SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR

Containing Specific for Liver Disease.

Symptoms: Bitter or bad taste in mouth, or a metallic taste; tongue coated; pain in the back, sides, or joints—often mistaken for rheumatism; sour stomach; loss of appetite; sometimes nausea and acid eructations; sometimes alternately constipated and relaxed bowels; alternate costiveness; headache; loss of memory, with a general sensation of having failed to do anything which ought to have been done; a heavy, low spirit; a thick, yellow appearance of the skin and eyes; a dry cough; fever, or chilliness; the urine is scanty and highly colored, and, if allowed to stand, deposits a sediment.

Dr. J. H. James' Liver Regulator (PURELY VEGETABLE) is generally used in the South to arouse the dormant liver to healthy action. It acts with extraordinary efficacy on the LIVER, KIDNEYS, AND BOWELS.

It is the BEST FAMILY MEDICINE for Children, Adults, and the Aged.

Price, $1.00.

Has Been Arrested.

We are glad to learn that the scamp who fired a shot at the pay train of the Carolina Central Railroad, five miles West of Monroe, on the 11th inst., has been arrested and is now in jail at that town. The means of identification are good, and there is a fair prospect of securing his conviction.

The River.

News having been received from Fayetteville yesterday afternoon that there had been a rise of about four feet in the Cape Fear the steamer A. P. Hart took on her cargo and cleared for that place at about 3 p. m. The steamer D. Murchison arrived at about 3:30 p. m. yesterday and immediately discharged and loaded cargoes, leaving for Fayetteville at about 7 o'clock last night.

Electric Shock.

From the Atlanta (Ga.) Capital, of the 19th inst., we learn that Mrs. Walker Moore, who is bookkeeper for the Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine Company in that city, was seriously shocked by lightning while seated at the window of her office, on the evening of the 18th inst. She was rendered unconscious for awhile, but was finally restored and is now able to attend to her duties.

Base Ball.

The third and last game of base ball between the Henderson and Wilmington teams was played at the Seaside Grounds yesterday afternoon, and resulted in a victory for the home team in a score of 19 to 14. It seems from such a score that there must have been some rather loose playing by both teams, but we are gratified that, after so many signal defeats, the home team has been enabled to secure a victory.

He Could Swim.

A colored boy was engaged in cleaning fish at Market dock this morning when by some careless move he fell overboard into deep water. The little fellow sunk out of sight, but rose again, when he showed that he was a good swimmer and master of the situation by boldly and vigorously striking out for the ferry slip, where he scrambled ashore without further injury than a good wetting.

City Court.

Charles McCartney, colored, charged with disorderly conduct, which the testimony showed to be an assault and battery, was the first case for the Mayor's consideration this morning. The evidence was conclusive of guilt, and the defendant was required to pay a fine of $10.

County Commissioners.

The Board of County Commissioners met in adjourned session yesterday afternoon. It was ordered by the Board that Mr. Boutelle be appointed to survey the lands of J. A. Hewlett, in Masonboro township.

Day's length 14 hours and 11 minutes.
Sunset to-morrow afternoon at 11 minutes past 7 o'clock.

There were two interments, both adults, in Oakdale Cemetery this week.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the thermometer in this office registered 85 degrees.

There were some nice-looking water melons and canteloupes in Market this morning.

There were six interments in Pine Forest Cemetery this week, five adults and one child.

There has been refreshing and much needed rains to-day but enough water has not yet fallen.

There were three interments in Bellevue Cemetery this week—one adult and two children.

The Register of Deeds issued three marriage licenses this week, two for white couples and one for a colored couple.

Go to Sol. Bear's and buy a Gossamer and some elegant Bath Towels, then go to Carolina Beach and take a surf bath.

Work on the abatments for the new iron bridge across the railroad at Fourth street is progressing very slowly.

The Produce Exchange was closed for business at 2 o'clock this afternoon and will remain closed until Monday morning.

This closing business is getting a little mixed. Why not all close on the same day and at the same time, to avoid confusion?

Nor. barque Frida Stevensen, cleared to day for Antwerp with 3,368 bbls of rosin, valued at $317,499, shipped by Messrs. S. P. Shetter & Co.

We are glad to learn that the condition of Mr. J. W. Westbrook, at Wrightsville, who was so severely injured on the evening of the 21st inst. has much improved, giving the assurance of a speedy and complete recovery.

Yesterday was a "field day" in all of our departments. Before 7 o'clock our city agent had secured one new subscriber, one new advertisement and three small jobs. There is no lie about this.

THE ONSLOW R. R.

Facts in Figures and Figures as Facts.

MR. EDITOR:—A correspondent of the Messenger, who opposes the city subscription to the Onslow Railroad, furnishes some figures in support of his position, which is that the road as a business scheme would run $8,000 annually behind the charges of operation to say nothing of interest on investment. He seems to have proved his position by suppressing several items of income, and greatly exaggerating the yearly expenses of the road, making the latter $26,000.

There is nothing better to dissipate fear than a calm and thorough examination of one's position. Courage and clearness in ascertaining the truth will often make that of which we are ignorant and afraid pleasant and profitable on a perfect acquaintance. This correspondent, in his alarm lest the city should adopt an unprofitable enterprise, forgets many sources of income and some that he mentions in his tabulated statement of estimated earnings. He thus deprives the road of the largest single item of income that it possesses, according to his intention, in order to prove its unprofitableness. He is ignorant. Lapse of memory is no uncommon concomitant of fear, but this correspondent remembers and forgets in a fashion that would be laughable if it were not pitiable, and would be pitiable if, perhaps, his errors were not consistently, though perhaps unintentionally, in his own favor.

A plain statement of the all estimated earnings of the road, and its estimated expense, will convince any impartial person that the road is a most promising one for an investment, and a consideration of its development will convince the same impartial person that it is a most desirable road for Wilmington. We will take the Messenger's correspondent's figures as far as they go, for having been evidently furnished by some one acquainted with what he was talking of they may be relied on to as great an extent as any estimate can be. We will use the enemy's artillery in our assault upon his works. The table is this:

ESTIMATED EARNINGS.

Passenger	$4,400
Com.	4,500
Peanuts	1,500
Cotton	3,676
Spirits	800
Rosin	1,800
Turpentine	800
Tar	200

This makes a total of say $18,000 according to the writer in the Messenger, that the road can be expected to earn at first. The items which he mentioned in his text, but had omitted to bring forward in his table, are, freight on miscellaneous supplies shipped over the road from Wilmington to Pender and Onslow, $5,000, and freight on oysters from New River, which, though he mentions, he does not estimate, as he did the freight shipped from Wilmington. Hence it must be done for him. The most exact information obtainable on the oyster trade between New River and other places along the proposed line of railroad, with this city, shows that the equivalent of 30,000 bushels (counting a gallon to the bushel) are sent here each year. At 15 cents a bushel, this would be $4,500, which makes $9,500 which the Messenger correspondent once had in his mind. His poise having forsaken him, $9,500 of the road's earnings—more than half of what he did allow it—fled from his memory forever.

MESSANGER CORRESPONDENT'S ESTIMATE.

Passengers	$ 4,400
Com.	4,500
Peanuts	1,500
Cotton	3,676
Spirits	800
Rosin	1,800
Turpentine	800
Tar	200
Freight from this city	5,000
Oysters	4,500

OUR OWN ESTIMATE.

U. S. Mail	2,500
Truck	3,400
Fish	2,600
Poultry and Eggs	500

Total, $35,176

Say a total of $35,000 a year, as the gross earnings of the road. There is good authority for each of the above estimates, our own as well as the Messenger's writer. A railroad man of this city, one of the most eminent in the State, has emphatically stated that the country between this city and New River is unexcelled for trucking. Another prominent railroad man of this city has endorsed the Onslow road by saying that if all the schemes of road building now discussed in the country, it is the most promising.

The above table leaves out freights on timber, shingles, lumber and wood, items of considerable moment. Neither is anything allowed for lime nor anything for the valuable deposits of phosphates, nor anything for the products of the fish scrap factories which will come up at New River.

A leading man who operates a short line, and is perfectly familiar with railroad management, estimates the yearly expenses of the Onslow road at $1,000 a month, $12,000 a year. This, subtracted from $35,000 of earnings, leaves $23,000 of profits.

The Messenger's writer assumes the Criminal Court.

The attention of the Court has been devoted mainly to-day to the hearing of arguments in the case of the State vs. Lewis Whiting, the book agent, charged with larceny. The case was taken up yesterday afternoon, but as there were a great number of witnesses to be examined, both for the State and the defendant, the taking of testimony, which was entirely circumstantial, was not concluded until about half past 7 o'clock last night. The prisoner was ably defended by Mr. Marsden Bellamy and Mr. C. P. Lockey, while the interests of the State were carefully guarded by Solicitor B. R. Moore, assisted by Mr. J. T. Elliott. When the testimony was all in, Mr. C. P. Lockey opened in an argument for the defense, and was followed by Mr. J. T. Elliott for the State. The latter concluded at 9 o'clock last night, when the Court took a recess until half past 9 o'clock this forenoon. Upon the assembling of the Court this morning the arguments were resumed by Solicitor Moore for the State and by Mr. M. Bellamy, and these being concluded the case was given to the jury, who had not found a verdict at the time of closing our report.

Indications.

For North Carolina, fair weather and lower temperature.
