident of a miasmatic district, barricade your system against the scourge of all countries—malaria, epidemic, bilious and intermittent fevers—by the use of Hop Bitters.

If you have rough, pimply or scabby skin, bad breath, pains and aches, and feel miserable generally, Hop Bitters will give you fair skin, rich blood, and sweetest breath and health.

That poor, bedridden, invalid wife, sister, mother, or daughter, can't make the picture of health with Hop Bitters, costing but a trifle. Will you let her suffer?

In short, they cure all diseases of the stomach, bowels, blood, liver, nerve, Kidney, Bright's Disease, $1.00 will be paid for a case they will not cure or help.
