Statistics show that 53 000 wells have been drilled in Pennsylvania and New York since the discovery of petroleum, at a cost of $200,000,000. These wells have produced 310 000,000 barrels of oil which were sold at the wells for $500,600,000. This represented a profit to the producers of $300,000 000. The amount of oil exported is placed at 6,231,102,923 gallons. In the pool in Washington county alone $3,200,000 has been expended in machinery and drilling. This does not include the many millions that are represented there in the natural gas industry. Independent of the oil business there is about $50,000,000 invested in natural and gas business.

There is no escape from the week. Yet, not withstanding the fresh deserved cudgelings which they give water, we caught a croaker yesterday at us, and there will be no escape from the bath house that lacked but a tracthem while memory survives or until ton of an inch of being a tull foot in grim death seals them in oblivion.

> But with all the gloom and darkness by which the words are stamped into our hearts, there comes the compensabeen" worse with many of us. The words do not picture everything in the blackness of despair, for as we have seen the error of our ways and have forsaken them there comes the bright and glad sunshine of peace and hope to which we have not yet been cast, and then the words, "It might have been," become harbingers of hope and incentives to our profoundest and most reverent gratitude. The past cannot be retrieved, but by honest action, faithful attention to duty, kindness and courtesy towards our fellow men, and all future as bright as a new pin, and "It might have been" will lose all its pangs. A triend at Point Caswell sends us some items from his section which not withstanding the fact that his letter has been delayed in reaching us. are still fresh and interesting.

From him we learn that the crops in that section of the country bordering on Point Caswell and Moore's Creek are very fine and promising. They have had lots of rain and the greatest fear now is dry weather.

Generally, that section is a peaceful law-abiding country, but occasionally an evil-doer comes to the front. About house was broken into and some clothing was stolen and last week the things were found in the possession of George and Frank Moore, colored. They were arrested and after a preliminary hearing before a magistrate were sent to this county and committed to jail.
