JOSH. T. JAMES, Editor & Prop.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

THURSDAY, JUNE 30, 1887

Entered at the Postoffice at Wilmington, N. C. as second-class matter.

The New York Herald furnishes the following pen-picture of the noted Kentucky outlaw, Craig Toliver, who was killed last week:

Craig Toliver, the story of whose life will be found elsewhere, would have made a magnificent soldier, but as it was he became a desperado and ruffian.

He was six feet tall weighed nearly two hundred pounds and was as strong as a giant. He had a cast iron constitution, could bear any amount of fatigue and was the most reckless dare devil that ever frightened the people of Kentucky.

His influence over men was something wonderful. He won their admiration by feats of strength which made them seem like children in comparison and had so many narrow escapes and carried in his body so many bullets that he appeared to them to bear a charmed life.

The pistol and Winchester rifle were his tools of trade, and he knew how to use them both. On one occasion, when he was under guard of sixteen men, he watched his opportunity, snatched a gun and compelled the whole posse to throw down their arms and surrender.

Murder was his pastime, and he killed a man with as little compunction as he would kill a dog. Only thirty-five years of age, he had committed crimes enough to fill a dozen dime novels.

At last, however, his on time came. An ounce of lead crashed through his ribs, and Craig Toliver's reign of terror came to an ignominious and tragic end.

The Raleigh correspondent of the Petersburg Index-Appeal foreshadows a revival of interest in the Blair bill next Winter. He says:

Pursuing the object of education, so far as it relates to our common schools, it can well be asserted that it is one in which our people take a deeper interest than any other, and although aid in this direction from the general government is a matter that has been frequently discussed, both pro and con, yet it is conceded that all parties will be in harmony in the next campaign, and that either the Blair Educational bill, or one similar, will be urged for favorable congressional action. It will be impossible for the State of North Carolina, in its present financial condition, to meet the needs of the people without onerous burdens, and it is safe to say that no mere technical objections, based on a squeamish idea of state's rights, will cause the rejection of a law so productive of good to all classes. The general assembly now levies a tax of 12½ cents on every $100 of property and 37½ cents on each poll, and, at least 75 per cent of all other poll taxes whether levied in the revenue law, or by the county commissioners, must be appropriated for the schools. If the fund accumulated in each county is not sufficient to maintain schools for four months, the statute requires the county commissioners, in accordance with the provisions of the constitution, to levy a special tax for that purpose. Our Supreme Court has decided, however, that this requirement is constitutional only within the limits of 67½ cents on property and $2 on the poll, that special taxes for special purposes under special acts of assembly are not to be included. Last year the entire amount raised for public schools was $671,000. Thus it will be seen that although the State has a uniform and well appointed system, yet the support of schools for even four months is a serious burden when all the funds necessary are to be raised by direct taxation. Another drawback arises from the fact that the salaries paid to teachers are necessarily inadequate to secure such talent as is desirable. But the State will continue under the sanction of all political parties to do the best, under the circumstances, looking forward to the time when Congress will open the doors of the treasury and extend aid. It is hoped, however, that when Federal aid shall come it may not be hampered with restrictions, but that North Carolina, as well as all of her Southern sisters, may be allowed to manage it in such manner as their best interests may require. Surely this much should be conceded after a lapse of twenty two years since civil strife.

We accidently overheard the following dialogue on the street yesterday:

Jones—Smith, why don't you stop that disgusting hawking and spitting?

Smith—How can I? You know I am a martyr to catarrh.

J—Do as I did. I had the disease in its worst form but I am well now.

S—What did you do for it?

J—I used Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. It cured me and it will cure you.

S—I've heard of it, and by Jove I'll try it.

J—Do so. You'll find it at all the drug stores in town.

In Garfield County, Col., there are 1,100 unmarried men, and only twenty-eight unmarried women.

We Caution All Against Them.

The unprecedented success and merit of Ely's Cream Balm—a real cure for catarrh, hay fever and cold in head—has induced many adventurers to place catarrh medicines bearing some resemblance in appearance, style or name upon the market, in order to trade upon the reputation of Ely's Cream Balm. Don't be deceived. Buy only Ely's Cream Balm. Many in your immediate locality will testify in highest commendation of it. A particle is applied into each nostril; no pain; agreeable to use. Price 50c

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, New York City.

In Brief. And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy five cents.

MISCELLANEOUS

W. J. McDonald

In returning thanks to you for my miraculous cure of eczema or salt rheum, I deem it advisable to give you a detailed account of my case, and as there is, and always will be a prejudice against advertised remedies you have my consent to publish this testimonial, and all inquiries, by letter or in person, I will cheerfully answer. I do this that people who go on year after year paying out large sums of money to incompetent physicians and receive no cure, or even relief, or end in filling a premature grave, as was nearly my case, may be induced to make trial of the wonderful CUTICURA REMEDIES.

At the age of three months a rash made its appearance on my face. A physician was called he said teething was the cause, he prescribed some cooling medicine, but the sores spread to my ears and head. Another M. D. was called. He professed to know all about the case, called it "King's Evil", and prescribed gunpowder, brimstone, and lard mixed into a salve, but the disease continued. They could not do anything with it. Another prescribed borax water and flour; another, linseed poultices. None of them did me any good at all, but made me worse. The disease continued unabated; it spread to my arms and legs, till I was laid up entirely, and from continual sitting on the floor on a pillow my limbs contracted so that I lost all control of them, and was utterly helpless. My mother would have to lift me out and into bed. I could get around the house on my hands and feet, but I could not get my clothes on at all, and had to wear a sort of dressing gown. My hair had all matted down or fallen off, and my head, face and ears were one scab, and I had to have a towel on my head all the time in the summer to keep the flies off. My parents consulted a prominent physician and surgeon here in Chicago (the other physicians before mentioned were of Canada) he said he could do nothing for me, that the chances were that I would grow out of it or that it would strike inwardly and kill me in time. He wanted to cut the sinews of my legs so that I could walk, but I would not let him, for if I did get better I would have no control of them.

The disease continued in this manner until I was seventeen years old, and one day in January 1879, in the Chicago Tribune, I read an account of your medicines. They described my case so exactly that I thought, as a last resort, to give them a trial.

When I first applied the CUTICURA, I was all raw and bleeding from scratching myself, but when I applied it I went asleep almost immediately, something I had not done for years, the effect was so soothing.

The first morning after using it my head had no skin only on the end of my nose, and a pink color. Next day it was filled over, and I could place my hands on the sores without being painful. In about two weeks could stand straight, but was very weak, but my sores were nearly well. I commenced the use of the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and in three days I was never so ever. I was one mass of pimples from the of my head to the soles of my feet; every Were painful would not do justice to the In from two to four days they burst and a small scale, which dropped off, and left spot pure and the skin white, and as near can judge I was cured in about six weeks, and up to this date (i. e. from January, 1879 to January, 1887) I have not been in any way, or have had the least signs or disease reappearing on me. I have an excellent appetite, have the very best of health. My limbs are straight, supple and strong. I have been exposed to all sorts of weather without the least signs of the disease yet. The only difference I find in myself is that my skin is finer, softer, and not so liable to get chapped as is other persons.

No doubt many persons will not believe this almost improbable story many will think grossly exaggerated. I don't blame them but if they do, but to satisfy themselves, they can call or write to me and find out if what I have written above is true or not. There are many persons who can testify to the wonderful cure I have received by your CUTICURA REMEDIES.

Gentlemen, let me again thank you for cure. W. J. McDONALD

BIRD MANNA!

The great secret of the canary bird fanciers of the Hartz Mountains in Germany. Bird Manna will restore the song of cage birds, and prevent their ailments and restore them to good condition. If given to a bird during the season of shedding feathers, it will in all cases carry the little musician through the critical period without loss of song. Sent by mail on receipt of 15 cts. in stamps. WOOD CO., 400 N. 3rd St. Philadelphia, Pa. Please mention this paper.

Removed.

I HAVE THE PLEASURE OF ANNOUNCING to my friends and the public that I have removed into the large and commodious stables erected by me on the corner of Front and Third streets, where I have ample room for all the demands of the Livery and Sale Business. I keep constantly on hand horses and vehicles for hire and will board horses by the day, week or month at low rates. A share of public patronage is respectfully solicited. R. C. ORRELL.
